

For The Quiet Hour

MY SAVIOUR

Thou art my Refuge; to Thine arms
I run for succor, sore-distressed;
There, safe from all the world's alarms,
Thou givest REST.

Thou art my Rock; when billows roll,
Thy power can bid my terrors cease;
And, 'mid the storm, unto my soul
Thou givest LIGHT.

Thou art my Star; I scarce can see
The way—so dark and wild the night;
Yet when I cry, far off, to Thee
Thou givest LIGHT.

Thou art my Hope; when tired, undone,
I shrink before the road's dark length,
Then to Thy weary wandering one
Thou givest STRENGTH.

Thou are mine All; sore, worn and sad,
I lift my lonely heart above;
Then, for the joys that once I had,
Thou givest LOVE.

—The Christian.

"THERE IS NOTHING IN THE THINGS THAT DIVIDE evangelical Christians that would give moral benefit to a single person, regenerate a lost soul or lift the moral welfare of a community. There are things there, however, that divide communities and even run dividing lines of religious interest through families. In so far as emphasis upon these non-moral, non-social differences persist, it avails only to slow down moral effort, confuse religious thinking and prevent social co-operation for the common weal. But there is enough in that which is held in common to redeem men gone wrong, to unite communities in co-operative effort for the common weal and to save the world. Cannot we build upon the solid foundations of yesterday's experience without projecting the warring lines in battles won across the new frontier?"—Alva W. Taylor.

AN AMERICAN MILLIONAIRE, AFTER SHOWING HIS palatial mansion and beautiful grounds to a Quaker, said: "The almighty dollar has done it all. What cannot money do?" "Ah, friend," replied the Quaker, "thou remindest me of how the worship of the golden calf kept the Israelites out of the Promised Land. Maybe thy dollars will do the same for thee!"

GREATER NEW YORK IS CALLED "THE GREATEST unevangelized center on earth" by Mr. Hugh R. Munro. The last census (1920) gives a population of eight millions within a radius of fifteen miles of Madison Square. "This populous area is not lacking in ornate cathedrals, stately churches, rescue missions and Christian philanthropies. Nor is it without a host of preachers, teachers, missionaries and other Christian workers. Yet the great mass of the people walk in spiritual darkness, unevangelized, unsheltered, lost! Foremost among the living factors in this colossal problem is the two millions of Jews, the largest company of Israelites gathered so near together since the exodus." And these Jews are "from every nation under heaven."

THE STORY IS GOING AROUND THAT A METHODIST minister began his Bible reading before his people on a Sunday morning in this manner:

"I can do all things"—Paul, you are a liar! "I can do all things"—Paul, you are a terrible liar!"—and down went his fist upon the pulpit.

A minute elapsed, then quietly the minister stepped to the right of the pulpit, and with uplifted face, said in a subdued voice:

"I beg your pardon, Paul. I see it all now—"through Christ which strengtheneth me." That is quite another thing, Paul, you are quite right! "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me!"

What a blessed assurance! Full well do some know that those who stand in their strength do not stand, and those who stand in God's strength never fall.

A YOUNG CHRISTIAN WHOSE BESETTING SIN WAS anger became of a remarkably sweet disposition. "I was told," he said, "by my pastor, that every outburst of anger pierced the heart of Jesus. So I hung a picture of our Lord in my room, and every time I lost my temper, I put a thorn in that picture. The picture was soon covered with thorns. As I looked, a great love and contrition came over me, that he should suffer because of my sins. Now I say, 'Not I, but Christ,' and his sweetness expels my anger."

(ALLEGED) NOTES OF A PREACHER'S TRIAL SERMON

SUBJECT: THE PRODIGAL SON.

Like all good sermons, it was divided into three parts.

1. The Prodigal's badness.
2. The Prodigal's sadness.
3. The Prodigal's gladness.

But there were three sub-headings:

1. The Prodigal's caviling.
2. The Prodigal's traveling.
3. The Prodigal's reveling.

Further, under "Sadness," there were these heads:

1. He goes to the dogs.
2. He feeds with the hogs.
3. Homeward he jogs.

Under his gladness, also three:

1. He receives a seal.
2. He eats of veal.
3. He dances a reel.

ONE OF THE WIERDEST EFFECTS ASCRIBED TO PROHIBITION is reported from Missouri. The dissection departments of the medical and osteopathic schools of the state used to procure bodies to work on from the state institutions, but since the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment, there have not been enough bodies to go around. Statistics show that during the last year, fewer paupers died in the cities than in any previous year. Last winter, there were fewer unidentified drunks frozen in the alleys back of saloons where they had been kicked after their money ran out, and fewer unidentified bodies in the parks, which the cities would have been called to take care of.

ALTHOUGH ONLY ABOUT TWO PER CENT OF THE Lithuanians are Protestants, the Presbyterians have played a great part in the construction of the new state. Three out of the seven ministers in the first cabinet were Presbyterians. The Commander-in-Chief is also a Presbyterian.

REGARDING FUNERAL PROCESSIONS

There is considerable misunderstanding in the province in regard to the law governing funeral processions.

The only reference which we have in any Act to funeral processions is in Section 17, Chapter 207, R. S. O., and reads as follows: "The driver of a motor vehicle upon any highway outside the limits of a city shall, upon meeting or overtaking a funeral procession, stop his vehicle, including motor, or where practicable, shall turn out into an intersecting highway or lane until the funeral procession has passed."

This was amended in 1917, the words "or overtaking" being struck out.

You will see that this as amended in 1917 does not require persons to follow a procession for miles, but on overtaking a procession may proceed to pass same without incurring any liability.

That is, a person meeting a funeral procession is required by law to stop his vehicle till the procession is passed, but a vehicle traveling in the same direction as the funeral procession may, if he so desires, pass such procession without incurring liability.

With but few exceptions, we believe a motorist has no necessity for passing a funeral procession, even if it be for but one reason, out of respect for the dead. Your own better judgment will tell you this.—Dundalk Herald.

GREY REGIMENT ARMORY

After negotiations covering a considerable period of time, the announcement has been made that the old Parker residence on Tenth street west, Owen Sound, has been secured as an armory for the Grey Regiment and on completion of some necessary alterations, the regiment will take possession. Since the burning of the old armories in Owen Sound, some years ago, the regiment has been without suitable quarters.

CAR CRASHES OVER BANK AND KILLS MAN

Dangerous River Road Near Greemore Scene of Fatal Accident.—Victim's Neck Broken.

Nelson Lawrence of Honeywood met with a fatal accident on the River road three miles from Greemore some time Tuesday night of last week, and his body was not found until 7 o'clock the next morning.

Lawrence was returning from Greemore to Honeywood when the accident occurred. He was alone, and nobody knows just what happened. At this point, the road is not in good shape, and there is no railing at the top of the bank. The rain of Tuesday made matters worse. It appears that the car ran off the

PAINS ACROSS THE BACK

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. J. WASSMANN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are anxious for others to know.

Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

road and crashed down the bank, a distance of 20 feet. When discovered, the unfortunate man had been dead several hours. His neck was broken, and he suffered other injuries. Deceased was 36 years of age.—Orangeville Sun.

A detour, according to the official viewpoint, seems to be any thoroughfare wide enough to carry a car out of sight of the road under construction.—Peterboro Examiner.
