The Days Of Long Ago

Taken From Chronicle Files of Twenty and Twelve Years Ago.

March 22, 1906.

After a residence in town for three or four years, Mr. John McKechnie has moved to a farm near the Rocky.

The little daughter of Mr. Alex. Russell had an operation performed a few days ago for the removal of part of her tonsils.

The extremely mild weather has taken a change, and the last week or so differs but little from the same date of ordinary winters. True the snow is quite light, but sleighing is good, and farmers are making good use of it. Wood and logs are coming in rapidly.

We regret to chronicle the death on Friday last of Mr. Michael Rielly of Priceville. He was about 55 years of age and leaves a widow and four children.

The Durham Furniture Company is very busy at present and have to work overtime to keep up with orders.

Mr. Stephen Ludlow resigned his position as chemist at the cement works and is succeeded by a Mr. Smith.

Thomas L. Teasdale, a former resident of Egremont, died in Perth County on March 8 at the age of 72 years.

After a long and painful illness from sciatica, Mrs. James Carson passed away on Saturday, the 17th inst. She was 65 years of age. Besides her husband, she leaves four sons and two daughters. Three sisters and two brothers also survive.

Interment was made yesterday in Durham cemetery.

Born.—In Durham, March 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLean, a daughter.

Married.—At the Manse, Durham, March 14, by Rev. J. Little, Mr. Alexander McGillivray of Rocky Saugeen to Miss Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKay of Williamsford.

C. Smith & Sons turned out their first gasoline engine last week. It runs smoothly, and seems under good engine control. There should be a great demand for power of this kind.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Alex. Gordon is doing well out West at Weyburn, Sask., where he is now engaged in the jewelry business.

Mr. Alex. Ellison's sale was one of the most successful ever known in this vicinity. His stock were well bred and fed and showed it, and big prices were realized. Auctioneer Noble was in happiest mood and drew dollars easily.—Traverston correspondent.

March 19, 1914.

Miss Jane Hughes fell on the ice at her own door on Saturday and broke the small bone in her wrist.

We are frequently asked about the new post office, and whether or not it is the intention of the government to start operations this summer. We have no definite information but presume tenders will be soon asked for.

A site has not yet been definitely decided on for the new High school, but we understand a number of places are under consideration. The Edge property opposite the skating rink is likely to be chosen.

We have to credit Bob Watt for telling us about the first robin. He saw one Monday morning, March 16, and is the first we heard of this season.

The young people of the Methodist church had a very pleasant social gathering on St. Patrick's night. The church basement was well filled, and a good programme and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Donald Wilson Ross, founder of The Walkerton Telescope, died in Toronto March 16, aged 74 years. Some time previous to 1874 he founded The Telescope.

Dad's Little Flutter
In the days before he became well-known, Hilton Hayes was a teacher in a school up north. One day he was trying to find out what his class of small boys knew of common objects. After several of his questions had been answered more or less correctly, he asked what a draught horse was made to wear when it went about its work.

The word "harness," for which he sought, was not forthcoming. At last he exclaimed impatiently: "Is there any boy here whose father attends to horses?"

"Yes, sir," said one small boy.

"Then tell the class, Tommy, what it is your father puts on a horse every morning."

"Half-a-crown, sir!" was the prompt reply.

You Said It, Pa.
"Pa, what does it mean here by diplomatic phraseology?"

"My son, it's like this: If you tell a girl that time stands still while you gaze into her eyes, that's diplomacy; but if you tell her that her face would stop a clock, you're in for it."

