

WOMAN'S HEALTH

Other Women to Know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Before I took Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt weak and miserable, and had pains all through me. I was living in Ailsa Craig at the time, and one day a friend came in and told me her experience of using the Vegetable Compound and advised me to take a bottle, which I finally did. I began to get stronger and those me. I am glad I found medicine as I think there is to it for women who have of this kind. I cannot praise Compound too highly for it has done me. Whenever I woman suffering I am glad of it."—Mrs. WM. RIDSDALE, Mount Forest, Ontario.

Throughout the Dominion are paths in Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Drugs are used in its preparation roots and herbs—and it can in safety even by a nursing For sale by all druggists.

PLACED SYMPATHY

Authorities, responsible for removal of town and village would be much more sue- the performance of their when law-breakers get into trouble, others were ready to begin crying, "poor and otherwise act as though critics instead of the offend- fault.

less element very readily this mis-directed sym- counts on it to help them only deterrent for crime wrongdoers shall surely consequences of their ac- know Sentinel.

PRIZE

at will add proud of in Nothing

ou Money.

- lb. 56c
79c
lb. 15c
25c
12c
29c
28c
25c
aware. 35c
and. 29c
15c
25c
25c
11c
23c
15c
19c

50-lb. BAGS FINE SALT, EACH 65c

in show case. n, Ont.

World News Seen At A Glance

Daily Events as Told by Cadie Condensed for Busy Chronicle Readers.

Thursday Official and private radio advices from Trujillo, the third important city of Peru, say that the city has been completely destroyed by inundations caused by torrential rains.

Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain denied yesterday in the British House of Commons the possibility of use by the United States of the British naval base at Singapore, or that the question even had been discussed.

A lock-out and strike affecting nearly 50,000 men in the metallurgical industries are expected to begin in Copenhagen today.

Polish frontier patrols alleged by the Lithuanian Legation in Paris to have attacked Lithuanian border guards near Sirvintai without provocation Monday night and to have threatened to occupy the district by force of arms unless the Lithuanians evacuated it.

Severe earth tremors were felt along the northern coast of the Isle of Jersey and other of the Channel Islands between two and three o'clock yesterday morning.

The London Daily Telegraph says it has information that King Ali's forces at Jeddah, in the Kingdom of the Hedjaz, were driven back to their trenches by the Wahabi tribesmen on Sunday after a sortie which was encouraged by the apparent apathy of their besiegers.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, replying to a questioner in the British House of Commons yesterday, said he thought it already was well known that it was the desire of the Government to promote the reduction of armaments by any appropriate means, but he was glad of the opportunity of again making it clear.

Friday The British Royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, arrived at Genoa after a rough passage from Gibraltar and is awaiting the arrival of the British sovereign.

George, S. C. Smyth, the Canadian canoeist, now in France, paddled from Paris to Lyons, France, in eighteen days on his way to Rome.

Lincoln Ellsworth, who will attempt to sail across the North Pole this summer accompanied by Donald Amundsen, the noted explorer, sailed today from New York on the Oscar II. to join the explorer in Norway.

India's fleet of six merchant vessels is to be disposed of after the Government incurring heavy trading losses in their operation.

The Earl of Ypres, better known as Field Marshal French, underwent a severe and prolonged operation. His condition was reported as quite satisfactory.

Marquis Curzon of Kedleston died in England following an operation. The exact nature of his illness has not been divulged. He had a notable career.

Gasoline went down one cent a gallon in price in New York, New Jersey and Louisiana, when tank wagon prices of 20, 18 and 21 1/2 cents a gallon, respectively, went into force March 20th.

Saturday Prominent men comprising all political parties, met secretly near London, England, for the purpose of drafting plans to make Britain "dry."

Thirty members of the American ship Insonomia mutinied at Sausalito, Cal., when the captain discovered and attempted to seize a quantity of opium held by the crew. Several shots were fired, and San Francisco police were called.

