Comedian's Father Tickles Chins--Not "Funny Bones"

NOW most all of our readers have heard of or even seen Fred Stone, the famous stage comedian. Well, here you see that celebrity's father, Louis Stone—who at the age of 75 years has decided he's still too young to be doing nothing. The elder Stone has re-opened his barber shop on Main Street, Freeport Long Island, and is again doing a regular rush hour business. Unlike his illustrious son, he finds his fun in "tickling" bushy chins with a razor rather than "tickling" vast audiences.

Noted Beauty Prefers Career To Wedded Bliss

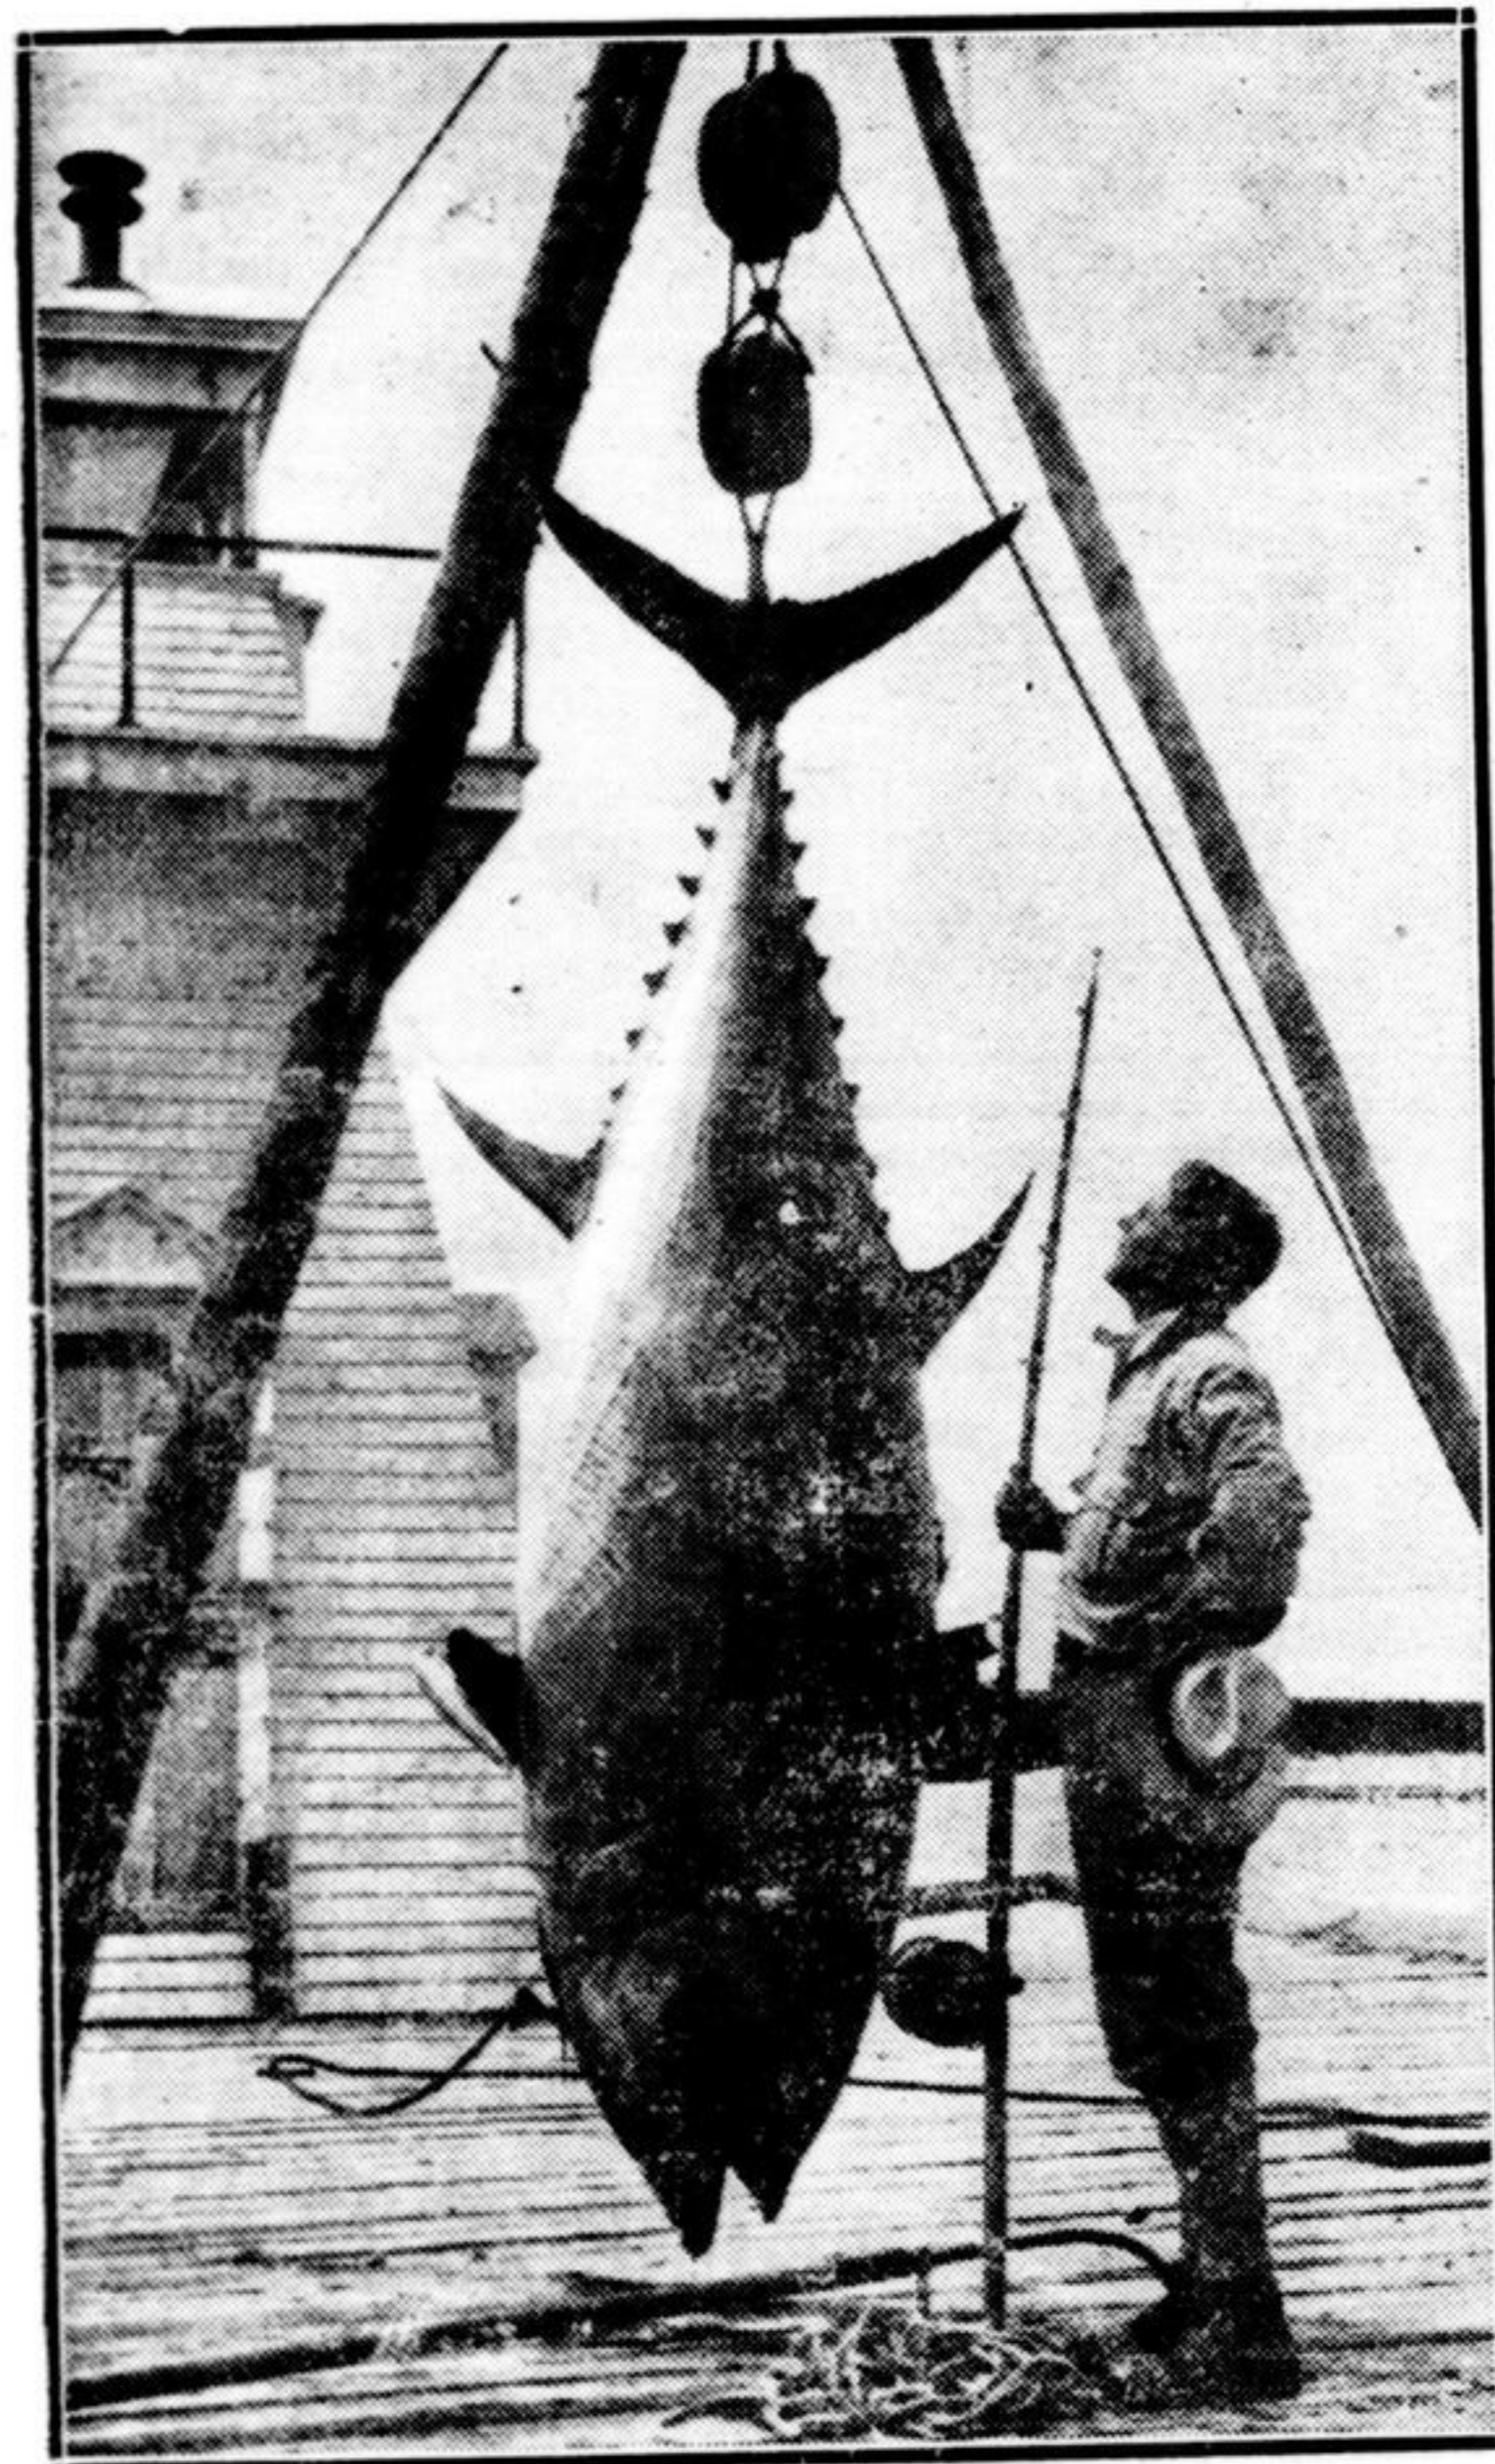

WHEN the public pays homage to your beauty and sparkling stage footlights beckon you to fabulous salaries—it's something to think about. So believes Miss Dorothy Knapp, whom the celebrated Flo Ziegfeld, Jr., adjudged the "most superlatively beautiful" of all the beautiful girls he has extolled. Miss Knapp was started on the road to fame by the well-known artist, Howard Chandler Christy, who judged her the winner of a national beauty contest. A few months ago, she became engaged to