Parents at School Fairs

The Barrie Examiner sees danger in allowing parents to have too much to do with exhibits at school fairs. It speaks highly of the success of the school fairs in Simcoe county adding this about parental interference: "However some criticism was heard that some parents are assisting their children too much, although perhaps with the very best intentions. In some cases parents have become so interested in the fair that the pupils have been shooed in the back-ground. Some parents have insisted on arranging the exhibits and complaints have been made, although the department has no way of checking this up. It is pointed out that the practise is to some extent defeating the principle of the rural school fair. A certain amount of judicious criticism should be given by the parents, but actual work on their part is frowned on. The pupils should be shown only."

Fall Fairs and Fakers

"Wonders will never cease in this enlightened age," remarks the Barrie Examiner. "Picton Fair was without a midway this year, but it was a success. A rugby game was substituted, but after all what's the difference?" Hanover Fair has been forking ahead for several years, but we are of the opinion that from the standpoint of attendance, the dropping of "midway" attractions and substituting educational features, would be a frost. There is no gainsaying the fact but that this age and generation likes to be entertained, and we do not believe that a purely agricultural show can be made a financial success in this district.

They have the reputation of putting on a good show at Simcoe, and The Reformer, published there, comments on the question as follows: "We understand that the Department has received numerous complaints about some of these side-shows and indications are not lacking that unless more attention is paid to the strictly agricultural aspects of the fair, some of the societies will find themselves struggling along without monetary assistance from the Department. Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, director of agricultural societies for Ontario, recently pointed out that the fakir stuff was carrying away a lot of money that could be spent to better advantage and that circus attractions were showing the cattle and other stock exhibits into neglected corners. To a certain degree, this tendency has been observed at our Norfolk county fair, although the directors have made every effort to keep it clean and wholesome. Probably with a change in dates next year, it will be possible to again give the agricultural features the prominence they deserve."

We are not, of course, upholding the claims of fakirs at shows, but we are strong on attractions. Make the show bright and entertaining—as well as competitive and educative—if it would win.—Hanover Post.

To Protect, Not Convict

Instances have come to light where motorists have been fined for not having their driver's permit with them, though they were in possession of one at home. Just because a man neglects to change his driving permit from one suit to another is no reason why he should be fined. The purpose of that law, and we are in accord with it, was not to mulct motorists because they failed to carry a permit, but to prevent those whose driving capabilities had not been tested, to drive on the highway.

If a man has secured a permit and has left it at home, he should not come into the clutch of the law for such a slight lapse of memory. The fact that a man has secured a permit in the first place is proof enough of his eligibility to be behind the wheel.

To prevent situations of this kind the driver could have his permit tacked somewhere in his car, then the permit would go wherever the car went.—Dundalk Herald.

HYMENEAL

HUTTON—DRUMMOND

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Knox church manse last Thursday afternoon, November 1, at 2 o'clock, when Miss Jane Napier Drummond became the bride of Mr. Thomas G. Hutton. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. W. B. Smith. The bride was most becomingly dressed in a wedding gown of white crepe-de-chene, with gray coat and hat and shoes to match, and was attended by her niece, Miss Isabel Henderson, dressed in white silk. Mr. Elmer Hutton, son of the groom, was groomsmen.

After the ceremony the wedding party journeyed to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Henderson, where the wedding dinner was served, and left on the afternoon C. P. R. train on a short honeymoon, returning Saturday night to the groom's home in town where they have already commenced housekeeping. They will reside in Durham.

The Chronicle joins with many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hutton much joy and prosperity.

