FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I seem to not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. When when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old man in the East. Her baby was born seven days before me and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter, and I hope some one will be helped by it."—Mrs. Jos. H. Todd, Box 56, Crandall, Manitoba. C

Bowes, Mrs. M. Armstrong tried tea during the evening. Miss Arguerite Cook, accompanied by Mrs. F. Bowes, very beautifully rendered several violin numbers. The entire community join in extending to Mr. and Mrs. Cook their warmest congratulations and trust they may long be spared.

CHRISTIANS MUST GIVE UP IDEA OF TRYING TO CONVERT JEWS

Declares Rabbi B. R. Brickner in Address to Women's Canadian Club—Pleads for People—Says Better Understanding Would Break Down Existing Barrier.

The eternal question: "Is it possible for Jew and Christian to meet in brotherhood?" was forcibly brought before a large audience that gathered in St. Andrew's Church, Stratford, Wednesday night of last week, according to The Stratford Beacon-Herald, to hear Rabbi Barrett R. Brickner of Toronto discuss this great problem from the point of view that the world is prejudiced against the Jew without knowing him. He expressed the belief that a better understanding can be reached if the Jew and Christian get together and discuss their differences.

The speaker based his address on two mottoes, "The Truth Shall Set You Free," and "Know Thyself." He told that for more than 1,900 years the relationship has been strained and that the Jews, historically the weaker group, have been subjected to the outpouring of hate and persecution. Among many reasons for this antipathy he advanced from a religious standpoint, the fact that the Jews were the Christ-killers, is still taught in Christian Sunday schools; for economic reasons, as the Jews are represented as bankers, usurers and Shylocks of the world, because the Christians squeezed them out of every other form of livelihood; for racial reasons, because Jews are treated as a foreign substance in the social organism, and are segregated where they cannot interfere or do harm. From a social standpoint they are considered clannish, pushy, devoid of culture and refinement, and this condition, the Rabbi told, was the result of persecution, which has created the feeling of not being wanted and has made the Jewish nature timid.

Withstand Persecution
The speaker pointed out that, despite loss of country and continuous persecution, the Jews still survive, more numerous and more powerful than ever, which fact he claims is a phenomenon. Continuing, Rabbi Brickner said the prejudices against the Jew are real, and there is a wall, with Jew on one side and Christian on the other, but maintained that the Jews are here to stay and are indestructible. He, however, ventured the opinion that a better understanding would at least break down this wall. Proof of this, said the speaker, is evident tonight in the fact that I, a Jewish minister, am speaking in a Presbyterian Church, to the members of the Women's Canadian Club, with, probably very few, if any, Jewish members.

Education is Outlet
Education, said the lecturer, is one of the strongest remedies for breaking down the wall, as education dispels ignorance. Ignorance breeds suspicion, and suspicion creates hate. He voiced the opinion that the Christian must give up the idea of converting the Jewish people, giving reasons why they could never accept their Jesus. The Rabbi described religion as a path up the Mountain of Life, to the peak which is God. He pointed out that many roads lead Godward, and he maintained that it was a waste of time to argue across the roads, thus retarding progress. He ventured that the Jew and Christian might be wise to agree to disagree, each taking his own road, hoping to meet as they neared the top.

He went on to show that placed in his proper environment, the Jew will become a producer and contribute his share to art, letters and culture of the country. Here he told that the only possible method in democracy was to get rid of the idea that unity and uniformity were essential. He went on to tell that a nation must be of one mind, but not necessarily one race or religion. He told that the Jews and British people had much in common, under one flag, serving one king. The principle of the Great British Empire, said the speaker, is based on the fact that every man can claim his own race and his own religion. He emphasized to his hearers that the Jew did not wish to be regarded as a stranger in this great country of Canada, but as one working for a common justice, righteousness and love for all men, irrespective of race or creed. The spirit of brotherhood, contended the speaker, is not a myth, and that our breaking down of the wall now will make it easier for our children. Before concluding, the Rabbi urged that Christians must cease the practice of the wholesale exclusion of Jews socially and judge them individually, and not "judge the many by the few, or the few by the many."

At the close of the lecture, Dr. S. Silcox voiced the appreciation of the assembly, for the food for thought, which the speaker had presented in his appealing lecture, and he congratulated the Women's Canadian Club for bringing Rabbi Brickner and thus affording those present the opportunity to hear this view of the great Jewish problem.

A Good Product
"Is this cold cream guaranteed to take out wrinkles?" asked the old maid.
"Why, madam," responded the impatient drug store clerk, "that cold cream will take wrinkles out of corrugated iron."
"If that's the case," came the reply, "I should think you'd use a little of it on your skull."
A free country is one in which the unimportant can get even by hogging most of the road.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From The Chronicle File of March 12, 1906.

In some churches they have ushers, but out at Ebenezer, they have a hostler. A contributor tells us some people think it's all right.

We have been informed that Mr. J. C. Nichol purchased a valuable pug dog on Thursday last from Jimmy Lavelle of Palmerston. The Parker farm has been purchased by Mr. Thomas Scarf & Sons, along with the herd of Shorthorns. They purpose carrying on the business much the same as Mr. Parker. Mr. John Stewart of Bunesan, Piper of the Sons of Scotland, and holder of the Queen's medal, announces that he will be in town on Friday evening. We expect to see a good number attend the meeting. Mrs. J. McCracken is having an auction sale on Wednesday. Alex. Campbell sold a yoke of oxen for $140 on Thursday last.

