

Hunting Army to Invade North Woods

Priceville

Our Own Correspondent
Mrs. Hutton and daughter Marquerite are visiting with Mrs. Hutton's sisters, the Misses Wright.

THE SHOOTING STARS

The enormous increase in the sport of deer hunting has resulted not in the vanishing of the deer but in the increase of deer. This is not as mysterious as it sounds.

Good Hunting News
Reassuring news has been coming in daily to the offices of the general tourist department of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company from operators of camps, guides outfitters and others who report that all signs point to an unusually promising hunting season for the current year.

Mike Bates sends down word from his camps at Metagama, Ontario, that if the hunters don't get their deer and moose this season they'll have nothing to blame but their poor shooting.

CALLING THE MOOSE

serve, south of the C.P.R. line and the surplus has crossed to the north of the tracks offering good hunting. He says that caribou are roaming the woods in increased numbers, and as the C.P.R. line is the north boundary of the game preserve hunters don't have to go very far for their quarry.

Reports turned in by guides of the Ogilvie Bros Camps on the Tobique River, N.B. are to the effect that deer, though very plentiful last season, show signs of much greater increase. The same word comes from A. D. Thomas, at South Millford in the Kedgemaquoogee district.

Lining Sights.
Should you follow the deer with your sights or set your sights ahead of the deer and let him come on?

Well, the army training which men got overseas taught them to consider the second system the better. Lewis gunners firing on moving targets were taught to throw a burst ahead of the mark, to see where it struck, and then let the target move onto the line of fire.

standards, with a few visits to outstanding studs and herds where breeds of particular interest to Canadian farmers are kept. The party will land at Liverpool on January 18th, and embark on Glasgow on February 19th.

A visit will be paid to the corn exchanges, fruit, produce and cattle markets at which a preponderance of Canadian cattle are sold. At Windsor, by special permission, the herds and flocks on His Majesty's Farms will be seen.

In Scotland a tour will be made through Mid-Lothian and East Lothian to give the party an opportunity to see some of Scotland's finest farms. In Ayr it is expected to visit the Ayrshire herds of Mr. Thomas Barr at Hobsland and A. W. Montgomery at Ochiltree and the world-famous Clydesdale stud of James Kilpatrick as well as the birth-place and farm of Robert Burns.

The visit to Scotland will be coincident with the Perth Shorthorn and Bull Sale. Two days will be spent at it, during which it is anticipated some of the visitors will take advantage of the opportunity to make purchases. The tour will also include Aberdeen and a motor trip will include famous herds in the vicinity of that city.

our book. There is a strong and close bond of interest between our great Canadian producers' pools and the world's greatest consumers' organizations as represented by the S. C. W. S. at Glasgow and the C. W. S. C. at Manchester. We have been invited to visit both societies and I am certain no part of the tour will be more interesting than an inspection of the offices, mills and factories of these great co-operatives.

Making it Clear
Mr. Quidsy, with newly acquired wealth, found that the chef always sent up the menu written in his own language, French, to which the master of the household was a stranger.

"I should like to know what I am eating for once, M. Alfonse," said Mr. Quidsy, to his chef on one occasion. "Let me have the menu in English today."

"Oui, Monsieur," was the reply; "it ees ver' difficile, but I veel do it so, if you veel give me ze dictionnaire."

A small but select party came to dinner that evening, and were met with the following bill of fare:

Soups at the tail of the calf
Salmon in curl papers
Chest of mutton to the little peas
Potatoes jumped
Duck savage at sharp sauce
Charlotte at the apples
Turkey at the devil
Fruits variegated

Quidsy and Mrs. Quidsy agreed afterward that they had never presided over a more hilarious dinner party.
