PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH WAS FORMALLY OPENED ON SUNDAY LAST

Along religious lines. They make few changes in life, but this was not so with the boys and girls-the men and women of tomorrow. He contrasted the coming generation with the acorn as compared with the full-grown oak tree. An examination of the acorn would not show any semblance of the tree. It had to be cultivated and the tree would spring from it. So with the child. An examination of it would not show the full-grown man or woman. It must be cultivated, and it was on this cultivation that its future greatness and goodness depended. As in agricultural pursuits so with the boys and girls of the country. The proper seed must be sown, then followed the cultivation, and on this depended the crop. The home, the Sunday school, the church, the school and the observance of the Sabbath were all needed to develop the youth of the country-Canada's greatest asset. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, ending two of the most successful days in the church history of Durham. Next Sunday the special speaker for the day will be Rev. W. J. Burnett of St. Marys, a former pastor at Dromore, when it is expected that the church will again be filled to capacity.
