For The Quiet Hour

PRAYER

Three doors there are in the temple Where men go up to pray And they that wait at the outer gate May enter by either way.

There are some that pray by asking; They lie on the Master's breast, And shunning the strife of the lower life, They utter their cry for rest.

There are some that pray by seeking; They doubt where their reason fails; But their mind's despair is the ancient prayer To touch the print of the nails.

There are some that pray by knocking; They put their strength to the wheel, For they have not time for thoughts sublime; They can only act what they feel.

Father, give each his answer, Each in his kindred way; Adapt Thy light to his form of night, And grant him his needed day.

-William Watson

IT IS WRONG TO THINK OF DESTINY ONLY IN CONnection with death and disaster. When shall we cease to believe that death, and not life is important; that misfortune is greater than happiness? Why, when we try to sum up a man's destiny, keep our eyes fixed only on the tears that he sheds, and never on the smiles of his joy? Where have we learned that death fixed the value of life, and not life that of death? - MAETERLINK, Wisdom and Destiny.

ACCORDING TO THE LATE DR. JOHN WILKINISON OF London, the number of baptized Jewish converts of the last century was 120,000; which means one to every 156. Among the heathen in the same period, 2,000,000; which was one to every 525. If the heathen had responded as the Jew responds to the gospel, we would have had among them 7,000,000 instead of 2,000,000 converts. Or if there were as many Jews as there are heathen, we would have had seven Jews converted to every two of the heathen.

A PERSIA MISSIONARY, ITINERATING, STOPPED over night at a village. Her host, a man who has had no Christian fellowship except in a few brief trips to Teheran, asked her the meaning of the Lord's Supper. It was explained. Then he said:

"I didn't just understand, and in order to make no mistake, I have been eating all my food 'in remembrance of Him'."

REV. G. A. JOHNSTON ROSS, D. D., WHO HAS BEEN spending his sabbatical year in Hawaii, has suggested that island as a center for rest and study on the part of missionries and missionary pastors. Its relative nearness to China and Japan, its ideal climate, its multiplicity of races as a clinic, "the western outpost of Christianity and the eastern outpost of the non-Christian religions of the Orient," are among the advantages specified. A rest house and college, with library, would have to be erected and staffed.

THE INHABITANTS OF A SMALL FACTORY TOWN IN Peru took to Y. M. C. A. recreation activities with such enthusiasm that many of them refused to interrupt their play to go home for food. Their leisure pastimes used to consist mainly of drinking and gambling, but now, under the direction of a leader from the Lima Association who visits them once a week, they are discovering new pleasures in cage-ball and other games.

AN EFFORT TO STAMP OUT BLASPHEMY BY THE authorities is reported from Holland. In the railroad stations attention is drawn by large placards exhorting the population to resist the pracice of swearing and blasphemy. A translation of one poster reads:

"If you believe in an almighty God, respect Him, and do not make vain, useless and unreflecting use of His name! If you do not believe in an almighty God, do not make any use of that name, for you will render yourself ridiculous, and you will offend your neighbor!"

DR. JOHN F. CARSON, WHO HAS BEEN PASTOR OF Central Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, for forty years, said in his anniversary sermon:

"Our doctrinal position has not been affected by any of the fugitive opinions which during these forty years have had transitory prominence in public thought, speculations which one decade emphasized and the next forgot. We decline to accept the intimation, sometimes made with courtesy, sometimes expressed with vigor, and always indicating a condescension as if one had failed to keep abreast of the times and had become moribund. I have given careful thought to the theories propounded, and studied them in the light of Biblical research, and in the light of the conclusions of masters of religious thinking,—men whose intellectual force, philosophical acumen and theological knowledge could not be gainsaid,—and as a result of that study I have become even more confirmed in my belief in the evangelical faith."

Greenock Woman Died When Physician Not Called

It is difficult to appreciate in this enlightened age, the reasoning of a person who will. not call in a physician at a time of serious sickness. A case in which a woman might be alive today, according to the information at hand, had a physician been called in the early stages of her illness, occurred in Greenock last Sunday morning. Miss Ottilla Ernewein, 57 years of age, passed away at the home of her brother, Mr. Alois Ernewein, without having been seen by a doctor during the ten days of her illness.

In the Durham Stone and Sand Company's yards, and in stepping on to the couplings of two cars, got his couplings of two cars, got his left foot in the opening between the couplings, and when the train shulted, the aperture closed with a snap, breaking the big toe and the adjoining one, besides badly crushing his left foot. He was removed to the Durham Hospital, where the injury was treated by Dr. Jamieson, and he was able to be brought to his home in town. The mishap, which was a most painful one, will be entirely built of Wiarton stone. The work of excavating started last week, and now the basement is almost dug, while huge piles of material are on the grounds. It is understood that Mork Times. in the Durham Stone and Sand Com-

My sister had been doing my washing and she continued doing it, as she said it might set me back if I started to do it again. It sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, now nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am able to do my work all by myself now. The Business of Agriculture

ARMING is more than an occupation; it is a highly commercialized business which requires careful planning and thoughtful execution. Bountiful production is necessary, but much effort is wasted unless the business of disposing of the year's output is properly managed. In conducting the business of the farm, the Standard Bank can play a prominent and useful part. Consult the manager and learn how true co-operation between banking and agriculture builds a more prosperous community.
