I. O. D. E. PAGEANT ON TUESDAY NIGHT ELABORATE AFFAIR

And last but not least came the grand finale, the march past of the school children of South Grey, each bearing a British flag. There seemed to be hundreds of them as they passed in review over the stage in front of the entire pageant company, neatly grouped back-stage, where, with the clever manipulation of many-colored lights, the closing scene presented a most beautiful appearance.

A spectacle of this kind must be seen to be appreciated. No amount of newspaper publicity can picture the beauty of a performance of this kind, nor instill into its readers the patriotic thrill felt when these historic events of the past are being enacted. With the largest crowd that ever attended an entertainment of this kind in Durham, there were few homes in this district that were not represented, and those that were not missed a rare treat that comes only once in a lifetime. We feel that we are but voicing the sentiments of all when we publicly thank the I. O. D. E. for the bringing of this excellent production to Durham, and those who took part in it and made its rendition possible. It is impossible to deal with such a spectacle from the standpoint of personal reference which will be best obtained from a perusal of the parts represented and those who played the various roles, given below.

A pleasing feature of the programme, and one not known even to the members of the company, with the exception of a very few, was the presentation of beautiful bouquets to Mrs. Farewell, Miss Farewell, and Mrs. G. S. Kearney, the latter the Regent of the local Chapter. The addresses were read by Mr. E. D. McClocklin, and the presentations made by "Sonny" Jamieson, Mary Town and Katherine Rowland.

Following are the addresses:
To Mrs. Dr. Farewell.
Madam—The members of Canadian Greys Chapter, I. O. D. E., and their friends, who have assisted in this evening's entertainment, desire to convey to you their appreciation of your untiring efforts in their behalf.
Your wonderful creative genius which enabled you to vision and arrange this Pageant, your energetic enthusiasm in its preparation, and the patience with which you have endured our shortcomings, has instilled in us a sense of obligation which we feel constrained to express publicly.
We ask you to accept this testimony of our regard, and these symbols of beauty and joy, as tokens of esteem and good wishes.
Signed on behalf of the Pageant Company.

To Miss Helene Farewell.
Dear Miss Farewell—The members of the Pageant Company wish to express to you their gratitude and pleasure in having yourself numbered among them.
Your histrionic and interpretative abilities have excited their warmest admiration and will be an inspiration to the amateur entertainers of Durham for years to come.
We ask you to accept these tokens, with the best wishes of the Pageant Company.
Signed on behalf of the Pageant Company.

To Mrs. G. S. Kearney.
Madam—To you belongs the thrilling satisfaction of having set yourself an arduous task and having performed it well.
The multifarious duties that devolved upon yourself in connection with this Pageant were attended to in a manner admirable and commendable.
We trust that the splendid success of this evening's entertainment will overshadow the memory of your trials and troubles during its preparation.
Signed on behalf of the Company.
All three ladies made most suitable replies, thanking the donors for their expressions of appreciation.

UNNAMED FISH PULLED FROM BAY

Oldest Fishermen Do Not Know Species—Caught By Ted Robinson

Georgian Bay has produced a couple of "thrills" for the Meaford fishing experts during the last week. Last Friday Mr. "Ted" Robinson of the 7th line north near Sunnyside Beach got a fish out of the Bay that nobody has finally named yet although the fish was sent to Toronto. On the same day Mr. Wm. Rose pulled a salmon trout out of the bay which weighed 25 1/2 pounds. It was the best fish landed this year and a beauty of its tribe. It was caught with an ordinary troll line. It was sent to Toronto. Both fish had their pictures taken for the Toronto papers and stories concerning their capture also appeared in the city press.

The circumstances surrounding the capture of the unnamed fish were peculiar. Strange to say it also weighed 25 1/2 pounds. Mr. Robinson was doing fishing work on his farm near the shore when he was attracted by a noise and commotion in the water. It sounded to him like a dog in distress and he went to the rescue. He found the fish swimming around in shallow water and making a barking-like noise. He got a scantling and clubbed the fish to a timely end. He brought the fish into Meaford and it was placed in the window of Herbert Rows' butcher shop. Here it attracted great attention. Local fishermen would not attempt to name it although it was the opinion of many that it was a variety of carp.

Nothing exactly like it had ever been taken from local waters before. It was no beauty and indeed is quite repulsive and was in strange contrast with the beautiful salmon trout which Mr. Rose caught and which was stretched out beside it in the butcher shop window. The "cuss" fish was not very long but of tremendous girth. It had a sucker mouth but very few scales except down the middle of the back.
Although it is thought to be a carp it has some characteristics not common to that species of fish. In

If Everybody Did It!

Think for a moment what would happen if even for one week, everybody in town was to shop elsewhere—either in a neighboring town or by mail! Would it not cause consternation, and would not all business houses be very much concerned? They certainly would, and with good reason.

Some Do This Regularly

—And what is the result? Every dollar sent to distant business houses is gone for good so far as that particular district is concerned, and merely serves to build up and maintain some distant town. The local business men are robbed of that circulation of money which during its ramblings might help dozens along the way.

How About Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and th. cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

in hearing parish reports and election of officers. At 5.30 tea was served, after which for a time the company was entertained on the lawn by a boy scout program. The closing session, an evening service was held at 7.30 when Rev. W. J. Taylor of St. George Church, Owen Sound, preached the sermon.

CAR WRECKED BUGGY

Early last Sunday evening on the Provincial Highway north of town, a car, driven by parties yet unknown, ran into a buggy driven by Mr. Herman Weber, badly wrecking it and smashing off two of the wheels. Returning, the driver of the car wanted to know how much Weber wanted to settle, and on being told $50 motored on without paying. The number of the car was secured and when the owner's name is received from Toronto he will be brought to justice for his recklessness. The Weber conveyance is said to have been well over to its own side of the roadway when struck, and it is further alleged that the driver of the motor car was intoxicated.

INDUCTION SERVICE

Service in connection with the induction of the Rev. Mr. Fiddes into the pastoral charge of Durham and Zion United churches is in progress tonight in the Queen Street church as we go to press. The officiating clergymen are Rev. W. H. Smith of Durham, Rev. Mr. Morrow of Hanover and Rev. Charles Jay of Holstein.