Fehner Christy, nephew of the artist—but the engagement didn't last long. The noted beauty decided a career was more alluring than wedded bliss and, consequently, has definitely made up her mind to continue on the stage. The above photograph is a very excellent likeness of her.

Yes, Dear. It's A Rare White---Deer

TWO living white deer, a rare species, have just been brought to this country by a Mr. Delaney, former American consul to Nicaragua. One of them is shown in the above picture enjoying a meal from the hands of Mrs. Delaney at their San Francisco home. It is reported that it took Mr. Delaney 20 years to breed a perfect pair of white deer. Those he has now are about 30 months old, and he's planning to raise more of their kind and thus establish a new variety of animals.

Monster Tuna Taken in Canadian Waters

As a writer of stirring tales of the Border and the mid-western states in the early days, Zane Grey has made an enviable record for himself, but now along he comes with another—a fish story—and better still, presents the proof in photograph, so that his yarn does not take on the semblance of a dream or a good bit of story-telling. Tuna, weighing nearly half a ton, are the reward of ambitious anglers who fish in Nova Scotian waters, particularly in St. Ann's Bay, off Cape Breton. Three mammoth tuna have been taken from this locality, each holding the world's record in turn. Captain Laurie D. Mitchell's 710 pound tuna held a record for a number of years, till along came J. K. L. Ross of Montreal, well known as an owner of racing horses, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and his skill as a fisherman. He landed a tuna after a 3 1/2 hours' fight, that measured 9 ft. and 2 in. in length, and 6 ft. in girth, and tipped the scales at 712 lbs. thus winning the honour of record tuna fishing from Captain Mitchell by 2 lbs. His record seemed secure, when along in August, 1924, came Zane Grey and his brother, R. C. Grey, eager to catch big tuna. They used a Nova Scotian-built schooner, a staunch little craft admirably adapted to their plans and needs. They got three tuna, weighing respectively: 638, 684, and then as a climax, the biggest tuna ever landed, weighing 758 pounds. Had they gone in for anything larger, it would have required a C. P. R. freight car to haul it to the cannery at St. Andrews. The time taken to land the first was 6 hours and 10 minutes, for the second, 38 min. which was caught by R. C. Grey, and 3 hours and 10 min. were spent to conquer the record breaker with which Zane Grey is said to have wrested the palm from the C.P.R. director and won the title of champion tuna fisherman. Other big fish of various species taken in various Canadian waters, include a record pike caught in Big Lac Nominique in the Laurentians of Quebec, weighing 58 lbs.; a 38 1/2 lb. muskellunge caught in 1924 in French River, Ontario, by Samuel W. Franklin of New York City; the world's record speckled trout, weighing 14 1/2 lbs., taken from Nipigon by Dr. J. W. Cook of Fort William; and a great Northern pike, 4 ft. long with a weight of 21 lbs., which gave Harold Sweester of New York a 45 minute fight on the Nipigon. Canada's infinitude of rivers and lakes are filled with a vast wealth of fish, many of them of record measurements and weight. The foregoing are sportsmen's records.

