

CHESLEY N.H.L. TEAM

eral brilliant rushes. Chesley's goalkeeper was the best man they had on the ice. Their forward line broke nicely and looked dangerous, but were soon disorganized by the poke-checking of the blue and white. They had two husky defense players, who made it interesting for McDonald once or twice.

The first goal was scored about three minutes after play commenced by Schutz. The first period was a battle, and no more goals were notched till about the middle of the second stanza, when Elvidge sagged the twine for Durham's second. The third came from the same stick near the end of the second period. Chesley was weakening badly by the end of the second, and the last four minutes came in the last fifteen minutes of the final period. The local aggregation was going great guns at the end of the game, while their opponents were plainly winded.

Ke Masters of Kitchener had the game well in hand all through, and it was remarkably clean. He checked up on the offside closely, and yet the game was fast and not constantly interrupted by the ringing of the referee's bell, as was the tilt with Hanover. The blue and white go to Hanover tomorrow. Here's wishing them luck.

The line-ups: Chesley—Goal, Buckley; defense, McDonald and Krug; centre, Boehmer; wings, Hoeflin and Blohm; substitute, Lustig.

Durham—Goal, McDonald; defense, Schutz and Vollett; centre, McGirr; wings, Buschlen and Elvidge; substitutes, Saunders and Kress; goal substitute, Moorhead.

D.H.S. WON AND LOST IN THURSDAY'S GAMES

Girls Defeated 3-0, but Boys Were Winners in 7-5 Score.

Following the game between the boys of Durham and Mount Forest High Schools, the girls of these respective institutions of learning put on an exhibition for the benefit of their brother students, as a demonstration of just how the noble Canadian game of "shimmy" should be played. The Mount Forest girls blanked the local lassies to the tune of 3-0. The visitors showed superior combination, ability to check hard and fast shooting.

Miss Katherine Lavelle, local goal-keeper, played a great game in the net and stopped many sure-fire drives, and to her goes most of the credit for keeping the score down. However, she was very unfortunate in having her finger injured in the second period, and also received a blow from the puck in the last frame that knocked her out.

FARNUM GETS BIG DRAMATIC CHANGE

Role in "Kentucky Days" Is One of Finest in His Career.

In "Kentucky Days," which comes to the Veterans' Star Theatre on Friday and Saturday, Will Fox presents Dustin Farnum in a photoplay that deals with the most romantic and interesting period of American history, and incidentally, gives Mr. Farnum one of the big dramatic opportunities of his long cinematic career.

Mr. Farnum, as John Buckner, plays one of those sturdier pioneers upon whose broad shoulders the republic was built. He is one of the "49ers" to whom fear was something vague and incomprehensible and whose loves and hates consumed his being. John Lunn has written a compelling, picturesque story around this character that has all the strength of the man himself.

Buckner, a bride-groom, finds it necessary to join the California gold rush. He leaves his bride at his Kentucky home with his mother. A renegade cousin, who is infatuated with Buckner's wife, seizes the opportunity his absence affords, and secretly presses his attentions upon the wife. Buckner's mother, perceiving this, is without power to prevent it. She dies of grief. Buckner returns and finds his bride, who has been led to believe that he is dead, in the arms of his cousin. The course he pursues is typical of the man. To reveal it would be unfair.

Margaret Fielding, of "If Winter Comes" fame, plays the girl. Others in the cast are Bruce Gordon and William P. DeVaul.

D. H. S. HOCKEY TEAMS GAVE RADIO DANCE

Music Supplied by Agent Bert Farrell Pronounced Good.

Following the hockey matches on Thursday evening of last week, the teams and their friends enjoyed a dance in the Town Hall. Part of the music for the evening was furnished by radio, the set being supplied and operated by Mr. Bert Farrell. While dance programs were not very plentiful Thursday night, the music received came through very loud, the dancers experiencing no trouble hearing it. Several of those present filled in at the piano, giving lots of music, and enabling all in attendance to thoroughly enjoy themselves. A very tasty lunch, served about midnight, refreshed the hungry merry-makers; and they continued to dance until the musicians gave out well on in the morning.

Mesdames R. Burnett, A. W. H. Lauder and W. G. Pickering were patronesses. The Durham High School hockey teams are to be heartily congratulated for the excellent entertainment provided.

PETTY THIEVING RIFE IN WALKERTON TOWN

Durham Not Only Place Where Light-Fingered Gentry Steal From Farmers' Rigs.

