Bitten By Snake

In an attempt to pick up a rattle snake by the tail, John Haun, 15, of Humberstone, Ont., received a bad bite on the hand. Haun and some of his chums got the rattler when they were picking berries in the marsh and carried it on a forked stick to the home of one of the lads. From what can be gathered from the boys, Haun was trying to catch the snake by the tail and to break its neck by snapping it like a whip. He was rushed to the office of Dr. Black in Humberstone, where he was treated for the wound. Dr. Black stated that Haun was very fortunate and would soon recover although the hand is badly swollen.—Orangeville Banner.

Inspector Huff Resigned

At the school fair held here on Thursday last, Dr. Samuel Huff, inspector for East Gray, intimated that he had handed in his resignation to the Department of Education, to take effect at the end of the year. Dr. Huff has been inspector in this part of Grey county for a great number of years; he is not now a young man and realizes that it is getting more difficult to carry on his duties.—Flesherton Advance.

Factory May Close

It was learned early this week that the local factory of the Canada Furniture Manufacturers may be closed at the end of next month. An official was here from Woodstock last Saturday. This factory has been running on short time for a few months. An effort is being made to continue to operate. In case it is definitely decided to close some of the employees, including the reed workers, will be absorbed in the factory at Woodstock. Townspeople hope that the move to keep it in operation will be successful.—Walkerton Telescope.

Truck Crashes Through Bridge

As a result of a mishap, which took place last Saturday night, the County of Bruce may be under the necessity of making extensive repairs to, or perhaps rebuilding, the bridge on the towline between Carrick and Culross, opposite the Ross chopping and sawmills. As Contractor Kings eight ton truck, on which was loaded a stone crusher, weighing three or four tons, was crossing this bridge, a couple of the wooden stringers broke, and the heavy load crashed down through the structure. The driver narrowly escaped injury. Getting the machine out of the broken bridge proved to be a big undertaking, but it was finally accomplished on Wednesday morning by means of lifting jacks. The bridge will have to be repaired at once, as this is a County Highway, and there is considerable traffic on it.—Mildmay Gazette.

Big Yield of Wheat

Mr. John Bailey, the well-known stock raiser and farmer on Sixth street, is delighted with his wheat crop this year. During the past week he threshed the product of twelve and a quarter acres and received a return of 450 bushels of the celebrated Marquis wheat. From one acre, which he had set apart for seed, he threshed forty-three bushels. The wheat is of a high grade and will command the highest price. But as Mr. Bailey says, he needs the money and his friends are pleased that he will receive much of it in exchange for high quality grain.—Collingwood Bulletin.

How Did They Do It?

An accident occurred on Saturday afternoon of last week on the road between Blyth and Londesboro. Just at the corner of the road north of the Union cemetery, when the large sedan occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Scott, of Columbus, Ohio overturned in the ditch. Fortunately neither of the occupants were hurt and the car was only slightly damaged. This is a bad corner for motorists who are not familiar with the road, and great care should be exercised in making the turn. The car ran into the ditch at one side of the road, and in straightening it out, plunged into the one on the opposite side.—Wingham Advance-Times.

Conviction for Home Brew

For four or five years Sergeant Kirk has been trying to secure evidence that would establish a ruling on the use of home brew in the home.

On Wednesday a Newmarket man was fined in the County Police Court $50 and costs for treating friends to home brew in his own home.

This establishes the point that home brew is only for the use of one's own family.—Newmarket Era.

Peat Deposit Near Elmira

A large deposit of peat has been discovered on the farm of John Horst, near the "fish-pond" in Upper Woolwick. The find was made by Mr. Horst's hired man, who at one time lived in Ireland and was well acquainted with the famous bogs of that country. A casual investigation revealed thousands of tons of peat available, he stated. Arthur Ulyot, president of the Elmira Chamber of Commerce, has received samples of the peat and will conduct experiments to determine its burning qualities. It is proposed to take the matter up with the Government and have the find thoroughly investigated.—Listowel Banner.

"Dozed" At Wheel

A second-hand Ford belonging to a Walkerton widow and driven by her eldest son came to grief the other night in a ditch near Clifford when the youth dozed at the wheel.

It was a rude awakening the lad is reported to have received, when he picked himself out of the debris on the roadside. The car was so badly damaged that no effort will be made to put it in shape for the road again, so a model of extremely ancient vintage will be missing hereafter from the highways in these parts.—Bruce Herald and Times.

Brant House Entered

A rather bold case of robbery was staged in Brant township on Monday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 5, when during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Merchant from Beaver Glen Farm, a few miles west of town, thieves entered their home, supposedly through the cellar window, which was found open, and after helping themselves generously to some stuff in the basement, they made their way to the dining room, where they pulled their main act by swiping nearly all the silver knives, forks and spoons from the buffet drawer.

The police in Walkerton were notified and after visiting the premises are laying a course of plans with a view to rounding up the culprits.—Bruce Herald and Times.

Great Field of Corn

While nearly all the farmers in this section are complaining of the shortage of the corn crop, Thomas Reynolds of the 12th concession has a field of the finest corn we have seen for some time. He picked an armful the other day to bring to town, that measured twelve and a half feet in length. It was of the Dent variety.—Bruce Herald and Times.

