Mr. Mike Kenny, while driving to town Monday with a team of spirited horses attached to the buggy, was the principal in a runaway accident of which we have been unable to learn the particulars. When nearing Darkies' Corners, the horses took fright, ran away and badly smashed the buggy and harness. Fortunately Mr. Kenny escaped injury.

Mr. Kenneth Dunsmoor is engaged for the summer months with Mr. James Heslop. Mr. Wellington Noble is engaged with Mrs. Banks for a similar period.

A big crowd of friends and neighbors of Mrs. William Kenny and her sons, Will and Joe, assembled at her home Thursday night to spend an evening with them before their departure for Detroit. During the evening, these popular residents were called to the front and presented with a purse of money accompanied by the following address:

Dornoch, Ont., April 22, 1926. Mrs. Kenny, Will and Joe.

Dear Friends:

We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening with you ere your departure from our midst. Needless to say we are very sorry to see you go, although we know that your loss is another's gain. In church and social affairs, you will be greatly missed, as you were always among the first to come forward and assist in such. As to your hospitality, it is without question. No one visited your home without receiving a hearty welcome, and your neighbors were always sure of a helping hand in time of need. Knowing you have not disposed of your property, we hope to see you return in the near future to spend your remaining days here.

Mrs. Kenny and family have been esteemed and respected residents of this community for many years, and it is with genuine regret their old friends see them take their departure to reside elsewhere. They recently held an auction sale of their farm stock and implements and have retired their farm for a year to Messrs. N. Melosh and H. Trafford. Will and Joe leave for Detroit to accept positions, but Mrs. Kenny intends making her residence with her daughters in this community for a time at least.

Next came Miss Corrine Lawrence on "Jack Miner and the Birds." The subject, "Pioneer Days," was ably handled next by Mr. Joseph Crutechley. Miss Kathleen Firth was the final speaker, and her subject was "Who Are Responsible for the Immigrants in This Country, the Church or State?" All the speakers did very well, and it gave the judges some work to decide on which one came first. After some deliberation, they decided that Miss Firth was the winner. The judges were Mrs. T. Turnbull, Mrs. L. McLean and Mr. Harold McKeechlie.

RABBI WISE APPROVES STAND TAKEN BY SON

Renunciation of the Jewish faith by James Freeman Wise was "the only decent and honorable thing for him to do," in view of his convictions, his father, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, "liberalist" rabbi, said today.

Rabbi Wise said he had hoped devoutly that his son would give his life to the Jewish ministry, but added:

"But when a man, above all in the ministry, finds that he can not affirm the elementary items of his creed, there is nothing for him to do save, after mature deliberation, to withdraw."

Young Wise announced his severance with his father's faith yesterday, explaining that he was convinced that as a religion, Judaism "had ceased to play a vital part in Jewish life."

PARADISE REJECTED

The following poem from The Porcupine Advance, was a favorite with old-timers in the Porcupine district, and with the present Red Lake boom, it threatens to spring into prominence once more. Optimism is a miner's chief stock-in-trade; without it he would be beaten before he was well started. Like the man from Missouri, he will try anything once, and do it with an enthusiasm that would lead one to believe there was no such word as failure.

When Prospector Bill tired of earthly existence, Of tramping 'the hills and the desert's white face, He gave up the struggle with little resistance, And hit the long trail to the great Pearly Gate.

St. Peter, one eye on the peep-hole, espied him, "And what have you done to earn rest in the fold?" Bill answered with vision of Heaven denied him, "I peopled earth's deserts by locating gold."

"A prospector? Mercy!" (his voice was unsteady) "Bold pilgrim," he questioned, "hast never been told That Heaven is full of your brethren already, They ruin our streets digging holes to find gold?"

Old Bill scratched his head, then a gleam lit his features, "Just let me in," he entreated, "I know A way to rid Heaven of all of these creatures, And failing, I promise to get out and go."

St. Peter looked puzzled, half hoping, half doubting, "If only you could, Bill," he said, "You know not the trouble with which you are coping, But anyway, enter—you might as well try."

The portal swung open. Bill lost not a minute, Approaching the culprits all digging pell mell, He spread the bold fiction for all that was in it, That gold had been struck in the vortex of Hell.

And then something happened, as Bill had expected, Believing the yarn of this angel, pro tem, The mad throng stamped, and Heaven rejected, Began a wild chase for the Devil's own realm.

"Well done," said the saint, in his happiest humor, "But Bill," he continued, his words of sense and low, "Could they—Heaven's shrewdest—be fooled by a rumor? Perhaps there is gold in the realm below."

Bill took one long breath like an angel immortal, Yet saw the wild tumult, yet heard the dim swell, "Goodbye," he yelled back, as he dashed through the portal, And brought up the rear on the highway to hell.

How's This One

The young man stopped, picked up a coin from the floor of the street car, examined it attentively, and then "Has anybody lost a five-dollar gold piece?" he called in a loud voice.

Instantly the solemn man at the other end of the car strode forward, "Yes, I've lost a five-dollar gold piece," he said eagerly, holding out his hand.

"Well," said the young man, "I'm sorry for you. Here's five cents toward making good your loss."

Cats

A grammar school boy handed in the following composition on "Cats." "Cats that's meant for little boys to maul and tease is called Mauitese cats. Some cats is reknownized by how quiet their purrs is, and these is named Pursion cats. The cats what has very bad tempers is called Angorie cats, and cats with deep feelins is called Feline cats. I don't like cats."

Matrimony is a kind of deal—ideal or misdeal.

CHANGES EXPECTED IN C. N. R. SERVICE

Change in Local Railway Operating Staffs Rumored After May 1, When New Operating Schedule Takes Effect.

A wholesale change in train crews running out of Durham is rumored to take place on the 1st of May, but so far as The Chronicle can find out, nothing definite is yet known. It is said, however, that with the new change in the service, Engineer R. J. Moorhead, of the local Durham-Guelph freight, will likely be taken off this run, being replaced by Mr. Graham of Guelph, now on the Warton-Park Head run. It is also said that the local passenger crews will be affected in the shake-up.

A drastic change is rumored in the passenger service as well. At the present the local passenger service calls for two round trips from here to Palmerston each day. This, if Dame Rumor is correct, will be replaced by a through run from Durham to Hamilton, and as the mileage covered is too much for one crew to handle it is more than likely that two passenger crews will reside in Durham, making the round trip to the Ambitious City every other day. Just what change is to be made in the freight service is not yet known.

So far, the proposed changes are rumor, and rumor only, no definite orders having been heard from headquarters, but it is certain that a change of some kind is to be made. Official word is likely to come through at any time now, but will be fully worked out by the authorities before Saturday when the new changes are scheduled to come into force.

SOME BIRDS

The wife of a Unitarian Minister in West Virginia had been married three times. Her maiden name was "Partridge." Her first husband's name was "Robins." Her second husband's name was "Sparrow," and the present "Quail." There are now two young "Robins," one "Sparrow," and three "Quails." In the family one grandfather was a "Swan," and another a "Jay," but he is dead and now a bird of "Paradise." They live on "Hawk Ave., Eagleville, Canary Islands," and the fellow who wrote this is a "Lyre" and a member of the family.
