Orillia's Tramp Problem

Orillia is tramp conscious, and does not like it. While men and women, citizens of the town, are being refused food vouchers unless their cases can bear the closest scrutiny of the town relief officer, tramps from Toronto, Vancouver, Halifax, Edinburgh, Sydney, Liverpool and Timbuctoo, are being provided, without question, with a free night's lodging in the town lockup and a big free meal at their choice of the town's restaurants.

Business Changes Hands

The deal for Dundalk Creamery, mentioned in last week's Herald, was closed on Tuesday of this week, J. A. Stocks selling the creamery equipment and the former Weinert property on Main Street to M. Borinsky, who has successfully conducted the Markdale Creamery for a number of years.

It is the intention of Mr. Borinsky to move the creamery equipment from the present factory to the premises in town, where it will be installed after alterations are made to the building. A well will be drilled at the rear, we understand.

On behalf of Dundalk businessmen and citizens, The Herald extends a cordial welcome to Mr. Borinsky.—Dundalk Herald.

Missing Diamonds Found

On Wednesday morning the diamond ring and the other diamond, reported to have been stolen, with a small amount of money, from a purse in a ground floor room of a local hotel on Saturday night, March 19th, were found on the property of Mr. John Scanlon, Victoria street, and they were restored to their owner.

Frank Scherrer, town, who is alleged to have committed the offence, threw an aspirin box, containing the diamonds where it was located, he is reported to have stated. For some days searches were made, with the fortunate result, when the snow disappeared.

About 24 hours after the lady discovered that her valuables were missing she notified Provincial Constable McClevis, and on Thursday last he placed Scherrer in custody.

This young man was released on bail the following morning, and his trial, before Magistrate Walker was set for Thursday morning of this week.—Walkerton Telescope.

New Industry for Listowel

In these times of depression it will be good news to the citizens to learn that a new industry will locate here. On Wednesday, Mayor E. M. Creighton finally closed a deal for the purchase of the factory formerly occupied by Clark Metals Ltd., and owned by the Bassick Co., to Mr. J. A. Shackleton of Montreal, who will operate a weaving plant here.

From fifteen to twenty hands will be employed at the start according to Mr. Shackleton, and later about thirty will be employed. The firm will manufacture cloth for men's and women's suitings and sport wear.

Machinery for the plant will be moved here immediately and it is hoped to have the factory in operation in two or three weeks' time.

Mr. Shackleton is widely known in the textile business and of late has been residing in Montreal. He is a native of Bradford, England, where the family is connected with the Shackleton Textile Mills Ltd. Mr. and Mrs. Shackleton and two children will be moving to Listowel to reside in the near future, they having purchased Mr. S. J. Kemp's residence on Mill street.—Listowel Banner.

Attempts to Jump from Train

Mr. James Thompson, a Chesley young man, was injured here last Saturday night, but he was fortunate to get off as lightly as he did. Accompanied by a boy friend they had gone down to the C. N. R. depot to see his friend's brother, who was going through on the train. When the train stopped to take on water they boarded it, and when it started, the doors had been closed. When they succeeded in getting the door opened the train had attained quite a rate of speed. Thompson, who jumped last, got his leg between the ties of the bridge, and lacerated it badly. He was fortunate that he did not have an arm or leg taken off by the passing train.—Hanover Post.

Had Over $15 But Sought Meals

There are still many transients coming to Hanover, looking for a night's lodging and a free meal. Six were lodged in the local jail Tuesday night, which is almost an average number. Two chaps who were here the other night seeking a hand-out were nabbed by Chief Meyer, and on being searched, had $16 and $17 in their pockets. Needless to say, they got no free tickets for meals, though they had previously declared that they had had nothing to eat for a considerable time. The chief put them in a room in the town hall for the night, but they didn't stay very long, opening the door and "beating it" in the early hours of the morning.—Hanover Post.

FAULT FINDING

Fault finding is an easy job and thousands of people are working for it without pay. It takes an effort to accomplish things worth while. Isaac McCurry illustrates it this way: "A dog hitched to a lawn mower stopped to bark at a passerby. The boy who was riding the mower said, 'Don't mind the dog, he is just barking as an excuse to rest. It is easier to bark than to pull the machine.'"

"It is easier to be critical than correct. It is easier to hinder than to help. Easier to destroy reputation than to construct character. Anybody can gamble, criticize or censure, but it takes a big man to go on working faithfully at a constructive task."—The Canadian.

"Hear they got a new dentist here," remarked Pete the cowpuncher, on a visit to Bad Man's Gulch. "How do you get along with him?"