CAMPBELL—HERON

St. Columba United church, Toronto, decorated with palms and yellow mums, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Isabella, youngest daughter of Mrs. Isabella Heron, became the bride of Mr. Ian Gilchrist Campbell, son of Mrs. Campbell, Quebec Ave., and the late N. W. Campbell, Rev. W. A. McTaggart officiating. The wedding music was played by Mr. Clara Henley. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Albert, was in a period gown of brides' taffeta with fitted bodice and tiered skirt falling in points edged with silk net and touches of silver with which she wore matching hose and slippers. Her veil of silk tulle and real lace was attached to a Juliet cap of rose point lace and orange blossoms and she carried a showed bouquet of butterfly roses and lily of the valley. The bride's sister, Mrs. T. P. Topping, was matron of honor and wore a gown of sunni-yellow georgette with inserts of gold lace, brown velvet picture hat with velvet streamers falling to the hem of skirt and matching brown suede slippers, and carried a bouquet of bronze mums. Mr. William Campbell, only brother of the groom, was best man. Peggy Sheppard, of Lawrence Park, niece of the bride, was a quaint little flower girl in a French frock of silk net over shell pink with a shepherdess poke bonnet and matching socks and slippers. She carried a basket of pink and white baby mums. After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on a motor trip to Detroit and on their return will reside in Toronto.

JOHNSTON—HERD

A quiet wedding was solemnized at 2 p.m., October 17, at Hanover Presbyterian Manse, by Rev. G. C. Little, when Miss Catherine Herd, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Herd, Allan Park, and Mr. Rupert Fullerton Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Vickers, were united in holy bonds of matrimony. The only witnesses to ceremony were the parents of the respective parties and immediately after the ceremony, the young couple left on the C. N. R. for a short wedding trip to Toronto.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a royal blue georgette transparent velvet and with it went hat to correspond. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold brooch with amethyst setting.

While in Toronto, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Bradley, tendered the young couple a shower, when many pretty gifts, chiefly in silver, came the bride's way.

On the evening of October 24, on their arrival home from Toronto, a reception was tendered them at the home of the bride's parents, when about one hundred and fifteen neighbors and friends gathered to extend in person their good wishes and congratulations. Many beautiful gifts were bestowed upon them on this occasion also. The evening was spent in music and dancing. The Misses Fursman contributed several piano numbers.

Youth's Goal

"How old is your son?" asked the visitor. "Well," replied the dad, "he's reached that age when he thinks the most important thing to pass isn't his examination, but the car ahead."

Unprecedented rain has caused losses to settlers in Northern Ontario that may total more than $1,000,000. With hundreds of settlers facing privation after the complete loss of their crops, organized relief work is being planned in the farming section along the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad and in Algoma, according to Fred Kennin, M. L. A., who passed through Cobalt recently.

A scheme to flood Montreal with $65,000 in counterfeit money was nipped in the bud, it was revealed yesterday at the preliminary hearing on one of three men arrested several days ago. The man standing trial was Frank Poirer, of Burlington, Vt., who was arrested. In his pockets was found a package of money amounting to several thousands of dollars, nearly perfect imitations of United States bills.

The mystery of who killed the 14 wild geese in the Jack Miner sanctuary two weeks ago has been solved. James Mattis and George Miller, two Concession youths, today admitted to the provincial police that they are responsible for the slaughter of the birds. The youths, accompanied by their father, were on a hunting trip. They appeared in court charged with theft. Judgment was reserved.

Bruce, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Burpee Palmer, narrowly escaped death when attacked by a bull. He was gored to some extent, but his injuries are not such as to cause alarm. Prompt rescue by the boy's father no doubt saved his life. The lad was helping his father with the chores and had given the bull a mangold from the front of the stall, when the animal made a lunge forward, breaking his chain and smashing down a partition, and attacking the lad. Mr. Palmer, hearing the crash, rushed to the scene and beat the animal off, rescuing the lad from his dangerous position.

German girls are a bit too plump to suit Clarence Terhune, the 19-year-old United States youth who captured the fancy of many of the frauleins by stowing away on the Graf Zeppelin. "German girls are nice enough and are good looking," he said, "but they are too big for me." Terhune left today for Stuttgart, where he hopes to obtain a temporary United States passport which will enable him to proceed to Paris and catch the first boat for the United States. He said the crossing was the most beautiful thing imaginable and that he was especially impressed in flying over Germany, where, he declared, he would like to stay longer.

