Miss A. C. Macphail Unanimously Chosen

Present Sitting Member to Contest Riding in Interests of U. F. O. Party at Election to Be Held This Summer.—Hers Was Only Name Mentioned at Convention Held Here Saturday.

Miss Agnes C. Macphail, M.P., was selected as the candidate to represent the U. F. O. party at the next federal election to be held this summer. Miss Macphail is the present sitting member, having occupied the seat for South-East Grey continuously since 1921. There was a large gathering of representatives present that taxed the hall to its capacity, every polling subdivision in the riding being represented. The meeting was presided over by R. D. Carruthers, the president, who called the meeting to order and in a few remarks explained the reason of the meeting, the selection of a candidate to contest the next federal election, likely to be held this summer.

The choosing of a candidate took but a few moments, as only one name, that of Miss Macphail, the present member was advanced, who was the recipient of a most enthusiastic reception.

The executive were all present, and among those supporting Miss Macphail's nomination were R. L. Aitchison, Chatsworth, who was pleased to see Miss Macphail receive such a unanimous nomination and trusted that his prophecy of a larger majority would be true. Reeve Hunter of Egremont and Reeve McDonald of Bentinck spoke along organization lines that were suggestive of a successful campaign. Reeve Jack of Proton was sure the party could work for no better candidate than the one who always had the interests of her people at heart. Warden Lambke of Sullivan felt that Miss Macphail should be accorded an acclamation because of her work in national and international fields, but if not, "then let us make her opponents wish they had accorded her one." Messrs. McKay, McIlwride and Russell urged everyone to work for a record majority.

F. R. Oliver Spoke

F. R. Oliver, M.P.P., was called upon to address the audience and chose to speak on the organization, its aims and objects, and named a few of the achievements of the U.F.O. He closed with a strong appeal for the candidate, who was known nationally and internationally as the strongest supporter of better legislation for farmers. He cited many of the causes for right she had championed in the House because of her independent position and thought she deserved unselfish support for the honor she had brought the U. F. O. by being chosen to represent the Dominion of Canada at the League of Nations. His address was very interesting.

Miss Macphail Made Short Speech

Miss Macphail on coming to the platform accepted the nomination very graciously and regretted that the seating capacity was so taxed and that so many were rendered uncomfortable in having to stand. She outlined the great change of mind in the party feeling at Ottawa, all of which has taken place since 1921, and how that in those days the U. F. O. were barely acknowledged and given no hearing at all. Now it was so different because they had commenced doing things which had been denied the old party system for fear of being turned out of office. She herself had endeavored to be true to the people. Miss Macphail explained how and why she had voted on almost every issue. The ones of most interest, perhaps, were the Budget and the Divorce bills. She outlined her achievements along peace and prison reform. She supported the Soldiers' Settlement amendments, as many times she had been refused help for returned men who needed it. She voted on the Budget as her electors had advised her and she took her stand on the Divorce bill, not because she favored divorce, or wanted to see more or easier divorce laws, but because a divorce court in Ontario was fairer to all, and a more moral and human method of dealing with divorce and its laws than was now on the statutes. She closed her address pledging her obedience to the will of the electors and promising to devote her time, energy and talents to the people of South-East Grey, and the farmers in general.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

PRINTING TRADE IS AN IMPORTANT ONE

Few people realize the importance of the printing trade and allied industries which embrace printers, lithographers, embossers, manufacturing stationers, tag, label and carton manufacturers. According to the latest statistics from the Dominion Bureau, capital invested in these industries amounts to $96,539,647, being surpassed only by capital in the electric power, the pulp and paper and the lumber industries.

The printing industries give employment to 29,607 men and women, being exceeded in this respect only by the lumber industry.

Wage an salary distribution amounts to over $39,194,481, the largest distribution of any Canadian manufacturing industry.

