Ten days' hold-up on syrup-making owing to the cold and storm.

Owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. W. E. Almack, there were no services in Zion on Sunday.

School attendance in No. 5, has been cut fifty per cent., owing to the prevalence of the flu. In some families, nearly every member was laid up with it at the same time.

After being in attendance on her mother for some days, Mrs. O. D. Peart returned home from Egremont on Sunday.

East and west roads are quite bare, but the north and south ones are very rough.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell and Master Charlie were visitors at the McClocklin homestead on the first of the week.

Taking advantage of the snowfall quite a number of East Glenelgers are teaming logs to Armstrong's mill yards in Markdale.

Very sudden was the call that came to Jennie Cook, wife of Mr. S. E. Embury of Greenbank, near Port Perry, on Saturday afternoon, March 12. She had been taken ill with the flu a few days before and on Friday was taken by ambulance to the Women's College hospital for treatment. The deceased was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Cook and was born on the old homestead in August, 1865.

Here, she grew to young womanhood, when she took a position in Toronto and over forty years ago was happily wedded to Mr. Embury. For some years they ran a grocery store on Dovercourt Road and were most successful. Some years ago they sold out and moved to Port Perry, later to Greenbank, where Mr. Embury and a partner have run a mill and service station. Mrs. Embury was a brilliant business woman, a devoted wife and a clever housekeeper and made many friends by her generous hospitality and friendly manner. Funeral services were held at the Funeral Home of Stonehouse & Son, Toronto, on Tuesday morning, from where the remains were conveyed to the home at Greenbank, services being held in the United church there, where a large concourse of friends gathered, after which interment took place in the nearby cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook left on Monday morning by train to be present for the funeral and may remain a few days. Of the original Cook family only Thomas in Markdale and W. J. on the homestead are left. Deep sympathy is felt for Mr. Embury and the bereaved brothers and friends.

TRY TO IRON ROADS

Cast iron roads are to be laid experimentally in many parts of England as a result of the success of short trial sections in London. The iron road, which was invented about 18 months ago by Major Frank Mall, a member of the original Royal Flying Corps, consists of triangular castings laid on a foundation of cement thinly covered with bitumen. The surface has projections like a non-skid tire tread, and the cost of the road is the same as for the best wooden paving, a type of road used widely in England. Iron roads are guaranteed for 10 years, which is about twice the period of the stone sets and more than three times the period of the wooden paving. The surface of the iron road is non-skid even in the worst weather; moreover the suction between tires and surface is eliminated so that there is little splashing in wet weather.

Owen Sound Wins Junior N.H.L. Title

Dairy Team from City Defeats Local Juniors 7-2 on Round—Game Here Tie 2-2—First Game in Owen Sound 5-0—Winners Better Team.

The Free Press Trophy, emblematic of the Junior Hockey League will rest in Owen Sound, as the property of the Owen Sound Dairy team, during the coming year. They won the championship and cup, by defeating the local junior entry by a five-goal margin in the two games, last Friday and Monday. The score on the round was 7-2, the Owen Sounders winning the first game 5-0 in Owen Sound last Friday, and the locals holding them to a 2-2 tie in the local arena on Monday of this week. And on the play there was just about that much difference in the two teams. In the game here Monday night the locals had an edge on the game, and forced the play for the greater portion of the time, but even at that the visitors had more scoring chances and only the excellent work of McEachnie in the local nets kept the score down.

The winners showed the results of careful training in their machine-like combination, and the way they made their moves count when in round the nets. They were right in on the play at all times, and fought for the puck in the corners, behind the net and in fact all the time.

While giving credit where due, the very creditable record of this year's juniors must not be lost sight of. With the exception of Dean on the defence, this year's team had to be built from the ground up. "Hiram" is the only one of last year's championship team on the line-up, and we do not doubt that if one had predicted at the start of the season that the Durham juniors would be one of the teams in the finals, both the team and the management would have given them the raspberry.

