Cooling For a Year

A huge mirror which took nearly a year to cool down has been made in England for a large reflecting telescope. Weighing more than a ton and a half, it is 69 inches in diameter and ten inches thick. Discs of glass of this size are difficult to get free from defects, and after the molten glass has been poured into the mold it has to be kept hot by electric heaters and cooled down over a period of many months.

The weather has again turned spring like but who knows what we may have for weather by the time the Chronicle reaches its readers.

Mr. Reuben Watson has returned from Detroit where he has been working the past two or three months. He reports times dull in that once busy city.

Mr. E. J. Pratt is drilling a well for Mr. R. J. Lawrence.

Mrs. G. A. Watson and Joe visited her sister, Mrs. Gregor in Mount Forest, who is quite seriously ill.

Mr. Farr Lawrence is again buying up stock for shipment this week. He is fast becoming a drover of old time renown. We hope his next move will be to petition the C. P. R. for shipping accommodation at our station here.

Mrs. William Moore is quite indisposed with a severe cold at present.

Mr. George Cuff is engaged with Mr. Robert J. Lawrence at present.

Mr. H. Tucker is busy moving to his new home north of Priceville.

Mr. Andrew Hay of town has been assisting Mr. Lawrence McFadden to cut wood.

Now for a word on Russia. Poor old Russia, robbed of her churches and religious freedom! The closing of some seventy churches in Moscow of late is looked upon by some of us saintly old fogeys as something deplorable.

Russia has apparently been going to the dogs for years and the legislation of the Soviets appears to be sinking the country into a further state of corruption.

Think of the civilized world standing agape and watch the rising generations of that country brought up in a state of infidelity, godlessness, anarchy and worse. While their religious belief may differ from ours: and may not be worth following, yet from our judgment of the situation, to tear the preachers and churches out of any country is robbing the children and the state of all that is worth while.

Pleased to learn that Miss Grace Hopkins has so far recovered from her misfortune as to be able to return home from the hospital.

The Ontario Legislature

Toronto, March 21, 1930.

By the overwhelming vote of 87-18, the Ontario Legislature on Tuesday adopted the budget as delivered by Hon. J. D. Monteith, Provincial Treasurer. Prior to adopting the budget, the House by the same division threw out the want-of-confidence amendment introduced by S. C. Tweed, Liberal, North Waterloo, which condemned the government for asking municipalities to contribute to the Old Age Pensions.

An interesting feature of the vote was the declining vote of Earl Hutchinson, Labor, Kenora. Mr. Hutchinson left the chamber before the vote was taken, while Premier Ferguson, paired with W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal Leader, the latter leaving after he had delivered his address.

Hon. O. Howard Ferguson, Prime Minister, in concluding the budget debate, delivered a masterful address upon the activities of the government which brought thumping applause from the Government. When he had concluded, there was no doubt in the minds of those who crowded the galleries as to who was in complete control of the situation. Premier Ferguson flayed both Mr. Sinclair and Hon. Harry Nixon, Progressive Leader, for their stumblings through jungle darkness, while he secured much amusement from the "assumed obtuseness" of the Progressive leader.

Two important announcements were made by Premier Ferguson. Upon the suggestion that municipalities should receive a portion of the gasoline tax, Premier Ferguson flatly stated this would not be done. The Government said Premier Ferguson had established an extensive system of transportation to serve the entire province, and municipalities were entitled to contribute to that system. Such a system of transportation brought much to the markets of all municipalities together; with an increase tourist traffic which during the past year had expended some $200,000,000 in the province. Consequently, said the Premier, there was to be no contribution made from trust funds of the government on the tax.

Premier Ferguson also laid down the government's policy on Hydro power. The province, he said, was prepared to purchase power from any one in the province on a fair and equitable basis. In regard to the development of the St. Lawrence, Premier Ferguson said the province intended to secure their rights and maintain them for the people of the province. Nothing would be given away, while he hoped that the whole question would be shortly settled in the best interest of the province. Power development on the St. Lawrence, continued Premier Ferguson, did not end the difficulty of securing power. Many other developments must be undertaken in order to assure a complete supply of power for years to come.