As far as gross value of production is concerned, the printing industry comes eighth on the list with $100,609,475, but in value added by manufacture it is second with a net value of $72,121,090, being exceeded only by the pulp and paper industry. Since these statistics were published in 1928 the industry has grown and it today occupies a position

HIGHWAY SIGNS WERE MUTILATED

Hoodlums Changed Sign Directions, Pulled Out Posts and Caused Considerable Damage in Town and Vicinity. Prosecutions Will Follow If Guilty Parties Found

There always seems to be someone who simply must be into trouble and during the past couple of weeks hoodlums have amused themselves by interfering with the highway signs around town and in the vicinity. Resident Engineer Alder informs us that the directions have been changed, posts pulled out, signs defaced and other depredations committed for no other reason apparently than to cause trouble. If the guilty parties are found out they will be prosecuted and severe penalties will follow. There is no magistrate who can have any sympathy with the class of citizen who will wantonly destroy that which is a direct benefit to the public, such as highway signs as a guide to strangers touring through the country. The depredations, Mr. Alder informed the Chronicle, is not the work of young boys, as much of it would tax the strength of men of more mature years.

In these days of motoring there is nothing we know of that is of so much benefit to the public generally as the road signs erected through the country by the Highways Department and the Ontario Motor League. In neither case is the erection of these signs compulsory. With the Highways Department especially, these signs are erected at considerable expense, and are placed merely as an act of courtesy by the Department that motorists should have as little trouble as possible in travelling from one section of the country to the other. It is to be hoped that whoever is responsible for the silly destruction of these guides will cease operations before they are apprehended and it is found necessary to have them prosecuted. In the case of prosecution, we suppose the perpetrators would even have the nerve to ask the newspapers to "Keep my name out of the paper". This procedure may work in some cases where publication would not be in the public interest or of a sufficient news nature, but in a case of this kind the court proceedings will be published in full and the names of the guilty parties properly displayed without any attempt to "soft pedal" the evidence.

CHIMNEY FIRE CALLED BRIGADE

The fire department had a run Monday evening about 6 o'clock to a chimney blaze at the residence of P. J. McLean on Lambton street. The chemical engine was the only equipment taken to the scene but was not needed as the fire was under control when it arrived.

ODD FACTS ABOUT CANADA

A few odd facts about Canada are: 300 whales are caught annually in the Pacific waters of Canada; three and a half billion cigarettes were made in the Dominion last year; 200,000 passengers went to Europe in 1929 by the St. Lawrence route; 40 countries are represented in the naturalizations in Canada; 72 Canadians won the Victoria Cross; there are 2,500 telephone companies and 55 railway companies in Canada; Canada has 272 millionaires; the Canadian Falls at Niagara are receding at the rate of 2.3 feet per year since 1906.

THREE IMPORTANT FACTORS

The three important factors in the cost of producing crops are land, labour and capital, and the human labor factor is the only one which is higher today than it was fifteen years ago, a statement prepared by officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows. Field husbandmen therefore stress the importance of making the hired man's wages count by supplying him with first class equipment so that wherever possible he may be able to do literally two days' work in one. This is where modern farm machinery comes in. Eastern Canada crops take 20 hours labor per acre, to harvest; Western Canada crops harvested with horse-drawn outfits take 11 hours labor per acre, and harvested with the use of the new combine-harvester the labor

Bentinck Miracle Drew Large Crowds

Appearance of Sacred Figure on Bed-sheet Caused Much Interest in Country Round About and Drew Crowds From Far Afield.—At Home of Mrs. Joseph Edmonds, Three Miles From Here.

The following appeared on the front page of the Toronto Globe of Saturday last in a dispatch from Hanover:

"A grieving woman in Bentinck believes supernatural comfort has been vouchsafed her in her mourning for her brother. As a proof she shows a sheet from his deathbed.

"Neighbors and folk from further afield have come to see this sheet; some of them curious, some reverent, some cynical.

"For on the sheet is a sacred figure, clear and unmistakable, darkly outlined on the white linen. It appeared, she says, as she ironed the sheet two days after her brother was buried.

"William Reay of Bentinck died just one week ago. He was 68 years old, unmarried and widely known in the district. The funeral was held on Sunday.

"The next day his sister, Mrs. William Torry, washed his bedclothes from his home, and on Tuesday she ironed them. As she drew the iron across a sheet she paused, stared at the linen and stared again. The image, she says, had appeared before her eyes. Her sister, Mrs. Joseph Edmonds came at her excited cry. She, too, gazed in wonder. Mr. Edmonds was called, and then the neighbors.

