Liberal-Conservative Candidate, Grey, South-East

In offering myself as a candidate in South-East Grey I am doing so in the belief that as a member of the Liberal-Conservative party I can best represent the electorate of South-East Grey in a programme that will be of the most benefit to all classes in the riding. I believe the time is past when the advocating of impossible theories, destructive criticism and fault-finding can do anything for the electors of Canada. Rather, I think the time is here when the representation at Ottawa should be selected with a regard for business ability. I make no excuses for being a candidate under the banner of the Liberal-Conservative party, believing as I do that the Conservative policy of moderate protection tariffs for our farmers, manufacturers and citizens generally is the only salvation for the future prosperity of this great young country of ours.

The great need of Canada today is for a government that will devise a tariff of benefit to Canada as a whole. No one section of this great country can expect to receive everything that is of benefit to itself and reject that which may not be so favorable but which is a necessity in some other section of the country. Canada has too much territory and too many varied interests to permit of this. If we are to grow as a nation, then we must adopt a policy of eminent fairness to all sections, build up an interprovincial trade that will take the place of the United States market which has been taken away, develop trade within the Empire on favorable grounds to ourselves and the other outlying dominions, and take the first step in the upbuilding of the great British Empire which should and can be able to live within itself. This policy cannot be done with a representation at Ottawa who are not in sympathy with a movement of this kind, or which at every opportunity handicaps the government in power. Criticism of national policies, that is, fair criticism, must as well be constructive. Habitual fault-finding means failure, whether in private business or in our national life.

Whether we believe in it or not, Canada is destined to be governed on the two-party system. Our constitution has made no provision for the third party. From the time of Confederation nearly sixty-three years ago, any progress in Canada has been made under either a Liberal or Conservative administration. In that time we have had third parties spring up, but they have been of the mushroom variety and after growing for a few years have gradually disappeared. This is what is happening today. Only a short eleven years ago the United Farmer group swept Ontario, were placed in power in Toronto, and functioned for one parliament. We all know the result and it is not necessary to recall the condition of this province when they went out of power. In the Dominion House the Progressive movement was quite strong, for a time held the balance of power, but where is it today?

It is scarcely necessary to state that in either Ontario or at Ottawa, there will never again for a long time be a similar group representation. The United Farmers as a political group is an almost forgotten party, and an analysis of the cause shows that their disappearance was because of inefficiency to deal with matters affecting the farmer rather than from lack of enthusiasm.

The Conservative party is a moderate protection party. The recent Dunning budget, in which the policy of protection has been adopted, has brought the two old parties closer together. Mr. Dunning has admitted that in the stress of hard times it is a policy of protection for Canadians as a whole (the Conservative policy, in fact) which must save the situation, and in voting for me as their representative at the next Dominion Parliament, the electors of South-East Grey are returning one who is in full sympathy with the farmer, one who will do everything in his power to see that they are amply protected in their home market against foreign competition, and one who will also do everything possible to build up for them in the foreign field a market that will assure them of adequate returns for their labor.

I am appealing to the electors of South-East Grey to consider this election from a business standpoint. As a rural riding in a farming-manufacturing county, both urban and rural interests are identical, and a moderate policy of protection for both farmers and manufacturers should be for the mutual advantage of both.

Corner Concerns

Our better half and Mrs. Poole and son Lorne, we took a trip to Ferndale Park in Chingecushia Township, Peel County, to attend a reunion of the Wilkinson connection which has been held at five year intervals of late. The next is to be held two years hence, it being the hundredth anniversary of the family settling in the bush on the farm which was purchased for entertainment grounds. Summer cottages have been erected there. A good shower of rain that day was much appreciated by the people of that part. A considerable drought preceded by frost had shortened the crops, especially the hay very much, and the prospects were poor for a good crop of alfalfa seed which is so popular with these farmers. Other conditions were much the same as here. Many farmers have quit the farms and the remainder are having a fight to make a living and pay the taxes. In fact some Townships are very much behind with 1929 taxes.

