CHURCH PROPERTY COMS. RENDERS VERDICT IN DURHAM CASE

Members of Commission Each Give Reasons for Decision of That Body in Refusing Recommendation for Relief on Application by Members of Durham Presbyterian Congregation.

Believing that the final settlement of the Church Union question is of community interest and measure to the members of the congregations interested, The Chronicle this week presents its readers with the full text of the finding of the Commission as read last Sunday morning in Knox United Church by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith.

Mr. Falconbridge. Mr. Wardrope. Mr. Cassels. Application of the minority of Durham Presbyterian church under section 10 of the United Church of Canada Act.

(Reasons of the Chairman).

As in other cases, so in this case, the respondents called a number of witnesses to show that neither its former Presbyterian church nor the former Methodist church could accommodate the combined United church congregations so as to render one of the church buildings available for the applicants.

In the Waterloo case, a suggestion was made similar to that made in this case; namely, that the applicants should pay a sum of money to the respondents to meet the obligation of the existing churches.

In the present case, as in the Waterloo case, the applicants are an organized congregation worshipping in a town hall in default of a church building, and I should have been glad to concur in any recommendation which would seem likely to afford them relief.

Different considerations may apply to an application under sec. 9 (f) because under that provision of the Act, the Commission has jurisdiction to make an order awarding a church building to the applicants without the consent of the respondents, and thus compel the majority of a congregation to resort to such other churches as may be available to them.

The vote was close, in the proportion of four to three in favor of union, and the applicant minority is an organized congregation of substantial strength, and undoubtedly in a position of extreme religious hardship, within the meaning of section 10.

After a great deal of consideration, I have with much regret come to the conclusion that the Commission cannot make any recommendation in this application.

Hints for the Household

For December

By BETTY WEBSTER

Readers, Note: If you have any questions concerning Recipes, and other Household Hints you would like to ask Betty Webster—address her in care of The Durham Chronicle.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don'ts for Washing Blankets

- New blankets are always a joy. There is nothing much softer, prettier or lovelier than new blankets. One always associates this loveliness with the newness and dreads the time the blankets have to be washed.

To Clean Enamelled Bath Tubs Put kerosene on a cloth and rub on tub. This is the best way to clean enamelled tubs. However one can use ammonia. Never use any kind of scouring soap because if used often it will soon wear off the enamel.

COOKING HINTS

Tomato Hint Tomatoes are an excellent article of diet for old and young. When cooking canned tomatoes, add a little sugar. This removes some of the acid and helps the flavor.

BAKING HINTS

Mother's Bran Muffins 1 egg. 4 tablespoons of sugar either brown or white. 2 cups of milk. 2 teaspoons of baking powder. 1/3 teaspoon of salt. 1 cup of flour. 2 cups of bran. 1 tablespoon of butter. Method: Place butter in muffin tins and let melt while muffin tins are heating in oven. Beat the egg well. Add sugar, salt, flour, baking powder, bran and milk. Mix well, and the last thing, add the melted butter. Pour in greased muffin tins and bake.

Food for the Gods

1/2 cup of flour. 1/2 cup of sugar. 3 eggs. 1 teaspoon of baking powder. 1/2 teaspoon of salt. 1 pound of seeded dates (cut up). 1/2 pound of nut meats (cut up). Method: Beat sugar, flour, salt and egg yolks together. Add baking powder, then beaten egg white, dates and nuts dredged in a little flour. Bake in a shallow buttered tin.

Caramel Icing

6 tablespoons of cream. 2 cups of light brown sugar. 4 tablespoons of melted butter. Method: Cook very slowly until it forms a soft ball in water. Let cook a bit before spreading on cake.

It seems a waste of time and money for the Commission, assisted by counsel for both parties, to hear applications under section 10. In an occasional case, a reasonable adjustment is made as the result of the discussion before the Commission, but frequently the minorities might just as well negotiate with the majorities and make the best terms they can, without the assistance of the Commission.

John D. Falconbridge, Chairman.

17th December, 1925.

Reasons of Mr. Wardrope

Much evidence was produced both by the applicants and the respondents in this case.

The Unionist members of Knox church in Knox church and the members of the former Methodist church are each associated with a country charge.

Neither of the Durham churches, in my opinion, is sufficiently large to enable the Unionist members of Knox church and the members of the former Methodist church to unite and carry on their work in one building, as efficiently as they carry it on now, if indeed it could be done at all without increasing the accommodation of the church that might be selected.

W. H. Wardrope, Commissioner. 17th December, 1925.

Reasons of Mr. Cassels

After a great deal of consideration, I have with much regret come to the conclusion that the Commission cannot make any recommendation in this application.

The vote was close, in the proportion of four to three in favor of union, and the applicant minority is an organized congregation of substantial strength, and undoubtedly in a position of extreme religious hardship, within the meaning of section 10.

ian church and the former Methodist church, it might fairly be inferred that even after making allowance for the restraining effect of bad weather and bad roads on the days when the counts were made, there would be very little danger indeed of the former Presbyterian church ever being unduly crowded if the former Methodists decided to seek accommodation in it. It might I think, even be inferred that if a decided effort were made, the Sunday schools could be amalgamated and the work carried on satisfactorily in the one building. But the members of the former Methodist congregation, while not very numerous, are carrying on their congregational work actively and apparently efficiently, and each congregation has the care of an outlying charge, and I think the Commission ought not to make a formal recommendation that the two congregations should join and use the one building. The position would be different if the former Methodist church were large enough for its own members and the Unionist members from the Presbyterian congregation. As things stand, the former Methodist congregation cannot be expected to efface itself against its will.

At the same time, it is reasonably plain that two congregations of the United church are not really necessary in Durham and perhaps an arrangement may voluntarily be come to by which there shall be one (Continued on page 8)