Sir Charles Higham, British advertising expert, believes that the world is headed for another general conflict. According to reports printed today of an address he made at a local club last night, he predicts that possibly within ten years, Great Britain and the United States will be allies in a war against Japan, Germany and other races.

The British Cabinet, after hearing Foreign Minister Chamberlain's report today on the Geneva league council discussions of the draft of the protocol and his two Paris conversations with the French premier, M. Herriot, decided that no decision regarding the "security" question would be taken until after further and most probably lengthy negotiations.

Monday Remarkable claims are made for a new automobile fuel named "Ironline," after its discover, fifteen-year-old Irene Laurent, daughter of a well-known French chemist. The product, which is understood to have for its basis a solution of sugar, is said to cost less and go farther than any other of the so-called substitutes for gasoline yet tried.

The Governor of the National Bank, Dr. R. Resch, told a meeting of the shareholders on his return to Vienna from London, that Great Britain found the Austrian Government's revenue and expenditure still (Continued on Page 10.)

OTHER PAPERS' OPINIONS

The O. T. A. Amendments (London Free Press) The average man in Ontario will be prepared to accept the amendments to the O. T. A. in the spirit in which they have been presented by Hon. W. F. Nickle and will be ready to give the changes a fair chance to see how they will work out. They will be opposed by those people who honestly believe that the O. T. A. is a heaven-sent piece of legislation in embarrassing the Government in advancing the cause of temperance.

Anyone who knows anything about what is going on is well aware that in the cities, at least, in recent years, there has been an alarming growth in secret drinking. If these amendments will tend to put an end to this growing practice, among young people particularly, it will be in the interests of temperance.

Sale of the so-called 4.4 per cent beer is to be more restricted than was foreseen. It will be sold on a dual permit system, having regard to the individuality of the applicant and the nature of the premises. Its sale will be permitted, in the words of the attorney-general, in standard hotels and well-conducted restaurants and cafeterias, for consumption on the premises and for genuine grocery stores for delivery. It will not be sold to those under 18 years of age. As had been anticipated, the number of prescriptions for liquor which a doctor may issue without coming under review by the license board is to be reduced from 50 to 30. In addition, the board may prohibit any druggist from supplying liquor on the prescription of any physician named. Wholesale druggists in future must obtain their supplies from the license board direct.

Among the drastic provisions of the bill is one setting a fine of $5,000 in the case of a brewer convicted of infringing the act, and he may be required to give a bond of $10,000. If a permit holder, other than a brewer, offends, he is to be subject to fine or imprisonment, without alternative, for a first or subsequent offense, and upon a second offense, his premises may be closed for three months and placarded.

On the other hand, a relaxation in the present law is to reduce from $200 and $50 the minimum fine for "having or drinking" liquor in a public place. There have undoubtedly been cases of severe hardship because magistrates had no option in cases of technical or unwitting infraction. Another charge to avoid discrimination against those who have little means is found in extension of the time allowed for appeal from a magistrate's judgment in an O. T. A. action from 10 days to 20.

What Does Miss Macphail Mean? (The Orillia Packet) What does Miss Agnes Macphail mean by "removing from the school-books all glorification of war?" Is it the intention that the coming generation shall not be taught to revere and emulate the courage, the self-sacrifice and the patriotism of the men who answered the call of their King and country in the great war, and went forth to battle against the tyranny with which the world was threatened? To thus dishonor their deeds would be a poor requital for their devotion to duty. And are the youth of the coming day to be taught that if such a call should, unfortunately, come to them, they are to turn a deaf ear? That would be to break faith with those who died, and possibly to leave our country naked and defenceless in the time of need.

There is in Canada, and, indeed, among the British peoples, little of the tendency to glorify war, in the sense of considering it either necessary or beneficial to the race. But, on the other hand, though much is hoped for from the League of Nations, circumstances may again arise in which war would be unavoidable, and if such a situation should occur, Canada should be able to count with confidence that her young men have been trained to believe that, if necessary, they should die for her.