A Real Sport

In these days when some of the salaried athletes can see nothing but the dollar sign ahead it is a pleasure to meet one who is a true sport from the drop of the hat. In this connection we refer to Chris, Newton of Toronto who, along with Jack Johnston, put on an exhibition of boxing here last Friday. It was agreed that they were to get $50 and expenses but when Newton saw the size of the crowd he asked "Is there any individual liable to make any money out of this?" He was assured that the show was put on by the A. A. A. to try and raise money to cover this summer's baseball and soccer deficit. "Oh well then," said Newton. "We'll call it square at $35 and hotel expenses." If Dempsey ever heard of this he'd probably write Newton three or four pages of foolscap. However, there is nothing "grabby" about Newton and his action was certainly appreciated by the officers of the A. A. A. who would have finished away in the hole had Newton stuck to his original contract.—Chesley Enterprise.

LEAGUE TO AID ARMENIANS

Dr. Fridolf Nansen, noted Arctic explorer, and League of Nations Commissioner for Armenian refugees, deplored the lack of help from the League and handed in his resignation. The League Council has now offered to help the 50,000 Armenians scattered over different parts of the Near East, to settle in their own country, and Dr. Nansen has withdrawn his resignation.

Walkerton Cop After Speeders

The Walkerton policemen are making it hot for autoists who speed, do not observe the stop street signs, improper lights and all the other small things that have been winked at for years. Better watch your step when going through the county town. The police have been given instructions to see that the law is observed.—Teeswater News.

The Easiest is Last

The teacher was testing her scholars' knowledge of the Ten Commandments. Coming to the last one "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house; thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife," the teacher asked: "Can anyone tell me why Moses wrote down 'house' before 'wife'?" "Because a house is harder to get!" replied a small boy.

NO MAKE-UP NEEDED BY SCREEN PLAYERS SAYS NOTED DIRECTOR

Renald Hoffman, Creator of the Film "The Unknown Soldier" Asserts Make-up is a Mask.

Millions of dollars in make-up, used annually by screen performers, would be saved if all motion picture directors followed the example of Renald Hoffman, noted producer-director.

"The time will come, I believe, when little or no make-up will be used by motion picture players," the famous megaphone-wielder declared recently in an interview.

Hoffman made the great war epic, "The Unknown Soldier", which is coming to the Veterans' Star theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 29, 30 and October 1.

None of the players in this dramatic picture used a bit of make-up.

"Make-up merely hides the real personalities of the players," said the director. "It is like a mask beclouding the features and the feelings, and stifling the honesty and realism of the individual performances. The greatest pictures are those in which the principals appear as their honest selves. Make-up stunts an actor's style—makes his performances appear stilted and forced."

"If a player is fitted for the roll portrayed on the screen, he will achieve his greatest effect without the aid of the paint box."

"I picked the characters for 'The Unknown Soldier' on the strength of this theory. The results have convinced me that the greatest histrionic performances are achieved through character and personality rather than by the aid of rouge or paint."

The title role in "The Unknown Soldier" is played by Charles Emmett Mack. Playing opposite him is Marguerite De La Motte. Other featured players are Henry B. Walthall, Ethel Wales, Claire McDowell, Jess Devorska, Syd Crossley and George Cooper.

Aberdonians

An excited crowd of Aberdonians had gathered in the railway refreshment room and were discussing a rumor that the London-Aberdeen express had been involved in a serious accident.

"Dear me," exclaimed a man standing near by, "this is a verri bad business. My wife was on that train."

As he turned away a newsboy entered the room selling a special edition containing the news.

"Here," cried some one to the man whose wife was on the train, "aren't ye goin' tae buy a paper and get the particulars?"

"No, no," replied the other. "I'll wait for the final edition and get the racing results as well."

WEALTH

Earth's wealth is but a transient thing, and flits as soon away upon as blithe and swift a wing as lark or robin gay. Who counts his hoarded coins tonight, tomorrow may know want; in place of gold so shining bright, find hunger grim and gaunt. No man can ever put his faith in riches he has won, for these may vanish like a wraith before the morning sun. But there is wealth more rare than gold that man may keep always, and I have riches I can hold through all life's changeful

Mrs. Dayman Gives Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the Credit

Colborne, Ontario.—"When I was first married I was very thin and weak. The doctor said I was weak and would never be able to have a child, but I did, and from the time my baby came I suffered all the time and doctored and took medicine. Life became a burden, and operations said an operation could help me, but my husband was opposed to that. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine advertised, so I told my husband that I thought I would try it, that I might get some relief. I had not taken one bottle when I could feel it helping me. I took five bottles and had better health. Now I have three girls and a boy and have done my work up to confinement. I am now at the Change of Life and owe my good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I take a bottle when I think I need it."—Mrs. SUSAN DAYMAN, R. R. No. 5, Colborne, Ontario.

Its Proper Place

A rising young artist was showing a lady through his studio. "This picture," he said, stepping in front of one of his early efforts, "is one I painted to keep the wolf from the door." "Indeed!" replied the woman. "Then why don't you hang it on the knob where the wolf can see it?"