The first game in Owen Sound Friday night was a disastrous one from a Durham standpoint. The local boys seemed unable to get going until the third period commenced and then they were faced with a four-goal deficit. During the first two periods they played as if in a daze, and the fast, smart passing attack of the Owen Sound outfit had them helpless. Undoubtedly the close, consistent back-checking of the opposing forwards had a good deal to do with their poor showing, but their attack seemed disorganized and their checking was very weak. In the third period they came to life and for a greater portion of the period had the Owen Sounders bottled up inside their own blue line. During this period they had chances for two or three goals and only the superb work of Neath in the nets kept them off the score sheet.

For the locals the work of Bolger at centre with his nice checking, Elmer Tucker on the wing and Dean on the defence was a feature. Tucker was a constant menace on the attack and had no difficulty in keeping pace with the fastest of the Owen Sound forwards. Dean's rushes lacked the steam which usually characterizes them but he was dog-tired with his fifth consecutive night of hockey. He was a hard man to stop, however, every time he got away and he dealt out the body checks without fear or favor.

The second game, which was played on local ice on Monday evening was considerably different. The locals started out to show the visitors the kind of hockey that carried them into the finals and a real battle ensued. Judging from the play of the visitors, one would have judged the score stood even, rather than 5-0 in their favor, and they matched the locals with just as vigorous an attack. Right from the opening bell both teams jumped into high gear and the fans were treated to as thrilling a game as has been seen on local ice in a long time.

Durham scored first about midway through the first period when Lauder carried the puck in close and shot, bringing Neath to his knees to save. Lauder batted at the rebound and Neath sprawled on the ice and again saved but before he could move Dean flashed in from the opposite wing and lifted the rubber into the net. Shortly after this Dean again beat Neath, this time on a wing shot, which according to the writer's eyesight hit the twine about two or three inches inside the post. However the red light failed to go on and when appealed to by the referee the goal umpire claimed it hit the post, and the goal was not allowed. It was a tough break for the locals and did not help their play any. Incidentally the goal umpire was replaced at the end of the period.

Owen Sound evened the score after seven minutes of play in the second period on a nice play by Markle and McKay, the former netting the rubber, and ten minutes later Elmer Tucker put the locals one up again on a lone effort, his wing shot beating Neath cleanly. The period ended 2-1 for Durham. The visitors got the only goal scored in the last period when Clarridge scored from close in after sixteen minutes had passed. This was the most strenuous period of all, but also the cleanest only two penalties being handed out, Black getting both of them. Twelve penalties marked the first two periods, seven in the first and five in the second. Of these Durham got seven and Owen Sound five. Johnny Jones of Guelph handled the bell to the evident satisfaction of all.

Owen Sound—Goal, Neath; defense, Bleich, Small; centre, Lamson; wings, Furness, Shears; alternates, Markle, Clarridge, McKay, Best.

Durham—Goal, McEachnie; defense, Dean, Black; centre, Bolger; wings, Lauder, E. Tucker; alternates, N. Tucker, Arnill, McFadden, Goodchild.

While a five-goal lead proved unsurmountable the kids certainly went out fighting. They started out with the intention of whittling the lead down and when the final gong rang they were still battling away with the same idea.

McEachnie in the local nets turned in a first-class job of net-minding. Once or twice it seemed to rain pucks all around him, but he kept them all out. The two that were put past him would have beaten most goalies.

Lamson, Clarridge and Furness, and Neath in the nets seemed outstanding for the visitors, but they all worked hard and turned in a good game.

Commenting on the game the Owen Sound Sun-Times says in part:

"Durham have a pretty smart aggregation and they played much better hockey last night than they did in the first game. On their own rink they are a tough team for anyone to beat. Dean, the red-headed defenseman, was the best player on the Durham line-up. His thrilling end-to-end dashes always carried a threat and he was dangerous every minute. He fully earned that goal he did get.

The Tucker boys, Elmer and Norm. (I think it's Norm.) were the pick of the forwards. Elmer's goal in the second period was a beautiful effort and climaxed an evening of brilliant play. Norm. was just as good but he had no luck with his shots."

Clarridge, the alternate centre man for the visitors, had a run of hard luck. In the second period he and Lauder met in centre ice and went down with Lauder falling on top of him. Clarridge fell on his left arm and was knocked out for a minute or so.

