

For The Quiet Hour

THE BUILDERS

A builder builded a temple,
He wrought it with grace and skill;
Pillars and groins and arches—
All fashioned to work his will.
And men said as they saw its beauty,
"It never shall know decay;
Great is thy skill, O Builder!
Thy fame shall endure for aye."

A teacher builded a temple
With loving and infinite care,
Planning each arch with patience,
Laying each stone with prayer.
None praised the unceasing efforts,
None knew of the wondrous plan,
But the temple the teacher builded
Was unseen by the eye of man.

Gone is the builder's temple,
Crumbled into the dust;
Low lies each stately pillar,
Food for consuming rust.
But the temple the teacher builded
Will last while the ages roll;
For that beautiful, unseen temple
Was a child's immortal soul.

Leadership: Its Price and Its Rewards.

ITS PRICE

Faith in God
God lives: there rest my soul;
God hears: before Him bow;
God sees, and can control;
God leads: then follow thou!
O heart, be done with all they care!

Self-control.

A certain woman's organization was in trouble owing to the faithlessness of a member. The president, greatly incensed, in talking the matter over with a friend, asked:
"Do you think a little temper is a bad thing in a woman?"
"Certainly not," replied the friend. "It is a good thing, and she should never lose it!"

Unselfishness.

A painting by a Dutch artist showed a Madonna looking at something that did not appear on the canvas. The X-ray revealed the fact that a child had been painted over.
So selfishness is sometimes invisible till leadership reveals it. Beware of it!

Humility.

Earthly thrones are built with their steps leading up to them, but the thrones of the eternal kingdom are built with steps leading down. We must descend if we would reign, with steps leading down. We must descend if we would reign, with steps leading down. We must descend if we would reign, with steps leading down.

ITS REWARDS

What the world needs is not physical or intellectual giants in leadership, but men strong enough spiritually to do the right at all costs. Such should be the aim of all leaders.

Joy.

A Yorkshire factory girl, an acknowledged Christian leader among her associates, was walking up and down the platform, waiting for the train. In a first-class compartment sat a lady of title, wealth and culture, who was struck with the girl's joyful look. She called her in and asked:
"What makes you look so happy?"

The girl told her of her life among the girls so simply and humbly that during the conversation, the lady was led to accept Christ.

MUCH IS BEING WRITTEN AND SAID THESE DAYS ON THE subject of Divine healing. Not in Canada alone, but in other lands, the subject of faith healing is attracting widespread attention. In London, England, where J. M. Hickson has been conducting a mission of healing, a committee has been appointed to investigate the whole matter of spiritual healing.

The mystery of pain and suffering is one that is not easy of explanation, and the man with the ready-made theory as to the why and wherefore of it is usually a liar and an imposter. Why some of the godliest men and women should be called upon to pass through a very furnace of affliction, while others "with wind and tide fair i' their tail," as Burns has it, should pass through life with apparently little pain and trouble is the standing mystery of the ages, and one that will never fully be explained here. God has His mysteries of grace, and this is perhaps the greatest of them, and pain and suffering, sorrow and trouble seem part of the process of His education of His children. On no other ground can much of the sorrow of the world be explained. It has never to be forgotten that, however great the mystery may be to us, its hidden purpose and its great end are plain to God. Within the shadow there are treasures of darkness that He can see, and under His hand our present affliction, when viewed from eternity will be seen to have been light indeed, and to have wrought for His children "an exceeding weight of glory." There are many things we may not clearly see nor understand here, but we see Jesus, and "the healing of His seamless dress is by our beds of pain." His presence will go with us all the days to share our burdens, to comfort sorrow, impart strength when we are weak, and bring us safe at the long last to the Father's house, where faith is lost in sight, and sorrow and sighing have fled forever away. Many of those who have suffered most can say with joyful hearts—

With mercy and with judgment
My web of time He wove,
And aye the dew of sorrow
Were lustered by His love;
I'll bless the hand that guided,
I'll bless the heart that planned,
When throned where glory dwelleth,
In Immanuel's land.

HERE IS SOMETHING FOR THE MODERN YOUNG STUDENT or athlete, or both, to think over.
"In Kipke, Cappon, Weiman and Blott," says Yost, "I have the finest coaching staff Michigan has ever known. All four were honor men in their classes. And in all the years I have known them, I have never seen them smoke or drink, and I have never heard them use foul language under any provocation. Emery, of Princeton, another of our coaches, is the same type. And no football team ever sent five finer fighters to the field."—Grantland Rice.

Begin the day with God
He is thy sun and day,
He is the radiance of thy dawn:
To him address thy lay!

Thy first transaction be
With God himself above:
So shall thy business prosper well,
And all thy days be love! —Horatius Bonar.

A YOUNG GIRL, RECENTLY CONVERTED, SAID TO HER pastor:

"But, Mr. X, I can take Jesus Christ with me to the ballroom and the theatre."
To which the pastor replied: "Indeed, is that so? You can take Jesus with you! I did not know that was the order,—that it was yours to lead and his to follow."
Let us never forget, O my friends, that if we invest our lives for the glory of God, we must follow his Son! Whether we eat or drink or play, we must do all to the glory of God.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WESTERN FAIR

Since the last Exhibition, the Western Fair Association has put forth every effort to improve conditions in all departments for the 1925 Exhibition, which gives promise of surpassing all previous successes.

