

New Oil Burners For Pacific Coast.

It is a long way from Alaska to the Clyde, but the recent launching of the Canadian Pacific Coastal S.S. "Princess Kathleen" from the Clydebank yards of John Brown and Company illustrates how the increasing business, traffic and industry of the one has affected the industry of the other. The launching of another vessel, the Princess Marguerite, will further illustrate this. During the past few years the thousand mile trip to the "land of the Midnight Sun" and return all parts of the world. Many of these, appreciating the vast natural resources, as much as the scenic splendours, have established themselves there and have drawn others round them, each of whom plays a part in the further development of the land. The same thing applies to the Yukon, so that, especially in the Summer, and in the Fall when the big game and fish are fair sport, there is a constant coming and going on the Princess steamers that ply the "Inland Passage".

Next Year there will, it is expected, be a demand for more frequent service. In response the Canadian will recruit from its "Triangular" service, and the "Princess" will take up the service thus relieved between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. This route is also becoming increasingly popular, the present call being for vessels which are able to transport the automobiles of thousands of tourists who are finding the glories of Vancouver Island well worth while.

The new vessels, twin screw and oil-burning, will be, when completed, the largest and fastest ships operating between the three ports, being capable of sustaining a speed of 22 1/2 knots. Altogether there are five decks, four of which are given over to the use of the passengers, while a large space on the main deck has been provided for the transport of motor cars and other freight. Accommodation is arranged for 325 first-class night passengers in two and three berth cabins, and for over one thousand day passengers. A special feature of the accommodation is the provision of 17 large rooms on the promenade and upper decks, having private bathrooms attached and 22 two-berth cabins, on the boat deck, having private shower baths. The accommodation throughout has been arranged with the greatest care for the safety and comfort of passengers and is of a uniform standard throughout, while the accommodation for the officers and crew is substantially better than is required by regulations.

Both vessels will be placed in service early in 1925.

(Our own Correspondent.)
The Methodist Sunday School celebrated its 62nd anniversary with a successful entertainment on New Year's night. This old school has had many successful entertainments on this occasion sustained its good reputation for pleasing a crowd. On New Year's night the weather was favorable to an outing and the church was packed with a large audience. The usual good tea was given after which the choir, Rev. H. H. Eaton, took the chair and conducted an excellent program. A large number of little folk, who are always pleasing, took a leading part in recitations, songs and pretty exercises. A quartette by Mr. Clipperton, Toronto; Mr. Bryan, New York; Mr. Cross and Dr. Murray, local vocalists, was very fine and received a hearty encore. Mr. Clipperton also favored the audience with a beautifully rendered piano solo. The second part of the program consisted of a very pretty pageant entitled, "Every Child" in which a large number of scholars participated. Miss Mildred Caswell as "Canada" and Miss Elda Karstedt as "Love" interpreted their parts very well and looked exceptionally pretty in their characteristic costumes. The program closed with the National Anthem. The proceeds of the tea amounted to $102.

A marriage of interest here was that of a well-known young lady, Miss Mahel Alma Swift, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Swift of Toronto who was joined in wedlock to Dr. Robert C. Montgomery at the home of the bride on December 22, 1924. Rev. F. E. Powell conducted the ceremony, and Miss Rhena Campbell played the wedding music. The charming young bride, who was given away by her father, wore a pretty French gown of beaded peach georgette and carried Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Corith McGordie, wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette and carried sunburst roses. Mr. Clifford Campbell was best man. After the marriage, a reception was held and later the young couple left to visit several points in the United States. They will reside at Alvinston, Ontario. The bride has numerous relatives in Flesherton who wish her much happiness.

The funeral of the late Mrs. T. J. Sled, who died on the 28th ult., took place to Flesherton cemetery on Tuesday of last week and was largely attended by sympathizing friends of the bereft husband and his three boys. Service was held in the Methodist Church conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Eaton, who preached an appropriate sermon and afterwards officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were near neighbors and friends of the departed; namely, Messrs. Fred Brown, Robert Swanton, J. A. Lever, Robert Richardson, W. J. and Charles Stewart. Beautiful floral tributes were given by the husband and children, the deceased's sister, Mrs. Albert Beecroft, British Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Holland; the neighbors on the Toronto Line; the Methodist Church, and the Women's U. F. O. club of which she was a member.

