HYMENAL

FORD-LITTLE

A very pretty wedding took place in Knox United church manse on Friday afternoon, September 12, at 1:30 o'clock, when Rev. W. H. Smith, B.A., united in marriage Mary Marjorie Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Little of Hampden to William J. Ford, son of Mr. Ford and the late Henry Ford of Hampden. The bride wore a dainty becoming gown of white georgette and carried roses and lily of the valley. Her two bridesmaids were Misses Mary Ford and Nellie Anderson, the former wearing a gown of green crepe with white. Both bridesmaids carried bouquets of gladioli. Mr. Wilfred Anderson was groomsmen.

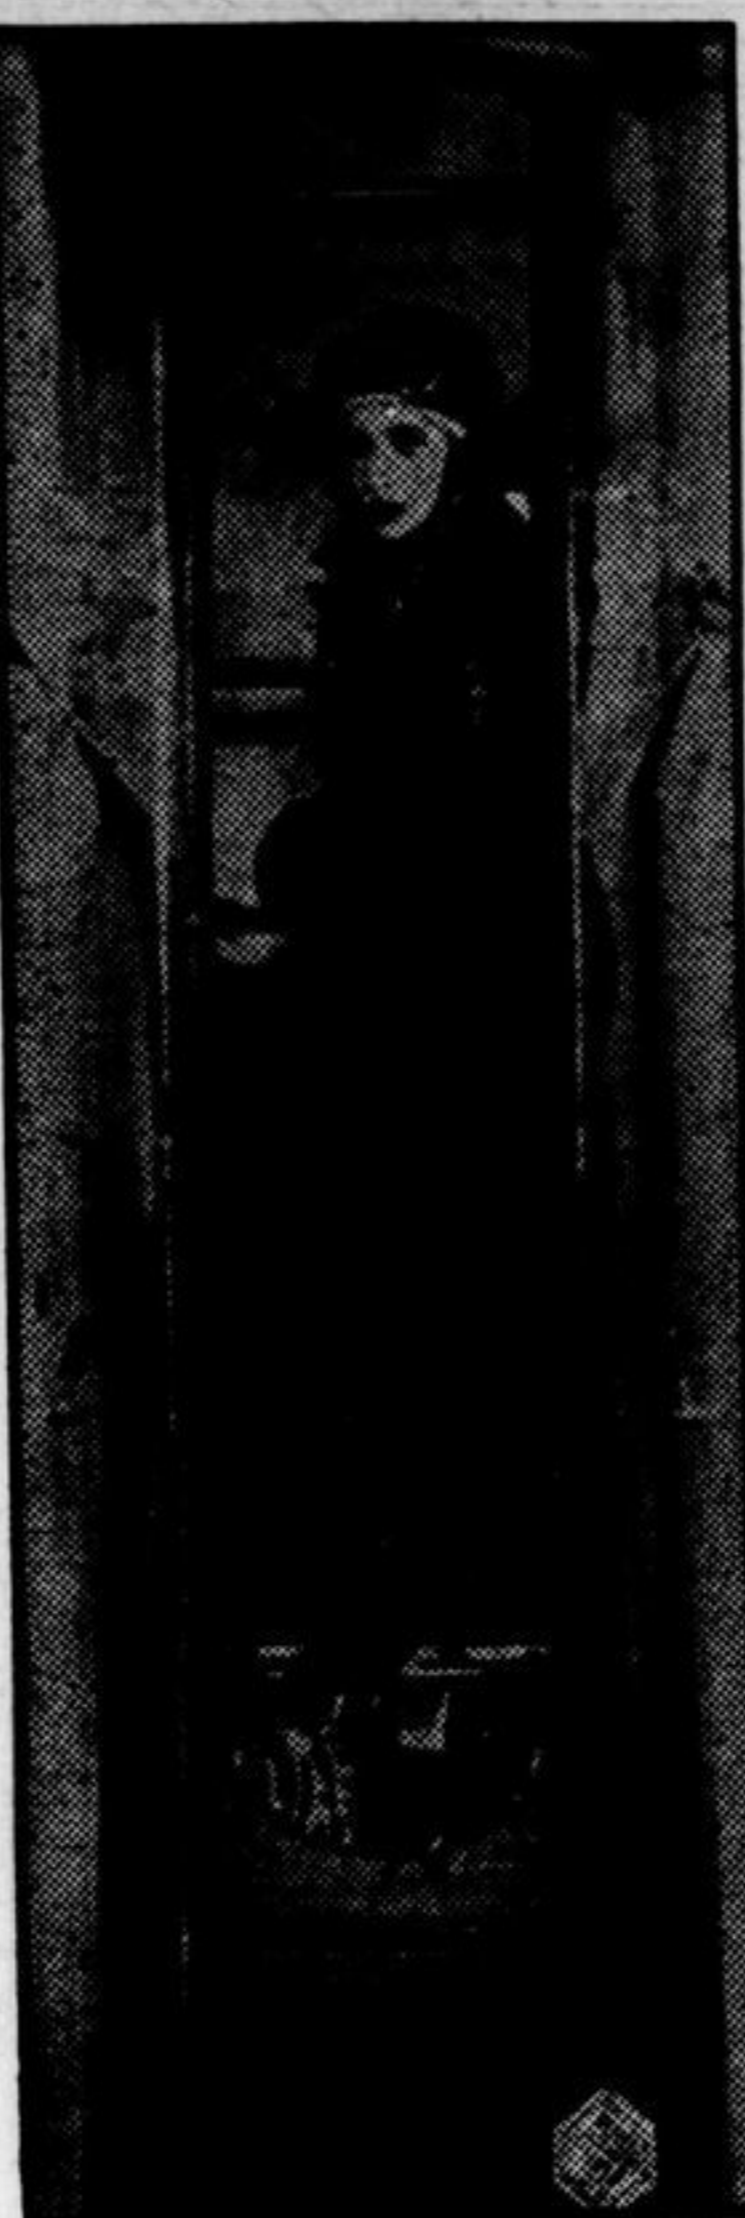

After wedding dinner in the home of the bride, the young couple left by motor for Gananogue and other points in Eastern Ontario. Upon their return they will take up homemaking on the farm of the groom on the 16th concession of Normanby, near Neustadt.

McCLOCKLIN-GREER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. John's Anglican church, Kitchener, on Saturday, September 13, at 11 o'clock when Miss Anna Erica Greer, daughter of Mr. A. E. Greer and the late Mrs. Greer, Toronto, was married to Mr. David Lloyd McClocklin of Chicago, Ill., only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McClocklin of Durham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Longworth, rector of the church, and only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present. The bride, who was most becomingly gowned in shell pink chiffon, and carried a bouquet of roses, was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was played by the church organist, Miss Mary Greer, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid, and was gowned in pale blue chiffon, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Eric Nicholls, Toronto, cousin of the groom, was groomsmen. Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. E. L. Greer, 46 Water street. Mr. and Mrs. McClocklin left for a honeymoon trip to Quebec City and other points, and are returning this evening to spend a few days in Durham with the groom's parents. The bride's travelling costume was a tailored suit of brown tweed, with hat, purse, shoes and stockings to match. Mr. and Mrs. McClocklin leave Sunday for Chicago, where they will make their home.

THE "NAFFY"

The Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes in Great Britain, nicknamed the "Naffy" which have supplanted the old-time canteen, are largely staffed by women.

READY FOR ATLANTIC DASH

A CITY ON THE OCEAN

MAY BE NEXT MOVE

French Engineer Advocates Building a Circular Steel Ring Large Enough to Contain 200,000 People and Anchor It in Mid-Atlantic.

