POWERS OF COMMISSIONERS IN RE CHURCH UNION ACT

The Presbyterian Witness) In view of the concern excited by the recent amendment to the Church Union Act in Ontario, in many communities where congregations have been divided upon the question of Church Union, we give herewith the clauses of the Act in full:

Clause 9 (f) of the United Church Act of Ontario reads as follows:

"Where there are two or more congregations of the same parent church situated in the same community or locality, but not including a city having a population in excess of 50,000 according to the last Dominion census, and each of them has voted to enter The United Church, or each of them has voted not to enter The United Church, as the case may be, and the Commission finds on an application being made to it as hereinafter provided that there is no other church building in the community or locality where the minority of such congregations might reasonably be expected to attend and that such minority is large enough to constitute a separate congregation, then the Commission may determine and order that one of such church buildings shall belong to and be vested in trustees or otherwise set apart for the use and benefit of such minority as a congregation upon and subject to such terms and conditions as the Commission may deem proper, and if there is any manse, burying ground or glebe land used by or in connection with either or any of such congregations, the Commission may make such order with respect thereto as it may deem proper."

Clause 10 of the same Act reads: "Where representations are made to the Commission by or on behalf of the minority members of any congregation that as a result of the vote, they are left in a position of extreme hardship and a request is made of the Commission to use its good offices in an endeavor to remedy such hardship, the Commission may in an advisory capacity enquire into the matter and make such recommendations and suggest such adjustments and plans, the adoption of which would in the opinion of the Commission provide a remedy for such hardship."

It will be seen, therefore, that the Commission's powers are purely advisory and suggestive except in communities having a population of less than 50,000 where there are two or more congregations of the same church.

THE CARELESS SMOKER

Mr. J. Oscar Auger, lumber merchant, in an address before the Quebec Board of Trade during Fire Prevention Week, dealt with the part the careless smoker plays in the fire waste of the country. He said that 75 per cent of the male population of the country now smoke cigarettes, and he referred to the result of an investigation carried out by a fire prevention enthusiast which showed that out of 100 cigarettes smoked: 3 were extinguished before being thrown away; 14 were extinguished after being thrown on the ground and stepped on by the smoker; 17 were placed on a piece of furniture or other article, not put out, and were forgotten there; 22 were deliberately thrown on the ground, the smoker doing nothing to put them out, either before or after; 44 were thrown on the ground, the smoker not troubling himself to observe whether they were extinguished or not.

That makes the hundred, does it not? Out of a hundred cigarettes, only seventeen were deliberately extinguished.

We need not be surprised therefore, that so many fires are started by imprudent smokers.

One should never finish smoking a cigarette without extinguishing it. When a cigarette has reached the end of its existence, and begins to burn the fingers, it will also the object on which it falls.

A lit cigarette, carelessly thrown anywhere, may fall upon inflammable material; if outside, the wind will carry it some place where it might readily start a fire.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Spring Cleaning Tips

Turpentine is a useful liquid for house cleaning days. Paint the closet woodwork and drawers with it. Also bed springs. Moths and bugs do not like turpentine.

To Protect Wall Covering While Cleaning Woodwork

While washing, oiling or painting woodwork, hold piece of tin or some light metal with a smooth edge against the wall above or below woodwork being cleaned. An old automobile license or new dust pan are satisfactory for this.

To Clean Rugs

Rugs can be cleaned beautifully at home, thereby saving a big cleaner's bill. Here's a good cleaning mixture:

- 1 quart of rain water. 2 tablespoons pure soap chips 2 tablespoons powdered borax Boil together—remove from stove—cool. Then add 2 tablespoons ordinary washing ammonia.

Method: Have rug lying on clean, flat surface. Scrub rug thoroughly with mixture. Then, with clean rag, wipe rug off well, rubbing nap back the proper way. Let dry.

COOKING HINTS

Seasonable Spring Foods

Asparagus is a tempting, luscious vegetable which can be fixed in a variety of ways, and which we should all use bountifully in the spring.

Onions are also a healthful vegetable. To be used separately or in salad. Also as a relish. There is nothing much tastier than small green onions cut up with salt and pepper and vinegar. Use onions in connection with fresh, crisp water-cress and French dressing. You will find this combination delightful. Salmon is extra good in the late spring.

Lamb—is an ideal meat at this time of year.

Spaghetti Rarebit (Fine For Luncheon)

- 1/2 package of spaghetti. 1 tablespoon butter. 1 cup grated cheese. 2 well beaten eggs. Salt and pepper. Pimento for trimming.

Method: Cook spaghetti in boiling salt water until tender. Drain and rinse with cold water. Melt butter. Add spaghetti (cut up). Add cheese. Cook until cheese is melted. Add eggs and seasoning. Cook until mixture thickens. Serve on toast. Trim with pimento.

SWEET CLOVER

From the status of a weed, legislated against by Governments, to that of a much sought-after, cultivated forage plant has been the history of the development resulting from long and careful consideration but rather an almost instantaneous popularity, writes G. P. McRostie, Dominion Agrostologist.

There is always a danger, accompanying the sudden popularizing of any crop, of many people accepting the new production without reservation of any kind. Such acceptance invariably results in disappointments and numerous failures. For this reason, it is desirable to indicate some of the limitations and advantages of sweet clover as a forage crop. These refer principally to the biennial white blossom type as it is the only kind as yet of considerable commercial importance throughout Canada.

Advantages

Sweet clover can be grown successfully on a surprisingly great variety of soils.

Because of its ability to thrive on poor soils, it offers an excellent medium for the improvement of worn-out soils or for lightening up heavy soils. At the same time, it is a gatherer and storer of nitrogen, and adds to the soil a considerable quantity of this necessary element.

It provides an excellent source of pasture, and in moist years on the prairies and in dry years in the east, it is possible to produce a fair quality of hay from it. Once cattle become accustomed to the peculiar taste and odor of the sweet clover, they appear to relish both the pasture and the hay.

Objections

Sweet clover has a peculiar odor and a bitter taste that renders it unpalatable to cattle until they become used to it.

During years when rainfall is at all frequent during the haying season, it is almost impossible to cure sweet clover for hay.

The quality of hay produced even under the best conditions is usually inferior to that produced by alfalfa, red clover or our commonly cultivated grasses.

It is difficult to prevent sweet clover from seeding even when cut for hay or pastured, consequently it often appears in succeeding crops where it is not wanted.

When alfalfa seed production is carried, the presence of sweet clover is very undesirable because of the difficulty of keeping the alfalfa fields free from it and because its presence in alfalfa seed lowers the market value of the seed in which it is found.

Conclusions

All things considered, it would seem as if sweet clover had a distinct place as a soil improver and

RE GREY COUNTY HISTORY

To the residents of Grey County:

There has been appointed by the municipal council of each municipality in the county, a committee to secure data and write the history of their municipality, and it is the wish of the county committee that each be fully dealt with, and would suggest that any one knowing of events or incidents that they think would be interesting, give the same to the committee in their district.

The committee also wishes the names of all who enlisted for the great war in other units than the 31st, 147th and 248th. These we can get from the records, but many enlisted in other units, and we would like full particulars as to these.

If any one has a picture or photo of an old-time cattle fair, we would like to have it for a time.

The Committee.
