Will Celebrate Diamond Wedding

On Friday, June 1st, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. LaRush of Penetanguishene, are looking forward to the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. This unique event which so few are privileged to enjoy will be held at "Jack and Jill" the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Coates, Oakview, Wasaga Beach and will take the form of a reunion of their three daughters and three sons, with their respective families, as well as many other relatives. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. LaRush will be "At Home" to their friends. No doubt many friends will avail themselves of the pleasure of extending congratulations to this venerable couple who are both enjoying remarkable health during the sunset of their happy married life.—Collingwood Bulletin.

Cat Mothers Baby Foxes

When a mother fox deserted six valuable young ones, comprising her family, the owner, Dr. Duval, was in a quandary as to how to solve the pups. The problem was solved, however, when it was found that a black cat becomes the willing nurse. The youngsters give every sign of doing well and the owner is looking about to fortify his fox farm with more cats.—Wingham Advance.

Hoofing It Home

The other evening a young chap of twenty was picked up this side of Arthur and was given a free ride to Mount Forest. He was thinly clad for travel in the icy wind that was blowing—blue shirt, light sweater, and trousers. Possibly a coat was in the flat parcel he was carrying, his only baggage. He had left his working clothes with his chum and had also given him a good overcoat, for the chum hadn't one. He had left his home in Owen Sound three years ago and had been working in Detroit. The wages were high, but so was board and other expenses. He had been sick, lost his job, couldn't get another, though he had tried for the two weeks during which his board was paid in advance; then decided that he would strike out for his home in Owen Sound. He came from Stratford on Friday, walking some 20 miles of the distance. He was let off at Smith's garage in the hope that he would get a lift for another stage of the journey. Fortunately he got a car going right to Owen Sound, and that night would be pleased to be at home with his parents.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Freak Lamb at Kimberley

Freak animals are not unusual, especially among calves and lambs, but there was born on the farm of Mr. Francis Genoe, near Kimberley, on Saturday last, a lamb which for real freakishness has anything in this part of the country badly beaten. Starting at the head the top is in two distinct bodies, with eight legs and four shoulders. There are two tongues, but only two eyes and two ears, so that one may quite imagine what a freak it must be. Of course it could not live, but the freak has been sent to Toronto where it will be mounted and kept for a souvenir. It attracted quite a lot of attention as it was exhibited by Mr. David Graham.—Meaford Express.

Fishing Held up by Fog

There was no fishing in the bay during the latter part of last week because of the heavy and continuous fogs. Fishermen could not get out to their nets until Monday and there was no trolling. The fog was very heavy and several collisions were reported from the lakes. The fish being caught now are of good quality and there is a very keen demand, not only locally but from outside.—Meaford Express.

Boys Swept over Mill Dam

Clarksburg has produced two men, Messrs. Calverley and Dixon, who have walked over Niagara Falls on a tight wire and it may not be long before it will claim natives who will attempt the feat going over the cataract in a barrel or otherwise. Three boys, Norman Chalk, 15, Arthur and Fred Haines, 13 and 10, had an experience last Sunday afternoon, on a miniature scale of the latter stunt and one they will not forget for awhile. While crossing the Clarksburg mill pond in a punt, the craft became caught in a current of water, caused by the spillway of the dam being lowered. As the punt neared the cement dam, it was upset by a submerged log and in a trice, the three boys were in the chilly water. There was no chance to swim in the water surging over the narrow gap and it was hardly any time before the youths had taken the eight or nine feet drop and were carried some thirty feet to calmer water from where they swam ashore. Outside of a good soaking and scare, the boys were none the worse for their adventure.—Thornbury Review-Herald.

Barn Saved by Fire Extinguisher

The fine, large bank barn of Mr. Thomas Cosford on the 4th concession of Peel, was saved from destruction by fire about 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Cosford and his brother were fixing a fence at the road some little distance from the house. The lady of the house came out and happened to see a fire on the inside of the barn above the barn doors and it was breaking through the board roof. She at once called Mr. Cosford and his brother, who hurried to the scene while she put out a telephone call. In the meantime Mr. Cosford was using his extinguisher and had the fire under control when many of the neighbors turned out with their extinguisher. It is thought the fire started from sparks from soot from the house chimney. Mr. Cosford had only purchased his extinguisher the previous Tuesday.—Drayton Advocate.

Distributing Fry

Warton fish hatchery commenced last week the distribution of the trout fry that has been in process of hatching since last fall. On Thursday last, the tug Queen took a million and a half of the fry out which was equally divided in the waters of the bay at Hay Island, White Cloud Island and Gravelly Point. On Monday of this week they placed half a million in the Owen Sound Bay, and a like quantity on Jackson's Shoal, off Cape Croker. Mr. S. R. Dunham and Mr. Charles Eldridge are in charge of the distribution. The hatchery produced this year over five million fry, the greater part of which will be placed in the Georgian Bay, and the work of placing it will be continued until the young fish are out.—Warton Canadian Echo.