In the third period he got in another mix-up and got a cut over his eye. He almost refused to leave the ice to have it dressed, but was relieved. However, he retired for repairs and then came back to score one of the smartest goals of the evening.

Seniors Eliminate Erin In N.H.L. Playoffs

Wen Second Game 4-3 Here Thursday Night—Score 7-4 on Round—Meet Milverton or Harriston.

The local seniors put the skids under the Erin N. H. L. team last Thursday night when they defeated them 4-3 in the second game and took the round by 7-4.

With the exception of the first period when Erin cut into their three-goal lead a little and threatened to make matters interesting, Durham always had the upper hand. The game became a little rough in the final period but only one penalty was handed out by Referee Barney Scheerer, that going to R. McGirr for a tripping offence.

Erin went on the attack in the first period determined to wipe out the big Durham lead and half way through the frame they scored the first goal when G. Horton went through alone and beat McEachnie with a fast shot. There was no more scoring but McEachnie put up a smart brand of goal-keeping to stop the Erin forwards from scoring.

Durham stopped the fooling in the second period when they got that goal back a few minutes after the session opened when Dean rapped one past Bush after one of his spectacular solo rushes. Horton got it back again but McIlraith and C. McGirr ripped in a pair of smart ones and Durham was back in the lead by 3-2 when the period ended.

In the third period each scored once, R. McGirr getting the first one on Buschlen's pass and McLeod bagging the lone marker for Erin on a lone rush. There was a lot of slashing and tripping but only one penalty was given.

This win puts the seniors into the final play-offs where they will meet either Milverton or Harriston. With five teams, Harriston, Palmerston, Wiarton, Milverton and Durham, in the playoffs, one team had to get a bye, and the locals were the lucky ones. Since then Milverton has defeated Palmerston and Harriston has disposed of Wiarton and the winner of the series between these two teams will meet the locals in the finals next week.

The line-ups:
Erin—Goal, J. Bush; defense, McLeod and Joe Saunders; centre, Gear; wings, Horton and J. Saunders; alternates, W. Bush, J. Horton and Abbotts. Durham—Goal, McEachnie; defense, Dean and Wilson; centre, R. McGirr; wings, C. McGirr and Buschlen; alternates, McIlraith, Rowe and Murdock. Referee—Barney Sheerer.

TWO JUNIOR PLAYERS HANG UP RECORDS

Member of O. H. A. Junior Champions and Local Defense Man Make Names for Themselves.

In the sporting editorial column of a recent issue of the Mail and Empire the following comments on the records of Chester Steele of the Marlboro Juniors, O.H.A. champions, and "Hiram" Dean of the Durham juniors:

"Chester Steele of the Marlboros, and the only member of the junior champions born outside of Toronto, holds a unique record. He is the only player who has won three junior O.H.A. medals, two of which were on champion teams.

"Last year he was with Niagara Falls when they annexed the title. The year before he was also with the Falls when they were runners-up to West Toronto, and as the result an O.H.A. runner-up medal.

"Speaking about junior hockey players, Dean of Durham, also deserves a medal. He played a game every night last week but Saturday, and we presume he went skating that night. On Monday he played for Durham juniors in Listowel, the team arriving home Tuesday morning at 6.15 after digging themselves out of the snow drifts. Tuesday afternoon he went to Erin with the Durham seniors, and then on Wednesday was back with the juniors in the return game with Listowel. Thursday he took his place with seniors against Erin in the second game and on Friday he was at Owen Sound with the juniors.

"Snow storms mean nothing to hockey teams. The players put shovels in the back of the car and then hit a snow drift on high. If the car lands between the fences the players will dig it out. If it doesn't some other car will pick 'em up."

While on the subject it might also be mentioned that McEachnie, the local junior net minder also hung up a five-game record, playing in the same games last week as Dean.

SENIOR TEAM GET TRIP TO TORONTO

Make Trip as Guests of Hockey Club—Take in O. H. A. Junior Final.

Leaving Durham Saturday morning they journeyed to the Queen City by car and took in the Marlboro-Newmarket O. H. A. junior final in the Maple Leaf Gardens and also the Toronto Maple Leaf-Boston Bruins professional game at night.