"We need every bit of power we can produce and we propose to buy every horsepower of energy we can purchase anywhere," said Premier Ferguson. "If we had all the power out of the St.

Lawrence it will only be a bit over 1,000,000 horsepower and that will not be enough in eight years at the rate we are growing."

Premier Ferguson, in speaking to amendments of the Election Act, made clear the government's policy on any incursions that may be attempted on the communistic element. The government, he said, intended to do everything in their power to prevent communism getting a stand in the province, and in the amendment election candidates must post a deposit of $300. Premier Ferguson said there had been cases where the red element had contested ridings for the single purpose of expressing extreme views. Such a case had arisen in Sudbury in the riding of the Hon. Sharies McCrae, Minister of Mines, where an extremist with no interest in the riding had entered the field with one purpose in view.

"There has grown up in this province an active communist element and I am determined as far as this government is concerned to suppress that element and prevent it getting an ascendancy," said Premier Ferguson.

Another section of the amendment to the Election Act, abolishes the vouching clause. Formerly a voter might be vouched for in order to place his name on the list.

Every licensed automobile insurance agency and company in Ontario will in future be compelled to file with the superintendent of insurance or with a statistical bureau a record of its automobile insurance premiums and of its loss and expense costs according to a bill introduced in the Legislature by Attorney-General Price.

Construction of a new provincial highway into Hamilton will be started this year. Engineers of the Department of Public Highways have made surveys and mapped out the route, according to Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, who said the road would be 40 to 50 miles long having a start in the vicinity of Turner's Corners west of Highway No. 3, and run southwesterly to Fonthill, up the hill as far as Fonthill United church where it will run west to the boundary of Lincoln and Welland Counties, skirt the top of Hamilton Mountain and enter Hamilton.

Benefits to municipalities in the Central Ontario Electric Power System are given under legislation introduced by Hon. J. R. Cooke, High Commissioner, the bill providing an extensive saving in that district. Hon. Mr. Cooke said that the province purchased what was then known as the Central Ontario Power System owned and operated by the Seymour Power Co., with the object of placing the service on the same basis as the Ontario Hydro.

Second reading was given to Premier Ferguson's bill providing for a five-year term of legislature. Premier Ferguson explained that the life of a government depended upon its work and administration than upon any term of years fixed by legislation. Premier Ferguson added that it would mean a saving to the public and conforms to legislation in force in every other province of fire year terms.

ORDERING FOR SPRING PLANTS

(Experimental Farms Note.)
It often happens that we do not give much thought to our gardens or fruit plantations and what we are going to plant, or sow, until spring is almost upon us and then, by the time the plants, or seeds, are ordered or reach us, it is really too late to get the best results that year, if ever, for in the case of some plants, such as roses for instance, a delay in planting may mean that they will not grow at all, as when the hot dry winds blow over the newly set bushes, it is very hard on them.

Now, then, is the time to look ahead and to make plans for the coming season and get supplies ordered in good time, stating, when ordering, that the plants should reach you at a certain time as in the case of most trees and shrubs the earlier they are planted after the frost is out the better the results will be. This is based on long experience at the Experimental Farms.

One should also know in good time what are the best varieties to plant, or sow, and if one has not this information at home, application should be made to the nearest Experimental Station for advice as to what to plant, as many dollars are often wasted in buying quite unsuitable, or inferior, plants and seeds which could be prevented to a large extent by using the information freely given by the Experimental Stations.

A Supplicant, a Slave

Storm not the gates of song,
O poor importunate,
But for a whisper or the breeze
In humble patience wait!
A lover and a slave,
You are condemned to pain,
And you must know the weight of chains;
For every lyric strain,
For you the deathless flame,
For you the keen delight,
For you the one clear star that glows
Through darkest realms of night.
A supplicant, a slave;
But what rare bliss is yours
When through your rapt, imploring hear;
The lyric splendor pours!