A lively season is anticipated, and the following players are expected to be on the team: Stewart and Cecil McTavish, Kenneth and Reginald Boyd, Wesley Armstrong, John Dow, George Akins, Frank Thurston, R. Patton and H. Bets. Deep interest is shown this year by the offer of a number of citizens to supply teams to convey the players to matches at outside points.

By the Advocate of Manor, Sask., we learn of the death recently of a former well-known and highly respected resident of Stone's Line, Artemesia, in the person of Mrs. Kate A. Stone who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Anderson, at Manor, Sask., in her 80th year. Mrs. Stone has been a great sufferer with rheumatism for twenty-one years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams who, in 1841, came from Devonshire, England, to Toronto where she was born. At five years of age, she came with her parents to a bush farm near Owen Sound where she grew to womanhood. In 1871 she was married to Richard Stone, and they lived near Flesherton until he died in 1883. In 1903 she sold the farm and moved to Manor where three of her children resided. Seven children survive her. They are: Mrs. John Anderson and Mr. William Stone, Manor, Sask.; Benjamin, in British Columbia; Mrs. Fee, in Ontario; Mrs. Banks, in Alberta; Rev. R. H. and Rev. Richard Stone in the United States. She also leaves three brothers and a sister.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From The Chronicle File of December 8, 1904.

A letter from Mr. D. A. Dunsmoor of Calgary informs us that large quantities of our cement are being used in that Western town.

At the meeting of the Town Council on Monday night, a resolution was passed to procure a snow plough and keep the sidewalks clear during the winter. That seems to be all right.

The weather so far this winter seems to be much like that of last year. There's a lot of wood coming in just now and sold at about $2.50 per short cord. Many of the citizens have provided themselves with coal.

It's 47 years since Charter Smith said good-bye to John Barran in Yorkshire, England. Charter and John were playmates and companions up to that time. About six months ago, Mr. Barran came to this country and settled in Hamilton. Mr. Smith heard of it and at once sent an invitation to his old friend to visit him. Last week they were together again and immensely enjoyed their reminiscent chat over bygone days.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week, another of those happy events which cause a ripple of interest in the community took place at the parsonage at Arcola when Mr. Wellington Dorrer of Coleau and Miss Zetta Kerney, daughter of Mr. W. Kerney of Waudhy, Ontario, were married.—Moose Mountain Star.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. Alex. Morton of Rocky Saugeen, which occurred Tuesday last after about five weeks' illness from catarrh of the stomach. The deceased was 43 years of age and leaves a husband and three daughters to mourn their loss. She was a daughter of Mrs. James Lunney of Bentinck. Interment takes place tomorrow, Thursday, at 1 p. m.

A farewell party was given Mrs. Moore McFadden, who has been employed with Mr. W. Ledingham, in the Foresters' Hall last Friday evening by the young men of the town. Quite a large crowd gathered for the occasion, and a very pleasant time was spent by all tripping of the light fantastic. Mr. McFadden leaves this week for his home in Durham, Ontario.—Russell, Manitoba, Banner.

The Liberal convention held here on Thursday last, was well attended, and Mr. John McKechnie was the man chosen to contest the constituency against Dr. Jamieson in the local Legislature.

December 15, 1904.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. James McCracken which took place on Saturday last at his home at Edge Hill. He was 61 years of age, apparently strong and healthy and possessed of much energy. He was a brother of Samuel McCracken of town and Robert McCracken of Aberdeen. Interment took place Monday afternoon to Trinity Church cemetery.

The twentieth anniversary of Varney Christmas Tree will be celebrated on December 26.

Mr. John Aldred returned last week from a three months' sojourn in the Great Northwest. Though he likes the country well, he doesn't think of pulling up stakes and going there.

December 22, 1904.

After an illness of about two years, Mrs. James Calvert passed away on Friday last at the ripe age of 84 years. She was born in July, 1820, in Midlothian, Scotland. In 1860 she came to Canada and settled in Egremont. She married James Calvert of town who still survives. Interment took place on Monday to Dromore.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie of Rocky Saugeen will learn with sorrow of the death of their daughter, Mabel Jane, who died this Thursday morning at the age of 18 years. She was ill for over two years from anaemia. The funeral takes place Saturday to Rocky Saugeen cemetery.

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. James McCracken, Jr., of Edge Hill whose father died about a week ago. The double affliction is truly a severe blow on the sorrowing members of the family.
