Climbs Mountain Named After Him

Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, secretary for the Dominions in the late Baldwin Administration, who arrived in Canada recently on the Empress of Australia, had as his objective in this country the climbing of the 11,000-foot Mount Amery, named after him, in the Canadian Rockies. There is no official record of this mountain ever having been climbed before this attempt which was undertaken with the famous Swiss guide Edward Feuz. Colonel Amery at once took the 2500-mile trip across Canada to Lake Louise whence in company of Feuz and A. O. Wheeler, honorary president of the Alpine Club of Canada, he set out for the peak located near the Great Columbia Icefields near the junction of the Alexander and Saskatchewan Rivers. Lay-Out shows (1) the vast rampart of Mount Amery with the great icefield below (2) Edward Feuz Swiss guide, all set for the ascent and (3) A.O. Wheeler (left) and Rt. Hon. L. C. Crazy?

During an inspection of an asylum the trustees came upon a party of workmen who were repairing a wall. One of the harmless patients, apparently assisting in the work, was pushing a wheelbarrow along upside down.

"My friend," said a kind-hearted trustee, gently, "you should turn your wheelbarrow over."

"Not on your life," replied the patient. "I turned it over yesterday and they put bricks in it."—American Boy.