Holstein

Mrs. Ivan Edwards of Shelburne is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Kennedy. Mr. Norman Leathern of Guelph spent a few days last week with the Irvin family. Mr. Alex. McMillan of Dundalk visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin McMillan the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Lane and little daughter visited Mrs. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McWhirter of Kendal on Monday. On Monday some of the men of the village had a bee to move the boy's bathing house in the park. The meeting of the Ladies' Association of the United church is being held this Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. Sim. Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy and family visited relatives in Shelburne the first of the week. Mrs. (Rev.) H. Mathieson of Kimberley B.C., visited her aunt, Mrs. J.D. Roberts over the week-end. Mrs. Mathieson was enroute to Montreal to attend the Canadian Authors' Association Convention which meets there this week. Miss Vera Allan of Toronto spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Allan. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Eccles had as guests recently Mr. and Mrs. D. Eccles and three boys, Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith and Master Findlay Allen of Conn. The Holstein Presbyterian picnic is being held today, Tuesday, in the park. On Saturday of this week the United Church congregation intend holding their picnic also in the park. What might have been a more serious accident occurred on Sunday morning about half a mile north of Holstein when Mr. Frank Love and family were driving to church. Mr. George Harris' of Mount Forest was driving north. The two cars collided. We understand no one was hurt but both cars were badly damaged. The South Grey District Annual Convention of the Women's Institutes held in Durham on Friday last was attended by seventeen members of the Holstein branch. They report good meetings. Mrs. E. Thorne of Holstein was appointed Federal representative for this year.

Knox Corners

Mr. Hunter, our Presbyterian missionary from British Guinea took the service Sunday and gave a splendid talk on the work of our Mission there. He told of the native Christians and of how they prize the Bible and study it, of one instance of an old woman who had her testament destroyed in some way and came to Mr. Hunter heart-broken about it. Surely they put us to shame with our Bibles, many of them never read. He said money invested for God in missionary work would yield a real dividend. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Petty and family from near Guelph visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Petty and with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marshall. Miss Esther Petty was also home over the week and Miss Margaret from Owen Sound. Visitors at Mr. David Marshall's on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Graham and their son and daughter from Owen Sound, also Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall from Egremont. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Geddes, Mrs. Nell McCannell and sister were welcome visitors at Knox on Sunday. Mr. James Watson, son of Wilfred Watson of Toronto is spending his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Watson and family here. (This week's items) A young man, a student, preached here on Sunday. Miss MacAllister, our teacher, gave the pupils and a few visitors a very pleasant afternoon on Friday, a picnic in the school grounds. A game of softball took up a good part of the time. Miss MacAllister had ice cream in the afternoon and at the close cake and sandwiches with lemonade were served. We were glad to be one of the number. Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Aberdein of Allisa Craig and Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall of Mount Forest, also Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ferguson from Swinton Park visited Sunday at Mr. David Marshall's. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and family of Boothville visited Friday at the same home. Sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Porter again from our neighborhood as they expect to move to their home near Durham on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Porter has not been in the best of health lately. Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp and family of Hampden visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Marshall. The Young People's club had a picnic Tuesday at Eugenia Falls. Mr. Lachie Adair of Nottawa visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall.

Edge Hill

Miss Alma Robinson of Owen Sound visited her parents on Saturday. Mr. Joseph McNally attended convention of Purina users at Woodstock last week. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson and children of Lucknow were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edge the first of the week. Misses Mary and Alix Edge are home from St. Thomas and St. Catharines respectively for the summer vacation. Edge Hill mixed softball team played a game at the Farm Youth Rally in Priceville on Saturday. Their next game is at the big U.F.O. picnic at Flesherston on Tuesday. Mr. Joseph McNally is having a new steel roof placed on his barn this week. Messrs. C. H. Moffat and George Gray have the contract. The trustees have engaged Miss Joy T. Priest of Durham for the ensuing school year at a salary of $1,000. Miss Priest has just completed her course of study at Stratford Normal and comes well recommended. Mrs. Whittaker of Caledon was the guest of her sister Mrs. H. Moffat last week.

