This weather is hard on baby chicks and twenty goslings. Nothing doing on most farms, save plowing of dry sod spots. Mr. Oren Peart brought home a dandy new Whippet coupe from Markdale on Tuesday. Just the thing for a honeymoon trip. Mr. John O'Neil was down to Toronto last week and brought a new Ford back with him. Coming by way of Paris, Mrs. Burke accompanied him home. Mr. Lauchie Dunbar left for Detroit last week, to resume his old position. Peased to report Robbie Laughlin, who has been very ill with pneumonia, as somewhat improved. Dr. Smith is in attendance, having brought him through two prior attacks. Little Glenna Young is on a fair way to recovery from a severe attack of pneumonia. Miss E. J. Allan of Crawford spent the week-end at the home of Mr. W. J. Cook. Messrs. Dave Ritchie and George Jones of town were cross-cutting wood for us, four days of last week and kept us on the jump trying to split it as fast as the blocks rolled off. The sugar season isn't over; but most of the fellows have gathered the buckets and declared it was time to be stirring the soil. After spending a week in the Queen City, Miss Miragret Dunbar is home again. Mr. and Mrs. George Cuff have removed from the Gray farm on the 4th concession to town. They have been residents since last fall. To the excellent sketch of the life of the late Mrs. Thomas Jack which appeared in last issue of the Chronicle, we would like to add a few words. From boyhood he lived in our midst, attended the old log school of No. 5, was a member of the School Board in later years, a member of Zion church and, also, one of its Trustee Board. He was one of its strongest supporters and most generous contributors. As boy, as youth, as man, "Tom" Jack played the man. Good-hearted, generous, helpful, fond of a bit of fun and humor, proud of his family and always ready to help a deserving cause, or oblige a neighbor, he was ever the best type of Canadian citizen. He left in old Glenelg many warm friends, whose sympathy goes out to his devoted partner, the members of the family and the brothers and sisters. Wilfrid, second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Oullinan, passed away very suddenly at one o'clock on Thursday morning, after but a three days' illness from kidney trouble. He was out doing the chores on Saturday, when he took a severe chill, followed by convulsions. Dr. Carefoot of Markdale was untiring in his efforts to save him, remaining all night on the case. Some two years ago, he suffered from a very severe attack of pneumonia and, apparently, the system had become poisoned from the fell disease. Wilfrid was in his 18th year, was a fine type of youth, a good worker, kind and courteous to everybody, likable and gave promise of being a real help to his home and country. His sister, Miss Katie arrived from Toronto on Monday and his older brother, Joe, from Detroit, on Tuesday noon. The funeral is to be held to St. John's R. C. church on Thursday morning, Rev. Father McGeoy officiating.

Joseph Williams, Thomas McKee and Elwood Partridge of the village are engaged there. A very pleasant social time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Genoe on Friday evening, when a large number of their friends and neighbors assembled before their departure from our midst. A very nicely worded address was read by Miss Georgina Smith while Mrs. Alex. Hoy presented them with a purse of about $13.00. Mr. Genoe made a neat reply, thanking the people for their gift. Mrs. Wilson, who has spent the winter in Markdale, has returned to her home in the village here. Her daughter, Mrs. Roy McMillan, husband and little daughter, spent Sunday with her. Mr. W. E. Mr. Duncan Muir, one of the oldest residents of the community, passed away early on Thursday morning, April 19th. He had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Muir was seventy-nine years of age, and came to this neighborhood with his parents when a young boy and spent all his life on the farm on which he died. It was always been said of him that he was an honest and hard-working man. Two nephews, Stanley Muir and John Cherry, of Toronto, came up to see their uncle, arriving a short time before he died. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon from the home of Mr. John Calder, to McNeil's Cemetery, Priceville. Rev. Mr. McCormack had charge of the services. The pall-bearers were neighbors: Thomas Harrison, Jake Hills, John Calder, John Weir, Thomas Weir and George Hargrave. Sympathy is extended to his brother, George, who is now left alone. Another brother, John, in the west, and a sister, Mrs. T. Cherry, in Toronto, also survive.