More than one hundred nurses scurried to safety when Howard Johnson, 30, negro waiter at the Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., ran amuck in the hospital dining room and shot and wounded three other waiters, one fatally.

Lieut. D'Arcy Grieg, in a final tryout before making an official attempt to beat the world's speed-flying record of 318 miles an hour reached a speed estimated at 345 miles an hour during dives before straightening on the course. The present record was set by Major Mario de Bernardi, in Venice, March 30. Grieg's is a super-marine Napier 220 plane. If the time proves satisfactory he will apply to the air ministry for permission to make an attempt to break the record at a favorable opportunity.

Thirty-one convicts escaped from Clemons state prison farm in Brazos County, Texas. They sawed a hole in the wall of the barracks where they were confined and crawled out, eluding the one guard on the building.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the liquor control board of Ontario stated that no new books would be issued when the 234 lines were filled in the new green liquor control books. "No, they can't get another permit," he stated definitely. "We think that there is plenty of space in one of those permits for any man's buying for a whole year."

Charles Smith, who started a hunger strike 17 days ago in jail in Arkansas as a protest against his conviction of anti-Atheist laws, was discharged as a city hospital patient, but remained in the hospital at his own expense.

When the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lesmeyer of Bourbon county, Ky., died, three time-pieces in the home stopped. Lesmeyer, who was sitting at the bedside of the child, looked at his watch a few moments after death had occurred and says that it had stopped at 1:28 o'clock. About an hour afterward he found two clocks had stopped at the same time as the watch. It was ascertained none of the time-pieces had run down.

Held in jail at Troy, N. Y., for kidnapping the 17-year-old Rutland, Vermont, girl he sought to marry, Joseph Lanzillo, railroad brakeman and boxer, hanged himself last night. He was found by the jailer with his belt looped about his neck.

A lock expert, listening over the telephone to the almost imperceptible sounds of falling tumblers in a safe door, directed the opening of a strong box at Baker, Oregon, last week. Miss Kathleen Kivett, office employee, telephoned Charles Braun, the expert, in Weiser, Idaho, nearly 50 miles away. She said Braun told her to put the mouthpiece of the telephone next to the safe door and to turn the dial. By the sound of the tumblers he directed her hand and the door was opened in less than five minutes.

Elfrieda Knaak, 30-year-old book agent and psychology student, died early last Friday morning, three days almost to the hour from the time she submitted her arms, feet and head to self-torture in the furnace of the Lakebanff police station, Ill. With her death officers said, was locked the story of what actually happened during those hours before Tuesday dawn, when Miss Knaak, after sitting alone all night in the police station, went into the basement, where she later was found, near the furnace, badly burned.

Charged with slaying his 14-year-old son in St. Louis a year ago in order to collect $4,000 life insurance, Michael Meeker, 55, a farmer, living near Dryden, N. Y., was arrested last Friday on a warrant charging murder and held for Missouri authorities.

Vincent Rice, 17 years old, confessed on Saturday, police announced, that he killed Alice Jost, 15-year-old St. Louis school-girl, in her home on Friday. Rice, according to police, said he strangled the girl to death with a cord from her widowed mother's electric iron after he had beaten her unconscious at the end of a quarrel. The youth, who had been attentive to the girl about a year, called at her home on Friday night, knowing that she would be alone. The cause of the quarrel was not disclosed.

Approximately $9,000,000 has been received by the two major political parties during the presidential race, of which $4,911,744 went to the Republican National Committee and $4,088,932 to the Democratic National Committee, as shown in reports filed today with the house campaign funds committee.

A wee Chinese lady who could not visualize vicerealty without scarlet, and ermine and silver buttons yesterday left Viscount Willingdon standing forgotten on the platform here while she honored an aide-de-camp with the presentation intended for his Excellency. In the course of a tour on Brantford, the Governor-General visited the Brant Sanitarium, where it had been arranged that little Marjory Sam, a Chinese patient, should present him with a colored picture of the institution. To the embarrassment of the committee, little Marjory marched directly up to the aide and made the presentation.