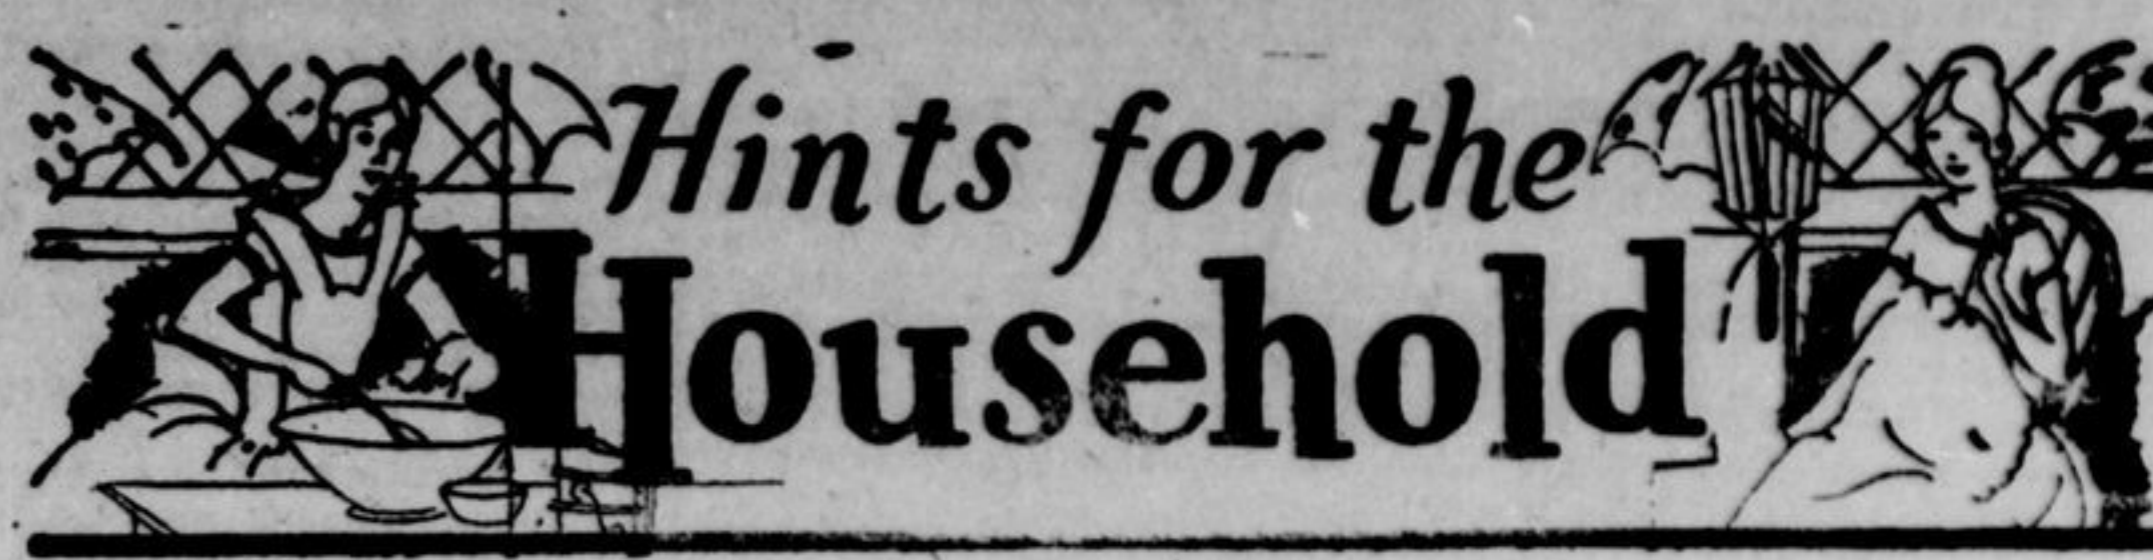

There will be sold by public auction at the residence of the proprietor.

Hints for the Household

For March

By BETTY WEBSTER

Readers, Note: If you have any questions concerning Recipes, and other Household Hints you would like to ask Betty Webster—address her in care of The Durham Chronicle.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Testing a Broom

Always test a broom before purchasing it. Press the edge against the floor. If the straws bristle out and bend, it's a poor one. The bristles should remain in a solid, firm mass.

To Take Away a Bad Odor

Dried orange peel, allowed to smolder on a piece of red-hot iron or an old shovel, will kill any disagreeable odor in a room.

Bacon Grease

Never throw away bacon grease. Always keep a jar handy to pour grease into. In this way bacon is not so expensive, as every bit of it is utilized.

Use it for frying. Use it for seasoning vegetables. Doughnuts fried in bacon grease are wonderful.

A delicious spice cake can be made by using bacon grease. Bacon grease also can be used to make gingerbread.

To Clean Silver Easily

Make hot suds. Put a half teaspoon of ammonia into the suds. Use a brush and wash silver quickly in this ammonia and hot suds. Dry with a clean towel. Later rub with a chamois.

To Renew Cane-Seat Chairs
Sagging cane-seats may be tightened by washing in hot soap and suds and leaving to dry in the open air.

BAKING HINTS

Casserole of Eggs and Mushrooms

1/4 pound of fresh mushrooms.
2 tablespoons of butter.
1 tablespoon of water.
A little salt.
A little pepper.
1 tablespoon of cup up parsley.
5 eggs.
2 tablespoons of bread crumbs.
1/2 cup of milk.
Method: Wash and cut up mushrooms. Cook in butter, water, salt, and pepper for a few minutes. Pour into baking dish. Beat eggs slightly. Add the eggs, parsley and salt and milk. Top with bread crumbs and pieces of butter. Bake about 45 minutes.

Cod Fish Balls With Egg Sauce

Mix flaked cod fish with equal quantity of mashed potatoes. Shape in balls and fry.

Serve with egg sauce made by using a thick white sauce in which has been cut up slices of whites of hard boiled eggs. Pour over cod fish balls. Mash yolks of eggs together and sprinkle liberally over the top. This makes a pretty dish.

To Remove Ink Stains

Apply a few drops of oxalic acid, following it with a few drops of Javelle water and rinsing both quickly with boiling water.

COOKING HINTS

French Dressing

Proportions for making French dressing are always 3 to 1. Three tablespoons of oil to one of vinegar.

Method: Mix dry ingredients. A little sugar, Pepper, Salt, A little mustard. Lot of Paprika. Add oil and then vinegar. Blend well. Pour into a bottle and shake well. This is an ideal way to keep a bottle of French dressing made up.

KNIFE-THROWING FEATURES

DIX'S "TOO MANY KISSES"

After professional skill had failed him, sheer beginner's luck came to the aid of Paul Sloane during the filming of the Paramount picture, "Too Many Kisses," starring Richard Dix.

William Powell, who plays a villain role in the production, to intimidate Dix and warn him against making love to "his woman," Yvonne, played by Frances Howard, featured in support of the star, gives an exhibition of adroitness in knife-hurling, the national sport of the young bloods of the Basque country, where the story is laid.

Powell's screen training does not include efficiency in this sport, so a veteran circus knife-thrower was engaged to do his stuff from a position behind Powell. Unaccustomed to long-distance throwing, the expert made a dozen or more fruitless attempts to hit the mark, a paper heart stuck up against the wall.

Powell thought he'd try a couple of casual shots himself. And you can imagine the consternation of the actor when the blade struck "home." Cameras happened to be turning at the time, and the film registered a bit of accidental "business" that hours of practice might not have secured.

Added item: Powell is left-handed. "Too Many Kisses" was adapted for the screen by Gerald Duffy from the Cosmopolitan story, "A Maker of Gestures," by John Monk Saunders.