"A Hanover man who visited the Reay home and saw the sheet said tonight that the image is a full figure, with features clearly distinguishable. He ventured no explanation of its appearance.

"The family, however, is convinced that the figure has come to them from a higher source, to comfort them in their sorrow."

Since Saturday there has been a veritable stream of cars visit the Edmonds home at Vickers on the Durham Road, according to Mrs. Edmonds and her sister, Mrs. W. Torry, in speaking to the Chronicle on Tuesday afternoon. For a time the writer did not pay very much attention to the rumors that were floating around, as we do not believe in things supernatural, banshees, ghosts, or other like characters of a day when superstition was more widespread than at the present, but when newspapers like the Globe featured it on the front page, and lesser lights like the Toronto Star ran it under two-column headlines, we made a trip to the Edmonds home where the sheet was shown us.

There is no question of it. The figure is there. The stain on the sheet or whatever it is, shows the outline of a most benign looking face, with mustache and whisker, and with hands apparently grasping a staff which extends some distance above the head. It is all that the newspaper dispatches said it was, but as far as being mysterious or miraculous is concerned, we could see nothing in it. And we say this with all due respect to those who really believe the markings on the sheet to have been of divine origin.

In our opinion the picture picture on the sheet is nothing more than the well-known trade mark of the Robin Hood Mills Limited, and we say this after having the business card of a traveller for this firm who was in town Tuesday and which is now in our possession. The "staff" referred to by those who saw the image is nothing more or less than Robin Hood's bow, which he has to his shoulder, arrow fitted, and ready to shoot. The dispatch to the Globe is in error when it says that the image is a full figure, as it is not, and with the exception of the face, which is itself rather dimly visible, is badly faded from the shoulders down and scarcely discernable.

As we have said before, we have no fault with those who care to believe that the figure is of divine origin, but still must stick to our contention that it was put there with primer's ink, especially when it is admitted that the sheet in question came from the West some years ago and was made from flour sacks purchased in that country when the owner was a resident there.

SHOT THROUGH KNEE WHILE HUNTING

Thomas Gray of Egremont, a Short Distance South of Town, Victim of Unfortunate Accident.

Last Saturday afternoon while hunting groundhogs on the farm of Mr. William Carson in Normanby, Thomas Gray of Egremont, who had been engaged by Mr. Carson for a few days, was shot through the knee when a 22 rifle in the hands of William Lewis was discharged. The Messrs. Gray and Lewis had been out during the afternoon and had returned to the house about 4 o'clock and it was when starting out on another hunt that the accident happened. The injured man was brought to Durham hospital, where he is now a patient, and is doing well.

The bullet entered the leg from behind and passed directly through the knee.

Two robbers at Fort Worth were shot robbing a bank. They went in as liabilities, and were carried out as assets.

Many Attended Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Firth, Upper Town, Honored by Over One Hundred Relatives and Friends Last Saturday Who Gathered to Celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Wedding Day.—Presented With Purse and Roses.

Last Saturday, the 24th inst., was a big day for the Firth family and relatives when over one hundred gathered from all points of Ontario and beyond to honor two of their number, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Firth of town, in a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day. The day was all that could be desired, and though the actual date of the wedding was on January 29, it was decided at that time that the celebration would be held over until more favorable weather conditions would prevail, the 24th of May being the date chosen.

The home was most fittingly decorated for the celebration of this most important date in the lives of "Uncle Joe" and "Aunt Belle" as they are affectionately known, the home and the grounds surrounding being ablaze with over 200 yellow tulips grown by the bridegroom, a most fitting color for their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Firth have been lifelong residents of the Township of Glenelg and are two of its most beloved and highly respected residents. The bride, before her marriage, was Miss Isabel McArthur of Bunnessan, where the wedding ceremony was performed on the 29th of January, 1880 by the late Rev. Donald McLeod. They have always lived in Glenelg until 1912 when they moved to Durham.