A piano-violin recital under the R. Y. P. U. auspices was given in the Town Hall on Thursday night. Mr. George Fox, violinist of Toronto, was the drawing card. Mrs. Newton, Dr. Brown of Holstein, Mrs. Lauder and Miss Crawford were also contributors to the program.

Ye editor and daughter were in Thornbury on Saturday, and the cross country demonstrates clearly to his mind that Durham and vicinity have no monopoly of the snow-drifts.

Mr. Charles McKinnon left Monday on a four weeks' trip through the West. He took a carload of horses with him.

Mr. Wesley Hunt left Tuesday for Winnipeg.

Mr. Percy Hunt went to Georgetown Saturday.

Mr. Harry Aldred, who has been in Toronto for some time past, has gone to the Northwest.

Mr. Norman Turner accompanied Miss McArthur to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. T. Miners and daughter, Jessie, of Miniota, Mrs. John Spearin of St. Marys and Mr. M. Brethour of Woodham were the guests last week of their cousin, Miss C. Sparling.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bell of Glenelg have purchased the Townner property, and before moving, their friends and neighbors assembled and presented them with two chairs. Reeve McFadden, W. J. Young and George Aljoe made short addresses. About twenty-three Walkerton Oddfellows made a fraternal visit to Grey Lodge, No. 169, on Monday night.

Mr. J. C. Jopp of Moosomin feels sorry for Durhames in having to contend with so much snow. Up in his country, there has been no snow since the middle of February.

On Monday of last week, Mr. William Wilder of Egremont, an old gentleman of eighty years, was in his usual health and came to town on business. On Tuesday afternoon, he took a severe pain in his head and passed away very suddenly Wednesday morning. Heart failure is supposed to be the cause.

Mr. Robert McLean and Miss Maud Hill are uniting heart and hand this Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Newton ties the nuptial knot.

Mr. and Mrs. N. McIntyre went to Toronto on Tuesday. Mrs. McIntyre intends going west to visit her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Mahan.

Miss Vida McLachlan is visiting Toronto friends.

Darkest's Corners correspondence.—Mr. Joseph Noble has purchased the Crozier farm and moved there last Monday. Mr. Andrew Lindsay had the misfortune recently to get his leg badly hurt while unloading a barrel of salt. Mr. Robert Aljoe intends to leave shortly for the Northwest, where he will spend the summer at the carpenter business.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held Monday night. Members present, Mayor Hunter and Councillors Sparling, Kinney, Moran and Livingston. The appointment of A. H. Jackson to the position of Town Treasurer as successor to Mr. Kelly was confirmed.

Reg. C. Ferguson Is New Postmaster

Word was received Thursday noon that Mr. Reginald C. Ferguson had been appointed Postmaster at Thornbury in succession to the late Thomas McKenny who died on November 11th of last year. The new Postmaster served three years overseas, enlisting with 147th Greys as lieutenant, winning his Military Cross. He is a major in the Grey Regiment with 20 years service in it.—Thornbury Review-Herald.

FARMERS SON TELLS WHY BOYS LEAVE FARM

Oliver Reid of Frankford, Ontario, a Farmer's Son, Gives His Reasons in The Financial Post.

From time to time, I have seen in the press articles on why the young people leave the farm. The theory has been advanced that it is lack of sufficient spending money and sports, and that the long hours of work and drudgery that has driven the young people from the farm; but this is absolutely false.

I have lived in this farming community all my life. I am still a boy, and I know what is the cause of the boys and girls leaving the farm. I have talked to many of the boys who have gone to town from here. Those who come back, when asked why they left the farm, never give the reasons that have been so often voiced by the press, although there are exceptions in all cases—and I believe that the majority of young people who leave the farm, leave for the same reasons that the boys of this community have.

I have had the privilege of a high school education, and I believe that if the farmers would give their boys and girls an education with the view of coming back on the farm, it would help a lot. But it is either one of two ways, they either get an education, or they say, go to school, get an education and make an easier living than your dad. They preach continually that there is an easier living than farming.

While I was attending high school, my father always advanced the theory that farming was the best occupation, and when I got through, I came back to the farm—and I am here to stay—although all my friends called me a fool and told me that farming was no life for a person. How, then, with all this trash being preached into the heads of the boys and girls by farmers and farmers' wives, can you expect the boys and girls to stay on the farm? I say it is the farmers themselves that are to blame in the majority of cases.

General Repairing. F. W. MOON, - MACHINIST

There is another reason why the boys and girls leave, and the farmers are also to blame in this case. We have some farmers, far too many always behind with their work, only half work their land, have poor crops, etc., and if the boys have any ambition at all, they soon get sick of the way things are being run, get discouraged with farming, kick up their heels at the farm and get out. I have seen this very thing with one of the boys from such a farm, a real bright, ambitious young fellow, he said to be: "There is nothing to be gotten in farming, is there?"

I said, "Why, Jack, sure and there is."

"Well," he said, "you do not make a certain sum," which he named, which would be a city laborer's wages for a year.

"Yes," I said, "we make more." I gave an estimate of the returns from our farm for a year, and he would hardly believe it.

"Well," he said, "if I were you, I would stick to it."

This same young fellow tried the city and got sick of it and came back to the farm, but he never came home, and I do not blame him, for the way things are run would discourage any boy from farming.

I know farmer's wives in this community who have instilled into their daughters' minds the idea that a farmer's wife's life is a drudgery, and have warned them never to marry a farmer. How, then, under these circumstances, can you expect the young people to stick with the farm?
