SNAPPY SNAPSHOTS

No girl will have a snapshot now, unless the picture shows a large proportion of her teeth. And mostly all her nose.

However, crossword puzzles do not call for as big a vocabulary as trying to raise a window on a railroad train.

Priceville

(Our Own Correspondent) The weather is still very changeable in this locality. We had some nice rain, but weather was too cold, and probably the frost following the rain will not be too good for early crops.

Corner Concerns

(Our Own Correspondent) Miss Ella Wilson came home from Toronto to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. A. Wilson. Mr. David Poole of New York, who was in Toronto at the end of the week attending a funeral, paid a flying visit on Tuesday at our home to see his father and sister.

(Our Own Correspondent) Mr. Ivan Seim of Mount Forest took charge of the service in Knox Church last Sunday. Mr. Seim and Mr. Neilson, also of Mount Forest, sang a duet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," which was much appreciated by all.

Sunday School was re-organized at St. Paul's and will start the season next Sunday. It requires a good attendance of children to make a Sunday School a success, but a good attendance of the grown-ups as well improves it very much.

Seeding being done early this year should give farmers time to put in a good crop of corn and roots and have the ground well prepared. Mr. Robert Mighton is a very busy man at present shearing sheep and has still about one hundred ahead of him yet.

The interest Mr. William Atherson is taking in horse breeding should be appreciated and encouraged by the farmers of this locality. Last week he traded his stock horse with some breeder at a distance for one that he is justly proud of and that should show good results throughout this part of the country.

Last week, Mr. Joseph Lennox got in a mix-up with his team and plough in the field with the result that when he finally got free, he found he had some broken ribs. This spring was so cool for horses that the fine edge was not taken off.

The Varney U. F. O. club met last Thursday evening at the home of neighbor Earl Mead, and the roll call showed very few absentees. After ordering supplies, a picnic was arranged for July 1 in Carson's bush. District Nurse Miss Campbell, acting under the Deputy Minister of Health, was present and spoke to both the U. F. O. and the U. F. W. O. who were also assembled, on the work being done by the department and the benefits to be derived especially from the use of the X-ray which will be carried to assist the home doctor and which is of so much assistance in the diagnosis of many diseases. A neat program and lunch concluded the meeting.

The death last Thursday of Mrs. Archie Wilson caused much sorrow in this part, not merely because she was an esteemed resident for a few years, but the place she filled in life was so important and she filled it so well.

Miss Margaret Watson, recitation by Miss Hazel Mountain and a dialogue by Miss Winnie and Mr. Cecil Barber. Mr. R. R. Watson was chairman for the social part of the gathering. At the business meeting, Mrs. Earl Mead, formerly Vice-President, was elected President and Mrs. A. Smith Vice-President. Mrs. William Grant tendered her resignation, as they intend moving to Mount Forest in the near future. A vote of thanks was given to Miss Campbell and those who participated in the entertainment. A dainty lunch was served.

HOW WILL YOU DO YOUR COOKING? How About Meals for the Family this Summer?

WHEN the hot sun beats down and your problem is how to keep the house cool and livable, the prospect of preparing hot meals in a stuffy kitchen is not at all inviting—is it?

No housewife wants to tire herself out cooking in heat and discomfort if she can be shown a better, easier way.

And there IS a better way! If yours is a country home, or if you intend holidaying at a summer cottage, you do not need to envy your cousin in the city who has at her disposal the advantages of modern electricity or gas.

McClary's Florence Oil Cooking Stove

Wonderful advances have been made in the perfecting of oil appliances, and in the "Florence" Oil Stove, you have the final word in practical efficiency and convenience. "Fumes, smoke and odors" are things of the past. The principle on which the "Florence" operates not only means absolute safety and cleanliness, but gives you all the advantages combined in the most modern coal, gas or electric range. For hot, sultry days when a cool, clean kitchen is so desirable, the "Florence" is a veritable boon to the housewife. It fits so readily into every household arrangement—the farm home—the summer Cottage—the city home.