Deer Becoming Plentiful (Flesherton Advance) The deer in this county have been protected for a number of years, and as a result, have propagated amazingly, especially in the southern part of the county. All the southern townships in this county have more or less deer within their borders, but Proton Township is the banner municipality in this respect owing to the large amount of suitable cover within its confines.

To give an idea of the large number of deer in this county, the following are the figures for Proton Township last year: Deer, 1,200; Bucks, 1,000; Does, 1,000; Fawns, 1,000.

Men's Work Shirts Heavy Blue Chambray and Black and White @... $1.00 Khaki and Black and White @... $1.35

Boys' Khaki Overalls Sizes up to 34..... $1.50

Silk Marquisette Curtain Goods per yard 85c

Just In--- New Figured Crepes

GRANT'S DURHAM

F. W. Moon, Durham, Ont.

her of these pretty animals in Proton, we might cite that one day last week, no less than eighteen were counted in one field. On an adjoining farm, there were eight at the same time. This was about a mile south of Proton Station. It is supposed that the mild weather and thaw drove them out of the wet swamps to graze on the tender young shoots of grass.

Deer are also frequently seen in this vicinity and between here and Priceville. The time Department of Game and Fisheries will be asked to provide an open season, because a bunch of deer like the one referred to can do an immense amount of damage to growing crops in the season.

WHAT OTHER EXCHANGES SAY

Sheep Wintered in the Open Mr. Albert Seiler, town line west, lost a lamb from his flock last summer, it disappearing leaving no trace, and the owner had long ago given up hope of ever recovering it. Last week, while in the bush taking out wood, he saw sheep tracks and following them, came upon a sheep weighing from 35 to 40 pounds with remarkably long wool. It was with difficulty that he succeeded in capturing it, as the sheep had developed the traits of a wild animal. It was finally captured and conveyed to the pens where it is receiving the best of care in the hope that it will survive.

A peculiar feature of this case is the remarkably long wool on the sheep, nature evidently helping the sheep to adapt itself to its unaccustomed surroundings. This being a very cold winter and the ground so very covered with snow, it is difficult to determine how the animal found sufficient food to sustain life throughout the winter months.—Palmerston Spectator.

Medicine Too Strong License Inspector Pellow received word from the department at Toronto that in future the sale of a medicine known as Dow's Malt Extract would be considered as illegal as the selling of ordinary intoxicants. All vendors selling same will be liable to prosecution. The inspector advises that those in possession of the goods ship them back to the manufacturer or destroy same to prevent trouble.—Lucknow Sentinel.

Interruption of Power Service Palmerston was without power and lights from 3:20 p.m. Saturday until midnight and also for a period of 2 hours and 30 minutes on Monday due to a break of the power at Milverton. The trouble at Milverton was due to a severe sleet and snow storm, five yole lengths of wire being down. An endeavor was made to cut in the Eugenia power at Mount Forest, but owing to weather conditions and the heavy load, it would not "pick it up." While the break occurred at a very inconvenient time, it must be remembered that this is the first break of any considerable duration which has occurred during the winter.—Palmerston Spectator.

Former Meaford Man To Hang Thomas Collison, a young man who was engaged for a time last season with Mr. Russell Stoery, 4th line, Euphrasia, was found guilty of murder at Cornwall on Thursday last and was sentenced to be hanged on May 29th next. On leaving Meaford last fall, Collison proceeded to the home of Miss Beatrice Thorpe, near Cornwall, a young lady who had previously discouraged his attentions, and shot her to death through the window at her home. The case created a great deal of talk in the community where both were well known.

While in this locality, Collison was well liked and gave no person any reason to suspect that he would commit such a rash act and all who knew him here sympathize with him in his awful position.—Meaford Express.

