POWER-FARMING CONFERENCE

The course will divide itself into several sections; power farming, soils, preparation of the seed bed, conservation of soil moisture, etc. A film made by a slowed-down camera operating through a microscope and showing the germ in a grain of corn becoming active and showing the tiny roots and root hairs searching through the soil for nourishment, will be one of the most interesting and instructive films displayed...

The first day's course will consist principally of an outline of modern agricultural methods. On the second day a mechanical course in maintenance of modern farm machinery and motor cars will be given.

A detailed announcement of the programme will be found on another page of this issue of The Chronicle.

PATSY RUTH MILLER GETS LONG AWAITED ROLE WITH DICK

Talented Young Actress Realizes Old Ambition When Cast With Barthelmess in "White Black Sheep" as Desert Dancer.

Patsy Ruth Miller realized an ambition of long standing when she was cast to play opposite Richard Barthelmess in "The White Black Sheep", Inspiration-First National feature, which comes to the Veteran's Star Theatre, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 12, 13 and 14.

Patsy plays the exotic role of Zelle, the Greek dancing girl, in the Barthelmess tale of desert warfare and wooing, and advance reports acclaim her characterization one of exceptional imagery and color.

Pat, as she is called by her friends, was born in St. Louis and received her primary education there. In the summer of 1921 she came to California with her parents and became interested in the movies.

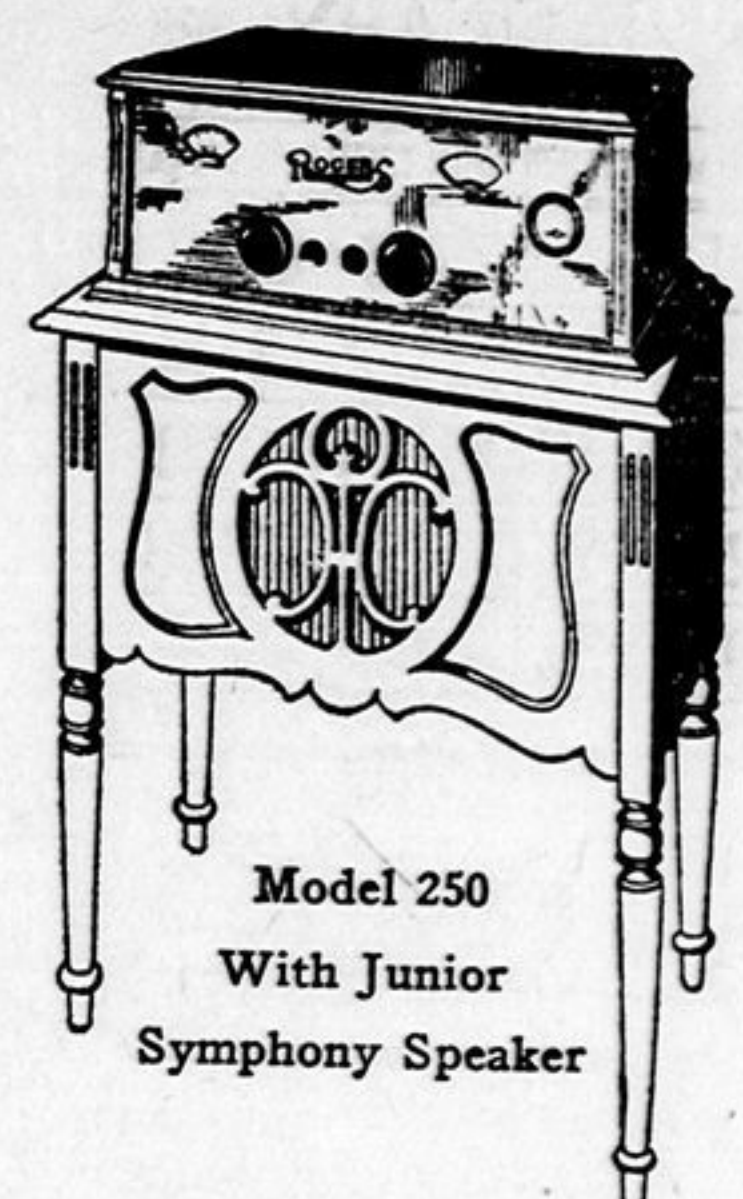

She was selected as a Wampas Baby Star and was placed under contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and later by Warner Brothers. Among her most notable roles is the leading feminine part in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Sidney Olcott directed "The White Black Sheep", which boasts a cast of superlative merit including Erville Alderson, Gino Corrado, Albert Prisco, Constance Howard, William H. Tooker, Col. G. L. McDonell, Sam Appel and Templar Saxe. The cinematography is by David W. Gobbett.
