Treasurer W. J. Ritchie received this week a cheque for $2,191.80 from the Ontario Highways Department, being 20 per cent of the approved expenditure of Glenelg Township on roads and bridges for the year 1924.

This will be the last cheque received from this source until the Township Council abolishes the statute labor system. We understand from reliable information that 80 per cent of rural municipalities have abolished the statute labor system and will next year receive a grant of 30 per cent instead of 20 per cent on their approved expenditure. The other 20 per cent, which includes the Township of Glenelg, will receive no grant. We believe it is up to the ratepayers of our township to seriously consider this question and see that our municipality is kept up to the times.

GOOD ADDRESS GIVEN IN LIBRARY TUESDAY

Mrs. Watts, Toronto, Spoke at Summer Meeting of Women's Institute—District Annual Meeting To Be Held Here Next Month.

The summer series meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the library on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Watts of Toronto was the speaker.

The meeting was opened with singing of the "Opening Ode" after the business was disposed of, arrangements were made for the District Annual, which will be held on June 17 in the library.

It is expected there will be a turn-out as Mr. Putnam, Superintendent of Women's Institutes, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Watts was then introduced to the audience and was asked to combine two of her subjects in talk, "First Things First in In-tute Work" and "Community Work in Rural Life." She began her talk comparing her subject to that of a building. She commenced with the foundation, which was homes, the influence of which fell through our communities, even our nation. She stated that of the corner stones was the idea of Women's Institutes. As we need perfect material in building, so we need good material to build upon. We need a good Institute.

"One of the first planks we use," said Mrs. Watts, "is usefulness." She repeated a motto she had adopted by an institute she had visited which was, "For All." "Be agreeable," she said, "Beautiful lives are those which are useful."

Another necessary plank is "courage." If you only have courage to try to do what you are to do, and do the thing to the best of your ability, you will be prized indeed at what benefit will receive individually when we have done a share in the work. When in the minority, have courage of your own conviction and without offence to anyone, may show which side of the fence you are really on. Mrs. Watts quoted Ida M. Thompson in her address, "If Troubles and Losses Don't Magnify Them." Every man has his own troubles, so don't try others with yours. They have worse afflictions than you, they have the courage to bear them alone and smile.

Another plank to be used is "fulness." The speaker told how branches may be helpful, and an example of the benefit of the courses they may bring in real all. She gave a suggestion how may obtain at reasonable cost professor in any of the nearest cities, to speak on some educational subject, when we could develop minds along the more weighty subjects. Mrs. Watts also spoke of value, individually and collectively of progressive debates, where winners of your institute will compete with winners from other institutes. Community gathering were also helpful. She gave later as one of the best medicines many ills and was not hard to Mrs. Watts gave some suggestions as to what institutes may do for betterment of school sanitation, advised a woman on the board of trustees, or an advisory committee of women to the trustees, as said a woman could see more facts around a school in a month than a man would in an hour.

The plank of "charity" means love to all mankind. It was charity that will not hinder out low men. Do not repeat or say things that will not uplift. If one has his faults and mistakes but the telling of it often humiliates the offender, and does not courage him to do better.

To use the plank of "service" keep your eyes open for opportunities that turn up each day, and realize what even a small may mean to someone you are to meet.

As a watch tower, Mrs. Watts said to do all the good you can, all the ways you can, with all the souls you can, with all the zeal you can. Mrs. Watts remarked that men's Institutes had done a deal for women to find them and know their own possibilities.

Though the attendance was less than who did hear Mrs. Watts, the meeting closed with singing of "The Maple Leaf Forever."