A floating city, anchored in the ocean between the old and new worlds, is the daring proposal of Leon Foenquinos, a Marseilles engineer. Monsieur Foenquinos wants to build a circular steel ring large enough to contain a population of 200,000 that would be "the most majestic work of man." It would be anchored at a shallow spot, less than 200 feet deep, that is located in the Gulf Stream about half-way between Paris and New York, at 43 degrees longitude and 45 degrees north latitude. The ring would be 650 feet high, its internal diameter 3,282 feet, and its external diameter 4,600 feet.

"I have arranged for a handsome outer boulevard and also an inner one, as well as an intermediate street," M. Foenquinos explains in a memorandum he has sent to French capitalists. "These circular boulevards will be cut by eighty-six radial streets. Four full-sized Eiffel towers will be erected at the four cardinal points to serve as radio masts, lighthouses, and landing stations for airships. Sky-scrapers will raise their noble heads in the intervening spaces. A subway will make the circuit of the ocean city in the lower caissons. The three boulevards will be lined with gorgeous tropical plants, always in bloom.

"The central pool or basin, which will be entered through four broad passages, will serve as a harbor for transatlantic lines and flying boats. The pool will have no bottom except the ocean."

The principal purposes of this extraordinary project are:

A health resort—eternal spring time; landing place for transatlantic air services of the future; meteorological station; fuel and freight depot for shipping lines; a resort, like Monte Carlo, outside international laws; base for life-saving purposes.

"I particularly wish to explain that my steel island is not simply a landing place for air lines across the Atlantic," M. Foenquinos declared when interviewed by a Tit-Bits representative. "It will be an actual city."

"We shall have luxurious hotels for tourists who wish to take a health treatment or break their journey for a few days; theatres, picture palaces, bathing beaches, and every possible amusement, as well as a handsome casino.

"The principal shipping and commercial interests of all countries will have offices there. Ocean liners and air liners will be passing every day, every hour. Life-saving boats will be dashing out when appeals come. Mails, cables, wireless, telephones—all will hum. Special ambassadors will represent every nation. The new Atlantis will be the eighth wonder of the world.

To protect his floating city during rough weather, the inventor has devised a protective system consisting of radial and circular steel dykes, resting on floaters, that will be arranged somewhat like a spider's web. This whole mass of steelworks, which will be semi-rigid, will be held together by steel braces and wire cables. The idea is to use rustless steel, coated with tar. The field of dykes will be anchored to the bed of the sea.

"The city proper will be built on a sort of ring or crown that will be entirely metallic," M. Foenquinos explained. "The base will consist of ninety-six huge caissons more than 600 feet long, 100 feet wide and 100 feet deep, fastened to one another. These caissons will be the cellar of the Atlantis, for they will contain power, heating and lighting plants, as well as all the shops and machinery required for repairing ships, also depots, warehouses, and coal supplies. There will be a system of subterranean streets, all connecting with the highways above, and a subway making the round of the city. At least 10,000 families will be required to operate all these services.

WITH THE CHURCHES

COMMENCE FALL MEETINGS

NEXT WEEK

The Red Cross Society will commence their Fall meetings on Tuesday of next week, the 23rd, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. Kress. There is little to be gained in going into a rehearsal of the good work this society is doing in town, but the executive trust there will be a large turnout of all the ladies in the town interested in the work of the society.

QUEEN STREET AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary of Queen Street United church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Moore, on Thursday, September 11. The president, Mrs. Padfield presided. The meeting opened by singing "Oh, Master let me walk with thee" followed by prayer repeated in unison. The motion was passed that Miss Margaret Lawrence be pianist for the balance of the year in the absence of Miss Norma Gagnon. Miss E. Kinnee invited the Auxiliary to her home for the October meeting.