Following the gathering of the relatives and friends and the extending of congratulations to the popular couple, a delightful buffet luncheon was served by the younger folk, with Mr. and Mrs. Firth, the bridesmaid, Mrs. Duffield of Guelph, and many of the older guests seated at an elaborately bedecked bridal table. The floral decorations were very pretty and consisted of the favorite garden of Mr. and Mrs. Firth, while the bridal table was graced with a four-storey wedding cake, softly lighted by the light from fifty pink candles.

Following the luncheon and the meeting of old friends, many of whom had not seen each other for years, the gathering was taken in charge by Mr. C. H. Moffat of Durham, who after a few words of congratulatory nature, called upon Mr. J. W. Firth of Toronto, nephew of the groom, to address the bride and groom. Mr. Firth reminisced over the years that had passed, spoke of the neighborliness and friendliness that had always been the big thing in their lives, the respect in which they were held, and requested the guests of honor to come forward to the altar where an appropriate address was read by Mrs. J. C. Hamilton, a niece, and at the proper time little Miss Mary Firth presented them with a well-filled purse expressive of the love and respect of the gathering. Master Charley Moffat then presented the bride with a beautiful sheaf of roses. Though quite overcome by the genuine affection expressed, Mr. Firth sufficiently recovered himself to make a neat reply of thanks.

The evening was spent in cards and dancing until near the midnight hour, music for the evening being supplied by the Sharpe Bros. orchestra. Following the festivities of the evening lunch was served.

Present at the gathering were four great-great nephews and three great-great nieces.

Following is a list of the guests who signed the register:

Mrs. Thomas Banks, Durham; Mrs. John McArthur, Markdale; Mrs. George Firth, Grand Valley; Mrs. Nellie Hale, Grand Valley; Miss Gladys Hale, Grand Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt, Grand Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Firth, Miss Emma Firth, Mr. Elmer Firth, Keldron; Mr. Colthard, Mr. Albert Holden, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grey, Melancthon; Mr. John Firth, Miss Bernice Firth and Mr. George Firth, Shelburne; Mr. and Mrs. H. ## INJURED MAN IS RECOVERING

William Legate of Bentinck Injured When Sulky He Was Driving Was Struck by Car Driven by W. C. McLachlan of Town.—Condition Was Serious For Few Days.

After having been in a critical condition for two or three days from a slight concussion caused by having the rig in which he was riding demolished when run into by an automobile last Thursday evening, Mr. William Legate, a patient at Durham hospital, is recovering from his injuries and with no complications will likely be allowed out of hospital in the course of a few days.

Mr. Legate was driving along the highway in a sulky behind which was a horse he was leading. When a mile or so north of town his vehicle was struck by a car driven by Mr. W. C. McLachlan, grocer, and Mr. Legate was so badly injured that he was rendered unconscious and had to be removed to Durham hospital, where it was found he was suffering from a slight concussion and for two or three days was in a most critical condition. On Sunday he took a turn for the better and has been making satisfactory progress ever since.

The car was owned and driven by Mr. McLachlan, with whom were Messrs. A. Noble and D. Ewen. They were proceeding south on the highway toward Durham and it was about a mile and a half north of town that the accident occurred. Mr. McLachlan had just passed two cars and after the second machine had gone by the rig driven by Mr. Legate came into view out of the dust only a matter of ten to fifteen feet ahead. Though the brakes were applied and the car swerved to the left the distance was too short and the left wheel of the cart was demolished throwing Mr. Legate to the ground and rendering him unconscious. Mr. McLachlan stayed with the injured man while the other members of the party summoned the doctor, who had him removed to the hospital.

No statement has been secured from Mr. Legate as to whether he was carrying a light, but if he was it was not noticed by any of the occupants of the car. There is a possibility that the horse being led behind the cart may have obscured it, but the general opinion is that it had never been lit. There was a lantern on the rig but the evidence given to the insurance adjuster would lead one to believe that the rig was travelling minus the warning signal.

The accident might easily have resulted more seriously, and it is fortunate that Mr. Legate was not more badly injured than he was. In the mix-up it is not thought that the injured man was struck by the car but undoubtedly received his injuries when he was tossed to the ground after the collapse of the vehicle. Both horses remained near the scene of the accident and neither was injured.