Once Kept Time For Sarah Bernhardt--Sold At Auction

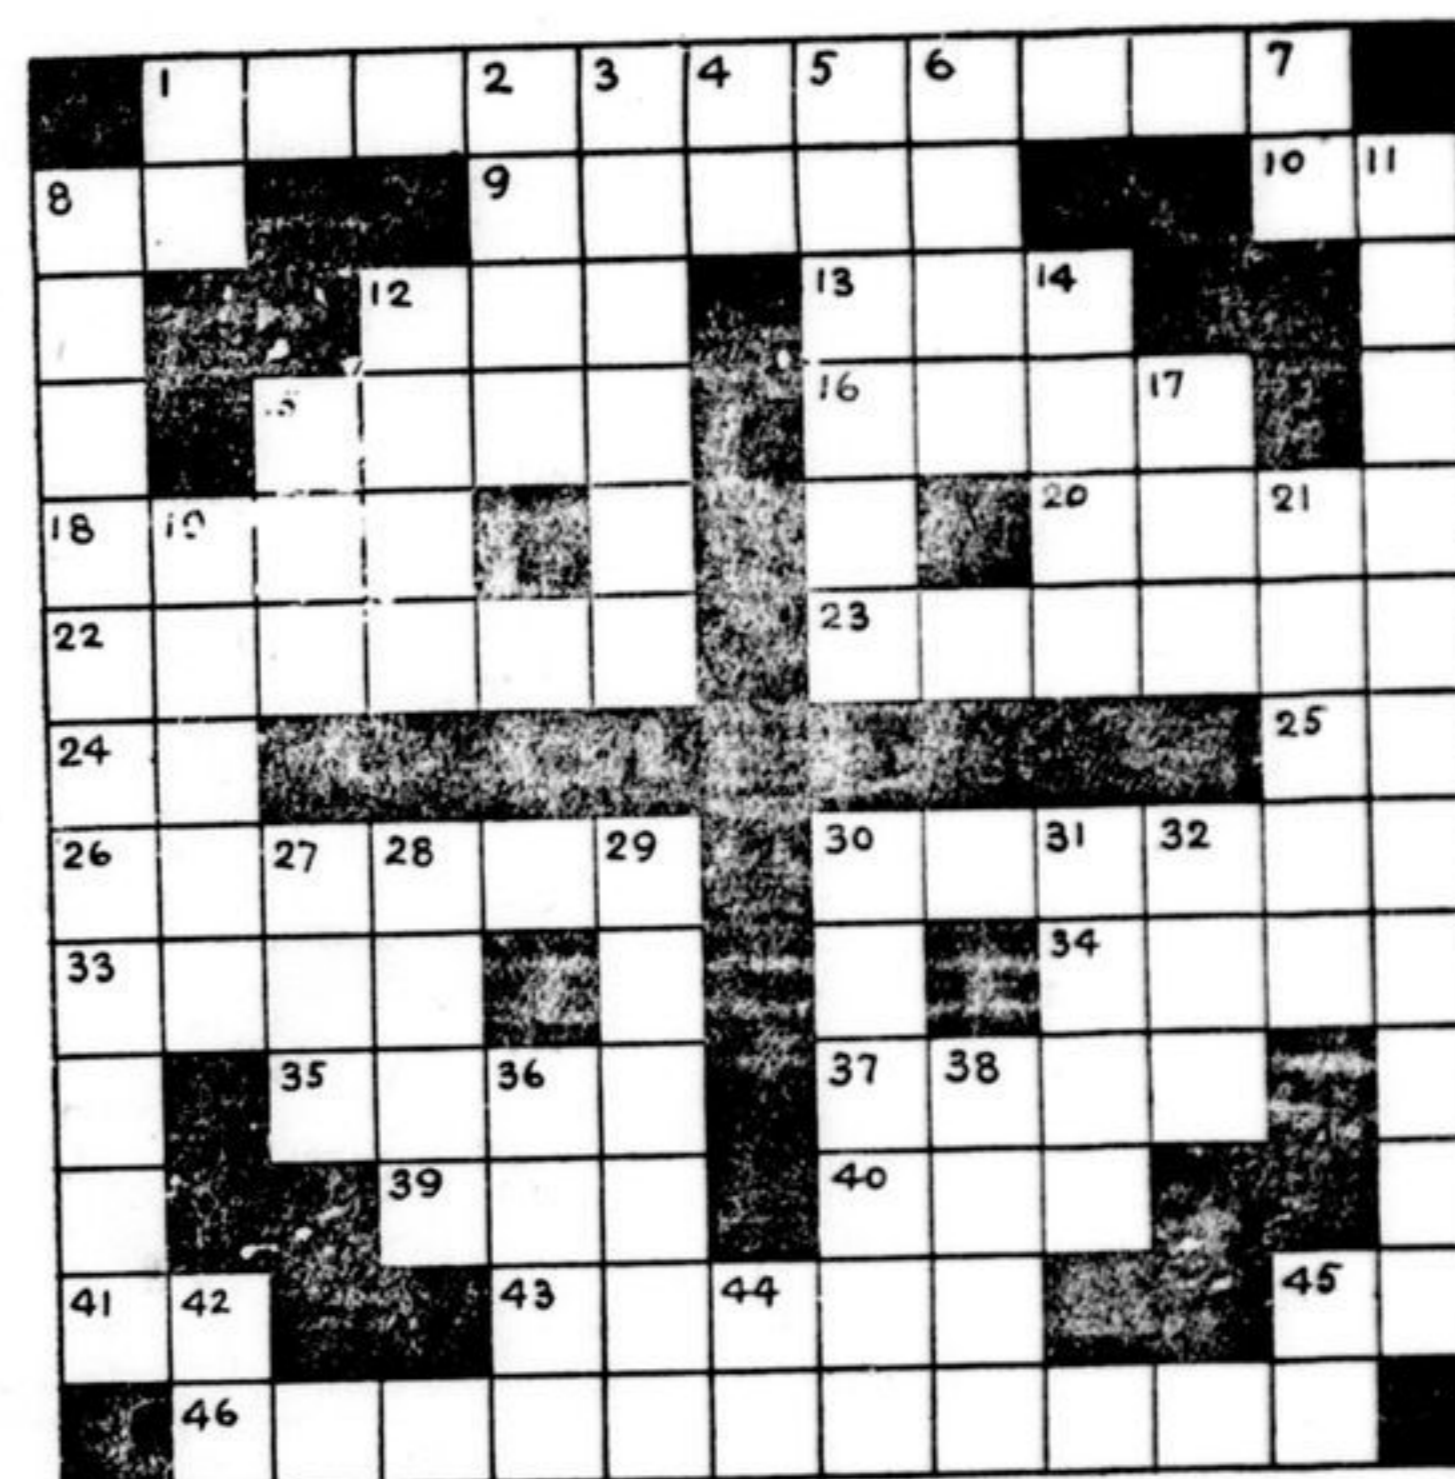

ABOVE is pictured a beautiful clock with a bit of history to it. It was formerly the property of Sarah Bernhardt, famous deceased French actress, and was prized very highly by her. Only recently, it was sold on the auction block with a number of other antique furnishings of Mme. Bernhardt's residence.

Artistic Sculpturing With Mutton Suet!

YOU'VE heard of artistic sculpturing being done in stone, sand, clay, ice, butter, pastry etc. But—here's a new material. Mutton suet is what this beautiful reproduction of Wellington Arch in Hyde Park, London, is made of! Its artist is Bianchi, a famous chef, who is shown above putting the finishing touches to his "meaty" creation.