Farmer in Trouble George Norman, a farmer living near Kincardine, got into a pack of trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

The Boy Scouts' Column EDITED BY GREEN PLUME

The Euchre Party The S. M. and the Troop wish to take this opportunity of extending to the people of Durham their sincere thanks for the support which they received at their progressive euchre—we hope—everybody had a good time. The Old Masonic Hall was taxed to its capacity. The ladies prize was won by Miss Vera McIntyre and the gentlemen's by Mr. D. C. Town. Mr. Town is chairman of the Troop committee, but there was no collusion. The S. M. and the Troop officers wish to take this opportunity also, to thank the mothers of the scouts for the way in which they provided "eats," and a greater measure of appreciation is due several ladies who, although they have no boys in the Troop, sent donations. The financial returns were also very gratifying. The Troop cleared over $50.00, and is now in good financial condition. It is the intention to invest in several small tents for use in overnight hikes.

Troop Meetings The regular weekly troop meeting was held last Wednesday evening in the Troop room. The evening was largely devoted to fixing up the rooms after the party of the night before. There was found a number of sandwiches and a few pieces of cake left over, as well as some coffee, so that the fellows did not fare so badly.

On Saturday night, the Court of Honor met in the S. M.'s office and took a lesson in splicing from Mr. McKeen who was spending the week-end in town. Mr. McKeen is a mariner, and was able to crowd a great deal of interesting and profitable instruction into an hour. The fellows are now as adept with a rope as a regular jack-lad.

These fine spring days are making us all think of the woods and streams. If the weather is fine, there will be an overnight hike then right before Good Friday. Let's hope that we are not baptized the way we were last 24th of May. This time some of the fellows will be in tents, the rest of us will have to take to a barn. All we ask is that a couple of the Troop members learn enough to come in out of the wet when it rains, as the rest of us are not anxious to see an exhibition of eating under fire like we saw last spring.

Conditions Bad at Deemerton Moral conditions in the village of Deemerton are becoming deplorable. There is an element in that section that is contaminating the whole locality, and its activities include most of the worst vices on the catalogue. If the moral evils were enumerated, they would make the city slums look virtuous, and it is high time for a cleaning up. The latest amusement is chicken stealing. Last Friday evening when John Kupferschmidt was absent for an hour, the gang entered his barn and stole four hens. Next morning John came to Midway and procured a search warrant, but the constables were not able to locate the plunder. The full particulars of the raid have since been revealed, and the guilty parties are hereby given notice that unless settlement is made at once, prosecution will follow. A good, wide-awake constable is badly needed in that locality.—Mildmay Gazette.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

trouble through an indiscreet act in the lake town. It appears that Norman sold a load of hay to a Kincardine and not being able to collect the pay for it, he helped himself to a set of harness he found in the stable, thereby essaying to balance the account. The owner of the harness laid a complaint against Norman, and he came up for trial before Magistrate McNab last Tuesday. Owing to the defendant's previously good character and the circumstances of the affair, the Bench let Norman off on suspended sentence, but he was asked to pay a fine of $200 and put up a bond for $500 to keep the peace.—Walkerton Telescope.

MIX AND TONY RACE ACROSS TRESTLE AHEAD OF LOCOMOTIVE

Daring Deeds Plentiful in Western Star's Latest Fox Picture Called "The Trouble Shooter," a Story of Wire Repairmen in Western Mountains. Of his many deeds of daring, few equal in recklessness the latest performance of Tom Mix in his new Fox picture, "The Trouble Shooter," which comes to the Veterans' Star Theatre tomorrow and Saturday nights.

Riding into the mountains to make repairs on wire ripped down by a terrific storm, Mix, playing the role of a repair man, rides his remarkable little horse, Tony, across a narrow swaying trestle directly ahead of a speeding train. The scene is one of the most thrilling Mix ever made, and it was only after considerable persuasion that he urged Tony to the task.

Again in a ride through a blinding snow storm, Mix teaches the indomitable little horse to wear snow-shoes. Between the two of them, there are more unique stunts of novel daring than even Mix and Tony ever attempted before.