There's a "Florence" for every need, from the neat, compact 2-burner for the camp or cottage, right up to the big 5-burner "Florence" range—a fully equipped and perfect range for every demand made upon it.

The excellence of the "Florence" is that it doesn't distribute the heat all over the kitchen. A jacket encloses the flame of the burner, preventing it from spreading outward and concentrating the heat where it is wanted. You can adjust the flame to any height in a moment by merely turning the lever on the dial.

Here's another special feature. The "Florence" has no wick. Wicks are unreliable, wasteful, need constant renewing, and are usually smoky. The "Florence" burner is steady, clean and safe. With a match applied, each burner is steady, clean and safe. With a match applied, each burner gives a steady, intense, blue flame, which provides all the heat, necessary and is always under control.

The brightest, cleanest, most practical Oil Cooking Stove you could wish to put into your kitchen --- simple, safe, efficient.

Call in and let us demonstrate the advantages of this wonderful modern Oil Cooking Stove. No obligation to buy.

THE VOL. 58.—NO. 3022. GOOD ADDRESS GIVEN IN LIBRARY TUESDAY

Mr. Melvin Greig Took Possession of Drug Business in Bruce County Town Yesterday.

The summer series meeting of Women's Institute was held in the library on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Watts of Toronto was the speaker.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the "Opening Ode." After the business was disposed of, arrangements were made for the District Annual, which will be held on June 17 in the library.

It is expected there will be a good turnout as Mr. Putnam, Superintendent of Women's Institutes, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Watts was then introduced to the audience and was asked to combine two of her subjects in her talk, "First Things First in Institute Work" and "Community Work in Rural Life." She began her talk comparing her subject to that of a building. She commenced at the foundation, which was the homes, the influence of which was felt through our communities, even our nation. She stated that of the corner stones was the ideal Women's Institutes. As we were perfect material in building, so we need good material to build up and hold together a good Institute.

"One of the first planks we must use," said Mrs. Watts, "is usefulness." She repeated a motto that she had visited which was, "Be a Good Neighbor." "Be agreeable, be helpful, be beautiful lives are those that bless."

"Another necessary plank was 'courage'. If you only have courage to try to do what you are asked to do, and do the thing to the best of your ability, you will be surprised indeed at what benefit you will receive individually when you have done a share in the work. Even when in the minority, have courage of your own conviction and without offence to anyone, you may show which side of the fence you are really on. Mrs. Watts quoted Ida M. Thompson in her version of, 'If Troubles and Losses Come, Don't Magnify Them'. Everyone has his own troubles, so don't worry others with yours. They may have worse afflictions than you, if they have the courage to bear them alone and smile."

Another plank to be used is "frankness". The speaker told how branches may be helpful and an example of the benefit of the short courses they may bring in reach all. She gave a suggestion how we may obtain at reasonable cost, professor in any of the nearest ties, to speak on some educational subject, when we could develop minds along the more weighty subjects. Mrs. Watts also spoke of value, individually and collectively of progressive debates, where winners of your institute would compete with winners from other institutes. Community gatherings were also helpful. She gave a letter as one of the best medicines many ill and was not hard to take. Mrs. Watts gave some suggestions as to what institutes may do for betterment of school sanitation. She advised a woman on the board of trustees, or an advisory committee of women to the trustees, as a said a woman could see more defects around a school in a minute than a man would in an hour. The plank of "charity" meant love to all mankind. It was charity that will not hinder our low men. Do not repeat or say anything that will not uplift our one has his faults and not only but the telling of it often discourages the offender, and does not encourage him to do better.

To use the plank of "service" keep your eyes open for opportunities that turn up each day. It hardly realizes what even a small may mean to someone you chat to meet.

As a watch tower, Mrs. Watts said to do all the good you can all the ways you can, to all souls you can, with all the zeal you can. Mrs. Watts remarked that Women's Institutes had done a great deal for women to find themselves and know their own possibilities. Though the attendance was small those who did hear Mrs. Watts listened to a most instructive address. The meeting closed with singing "The Maple Leaf Forever."