Thieving from cutters in the Baptist Church sheds seems to be a popular pastime with some culprits here, says The Walkerton Herald-Times, and as a consequence, a large series of losses have been reported to the local police. Farmers putting their cutters in the Baptist sheds have missed such a variety of articles as would suggest that the thief is not a respector of persons nor too fastidious about his plunder. Everything that comes to the mill seems grist to him, as is evidenced by his stealing a single shoe with a skate attached from Mr. Gladstone Tolton's rig. What value such a combination would be without their mates, is hard for the uninitiated to understand. There was more method to his madness on Monday afternoon when he annexed from Mr. Herb Pleisch's cutter a parcel containing a $1.50 pair of gloves and a 75 cent pair of stockings, which had just been purchased in town. Judging by the amount of groceries and produce missed at times from cutters in the same shed, it would seem that the thief has a decided weakness for provisions. The authorities are obsessed with the idea that a single person is responsible for the entire series of thefts, and if they can but grab him at his sins, they will snatch him like a brand from the burning.

THE HORSE AND THE TRACTOR

Some years ago it was predicted that the steam tractor as adapted to agricultural use would put the horse out of business as a source of farm power. But the horse remained. Later the gasoline tractor was adapted to farm use, and the prediction was transferred to its credit. But still the horse remains.

Some enthusiastic breeders of horse-flesh occasionally assert that the horse will eventually drive the tractor into oblivion as normalcy returns. However, it is probable that both extremists are aside from the facts as is usually the case with extremists.

Several years of extensive use of the farm tractor has proven that there is work for both horse and tractor on the average farm. Many tasks can be performed with horses more economically than with a tractor, and the reverse also applies.

Modern farmers condemn neither the one or the other but use both. They admire the precision and the great power of the tractor in all work to which it can be adapted; and at the same time they maintain a farmer's inherent love of a good horse and use horses wherever and whenever it is economical to do so.

Both have their place on the farm or in the community.

DRESSED GEESSE A DRUG ON POULTRY MARKET

Producers Urged To Keep Eggs Closely Sold Up From Day to Day. —Week's Market News From Government Reports.

The Government report reads as follows: Dealers are only buying from hand to mouth as they realize the market is due for a sharp drop at any time. Producers are strongly advised to keep their eggs closely sold up from day to day. It is difficult at this stage to forecast what will be the basis upon which eggs will be stored for future demand this year, but it is safe to say that prices will be no lower than last year. This year, however, may be an exception as Canadian dealers have to take into consideration the importance of storing at prices that will place them in a position to do some exporting at a profit.

It has been a surprise to those in the poultry trade to have so much poultry arrive since the Christmas holidays. In the past, there has usually been a sharp falling off in receipts after the New Year. This year, since the holidays, demand has not been equal to the supply, and quite a large surplus has had to be packed for storage. Prices are comparatively low. Geese are a drug on the market. Considering the attractive prices at which they were selling, it is difficult to understand why more are not consumed. New York State's embargo on live poultry today was extended by the State Board of Health to a total of thirteen states owing to the continued spread among fowl of the disease known as the European fowl pest.

The feature of the butter trade at Montreal on Monday was the further weakness that developed in the market, and prices scored another decline of 1 cent a pound—one ear of Eastern Townships grass made No. 1 pasteurized creamery sold on Saturday at 30 cents per pound. The wholesale jobbing market was also weaker.

It was suggested to the Minister of Agriculture at the Convention of the Canadian Produce Association that dealers in eggs should be licensed, and a resolution was passed to that effect. This will prevent any person going out with a truck or otherwise and picking up a few eggs here and there unless he is licensed and protects the legitimate dealers who comply with the regulations and see that producers marketing high-grade eggs are paid a premium for quality.

MANY WEEKLY PAPERS GONE

The meeting of the Western Ontario division of the weekly newspaper publishers, held in London last Friday, brought out the interesting fact that there are today forty-five fewer weekly papers published in the eight counties represented than there were ten years ago. The eight counties are, Essex, Huron, Kent, Lambton, Middlesex, Norfolk, Oxford and Perth. When the war broke out in 1914, there were 99 papers in these counties, and today there are only 54, which means that the greatly increased cost of publication has wiped out 45 weekly papers, a loss of nearly 46 per cent. The greatest falling off was in Lambton, there being now only five weekly papers in the county, compared with fifteen in 1914. It is those publishers who advanced their rates to a living basis that have survived. There has been a similar falling off all over the Dominion.

