Meandering with Marjorie

By MARJORIE ADAMS

Don't you often tire of attending a series of luncheons at which each hostess tries to outdo the previous one in the richness and elaborateness of her food? I do, and, recently went to a party prepared to be overfed and utterly bored.

The Spread

The table was spread with a red and white checked cloth and a red and white checked napkin lay at each place. There was no centerpiece save a big brown earthen pot of beans flaked on one side by a dish of catsup and on the other by one of pickles.

A maid brought in a pot of Boston brown bread and the tea in an old fashioned silver tea-pot.

Sliced tomatoes were served as the necessary vegetable and the dessert was apple sauce and gingerbread.

The luncheon was unique and has caused all the prospective hostesses in that set to don thinking caps for original ideas for their parties. I knew that you would be interested, too, and probably want to give a "bean party" for your friends; so I'm giving you the needed recipes. You already have my gingerbread but here are the others in quantities for six persons:

RECIPES

Boston Brown Bread

- 1 egg
1 cup of sour milk
1 heaping teaspoonful of soda dissolved in
1 tablespoonful of boiling water
1 cup of molasses
1 cup of yellow corn meal
1 cup of rye flour
1 cup of wheat flour
1 teaspoonful of salt

Beat egg; add milk; add dissolved soda to molasses and beat until foamy; add to egg and milk; sift in the dry ingredients; (Raisins may be added if desired. Flour about half a cupful and mix with the batter.) Put into greased mold and cover tight. Steam for three hours. Let cool before removing from mold. I like my bread crusty; so after it is done I remove it from the mold and place it in a moderate oven for about five or ten minutes.

Baked Beans

Soak one pound of navy beans overnight. Then cook over a low fire until the beans can be mashed with a fork. Put a pinch of baking soda into them before removing from fire. Pour into casserole; add salt and pepper to taste and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mustard; add four tablespoonful of molasses and, if the mixture does not seem moist enough or if your casserole is not quite full, add more water. Slice half a pound of salt pork and place on top of the beans. Cover and cook for two hours in a very slow oven.

Apple Sauce

Peel and core six medium sized apples; cut into small-pieces and place in pan with one cupful of water (if apples are rather dry use two cupfuls). Cook over medium fire until the apples mash easily. Remove from fire; add one cupful of sugar and mix well. Mash with spoon or potato masher; pour into dish; sprinkle with nutmeg or cinnamon and let cool.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT ZION

Anniversary services will be held in Zion United Church, Sunday Oct. 10th at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Morning preacher, the Rev. F. N. Bowes, B.A., B.D., Markdale. Evening preacher, Rev. J. E. Peters, M.A., of Durham. The following Monday evening an anniversary entertainment will be held, the programme commencing at 8 o'clock. Lunch served at end of program. Admission 35 and 15 cents. It Will Pay You to Advertise in The Chronicle.

DON'T

When I quit this mortal sphere And mosey 'round the earth no more, Don't weep, don't sigh, don't grieve, don't sob;

I may have struck a better job. Don't go and buy a large bouquet For which you'll find it hard to pay. Don't hang around me, looking blue; I may be better off than you. Don't tell folks that I was a saint, Or any old thing that I ain't. If you have dope like that to spread, Please hand it out before I'm dead. If you have roses, bless your soul, Just pin one in my buttonhole Today, while I'm alive and well.

Don't wait until I'm safe in Toronto. "Paw, where does ink come from?" "From incubators, son. Now run out with the boys."

THE LETTERS WE NEVER WRITE

The letters that we never write, The things we never say; They'll all come back some haunted night.

They'll break our hearts some day— The letters that we never write, The things we never say. The praise we planned to give our friends, Forgotten 'til too late; The healing glance, some hurt to end

That somehow had to wait— Put by for tasks that had no end, That seemed to very great! Where is there importance now? When death has claimed the one

We'd time have found to help somehow If we had known? This sun Shant set before I speak, I vow, Or ere that letter's done!
