TURNIPS VS. CORN VS. SUNFLOWER SILAGE

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The Experimental Farm at Nappan, Nova Scotia, has been conducting feeding trials for the past five years comparing turnips with corn silage and sunflower silage for milk production.

Three experiments were conducted comparing turnips and corn. A total of 23 cows were fed for three weeks on turnips three weeks on corn silage, then three on turnips again, the grain and hay ration being constant. The production of the third week in each period was used in computing the results of the trial. The average daily production when on turnips was 17.9 pounds milk and on corn silage 16.1 pounds milk while the cost per 100 pounds of milk was $1.61 and $1.69 for the two feeds respectively.

Five trials were conducted, comparing turnips with sunflower silage, in a similar manner. A total of 31 cows was used. The average daily production, when turnips were fed, was 18.5 pounds and with sunflower silage it was 16.8 pounds milk. The cost per 100 pounds milk was $1.57 and $1.63 for the two feeds respectively.

Two trials, comparing corn with sunflowers, were carried on. The 13 milk cows on corn silage produced 15.3 pounds milk daily at a cost of $1.79 per 100 pounds, while the same cows on sunflowers produced 16.2 pounds milk costing $1.80 per 100 pounds.

It was found that the cows would not consume as much sunflower silage as they would turnips and that there was a greater tendency to go off feed when on the silage ration. In the years when corn gave a good yield and was well-cobbed as in 1924, this silage gave excellent results and was a cheaper feed than turnips. It is such an uncertain crop, however, that it cannot be generally recommended. Turnips and sunflowers are almost certain to give good yields, the average at the Nappan Experimental Farm for the five year period being 18.93 tons for turnips, 18.10 tons for sunflowers and 13.85 tons for corn. The cost of production was $3.71, $3.58 and $4.21 per ton for each crop respectively. The average dry matter yield per acre was for turnips, 4354 pounds, sunflowers 5430 pounds and corn 3600 pounds. The feeding trials showed that pound for pound the digestible nutrients in sunflowers were apparently equal to turnips. This may be due, partly, however, to the fact that the cows were following a turnip period with sunflowers, and then turnips again and consequently kept up in their milk flow while on sunflowers, by losing slightly in body weight.

The growing of sunflowers necessitates a greater overhead expense than does turnip production, a silo and cutter being essential for the former. Turnips require more field labor in hoeing but may be stored very cheaply in a pit or root cellar. Until more data is available, our recommendations are in favor of turnips as a succulent feed for winter milk production.

Strength of Oak Recent tests of the original oak timber used more than five centuries ago in building the huge roof of Westminster Hall, London, showed that there was no loss of strength in the wood in spite of its extreme age.

$5,000.00 CASH PRIZES

A FORTUNE = $2,000.00 FOR YOU!

THE MAIL AND EMPIRE

Offers this tremendous Fortune to any Man, Woman or Child. Find the Words Hidden in the Letters of the Word

"CONSTANTINOPLE"

IT'S EASY There is nothing hard to do. And there is Two Thousand Dollars to win. All you need is paper and pencil. It is easy to understand and play this game. Just sit down and see how many words you can make from the letters in the word Constantinople. You will find all sorts of words that can be made out of these letters. For example, cat is one, pie is one, pant is another, and ant, etc, etc. It is as easy as that. It is a game for the whole family. No expert knowledge is needed. All you have to do to win a fortune is to play the game according to the rules announced to-day. IT COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

FIFTY Prizes will be given for the 50 best lists of words submitted. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of words made out of the letters in the word Constantinople will be awarded first prize; second best, second prize, etc.

Observe These Easy Rules

(1) Any man, woman or child who lives in Canada and is not resident in the City of Toronto and who is not in the employ of The Mail and Empire may submit an answer.

