By MARJORIE ADAMS

Labor Day, as the last summer holiday, is, for most of us, a gala occasion. It is seldom that the weather disappoints us at this time.

I think you will enjoy hearing about one that I attended. The hostess was original, and her invitations printed crudely on pieces of brown wrapping paper asked us to come arrayed in sports clothes and wearing stout shoes.

A hat containing slips of paper was passed to each one. Each paper contained directions how to reach a certain place. Those who drew similar ones grouped together and off we started.

other before we continued and to carry the placard with us to prove that we had followed orders.

When the various parties arrived at the destination, there was found a real treat, a blazing fire, and plenty of food. After a satisfying luncheon, a prize of a large, soft ball was presented to the group which had arrived first at the camp, and it was put to use immediately in an impromptu ball game.

At the end of the afternoon, we sat around the fire and told stories and sang the while we toasted marshmallows. Finally, we were piled into a huge bus which the hostess provided, and were driven back to our homes.

We all voted this a most successful party and are hoping as hard as we can that we will be invited to a similar affair this year.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

- 1. A ham rubbed with peanut butter and covered with brown sugar before it is baked will have a delicious and decidedly individual flavor. 2. A strip of bacon placed on top of a meat loaf and cooked with it will keep the meat from becoming crusty and dry? 3. A soft chamois—(which has been washed to remove the oil)—wet thoroughly and squeezed as dry as possible is the best possible thing to use for polishing a piano.

RECIPES

- French Dressing 3 tablespoons of olive oil 1 1/2 tablespoonfuls of vinegar 1/4 teaspoonful of salt 3/8 teaspoonful of paprika Mix salt and paprika; add one tablespoonful of oil, and mix well; add one-half the vinegar, a little at a time. Blend, and add remainder of the oil and vinegar alternately.

Cabbage Salad

Cabbage, chopped, mixed with French dressing, garnished with pimientos cut in strips.

To the Electors of South-East Grey. Dear Fellow Electors:

Chosen unanimously as the Liberal-Conservative candidate for this banner riding, I pledge myself, if elected, to use my every power and influence for the furthering of the best interests of the farmers, the industrial workers and the commercial classes of our beloved Canada.

I will endeavor to have the enormous debt of this country reduced and this land of ours made a place which will not only hold its own youths and maidens, but will attract the masses of the best blood of the motherlands. "Canada for Canadians" is my motto; your best interests my highest ambition; your united support my heartfelt desire.

Gratefully yours, R. T. EDWARDS, The People's Candidate.

EVERBEARING STRAWBERRIES

While everbearing strawberries can hardly be considered a commercial crop for general use, yet such advances have been made with the introduction of newer varieties, that they are worth a trial in many places.

The fall yield from these varieties is much lower than from the June sorts. This necessitates a higher price if the returns per acre are to be comparable. Some of the best varieties have, at the Central Experimental Farm, yielded at the rate of 2,000 to 2,500 boxes per acre, the first fall, and then have given a June crop the following season at the rate of 4,000-5,000 boxes, with a second fall crop about equal to the first.

To obtain the best results, fall planting seems to be advisable. By planting in September, the plants become well established, and are thus in a position to form a large number of runners for the next fall's crop. As most varieties of everbearers are not rapid runner makers, plant them not more than one foot apart in the rows, and if the first fall crop is to be a feature, stagger them and put in a double row one foot apart, leaving three and a half feet between centres of double rows.

In this way a very large number of young plants can be established by the next autumn. Failing this, very early spring planting of well matured and early plants is necessary.

As the fruit buds of these fall bearers are formed shortly after the young plants root, an application of a nitrogenous fertilizer, sometime in early July, has been found very helpful in promoting productivity in the fall.

It is advisable, of course, to keep the bloom picked off during the first year until the first of July. After that, however, they should be permitted to fruit at will. We have not been able to obtain results from the removal of the bloom the second spring. At this time, blossom removal is really impracticable owing to the heavy expense involved and the loss of a good June crop.

Of the varieties to be recommended, only two have really been tried at this station; viz, Champion and Duluth. These are both improvements over Progressive and Superb under our conditions. The two other much advertised varieties Mastodon and Rockhill, have not fruited here as yet, but the writer has seen the Rockhill in other places where it appeared to be the most promising fall bearing sort yet introduced.

Canadians must remember that our falls are not as long as further south, which means that many green berries are frozen on the vines. This necessitates a considerable discount from the fall yields reported from other quarters.
