"His Majesty's Choir Children" to Sing

Canada is honored—and delighted—by the visit to the Dominion of the children of His Majesty's Savoy Chapel Choir, composed of twelve boy sopranos, the pick of England's best youthful singers, all of them under sixteen years of age. It is the first occasion in the 700-year history of the Chapel that a King of England has given permission to the children of the choir to leave Great Britain. They will take part in the Christmas Festival to be held this year at Lucerne-in-Quebec, and they will also give a recital at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, December 23. Those who associate the choir with strictly church music will get a surprise, for programmes to be rendered by the boys include not only this type of music but also some of the best known of secular songs, glees and part songs, presented in solo, trio or choral form. When they sing church music they are garbed in scarlet and gold costumes surmounted by the quaint Tudor ruff, exactly as they appear upon festival occasions in London. They come to Canada as representatives of an institution which typifies the best traditions of choral singing in a country where choral singing is unexcelled in any part of the world.

(Intended for last week)

Our pastor gave a good sermon on Sunday on the "Simplicity of Jesus"; His humble birth in a manger and burial in a borrowed tomb; with no home of His own, no money or position. With no church of His own He attended the Jewish places of worship until they put Him out, when He went out and gave the gospel message by the lake-side or wherever the people were gathered. At the close of His ministry He suffered the shameful death on the cross. Had He come to earth with pomp and splendor, He would have had multitudes of followers, but He came to minister to others, and so must we, if we would be His disciples.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Marshall had a short visit this week with their daughter in Ailsa Craig.

Mrs. W. Caldwell returned Wednesday after spending a week with friends in Owen Sound.

(This week's items)

At the service Sunday Mr. Honeyman spoke on Missions and gave an interesting account of his own experiences in the many years he spent in mission work in the West. Money spent in mission work is not wasted but will yield us a real dividend in souls saved. "Jesus' command 'Go ye into all the world' is for us today as well as the disciples of old and He will hold us responsible. The thankoffering for the W.M.S. was taken at this service.

Mr. and Mrs. G. MacAllister and Mr. and Mrs. W. Caldwell spent Thursday with Desboro friends.

The Y. W. A. and Mission Band will meet in the church on Saturday afternoon, November 29.

Miss T. E. Byers spent Monday with Mrs. W. Backus of Hampden.

It will pay you to advertise in The Chronicle.

Drat the snow! We weren't praying for it.

It has been a wonderful November. Never have we known the roads to keep so good and the weather so fine for over three fourths of the month.

Mr. Albert McNally erected an addition to his kitchen containing a pantry and a washroom.

Mr. Jim Goodwill purchased a barn from Mr. Will McKechnie of Brampton a few weeks ago, took it down and has it erected on the foundation of the one he lost by fire and has had new steel roofing put on. 'Tis all ready for the stock.

Mr. Joseph McNally of the 10th concession, who recently lost his home by fire has another one in its place, the roof on and nearly ready for occupancy. Good neighbors and hustlers helped wonderfully. Mr. and Mrs. Colin McArthur kindly lent the use of their home on Friday last when a general household shower was tended to Mr. and Mrs. McNally and many useful articles were presented.

Always kindly and helpful Mrs. Hugh McArthur spent a couple of days last week with her mother in town.

Messrs. Donald and Colin McArthur purchased the Vasey Mill at Lauriston a short time ago and after cutting out some stock, pulled it down and in a week's time had it trucked to Priceville and set up on the mill site purchased from the Watson Bros. 'Tis reported to us that they will do chopping, cut shingles, run a planing outfit and do the regular work of a sawmill as well. They have done a marvellous lot of work in a short period of time.

Mr. L. R. Matthews and his brother-in-law, Mr. Burke, of near Mount Forest, were up this way a week ago and purchased some good stockers.

Miss Margaret Greenwood spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Albert McDonald of Poplar Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Peart tendered a fine reception to Oren and his charming bride at their home on Friday evening last, when over 125 guests were present and spent a most memorable night. The young couple received a host of useful and valuable presents.

Prior to midnight the big company were treated to a bounteous feast of good things and later on all departed after wishing the happy newly-weds every success and happiness.

The beautiful weather of November has witnessed a large number of matings. A quiet but most interesting wedding took place at 3:30 Saturday afternoon in the parsonage of the Queen Street United church. Rev. H. S. Fiddes, pastor of the bride, officiating, when Miss Catherine E., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Timmins was wedded to Ralph Porter Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Staples of Edge Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Watson were witnesses to the happy union. The winsome young bride looked lovely in her bridal dress of rosewood georgette with corsage bouquet, brown broadcloth coat with opossum fur trimming, and brown velvet hat.

After the ceremony they motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a hearty reception was held, followed by a most regal dinner, the tables being laden with good things and graced by a handsome 3-storied wedding cake. There were thirty-five guests present and they certainly feasted and made merry. Among those present from a distance were: Mrs. James Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alton and family of Markdale, Mr. and Mrs. James Ewen and members of the family from Aberdeen. Miss Catherine has been one of Zion's most popular young maidens, is a remarkably clever little housekeeper and the community is a unit in wishing this youthful couple all the joys and successes that earth can bestow.

Today is a good day to stop grumbling.

Life of a Tree

How rare, how rich a thing must be Existence to a spreading tree! Here clearest robins carols ring. Here freshest rise the scents of Spring! Consider gifts a tree can give. What splendid virtues it can live. Its arch of softly rustling leaves Is gracious as cathedral eaves, And such blest aims it can disperse As put to shame a Dives' purse. Beneath its kindly beckoning boughs The gentle cattle love to browse; Shelter alike from storm or sun Its branches would refuse to none, And never ring love's vows so sweet As when breathed forth in such rapture How rare, how rich a thing must be The life of every sturdy tree!