Another Hold-up Attempted

Mr. Dave Lahn had a rather exciting experience about 10 o'clock last Saturday evening. He was motoring back from town to Walkerton with his wife and family, and, owing to the heavy mist prevailing at the time, was not travelling very fast. Near Mr. Prohl's farm he noticed a car parked at the side of the road and a girl occupant of the car called for help. Dave slackened up, only to see that a fellow came around the front of the car, revolver in hand, and ordered him to stop. The girl's call for help was plainly a ruse to get Lahn to stop. However, he did the very opposite and stepped on the gas, whereupon two shots were fired at him, but he kept on going. No other cars were in sight at the time. Lahn returned to the district later with another man but the would-be hold-ups had taken their departure.—Hanover Post.

Death of Mr. Matthew Baker

One of the oldest residents of the township of Bentinck answered the Last Call on Monday morning of this week in the person of Mr. Matthew Baker, deceased, who was 87 years of age, had been in general good health until a week ago Sunday when he suffered a paralytic stroke. The late Mr. Baker was born in what was then known as Lower Canada, coming to Bentinck when 26 years of age, and residing in that township ever since. A year after coming here, he married Miss Ann Jane Wynn, and to them was born a family of five sons and two daughters, all of whom survive their father, as follows: John of Kitchener; Margaret (Mrs. Andrew Lang); Brant; Sam, Edward, William, James and Mary (Mrs. James Bailey) of Bentinck. His wife predeceased him 26 years ago this May, and he has since lived with members of the family. He also leaves 22 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, with interment in Switzer's cemetery on the Durham Road, east of Hanover. Rev. Dr. E. Milton Morrow of Trinity United church had charge of the services.—Hanover Post.

A Curious Accident Almost Fatal

Boys will try experiments, sometimes with disastrous results. Jim Salkeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Salkeld, Bayfield Road, Huron Co., had a curious mishap which nearly cost him his life a couple of weeks ago. He was setting off firecrackers ers and by way of varying the sport he put one in a bottle. When the explosion came the bottle was blown to pieces and a fragment of the glass struck Jim on the neck, making a deep gash which bled freely. A doctor had to be called, and by the time the flow of blood was stopped the lad was nearly dead. For several days he was very weak through the loss of blood, but presently began to gain strength, and was soon out of danger.—Mildmay Gazette.

George Lyon Died at Jessopville

On May 17th, George Lyon passed away at his home at Jessopville. The late Mr. Lyon was in his 80th year. He was born in Scotland in the year 1848. In the year 1874 he married Jane Selbie, coming to Canada shortly after their marriage, and residing in Toronto for two years. They then moved to Caledon where they farmed for five years, finally moving to Lot 31, East Luther in the year 1881 where he resided until the time of death. Mrs. Lyons predeceased him 30 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon raised a family of six sons and two daughters, two of whom have passed away. The funeral, held on Saturday, May 19th, at Shelburne cemetery, was largely attended.—Dundalk Herald.

James McQuibban

The death took place following a heart attack on Thursday morning, May 10th, 1928, at the residence of his sons, the Drs. McQuibban, Alma, of James McQuibban, in his 78th year. The late Mr. McQuibban was a native of Morayshire, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1874. The greater part of his life was spent in the town of Harriston, where he conducted the business of flour milling. He served his municipality for many years both in the capacity of councillor and reeve. He was a broad-minded Liberal in politics and in religion a faithful Presbyterian.

He is survived by two sons, Dr. J. W. McQuibban and Dr. G. A. McQuibban, M. L. A., Alma, and a daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) F. D. McCullough, Kincardine. The funeral took place to Harriston.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Samuel F. Orr Died in Portland

Telegrams received in town on Thursday brought word of the death at Portland, Oregon, on Monday, May 14, of Samuel F. Orr, of Calgary, a former highly esteemed resident of Mount Forest. Although it was known that the deceased had gone to Portland for treatment of the news of his death was unexpected and caused sincere regret to his old friends here. When news of his serious illness was received in Calgary, his nephew, Mr. Bryson Corley, left at once to be with him, but arrived too late. The remains were brought east, accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Fetherstonhaugh, a niece.

Samuel F. Orr was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr and the last surviving member of his family, two sisters, Miss Martha Orr and Mrs. John Corley, having passed within the last two years. He was brought up in Mount Forest and for many years was in the postal service as a railway mail clerk and later in the inspector's office at Calgary. Since the death of his sisters, he has made his home with his nephew, Capt. J. B. Corley in Calgary and frequently visited other members of the family. Until leaving Mount Forest he was a church warden of St. Paul's church. He was unmarried.—Mt. Forest Confederate.

DEATH SENTENCE OF JESUS CHRIST

Original Copper Plate Unearthed in Naples Ruins and Was Published in Beyrouth, Syria, Newspaper.

The following remarkable documentary evidence of the sentencing of Jesus Christ to crucifixion on Calvary is taken from the "Lesan Al-Hall", a newspaper published in Beyrouth, Syria. It is declared to be an authentic statement, and the original bears the signatures of the witnesses. Translation was made to the English language by the finders:

"Sentence rendered by Pontius Pilate, acting governor of Lower Galilee, stating that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death on the cross.

