AFTER THE $50,000 PRIZE FOR SWIMMING MARATHON

Entries for the 21-mile swimming race in Lake Ontario in front of the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds at Toronto, already number up in the hundreds, and undoubtedly the contest will bring together a greater number of star swimmers from all parts of the world than ever before competed in a single event. Here are shown six strong contenders. LEFT: Shirley A. Wheeler, a first-class Private in the Field Artillery Detachment, West Point, N. Y.; CENTRE LEFT, UPPER ROW: Omer Perreault of Montreal, Canada's long distance champion since 1919, who has seven times attempted the English Channel swim and was third in the International race at Paris last year; CENTRE RIGHT, UPPER ROW: Rosaire Delorme, known as Montreal's "Hope", representing the newspaper La Patrie and believed to be a second George Young; CENTRE LEFT BELOW: Olav Forstad of Trondheim, the most northerly point of Norway, a policeman in his native city and also studying medicine. He is now training in Montreal; CENTRE RIGHT, BELOW: George Michel, of Paris, France, holder of the world's record for the English Channel at 11 hours, 5 minutes; RIGHT: Ernest Vierkotter champion of Germany, who swam the English Channel in 12 hours, 48 minutes, and is now in training at Montreal.

HANOVER MIDGETS
DRUBBED LOCALS

en conclusively that they had at least two, one of whom is 18 years of age, it pretty definitely establishes the fact that their word isn't much to be depended upon.
The Durham team, on the other hand, were all within the age limit allowed. There are four players on the Durham line-up who are 16 years of age. There are no more, and there are none who are over 16 years of age. So far as the local team is concerned they have lived up to every agreement entered into. There are several boys in town who are only slightly over the age limit set by the local district managements, but they have never been used, and we are told by R. L. Saunders, the local midget manager, that they never will be with his consent. He has told The Chronicle that he entered into this agreement with the other executives in good faith and intends to keep it.

May Enter Protest
Some of the local management want a protest entered against the Hanover team, but the general consensus of opinion is that if Walkerton and Hanover cannot play midget lacrosse on the square, then it is time to quit and drop out, and this is likely what will happen. Crooked sport and padded line-ups, especially in midget lacrosse, will be severely frowned upon by the local fans and lacrosse management, who entered into this gentleman's agreement in good faith and would sooner drop out altogether than commence a system of chicanery with fifteen- and sixteen-year-old athletes.
To tell the truth, we were somewhat discouraged at the poor showing made by the Durham youngsters at Hanover on Dominion Day, but subsequent developments have caused us to wonder how they held the score down as well as they did, when at least one of their opponents, according to last winter's birth certificates, is 18 years of age.
The Durham line-up on Monday was: Goal, E. McEachnie; defense, K. Wilson, B. Jamieson, G. McDonald, J. D. Murdoch; centre, F. Murdoch; hone, N. McIlraith, N. Dean, N. Becker, F. Bolger. Subs., C. Hind, F. Goodchild.

Referees—Saunders of Durham and Merklinger of Hanover.
The New Weekly Paper From the Old Home Town
Talk about your literature
And paper up-to-date,
About the Legislature
And doings through the state;
To me they ain't comparin'
Though I look the world around
To the new weekly paper
From the Old Home Town.
Ma comes into the sittin' room
And lets the dishes go,
And listens while I read about
The folks we used to know;
For births and deaths and land deals
And weddin's too abound;
All are mighty interestin'
From the Old Home Town.
I know it ain't so classical
As these big dailies are
That tell about the world court
And latest movie star;
But just for my enjoyment
There's nothin' I have found
Like the little newsy paper
From the Old Home Town.

FARMER LINDBERGH
Lindbergh, the intrepid young airman who has won the world's admiration for his New York-Paris flight, is as familiar with the mechanism of the milking machine and the farm tractor as he is with the intricacies of aeroplane control. While his father, Congressman Lindbergh, was away from his Minnesota stock farm during his war years, young Charles managed the herd and surprised the neighbors by introducing a tractor, and a milking machine, the first to be used in that district. "The circumstances which kept Congressman Lindbergh from home, coupled with the necessity of making a success of farming, while still a boy in his teens, developed in Lindbergh the spirit of independence in thought and action which was so admirably demonstrated in his recent flight to Paris," comments The Breeders Gazette. "While boys of his age were playing baseball, Lindbergh
