Varney

(Our Own Correspondent) Western Ontario is into the third week in January with no snow or frost and weather like spring; but with a few fine flakes of snow flying Monday, January 18 Winter is probably just around the corner.

Mr. Stewart Cooper, agricultural representative, Markdale, states that by request of the Grey county branch, Dept. of Agriculture has decided to hold short courses in agriculture, domestic science, home nursing, sewing, during the month of February in Holstein, February 2 to Feb. 26. The course will consist of demonstrations and practical discussions of agricultural subjects and work, stock and grain judging, soils and fertilizers, etc.

The ladies' course will be in charge of a staff from the Institute branch. A qualified nurse and qualified sewing teacher will be present for two weeks each. The domestic science instructor will be present during the entire course. The courses are free, special speakers and courses being held from Monday till Friday each week. All young ladies and young men are eligible. Older farmers and their wives welcome at all or special meetings. Mr. Cooper wants the people to talk short course; boost short course; come to the short course; bring your neighbor to the short course commencing February 2 and ending February 26, 1932.

The young people of the Wide Awake club are busy practising for a play.

The Orange Lodge held a successful dance in the Orange Hall, Varney, on Tuesday night, January 12 when over a hundred were present. The hall has a good smooth hard wood floor and is suitable for dancing and all enjoyed themselves at either dancing or at a game of cards. The Rahn orchestra of Varney played their usual good music for round dancing, also several others supplied excellent music. The evening was of such a social nature it seemed like a large house party and had such good order and behavior the community may be treated again at some future time to another similar evening. Lunch was served. The proceeds will be used for improvements to the hall.

The Varney Ladies' Aid have postponed their crokinole until an indefinite date.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. MacDonald, Ronald and Florence, spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamont of Brant.

There was a good attendance at the Y. P. S. meeting last Thursday evening. The Vice-president, Mr. Eric Ashton, presided over the devotional and the business part of the meeting. During the business period Mrs. Boyce conveyed to the society an invitation from Rev. J. Galloway on behalf of the Mulock B. Y. P. U. to visit their society on Tuesday evening, January 26. This invitation was very cordially accepted. The C. Y. P. S. will provide the programme.

Miss Florence MacDonald then took charge of the programme which consisted of two well-rendered choruses by five young men and a solo by Mr. Edgar Boyce. Miss Lynne Fischer took the topic, "The Farmer and His Church" and gave a well-prepared paper on the subject. Miss Fischer emphasized the place of the rural church in church life and advised the young people to take part in the meeting at every opportunity. Mr. D. J. MacDonald also gave a talk along the same lines and stressed the advantage of Young People's Societies and the church in community life. The meeting ended in the usual way after which two good contests were solved.