"Well," drawled Matt, the miner, "he turned the air drill into me, but I escaped before the fool could tamp in the dynamite."

News in Brief

Interesting Happenings Briefly Outlined for the Busy Readers

Plans for the extension of the Ontario school for the deaf and dumb at Belleville are progressing and will be completed soon, Premier George S. Henry today told the Efficiency Department of the Ontario Educational Association in convention in Toronto last week.

It is the intention of the Department of Education to erect an addition to the present building to segregate younger children, he said. In this way, it is expected the deaf pupils will learn the lip reading method. Numerous children throughout the province had been unable to attend the school owing to lack of accommodation the Premier declared.

Man's ability to learn reaches its maximum at the age of 25 years, Prof. J. A. Long of Toronto told members of the supervising and training section. After 25 years the learning ability decreased at so slow a rate that man lost less than one per cent. of learning ability per year.

Keith McLean, 18-year-old Queen's student, who was arrested in Toronto on March 26, as he was roaming about a local hotel, dressed in becoming feminine attire, appeared in police court to face a charge of vagrancy and was sent back to Kingston with a reprimand. The court was satisfied with McLean's explanation that he had impersonated a woman following a bet with other students.

April 1 was pay day for Sandwich teachers and school janitors, but it was payless April 1, it was disclosed Friday morning.

The town council and the Board of Education are still not in agreement over the Board's 1932 budget, and the Imperial Bank is sticking to its policy not to honor school workers' cheques until the budget wrangle is settled.

However, a council recommendation that in the meantime, the bank pay 75 per cent. of teachers' and janitors' salaries was forwarded to Toronto head office Thursday night, and there was a possibility that board employees may get their wages for the week-end.

Ignoring orders of police, William (Red) Hill, Niagara Falls riverman, climbed out on the ice floes in the lower Niagara river below the Horseshoe Falls late last Thursday and roused 40 or more wounded wild swans which had lain on the floes most of the day afraid to take wing. The birds flew away and Hill believes they made their way to Jack Miner's bird sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont.

Hill had tried to get permission of police to go out on the ice and rescue the wounded swans and when permission was not given him, he turned to newspapermen standing with him at Table Rock, overlooking the Gorge and the Horseshoe Falls and declared he could stand it no longer. He made his way down the gorge bank to the river's edge, and then climbed over the ice to a point a short distance from the foot of the Horseshoe Falls where the wounded swans were grouped.

Shouting and waving his arms, Hill succeeded in scaring the birds so they arose from the ice and flew out of the gorge. Officials of the Queen Victoria Park watched Hill from the roof of the Ontario Power Company's plant below the gorge bank. They made no move to arrest him.

The swans went over the Horseshoe Falls on Wednesday night, many being killed.

At Warsaw, Poland, on April 1, about 1,000 dismissed snow-shovelers flabbergasted the police of Warsaw by flopping on the trolley tracks in front of the city hall and refusing to budge until they were re-employed by the city. They remained there for half an hour, tying up traffic, until the police, applied force after coaxing had failed.

R. J. Simpson and his wife, Mary Field, last Thursday, at Cortland, N.Y., were convicted of murder, first degree, as a result of the death of her 14-months-old boy, whose body was found in a lake near their home last September.

A verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" had been asked by counsel for each of the defendants. The Simpsons were ordered taken to Sing Sing Prison to die the week of May 16th. Throughout the trial the defence emphasized that the mental ages of the man and wife were under that of a child of 12.

The child's body, when found in the lake, was mutilated. Bloodstains, however, were not found either at the home of the parents in Homer, or near the lake.

FIRST-RUN SAP IS BEST

One of the peculiarities of maple products is the fact that syrup, sugar, or maple cream made from the first-run sap is always the best. Some of the reasons advanced for this are that the first-run of sap is practically pure water and sucrose, while each succeeding run finds a larger percentage of carbonic acid gas absorbed through the growing bud and leaf surface, with a direct effect on sap elaboration. It is also claimed that utensils for gathering the sap and for "boiling down" are in much better condition at the start of the season than they are later on when sugar sediment gathers at the bottom of the boiler or evaporator and when accumulations of sugar begin to carbonize from the heat of evaporation, thereby giving a darker color and stronger flavor. Each succeeding run of sap does give a stronger flavor to the product and also a darker color. This is the reason for the grades in maple products as provided under the Maple Products Industry Act. The four grades are "Canada Fancy," "Canada Light," "Canada Medium," and "Canada Dark."