"In the year 17 of the Emperor Tiberius Caesar, and the 27th day of March, the city of Holy Jerusalem, Annas and Caiaphas, being priests, sacrificators of the people Monday. He is very anxious that the deer in this section be not disturbed by dogs. The Ontario Game Law says: "Hounds or dogs found running deer during the close season may be killed on sight by any person, who shall not be liable for damage for so doing." Mr. Robinson would very much like to have organizations formed whereby our trout streams would be restocked with fry. As it is now, everybody fishes but nobody makes any effort to restock the streams. This cannot go on indefinitely. On Sunday near Singhampton, the officer laid a charge against some kitcheners for failing to throw back into the river trout less than seven inches in length.—Dundalk Herald.

Road Will Be Resurfaced

Saturday's dailies contained the announcement that the road 27 miles north from Melancthon would be resurfaced. Sections of this road, especially where traffic bound macadam was applied, is badly in need of resurfacing. The traffic-bound macadam as applied on the hard road-bed on the provincial highway is very unsatisfactory. This material will not pack and has proved a big disappointment to motorists using Provincial Highway No. 10.—Dundalk Herald.

Big Fish at Heathcote

Water level of the Beaver River at Heathcote was considerably lowered when Mr. George Swannell pulled out a speckled trout that was worth a visit to the neighbors about. The big trout George caught at Conn's landing measured 22 1/2 inches around and tipped the scales at 4 1/2 pounds. There was probably quite a rush to the spot where George caught the fish after announcing his capture, but we believe, to date, the laurels for catching the biggest fish still belong to him.—Thornbury Review-Herald.

of God: Pontius Pilate, governor of Lower Galilee, sitting in the presidential chair of the praetory, condemns Jesus of Nazareth to die on the cross between two thieves, the great and notorious evidence of the people saying: "Jesus is a seducer; He is seditious; he is the enemy of the law; He calls Himself falsely the Son of God; He calls Himself falsely the King of Israel; He entered into the temple, followed by a multitude bearing palm branches in their hands.

"Orders the first centurion, Quilus Cornelians, to lead him to the place of execution. Forbids any person whatsoever, either rich or poor, to oppose the death of Jesus Christ.

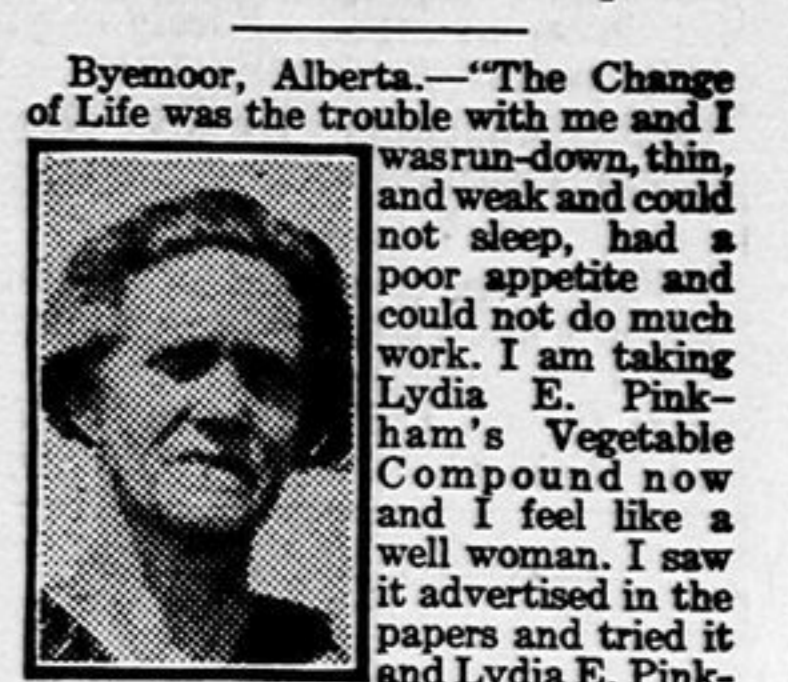

"The witnesses who signed the condemnation of Jesus are: "Daniel Robani, a pharisee, Joannus Robani, Raphael Robani, Capet, a citizen. "Jesus shall go out of the City of Jerusalem by the gate of Struenus." The foregoing is engraved on the copper plate, on the reverse side of which is written: "A similar plate is sent to each tribe." It was found in an antique marble vase while excavating in the ancient City of Aquila, in the Kingdom of Naples, in the year 1810, by commissioners of the French army. It is originally in the Hebrew language and has been preserved in a box of ebony.

HOLSTEIN HAD REVENGE ON HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

Any downheartedness that may have possessed the Holstein softball team a few days ago when the Durham High School team beat them out on their own diamond, was dissipated last Friday night on the local grounds when the Holsteinites came back with a vengeance and trimmed the locals 23 to 20. It was a heavy hitting contest from start to finish, though the numerous errors by both teams were largely responsible for the big score. At one time the Holstein team was ahead, but went to pieces when they took the field, and the High School came to the front. They led from then on until nearing the end of the game when they staged a series of boners and wild throws that let the boys from the south forge to the fore. When the
