Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan and babe of Arthur have been spending some time with her mother, Mrs. M. Smith.

Most folk have a good cherry crop, but 'tis fun to see the robins and yellow-hammers using the scare-crows for roosting places.

Nearly fifty of No. 9 school folk, young and old, gathered at the home of Mr. Joe Edwards and his young bride on Friday evening of last week and after an hour of converse and games, Mr. Robert McFadden called the meeting to order. Miss Eliza Patterson read a most kindly worded address, and three members of the company presented them with a beautiful mantel clock, a handsome stand and a pretty serving tray. Both groom and bride responded, thanking the old friends of No. 9 for their generosity and kind wishes.

Messrs. J. McGirr, T. Bell, Reeve W. Weir, Councillor Alice and the chairman all made neat, witty speeches, and your scribe had a few words of encouragement for other bachelor fellows to go and do likewise. No. 9 has more winsome maidens than we trust Zion boys may "steal." A night of good cheer, jollity, dancing and feasting followed. The following is the address.

S.S. No. 9, Glenelg, July 30, 1926. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards, Dear Friends:

We, your friends of S.S. No. 9, Glenelg, have assembled at your home here tonight to extend to you our best wishes and to have a visit with you.

You, Margaret, have lived all your life in our community, with the exception of a few months, and we have learned to respect you and so realize our loss. In our undertakings in No. 9, you were always ready and willing to help in every way you could, and now, Mr. Edwards, we wonder if Aberdeen had a church would the Sunday picnickers from town go instead of playing various games.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGirr, Mr. William and Miss Margaret of Glenelg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Heslett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ewen were at the barn raising at Mr. J. Allison's recently.

Ho—Daring, you teeth are like pearls. Sho—Pearl who?
