(Our Own Correspondent) Mrs. E. Halliday spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Grier. Mr. George Hostetter was in Montreal last week attending the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. George Marler. On Friday afternoon last a union prayer service was held in the basement of the Presbyterian church of the two church missionary societies. The programme as given in the Missionary Monthly was followed. A good number of ladies of both churches were present. The two presidents, Mrs. P. Mutch and Mrs. John Mather conducted the service. Mrs. John Brown sang a beautiful hymn. Several of the ladies led in prayer.

The Literary Society of the Agriculture and Home Economic Course held their meeting Monday afternoon. The meeting opened by singing O Canada. The minutes of the last meeting were read. Wilma Bilton sang a solo: Marie Aitken gave an instrumental; Wallace Adams a reading: Nora Short the girls' short course paper and Frank Cowan the boys'. Mrs. Langton, Langton, Agricultural Representative, acted as critic. Community singing and National Anthem closed the meeting. The officers who were appointed this meeting were as follows: Alex. Sim: First Vice-President. Frank Cowan; Secretary, Marie Aitken; Treas. Carmount. Miss Cleland who has been in charge of the sewing class for the past two weeks left Friday afternoon. The young ladies who have been taking this course gave a display of their work by donning the dresses which they had made and marching round the hall in them. The cooking class

Durham Wins 2-1: Playoff Necessary

Defeated Wiarton Team 2-1 Tuesday Night.-Tied on Round 3-3.-Playoff Decided by O. H. A.-Game Fast and Very Evenly Fought.-The Wiarton Goalie Injured.

In one of the fastest and most evenly contested battles staged on local ice in some time the local O.H.A. intermediates turned back the Wiarton sextette 2-1 and tied the count on the home and home games 3-3. This will necessitate a play-off on neutral ice, which will be designated by the O. H. A. but at the time of writing no word been received as to date and Judging by the weather today (Wednesday) and the experiences so far this winter, it may be a week or more before a game can be played unless it is taken to artificial ice. Speaking from a local standpoint the game did not appear so good until the third period. Wiarton had scored once in the first period, putting them two up on the round, and the second period went scoreless. The locals could do everything but bulge the twine, and Goalie Williams had some shaves at that but still Durham had to count its first goal. Then came the local onslaught. They started off the third period at a terriffc clip, and swept the play to the Wiarton end of the ice. Three minutes after the face off, Elvidge got the puck in the centre ice, and travelling fast, rounded the defense, lost the puck, recovered it again, and went on in to poke the rubber past Williams from close in. This Quite a commotion was created on pepped the local fans up and they started cheering for another, and Elfrom the side which beat Williams Elvidge, McIlraith; alts., R McGirr, cleanly. Shortly after this the Wiarton Murdock, Rowe, W. Wilson. Clarence McGirr's high shot with his neck, and the game was held up for further scoring although both teams

After thirteen minutes of play Wiarton got the first goal on a rush by Crane and Gildner. Gildner shot from inside the blue line and McDonald saved but could not reach the rebound to clear and Crane racing in from the side batted it into the net. > The second period was the slowest ents, Mr. an Mrs. J. W. McKechnie of the game, the Wiarton team having a two goal lead, and content to protect it unless they got a break. They rushed occasionally, but did not fight for the puck, and when checked always swung back to the defence. The locals carried the play to them, and twice with a one man advantage threw a four man attack up the ice, but still were unable to score. Four penalties were handed out during this session. K. Wilson drew the first one when he charged Gildner from behind just as he was about to get a shot away on the net from close in. It saved a likely goal, and Gildner took a real toss, but Wilson got a chance to cool off a couple of minutes. Then Ashley and Totten in turn visited the bench, the former for boarding and Totten for a trip. Just before the period ended Murdock and McDonald staged a little cross checking in front of the penalty box and the former landed flat on the ice. Not enjoying such treatment he slashed the Wiarton man across the back of the legs and got two minutes to think

The locals started the third period a man short as Murdock was still in the penalty box. They turned on the speed and swept the play into the visitors' territory and kept it there. Three minutes after the face off Elvidge scored on a fine solo effort, rounding the defence and poking the rubber past Williams from close in Two minutes lates the same player put Durham one up when he took a pass from McGirr, crossed in front of the nets and shot from the opposite wing, beating the goalie cleanly. This made it 2-1 for Durham on the game and tied the round. Immediately the game started to open up, and the Wiarton team started to try to break the tie. McDonald was tested several times but was right on the job. Then Williams got his neck in the way of McGirr's high shot and was knocked out. The game was held up about ten minutes while he retired for repairs, and it was thought he might have to retire from the game. However he pluckily came back and finished the period. Gildner and Dean seemed to have a private feud on all night and just before Williams was hurt, Gildner got another penalty for again tripping "Hiram". Shortly after the play resumed Smith got a trip to the cooler for tripping the same player and before he was back on the ice "Hiram" and Gildner engaged in a bumping bee along the boards and Dean got the official thumb "Kenny" Wilson didn't like this decision and started to tell the referee his opinion of it, and he got a rest. This left Durham two men short, and as Smith came on the ice shortly after the face-off, Wiarton had a two man advantage. The local forwards rose to the occasion however and with ext cellent stick handling kept their opponents at bay until the two defense men returned. Wiarton had one real chance in these two minutes, when a four man attack carried the play right up to the Durham nets, but McDonald, getting a straight-on shot full on his pads kicked it clear out to the blue line where it was picked up and rushed into Wiarton territory. This ended the penalties for the game and the final bell rang shortly thereafter.

The teams lined up as follows:

Wiarton: goal, Williams; def., Gildner, Ashley; centre, Totten; wings, A. Schwartz, Smith, Sadler.

Durham: goal McDonald; def., Dean,

Referee: Burrows, Harriston.