Following a suggestion from Mrs. Young three leaders were chosen who in turn chose their followers and these three groups will prepare the programs for the next three months. Miss Gertrude Glass gave a well prepared devotional talk. Hymn 228 "Take my life and let it be" was then sung. A reading on "Tithing" was read by Miss E. Hutton. Miss Clara McCrae gave the 4th chapter of the study book. This was an interesting account of the missionary Miss Charlotte Tucker, an English lady who served in India and who also wrote a number of books on "India". An American lady Miss Clara Swain, who was the very first lady to receive her medical degree, served in India as a physician for many years.

After hymn 168 "Take Time to be Holy," was sung, Mrs. Rev. Fiddes closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Moore served lunch and a social evening followed.

PREBYTERIAN W. M. S.

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society was held Thursday, September 11th at the home of Mrs. McCannel and Miss McPherson.

Mrs. Armstrong, the president, presided. The meeting was opened by a hymn and prayer by the president. The Bible reading from I John: 2 was taken by Mrs. William Keller.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and current business discussed. The roll call was answered by a verse of scripture on "Jerusalem." Hymn 469 was sung. Mrs. Gordon Geddes took the topic on the Jerusalem conference, "A Summons to Christianity." Mrs. Armstrong Sr., also gave a talk on "A Call to the World." Mrs. Will Firth gave a paper on "Prayer". Several engaged in prayer and hymn 228 was sung. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer in unison. Lunch was served and a social hour spent at the close.

KNOX CHURCH W. M. S.

The monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of Knox United church was held at the home of Mrs. C. Ramage on Friday, September 12th, with Mrs. Ledingham presiding. The meeting was opened by singing Hymn 93 and prayer by Mrs. John Bell. After the minutes were read and other business disposed of, Mrs. Bell as Secretary gave a report of the progress of the work since Union and of what must yet be done. The Bible reading from Matthew was taken by Mrs. Bourne followed by a short talk by the president on the subject of the meeting "Hymns and Music and their use in our religion". Several members took the following hymns and told in a few words something of their history. "Before Jehovah's Awful Throne," Miss Hunter; "O God of Bethel" Mrs. Allan, the society repeating the last three verses as a prayer; "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" was sung by Miss Blyth; "Rock of Ages" by Mrs. William Derby; "Abide with Me" by Miss MacKenzie; "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" by Mrs. Ramage; "Nearer My God to Thee" by Miss McGirr, who also offered prayer.

The Devotional leaflet "Be of good cheer" was taken by Mrs. J. J. Smith. Mrs. Alder, Mrs. W. H. Smith and Mrs. McIlraith gave short reports of the meeting held in Chatsworth September 10th which gave those unable to be present a good idea of the work done there. The roll call was answered with a verse of some favorite hymn and this most interesting meeting was closed by all repeating the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Ramage served tea and a pleasant hour was spent.

KNOX Y. W. A.

Knox Young Woman's Auxiliary was entertained at the home of Mrs. John Aldred on Monday evening, September 15th, for the opening meeting of the season. There was a splendid attendance, nearly thirty being present, and the evening was pleasantly spent in social intercourse and work on the quilts and bazaar. At the close of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

The estimated population of 200,000 is in addition to these families.

"The entrances into the harbor will be majestic. Passageways will be cut through the ring directly under the four full-sized Eiffel towers the ring being braced together at a sufficient depth under the water to allow the passage of the largest ships afloat."

M. Foenquinos estimates the cost of this floating city at $4,000,000,000. He realizes what a tremendous investment this sum represents, but he is absolutely convinced that it would be a profitable affair.

He estimates the annual gross revenue at the mere trifle of $800,000,000 and figures that the entire cost of construction would be redeemed in less than seventy-five years. "Atlantis should have an international status. My hope is to find a committee of solid bankers from various countries who will act as a board of directors and guarantee to stock and bond holders that their interests will be protected."

OBITUARY

SAMUEL WILLIS

Mr. Samuel Willis, 67 years of age, passed away Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Cornwall, here, and interment was made on Monday in Wroxeter cemetery. The late Mr. Willis was not generally known in Durham, but had been a resident here for the past six years. He was a man of strong physique and in excellent health for a man of his years, and had been confined to his bed only a week preceding his death. He was born in England in 1843 and came to Canada 75 years ago, settling in Huron county, near Wroxeter. His wife died some years ago.