LOCAL FURNITURE FACTORY HAS RUSH OF ORDERS

Plenty of Overtime For Past Ten Days Though Rush May Be Only Temporary.

The furniture factory has been running 12 1/2 hours a day for the past week or so in an endeavor to get out rush orders, and while we know nothing definite, there is a possibility that the overtime may continue for a few days yet.

In view of the persistent cry of dull business, this is welcome news. Durham factory workers, however, had very little to complain of in comparison with those of other towns who have had many lay-offs during the past couple of years. The local factory has had a steadier run possibly, than any other institution of its kind in Ontario, with a full-time payroll. The present rush, however, is temporary, it may continue for some days, or it may be over this week.

SEATING ARRANGEMENTS PLEASE LABOR MEMBERS

Group of Three to Occupy Seats Immediately Behind U.F.O. Members—Other Changes, Too.

Peter Heenan of Kenora, self-styled leader of the Labor party in the Ontario Legislature, has had his long complaint of last session remedied by the changes in the seating of the House made by Honorable Joseph Thompson, Speaker. Mr. Heenan, when the House opens this session, will find his Labor group of three all seated together behind the U.F.O. section. This will place Mr. Heenan, Karl Homuth and J. F. Callan together.

Mr. Homuth will hold the seat occupied by W. E. Fenton last year; Mr. Heenan will swap places with Mr. Callan, and Mr. Callan will move across the aisle to the rear of the Conservative seats.

On the Government side, where there is a front row vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Crawford, Hon. Dr. Jamieson will move into the former Toronto member's seat, Hon. F. G. Macdormid will take Dr. Jamieson's seat, and E. W. Owens will move from the second row into Mr. Macdormid's old seat. Fred Mc'Brien has been "promoted" and will cross the floor and take Mr. Owens' old seat. W. H. Edwards, the new member for Northwest Toronto, seat "A," will take Mr. Mc'Brien's tail-end seat on the Opposition side of the House.

A private change in seats will probably take place between Hon. Manning Doherty and Hon. W. E. Roney, when the latter assumes the duties

NIGERIAN MISSIONARY RETURNS FEBRUARY 4

Rev. G. S. Penneck, Who Lectured Here Three Weeks Ago, Here Next Wednesday Night in Illustrated Talk.

When Rev. G. S. Penneck, missionary to Nigeria, was here three weeks ago and delivered a lecture on mission work in Nigeria, through some misunderstanding, he appeared without his picture slides, and from the small boy's standpoint, many of whom attended to see the pictures, the lecture was as flat as a millionaire's tupper that some fat woman has sat on. Three weeks ago, Rev. Mr. Penneck promised the boys that he would return, and he has been a man of his word. He appears in the Presbyterian Church next Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Upper Canada Bible Society.

Mr. Penneck in his former appearance here, made a very favorable impression, and as he has been a missionary to Nigeria for the past 35 years, his address next week will be very interesting, especially to those who heard him last time. The only admission fee is a collection taken up during the service, the whole of which goes to the Bible Society, and under the circumstances, it is hoped a large crowd will be in attendance and a big collection taken.

W. I. COOKING COURSE ENDS SATURDAY NIGHT

Class This Year Not So Large As Formerly.

The cooking course put on by the Women's Institute has been going on for the past ten days in the Public Library and ends Saturday night, Miss Duncan of Toronto is in charge.

The only disappointment this year is in the size of the class taking the course, only about fifteen students signing up this year. This is a disappointment to the Institute ladies, and a distinct loss to a good many of the young ladies of the district who are missing the chance of a lifetime in securing free tuition in the culinary art. It has been hinted that the course may not be continued next year.

Those in attendance report a very profitable time spent each evening and it is to be regretted that a greater number did not avail themselves of the opportunity.

An Obliging Editor

Here's a good advertisement story which is taken from the Milwaukee Journal: An editor and a merchant were discussing the virtue of billboard advertising. The merchant contended that more people read the billboards than the newspaper. After a lengthy conversation in which neither man would give in, the merchant came tearing down to the newspaper office wanting to know why the obituary of his wife's mother was not in the paper, especially after he had seen that the copy was taken to the newspaper office. "Well," said the editor, "I knew you wanted that obituary read by the people, so I took it out and nailed it on your billboard." Just think it over.