Many improvements have been made by altering the layout of the grounds and removing a number of buildings, thus providing excellent accommodation for all outside exhibits and amusements. The buildings have also been greatly improved with the most excellent and modern stabling to be found in the country. The comfort of Exhibitors has also been taken care of by providing excellent sleeping quarters adjoining, but entirely separate, from the Live Stock buildings.

Other important alterations and improvements have been made which will add greatly to the comfort and convenience of the large crowds attending throughout the week.

Monday, September 14, will be Children's Day, when children under 12 years of age from all parts of Ontario will be admitted free.

People from the rural communities and towns and cities will find it to their advantage to attend on Children's Day with their families. All exhibits will be at their best, and the Exhibition Board, as well as the exhibitors in all departments, are making a special effort to provide everything that can be desired for the instruction and amusement of the children.

General admission to the Exhibition will be 25 cents. Strip tickets of five admissions for $1.00 are also on sale and may be secured up to September 9. With the special railway rates and special admission rates prevailing, the Exhibition authorities are making arrangements to handle capacity crowds each day.

POISONOUS BANANA SPIDER

Mr. George Robertson picked up a large banana spider on the floor of his garage near where the big fruit truck was parked. This large poisonous spider was a little better than 2 inches in length, and when his legs, of which he has five to a side, were spread out, they measured a little over three and a half inches across. His body and legs are covered with brown hair. He has four eyes on each side of his head and two large mandibles and a huge breathing pore on his back.

This monster was exhibited in a gem in The Advance-Times window for a few days and has been added to the curios in the High school lab. It is said that the bite of a brown banana spider is more poisonous than the sting of a rattlesnake.—Wingham Advance-Times.

HEADLIGHTS AND DUST CAUSE AUTO ACCIDENT

Tiverton Woman Badly Injured When Car Plunges into Ditch.

Mrs. Mewhinney, wife of Dr. Mewhinney, V.S., of Tiverton, is in the hospital at Owen Sound very seriously injured as a result of the car in which she was riding turning into the ditch just outside the city limits on Sunday.

Dr. Mewhinney was driving, and just as he rounded a bend in the road on the north gravel highway in Derby Township, he was met by a car with glaring headlights. These and the dust pall which hung over the road blinded him, and instead of righting the car after the turn was made, continued to turn, dropped over an embankment about six feet high, and turned over in the ditch, throwing out the occupants or pinning them underneath.

Mrs. Mewhinney is in a serious condition with a collar bone broken and a compound fracture of the right leg. Dr. Mewhinney was very seriously shaken up. A son and a daughter and another lady in the back seat escaped with a shaking up. Farther out the same road, Mildred Rosehart got out of the car in which she was riding to open a gate. She was struck from behind by a car driven by Mr. Harold Mallard of Oxenden. She sustained a broken collar bone.—Tara Leader.

YOUNG LADY SERIOUSLY INJURED

While on her way to Muxlow's drug store, where she is employed, Miss Helen Brown met with a serious and unusual accident on Monday of last week.

While crossing the Canadian National tracks, she noticed a wild cow, which had evidently escaped from a herd being loaded at the station, which was running toward her, and before she could get away from the animal, it struck her in the back, throwing her violently to the ground.

Medical aid was procured, and the injured girl was removed to her home, where it was found she was badly bruised about her limbs and arms, and otherwise severely shaken up. She will not be able to be out for some time.—The Meaford Mirror.

BLENHEIM TOWNSHIP FARMER ALMOST INSTANTLY KILLED

James Lockhart, a Blenheim Township farmer, was almost instantly killed last week when truck he was driving toppled over a twenty-five foot embankment, pinning him underneath it. Lockhart was taking the machine from the farm of Charles Szazell when one of the wheels struck a soft spot, overbalanced and went down the embankment. Lockhart is survived by a wife and three children.

ASK THIS HALIFAX NURSE

She Is Willing to Answer Letters from Women Asking About Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Halifax, Nova Scotia.—"I am a maternity nurse and have recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to many women who were childless, also to women who need a good tonic. I am English and my husband is American, and he told me of Lydia E. Pinkham while in England. I would appreciate a copy or two of your little books on women's ailments. I have one which I keep to lend. I will willingly answer letters from any woman asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. S. M. COLEMAN, 24 Uniacke Street, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Could Not Sleep Nights

Dublin, Ontario.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it and feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."—Mrs. JAMES RACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

SPARE TIRE WENT AFLOAT ON THE SAUGEEN

Mr. J. W. Bell, of Queen street, north, found a motor tire under unusual circumstances, and by advertising it in The Advocate, found the owner as well.

Mr. Bell went picking raspberries one day last month on the Saugeen river bank in rear of Mr. Watson McKinnon's farm, Elora Road north, and was surprised to notice an inflated tire attached to a rim sticking on a jutting stone in the river rapids.

He salvaged the derelict without any great trouble, and brought it home, then used printer's ink in an effort to place it in the hands of the owner, in the person of a Mr. McLean from Durham, who called at The Advocate office to make inquiries as to the finder.

Mr. McLean had missed his spare tire after making a trip home from Port Elgin. The tire had evidently been jolted loose at the approach to some bridge and then rolled into the stream.—Paisley Advocate.