Surviving are two sons, Nelson in Windsor and Edward in Minto, and one daughter, Mrs. W. C. Cornwall, Durham. The pall bearers were Messrs. E. A. Ashley, A. Innes, A. Baird, J. O. Snell and John Mills. The service from the home of his daughter here, was conducted by Rev. B. D. Armstrong of Durham Presbyterian church.

FOE DISCONTENT

Not for content, I pray, but discontent, The fretful, nagging murmur at my ear Which urges me to try the steep ascent To leave safe days, accustomed paths and dear. I would be harried by that harping voice, Would wander restless, seeking, ill at ease, Finding no port wherein I might rejoice; But driven ever to unquiet seas. Content is for the sluggard, one who sits, And drowns, letting all the world go by Until, as year on year unheeded, flits, He finds time leaves him nothing save to die. Though Discontent is but a shrewish wife, I would take her alone for all my life

THE ROVER

There are long ways untroudden That wait by the farthest sea, There are sands where the winds are never still, And the waves weave melody. And the far lands and strange lands Are the ones with call most clear To the man who waits with a roving heart For their cry in his eager ear. For never path went winding Along Earth's utmost shores, As far as the roving heart's desire, As high as its longing soars. And ocean and sky were mastered By the conquering dreams of man Ere ever a ship put out to sea, Or a plane bridged heaven's span.

No Alpenstock for Her Mrs. Newyrich was describing her travels to an envious audience. "And have you been in South America?" somebody inquired. "Many times," said Mrs. Newyrich, rather bored. "In fact, I know it from end to end."

"Then, of course, you went up the Amazon?" "No! As a matter of fact, I didn't," said Mrs. Newyrich, "but my husband went to the top. You know I never did care for climbing."—Cincinnati Christian Advocate.

NEW KEN MAYNARD THRILLER

COMING TO DURHAM

With the spectacular and colorful background of one of the original old-time wild west shows, snapping with action and thrills and featured by a revival of famous old western customs, "The Parade of the West," Universal production starring Ken Maynard, will be at the Star theatre Friday and Saturday nights.

Maynard in the picture, revives the days of the picturesque cornerlot "medicine show" with its ballyhoo for some miraculous "cure all" and the first of the old wild west shows which have become an American institution. The strongest supporting cast in Maynard's career was assembled by Director Harry J. Brown for "The Parade of the West." It is headed by the beautiful Gladys McConnell, in the role of the girl; Otis Harlan, of "Show Boat" and "Broadway" fame, as the old-time medicine man, and twelve-year-old Jackie Hanlon, Maynard's protegee in fancy roping and trick riding.

Far from the least creditable of the support given Maynard is that of his horse "Tarzan" who performs new and astounding tricks surpassing those he has done in other Maynard pictures.

Roger Babson, America's greatest business statistical authority, says: "Business is closely similar to a trimotored aeroplane. One of the engines is advertising, one is salesmanship and the other is the mere motive force of primitive needs. When you kill the advertising engine the business craft can neither speed nor climb."

BORN

Hodgson.—In Bentinck, on Friday, September 5, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. William Hodgson, a son.

Noble.—In Bentinck, on Tuesday, September 16, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. George Noble, a daughter.

IN MEMORIAM

Holmes.—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Harry Holmes, who died September 20, 1928. We mourn for one we dearly loved For one we could not save. Beloved in life and mourned in death, Remembered in the grave. When all is still and silent, And sleep forsakes our eyes, Our thoughts are in the silent grave Where our dear mother lies. —Sadly missed and ever remembered by husband and daughters.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry desire to express their sincere appreciation of the kindness shown by neighbors and friends in the death of their niece, the late Sarah Fulton.