(2) Make as many words as possible from the letters in the word Constantinople. You may use the letters over and over again in different words, but each word must not contain a letter more times than it appears in the word Constantinople. For example, you may use the letter "a" just once in each word, the letter "e" just once in each word and the letter "t" twice in each word.

(3) Write your words plainly on one side of the paper and in alphabetical order, numbering them 1, 2, 3, etc. Write your full name and address on each page in the upper right-hand corner. If you desire to write anything else use a separate sheet.

(4) Do not use proper nouns, proper adjectives, prefixes, suffixes, abbreviations, contractions, foreign words, obsolete words, combined forms, Soot or dialectic words. Words spelled alike but with different meanings will be counted as one word. Words spelled differently but with the same meaning will be counted as separate words. Both the singular and the plural may be used, and both will be counted, provided both forms are listed in the dictionary.

(5) The Judges will use Webster's New International Dictionary, the latest edition, as authority, and the largest correct list of words made from the letters in Constantinople will be awarded first prize.

(6) One correct word will be deducted for each misspelled or incorrect word.

(7) In the event of a tie for any prize offered, the full amount of such prize will be awarded to each tied participant.

(8) Only one prize will be awarded to any one household or group of persons. Every list must represent its own effort and must be prepared by the person submitting it. Lists submitted which cause the Judges to believe that they have been compiled by one and the same person will be rejected.

(9) The largest correct list of words prepared according to these rules will win first prize. The next largest correct list will win second prize, and so on until 50 prizes have been awarded to rule (6).

(10) A cash prize of $50.00 will be awarded the first prize winner if no subscriptions to The Mail and Empire are sent in. However, the first prize winner will receive $1,000.00 instead of $50.00, provided one new or renewal yearly subscription to The Mail and Empire is sent in. Better still, if TWO subscriptions to The Mail and Empire (either one new and one renewal, or both new, at $5.00 per year by mail, or $6.00 per year delivered by carrier in Hamilton or London) are sent in by the first prize winner he or she will be awarded $2,000.00 instead of $50.00.

(11) Renewal subscriptions will not be accepted that extend any subscription beyond January 1st, 1931.

(12) All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless of whether or not a subscription to The Mail and Empire is sent in.

(13) Three prominent Toronto citizens, having no connection with The Mail and Empire, will be selected to act as judges to decide the winners; and participants, by sending in their answers, agree to accept the decision of the judges as final and conclusive.

(14) Prize winners in former contests conducted by The Mail and Empire who have won $200.00 or more are not eligible to participate in this contest.

(15) Lists awarded (subject to rule 6), or before midnight of Saturday, December 3rd, 1927.

How the $5,000 in Prizes Will Be Awarded

The greatest opportunity of your life is what The Mail and Empire is offering you in this word game, to "play and learn" while earning a big cash prize. You cannot help but enjoy the hunt for words in this game. All you need is an observing eye. Let's all join in and have a jolly good time. Put all the family in this game. Give Mary a pencil, and Eddy a pencil. Both parents take a pencil, and any other members of the family. Make it a game. See who can find the most words from the letters in the word Constantinople in half an hour. You'll find it fun. It is easy to do. It's educational, and it may be worth TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS.

50 CASH PRIZES to Be Given Away

This game is a campaign to increase the popularity of THE MAIL AND EMPIRE. It costs nothing to take part, and you do not have to send in a subscription to win a prize. If your list of words is awarded first prize by the Judges, you will win $50.00. However, we are making the following special offers, whereby you can win greater cash prizes by sending in one or two yearly subscriptions.

Here's How the Big Cash Prizes Will Be Awarded

$2,000 instead of $50.00 will be awarded to the answer winning first prize, provided two yearly subscriptions to The Mail and Empire have been sent in, one subscription of which must be new. Second prize, $1,000.00; third prize, $700.00. (See third column figures in prize list.)

$1,000 instead of $50.00 will be awarded to the answer winning first prize, provided one yearly subscription has been sent in. Second prize, $500.00; third, $350.00, and so on.