HOW BATHS ARE ENAMELLED

A few months ago, when the members of a certain scientific society were visiting a foundry some of them were surprised in the porcelain enamelling shop when they saw the men at work giving a bath its various coats of enamel dust before it appeared in its finished state of snow-white beauty. Some of the party apparently thought that the enamel was applied with a brush. After a bath casting has left the moulders' sand heap it is taken to the dressing or fettling shop, where it is carefully cleaned, filed and sandblasted. It is then very closely examined for any defects likely to cause trouble during the process of enamelling, and if found satisfactory it is passed for attention. Some firms anneal every bath before enamelling is attempted, and in this case sandblasting, etc., takes place after annealing. The first process in the porcelain shop is to see that all foreign matter is removed from the casting, and to do this the bath is scoured out with sandstone or carborundum blocks and water. It is then ready for its first or ground coat, which is a preparation to enable the enamel to adhere to the iron. Once the grounds are dried the bath is placed in the muffle or furnace, and brought by stages to a white heat, when it is withdrawn, and the duster and his assistants apply the first coat of enamel, which is in the form of a very fine powder, and is shaken from a receptacle with a sieve bottom, on to the casting. This operation must be done very quickly to ensure that the bath is properly covered while in a heated state so that the enamel may fuse uniformly. During the process the bath is turned round on a revolving and tilting table, and when covered to the satisfaction of the chief duster, it is again put back to the muffle. After ten minutes or so it is removed, a second coat is applied, and the bath is again put back. On removal a third coat is given, special attention being paid to the roll, waste outlet, or soap sinkings to ensure that these parts have a thorough coating. After its final immersion in the muffle the bath is allowed to cool, when all sharp pieces of enamel are removed by rubbing with pumice stone. It is then inspected by various examiners, and on receiving their approval it is given a prime coat of paint outside, and is then ready for despatch to a waiting customer. A haughty lady had just purchased a postage stamp at a substation. "Must I stick it on myself?" she asked. "Positively not, madam," replied the clerk. "It will accomplish more if you stick it on the letter."

RAILWAY SAFETY

In contrast with the ever increasing number of automobile deaths, fatal accidents to passengers on railways of the country have dwindled almost to the vanishing point, due to better equipment and the greater exercise of safety precautions. Based on the experience of a leading transcontinental railroad in 1927, a passenger could travel around the world 2,400 times without an accident, and many times that far without being killed. Safety measures have achieved even greater comparative results with respect to railroad employees. A reduction of 27 per cent. in the number of casualties to railroad workers was attained last year. It is figured that on an average one of these would be able to work 120 years for each accident that would happen to him.

At present, it is pointed out by a recent writer, railroading is safer than banking or any other important calling. A passenger on a railroad train is safer than he would be sitting in his own home or attending the movies. Many large systems go a whole year without killing a passenger. Nowadays the dangers of travel are confined almost exclusively to the deadly motor car.

THE VOL. 61.—NO. 3179 DURHAM HIGH SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENED

Honor Fell to Charles Ramage, Oldest Member of School Board, at Public Meeting Last Thursday Night.—Large Crowd in Attendance.

There was a good attendance at the opening ceremony in connection with the Durham High school last Thursday night, held in the school building, when the new addition was dedicated to the purpose for which it was erected and the public for the first time given the opportunity for inspection. The gathering was everything that could be desired and the inspection of the school after the ceremony and programme was of much interest.

Mr. John Morrison, chairman of the High school Board, was the chairman of the evening, and at the beginning introduced Mr. C. Ramage, to whom, as the oldest member of the Board, had been given the honor of officially opening the new addition. In his remarks, Mr. Ramage went back over the years since he had been on the Board and his various educational activities. He referred to the Public school, after which came the old Model, or Continuation school, and finally our High school. He had taught in Durham in the early nineties and had been connected with the teaching staff of school board in some way ever since he had come to Durham. He had been on the trustee board of some Durham school for the past 31 years continuously. On Mr. Ramage declaring the new building open for the purpose for which it had been constructed, the button was pressed and the building flooded with light. The new part practically doubles the school's capacity, providing the extra class rooms necessary as well as other rooms for the teachers, a lunch room, and a fully equipped science room.