BUILDING RESIDENCES

Mr. W. J. McFadden has commenced work on the erection of a new residence on Saddle street, and has also completed the cellar work on the D. Hopkins residence on George street. Mr. Charles Lawrence is engaged excavating the cellar for his new residence on Albert street, while Mr. Wyville has his residence on Chester street nearly completed. We understand that other residences are to be erected this summer in town, and with the rebuilding of the Bank of Commerce and the store of J. H. Harding, quite a building boom can be expected.

OPTOMETRIST TO MAKE REGULAR VISITS HERE

Dr. H. E. Campaigne of Kincardine, will make regular calls in Durham commencing the 3rd of June. He is a graduate of the Los Angeles Medical School of Optometry, where he took a three-year course and was for some time vision examiner of the C. F. R. employees between Fort William and the Atlantic coast. He pays special attention to children, and makes school surveys free of charge. He expects to be here twice a month and is engaged

One May Die As Result of Crash

Orley Morrison of Mount Forest Is Reported as Most Seriously Injured With Little Chance of Recovery As Result of Motor Crash on Sunday.—Two Other Occupants Badly Shaken Up.

Orley Morrison of Mount Forest lies in the hospital in that town hovering between life and death as the result of a motor crash about 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon when a car owned and driven by him went into the ditch about a mile north of that town. The young man who is 25 years of age, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morrison of Mount Forest, but has been employed in Toronto for the past several months. With Morrison at the time of the accident were a brother, Merlyn, and Roy Hunter, both being badly bruised and shaken up, but not seriously injured. The brother was reported as being around working the next day but up to Tuesday night Hunter was still in the hospital where he was said to be improving. Orley Morrison is reported suffering with a broken back and two broken legs and for quite a time after admittance to the hospital was in an unconscious state. His condition is said to be very grave and practically no hope was held out for his recovery by a specialist from the city who was called in Monday.

The true story of the accident will in all likelihood never be known but it is assumed that the car, a new Paige sedan, was being driven at an excessive rate of speed and failed to negotiate a curve on the pavement a mile this side of Mount Forest, swerved back on to the road and took the ditch some 75 yards farther on and on the opposite side of the road. The marks immediately after the accident would indicate that the car was out of control for some 125 yards. Running to the outside of the roadway at the curve, the car was apparently jerked back on the road but was going at such a rate of speed that there was no chance of righting it before it took to the ditch on the west side.

When the machine took to the ditch it is said that it struck on one of the banks, bounced, and in a somersault in which it turned over three times, landed over in the field, clearing the fence entirely in its flight. One of the occupants of the car was thrown through the top some ten or twelve feet in the air and landed on the fence, while the other occupant, a brother of the seriously injured man, escaped with only minor injuries.

WALKERTON COUPLE SIXTY YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Truax Were Married in Durham by Late Rev. W. Park, and Have Spent Whole Married Life in Walkerton.—Held "At Home" Last Saturday.

The celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding day by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Truax at Walkerton on Saturday is indirectly of interest to Durhamites, especially the older ones, for it was in this town that the veteran Walkerton manufacturer and Miss Jessie Porteous of Carrick were married, the ceremony being performed by the late Rev. W. Park, the first Presbyterian minister in Durham. While Mr. Park has been gone these many years, Mrs. Park is still alive and well, and occupies her home at the corner of Mill and Albert Streets, where she lives with her daughter, Miss Winnie Park.

Mr. Truax has been an active man all his life, and although in his 82nd year, still looks after his business, enjoys fishing and last winter did not miss a single game of hockey played in Walkerton. Mrs. Truax is in her 77th year and still looks after her own home.

Entering public life some 52 years ago Mr. Truax has served his town on the Council, and was Mayor for two years and Reeve for four. He was elected in twelve contests in South Bruce to the Ontario Legislature and the House of Commons and is one of the few surviving members of the Liberal Opposition of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was leader. Included in the survivors besides Mr. Truax are Sir William Mulock and W. M. German, ex-M.P.

Mr. Truax has rendered invaluable service as President of the Board of Bruce County hospital and has been a general all round good citizen interested in everything that made for the building up of his native town. His present business has been built up by him and was started in 1876.