In the cast with Mix are such notable players as Kathleen Key, Dolores Rousse, Mike Donlin, former big league ball player, Charles McHugh, Al Fremont, Frank Currier, Earl Fox, J. Gunnis Davis and Howard Truesdale. The original story was written by Frederick and Fanny Hatton, after an exhaustive investigation into the work of the "trouble shooters" in the mountain country of the far west. The picture was directed by John Conway.

In the trestle scene, Mix actually risked his own neck as well as that of his beloved horse. The ties were far apart, and Tony had difficulty in picking his way at breakneck speed. Moreover, the plucky little horse, which fears nothing it can see, was unable to glance backward at the approaching engine. The sound nearly terrified Tony, but still he placed his confidence in the big man up in the saddle to whom he has entrusted his life so often in the past. "I reckon it was about the toughest test I've given Tony since I broke him," said Mix.

She'll Learn Bert: "Before we were married, my wife told me she was a good cook." Rose: "Was she?" Bert: "A trifle inexperienced. She used a nut cracker on the eggs."

Too Truthful Ellen: "You will never kiss any other girl, will you darling?" Jerry: "Not so as you'd notice it."

COMING AGAIN! Prof. Katz, the noted eye specialist of Listowel, to relieve eye sight trouble, on Thursday, April 2nd, at the Hahn House, Durham. If you have headache, pain in the temples it is frequently caused by eye strain, as your eyes in general connect with your nervous system. When your eyes are properly attended to, the strain is removed at once. Let me help you. See the two sighted glasses in one piece. $10.00, worth $16.00.—E. Katz, optometrist.

DURHAM HIGH SCHOOL The School is thoroughly equipped to take up the following courses: (1) Junior Matriculation. (2) Entrance to Normal School. Each member of the Staff is a University Graduate and experienced Teacher. Intending pupils should prepare to enter at beginning of term. Information as to Courses may be obtained from the Principal. The School has a creditable record in the past which it hopes to maintain in the future. Durham is an attractive and healthy town, and good accommodation can be obtained at reasonable rates. J. A. M. ROBB, B. A., Principal. JOHN MORRISON, Chairman.

Every Day Is Bargain Day AT THE PEOPLE'S MILLS Sovereign Flour Eclipse Flour White Lily Pastry Flour Wheat Cereal and Rolled Oats Our Feeds are of the Best Quality, and our Flour is Guaranteed. Prices right for Cash Highest Price Paid for Wheat delivered at the Mill Goods Delivered in Town Every Afternoon Phone 8, Night or Day. JOHN MCGOWAN The People's Mill Durham, Ont.

A request for Co-operation Made by the Department of Public Highways The highways of the Province represent an investment within the last 10 years of over $160,000,000. It is the people who have paid for these roads. It is the people's money which will be used to maintain them. To conserve this public property, The Highways Act provides against overloading of vehicles at this season of the year, and driving at excessive speeds. To secure voluntary co-operation of users of the roads, the Highways Department proposes to place before the people, through the columns of the press, the reasons why regulation of the use of the road is in the interest of the motorist and the public generally. The law provides that during March and April trucks (outside cities and towns) "shall not be loaded in excess of one-half the carrying capacity of such vehicle as registered with the Department, without obtaining a permit as provided in Section 31." Compliance with the law is urged on all drivers and owners, but while co-operation is requested in the public interest, notice is given here that infractions of the law will be dealt with vigorously according to the law. The Hon. George S. Henry Minister S. L. Squire Deputy Minister

ORIGINAL MELOTTE Ball Bearings Above Bowl Bowl is Suspended THE Melotte bowl is suspended by a spindle from six ball bearings above. It runs continuously without vibration. Friction and resistance is practically eliminated. Machines with bearings below the bowl may get out of balance from wear—the bowl vibrates—the machine turns hard—skimming is imperfect—cream is lost in the skim milk. Examine this original Melotte with the suspended bowl, now. Its use means added profit. F. W. Moon, Durham, Ont.