Traverston

Four days of rain last week and a downpour Monday evening and through the night has given this part of the county enough moisture to do for weeks. The lightning was extremely active. It put several local phones out of business. Patrolmen are busy throughout the township and motoring will be "wild and woolly" for some weeks. Miss Mary Hastie of Simpson's store, Toronto, is holidaying with her sister, Mrs. G. E. Peart, and her brother, James Hastie. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Peart of Toronto returned home on the first of the week after spending a most enjoyable holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McArthur. Tom, Jr. is remaining, some weeks longer. Some sixty-five years ago the old pioneer log home on our premises was roofed with hand-shaved, pine shingles. Mr. Oren Peart ripped them off with a spade on Wednesday last and they were mostly as sound as the day they were nailed on and the nails were, too. Patrolman Jim Peart and gang are eliminating a very dangerous turn in the road the other side of Traverston. Mr. G. E. Peart has had his home sided with imitation brick siding, making it much cosier and adding greatly to its appearance. His sons Rob and Jim Peart made a neat job. There are great expectations for a most happy and interesting time at Zion's picnic on this coming Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Edwards, Master Raymond and Mrs. Atkinson spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. G. Newell on the Durham Road. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cook visited her old home near Chesley on Sunday. About a score of stalwart fellows mowed and raked and made repairs in Zion cemetery on Monday afternoon, while nearly as many fair ones rubbed and scrubbed the interior of the church. Among those from a distance were Mr. James Banks of Riverview, Mr. John McNally of town, Mr. Rob. McFadden and Mr. Ronald Martin of Pine Hill. Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Embury of Port Perry, who are holidaying at the Cook homestead, there was a family reunion at Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cook's on Thursday last. They brought Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cook out from Markdale to the home of their early wedded days and the aged couple enjoyed it immensely. The day before Mrs. Cook had attended a convention in Flesherston. On Friday afternoon she suffered two paralytic strokes and passed away at 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning never regaining consciousness. Mrs. Cook, whose maiden name was Margaret M. Maitland was born in Durham 78 years ago and in young womanhood taught school for some years. It was during the years she taught in old No. 5 that she was happily wedded to Thomas Cook on March 3rd, 1875, by the Rev. Wm. Johnston, pioneer Methodist minister. 'Twas a big double wedding held in the Cook home for at the same time Miss Margaret Cook became the bride of the late William Glencross. Five years ago last March 3 they celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Markdale and were the recipients of valuable presents from the Women's Mission Society, the Ladies' Aid, the W. C. T. U., the Adult Bible Class of Annesley church and from the members of the family—Dr. R. M. Cook of Calgary, Mrs. John Love and John Cook of Zealandia, Sask. The greater part of their lives was spent in our midst and Mrs. Cook was organist and choir leader for many years. She was one of Zion's most enthusiastic workers and supporters and since removing to Markdale has been a leader in all of the activities in the church and was with her class in Sunday school the Sabbath before. A deeply religious member, an enthusiastic worker, a loving mother, a devoted wife, a most kindly neighbor—her passing on will cause many a blank.

Glennont

Mr. and Mrs. Bonsteel of Southampton were visitors at Mr. Alfred Tuckers one day last week. Mrs. Jim McDougall and little daughter of Toronto are visiting her sister, Mrs. Percy Harrison. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harrison, Jr., attended the funeral of the late William Gray in Durham on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hooper also Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Weir attended the Memorial Service at the cemetery, Salem, and visited friends. The ratepayers of No. 14 Boothville, regret the resignation of their teacher Miss Ivy Parlow, who has given general satisfaction for two years. Miss Ida Hincks is leaving No. 13 and Miss Catharine McLean at Top Cliffe has also resigned. We regret very much to hear of the serious illness of Mrs. Carl Harrison, and hope she may have a speedy recovery. Rev. Mr. Sullivan of Priceville made a few calls in the neighborhood last week. Wedding Bells are ringing.