The Chairman's Address Mr. J. Morrison is chairman of the High school Board, as well as being chairman of the meeting. In his remarks he told of the causes which led up to the erection of the new addition to the Durham school, went quite extensively into the (Continued on page 5)

LIQUOR PERMITS ARE CANCELLED

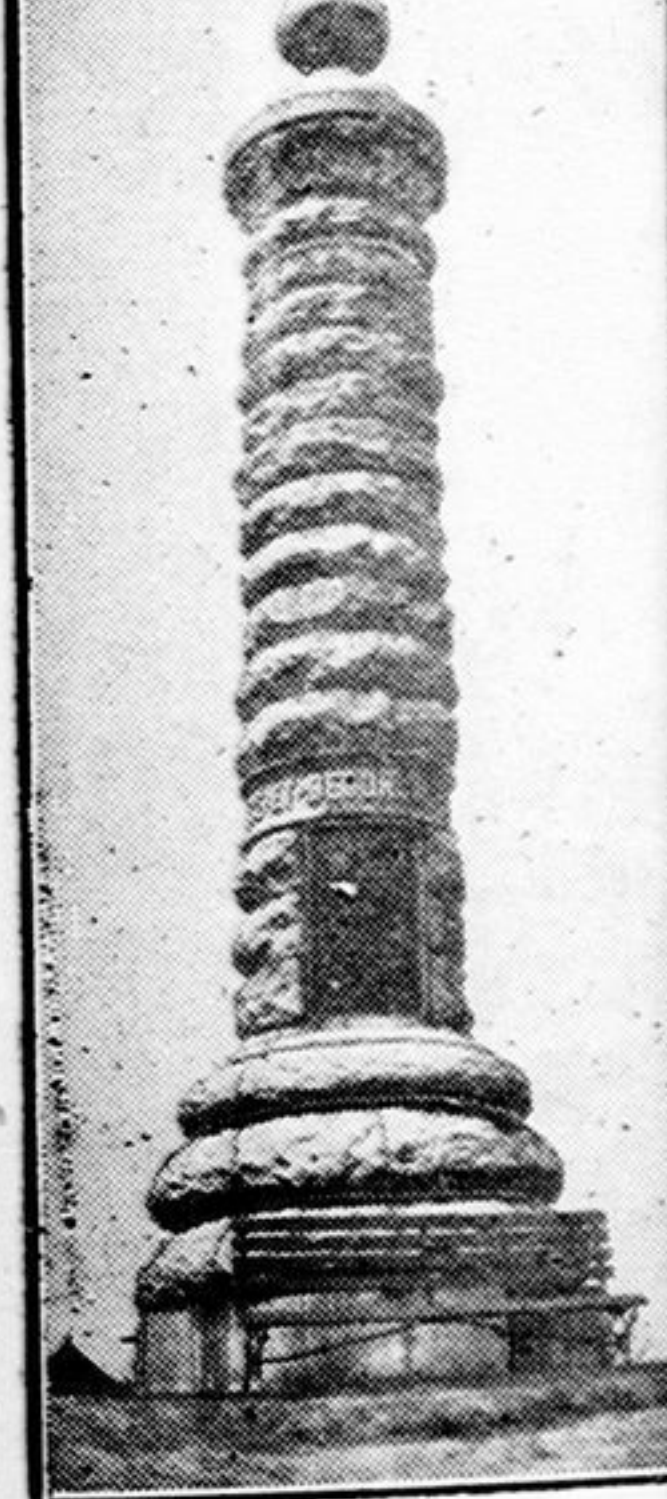

Cancellations Follow Abuses of the Purchase of Liquor and Convictions.

Indications of a campaign to check the abuse of the privilege of purchasing liquor, came Friday in a statement issued by Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board. Sir Henry announces that 2,973 permits have been cancelled and intimated that other cancellations will follow, if the abuses are not stopped.

"The cancellations," said Sir Henry, "have taken place on the reports of vendors, who have quit properly drawn the board's attention to the fact that the right of purchase has been abused and also as a result of convictions, which have been secured in prosecution under the act."

A circular has been sent out to the chairman to all permit clerk and vendors, calling to their attention their duty in checking undesirable conditions in the government control system. It also urges that the necessity for further cancellations be minimized by proper check on the part of officials aimed at preventing abuses at the outset.

Sir Henry also announced the due to over-crowding at some Toronto stores, consideration is being given to the opening of new stores.

The record of many famous British regiments is recalled by monument which stands before remains of Fort Erie in the memory of troops who fell during siege of August and September 1814.
