Corner Concerns
(Our Own Correspondent)
We wish The Chronicle and all its readers a prosperous, happy New Year now that they had a good Christmas, notwithstanding that the prevailing epidemic spoiled many an appetite, but there is nothing real serious to report.

Miss Margaret Wilson of Owen Sound and Ella of Toronto returned home on Saturday to spend a few days in the enjoyment of Christmas cheer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker are at Belgrave this week attending the marriage of a niece Miss Bridges.

Misses Ruby and Armanda Matthews are home from Toronto to enjoy the holiday season. Their mother, Mrs. Mary Matthews has been at the bedside for the past fortnight of her sister, Miss Minnie Schenk of South Egremont. We trust that full recovery may be soon.

Mr. William A. Lawrence's sale of pure bred Hereford cattle on Friday was the first of its kind held in this part. Mr. Lawrence is to be congratulated on his enterprise.

Mr. James Hargrave's home had a narrow escape from fire one night last week when fire leaked through the chimney into an unused room and had gained considerable headway when noticed just as they were retiring. Although they got it extinguished it must have spoiled a night's rest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Byrns are celebrating the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day this Christmas night with a number of invited friends. We wish them many happy returns of the day.

The Lakeside Community Circle is hoping the first dance of the season at Mr. N. Falkingham's on Wednesday night.

Mr. Adrian Noble lost his dog a fortnight ago and had just about given up hope of recovering him when one day last week he was in a back field and heard faint whining and on investigating found his dog behind a fence with his feet caught in a bunch of traps that had been tied to a sapling. He had chewed himself free and dragged the traps to the fence. He is since recovering.

The school closing entertainment last Thursday in the school house was a very enjoyable affair indeed, and teacher and scholars have since had many nice things said about the pains they took in its preparation and the excellent way in which they acquitted themselves. The programme consisted of choruses, pantomimes, drills, tableaux, recitations, duets, the report of the Trustees, Santa Claus entered at the close and made scholars and teacher all happy with presents from a nicely decorated tree. Your humble scribe was in the chair. The singing of the National Anthem and a dainty lunch brought the concert to a close.

Mr. Thomas Atcheson very much enjoyed a visit from his daughter Nellie and husband, Mr. Renwick; also his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Atcheson, for a few days over the week-end.

The sad news reached us at the end of the week of the death of Mr. Ernest Lawrence, after two days' illness from double pneumonia. He was about forty years of age and was a son of the late John and Mrs. D. J. Lawrence. The latter will be remembered by old friends as Dorothy Mack. His home was in Los Angeles, Calif., and from boyhood held a position in the Southern Pacific Railway shops.

Traverston
(Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Edwards of Shelburne spent a day at the Edwards home and helped to liven up things.

Miss Muriel Price, teacher at Townsend's Lake school is holidaying at the Price homestead, near Chatsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Harrison and bonnie baby girl of Swinton Park came over to the Nelson home on Friday last and were present at Zion's concert at night.

'Twas a pleasure to have Mr. Lorne McNally of Detroit present for the affair, as he was formerly one of our best characters in dialogue entertainment.

The funeral of Mr. Herman Burnett on Wednesday of last week was largely attended. Rev. H. S. Fiddes, though suffering from an attack of flu gave a most comforting message. Never have we heard Mrs. Greenwood sing as sweetly as she did in her solo "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". The Masonic brethren from Durham conducted their impressive service at the graveside. The floral tributes were very beautiful and were banked from end to end of the grave. Among the relatives and friends present from a distance were observed Mr. Will Burnett and daughter from Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett of Timmins; Mr. I. Hooper of Priceville. Mr. Royden Burnett of London and many kindred and friends from surrounding places.

With a cultured, tactful teacher, co-operating with an enthusiastic and talented group of young people, 'twas no surprise that Zion's Christmas concert was one of the best in its history. There was just enough snow for good sleighing, moonlight most entrancing, a big crowd in attendance and the church tastefully decorated. Rev. Mr. Fiddes capably handled the program, which was bright from start to finish. Recitations were given by Essel and Elvie Hastie, Eva and Daisy Street, Clara Jack, Bruce Clark, Ada Banks, Mary McNab and Mary Allen. A group from No. 3 gave fine help in the two choruses. One of the bright numbers was the acting out of the stirring poem "Lochinvar". Elvie Hastie made a truly lovely bride and Mary McNab acted the gallant knight splendidly.

'Twas well given, the pantomime "The Holy City" and Mrs. John O. Greenwood sang it with fine effect. Two songs "When You and I Were Young, Maggie", and one by the "Alabama Warblers" were taken numbers. Four dialogues were acted and time and again the crowd was convulsed with laughter. Among those who took an active part were Misses Katie May Firth, Margaret Greenwood, Catherine Timmins and Gladys Firth. The male actors were Emerson, James and Rob Peart, Roy McClocklin, Charles and Cameron Robson, Graham and Charlie Timmins, Ernie Ellison and Ruben Paylor. Never were characters better chosen for the various characters they assumed. The "Waiter Drill" was well done, Mrs. Clifford Cook acting as directress. Santa Claus, (Rob Peart), was in fine fettle and did his part well. The National Anthem, followed by the Benediction closed a most successful night's entertainment. Proceeds $32.60.
