Furniture Co. Win Hard Fought Game

Defeat Hockey Club 7-6 in First Game of Final Series.—Rally in Eighth Almost Tied Score.—Second Game Friday.

The Furniture Co. nine is one game to the good in the final series. On Tuesday evening they defeated the Hockey Club nine in a tightly contested game by a one run margin, and now have a two to one chance of winning the championship.

Both teams started off playing air-tight ball, but right from the start the Factory had a slight edge. In the first two innings they gathered in four runs, and held their opponents scoreless until the fourth, when the Hockey boys, taking advantage of an error by McClyment and coming through with a single and a three-base hit, were able to put two runners over the plate. The Factory got another in the fifth, however, when Dean's long hit to deep centre got away from McGirr, and "Hiram" made the circuit before the ball could be relayed in. The Factory scored again in the sixth and seventh, the first one when Kress put a double out over second, and scored on the next two put-outs, and the last one when Dean again smashed a three-bagger out in right-field, and scored when Lauder let the throw-in go into the crowd.

In the meantime the Factory were bearing down and holding the Puck-chasers to their two runs until the first of the eighth, when with two out, they broke loose, and three hits (two singles and a triple) helped along with three errors, were made good for four runs, and brought them within striking distance of victory. Unable to add to their score in the last of the eighth the Furniture boys tightened down in the first of the ninth, cut off the first runner at third, and then with two on the bags and the fourth man up, pulled a double play, centre-field to second base, to retire the side.

Aljoe and C. McGirr had the pitching assignment and there was very little to choose between them. Both had two strike-outs and both issued two walks. Ern. McDonald was behind the bat for the Hockey Club in the place of Bill Wilson, who is recovering from his accident of last week, and handled the position in fine style. "Ab." Kress, shortstop for the Factory was the only player to get two hits, and he hammered out a single and a double in four trips to the plate.

Second Game Friday
The second game of the series will be played Friday evening, and it will be another battle royal. The Hockey Club have got to win in order to have a chance at the title and the Factory have no intentions of throwing away any chances. It may prove to be the last game, or another may be necessary, but in any event it will be well worth seeing.

A CALAMITY
"I canna get over it," remarked a farmer to his wife. "I put a two-shillin' piece in the plate at the kirk this mornin' instead o' my usual penny."

The beadle, a sympathetic fellow-Scott, had noticed the mistake, and in silence he allowed the farmer to miss the plate for twenty-three consecutive Sundays.

On the twenty-fourth Sunday the farmer ignored the plate, but the old beadle stretched the ladle in front of him and, in a tragic whisper, hoarsely said:
"Your time's up noo, Sandy."

DURHAM SPORTS DAY VERY SUCCESSFUL

If.; M. Moore, ss.; J. Murdock, 2b., c.; S. Bell, 3b.; F. Ritchie, rf.

Between the completion of these games and the start of the lacrosse match the fiddlers' contest was run off, but as there were only two entries the contestants called it a draw and split the prize money between them. Pat Malone, Holland Centre and Jack Teeter, Durham, were the artists, treating the crowd to some real "old-time fiddlin'."

The lacrosse match was somewhat late in starting and as a result a large portion of the crowd missed a real struggle. The Camp Borden boys won by a 4-3 score but they knew they had been in a lacrosse game before the final whistle blew. The local boys gave them a stiff argument before they bowed to defeat, but lack of condition and a lack of combination play showed that they had not played much since the games last fall, and this, against a team that has been playing regularly made the final outcome almost inevitable. The game was divided into four fifteen-minute periods and the score was 2-0 for Camp Borden at the end of the first, 3-1 at half time, 4-2 at the end of the third and 4-3 at full time.

At different times during the afternoon the Durham band and two Highland pipers, D. Robertson of near town, and M. McCormick, of Priceville, provided excellent music, which added much to the enjoyment of the day.

Good Concert Provided
In the evening the McQuinn Sisters and "Dad" McQuinn, of Meaford, put on an excellent concert in the town hall, which was well filled. The program of instrumental numbers, solos, comedy sketches, etc., was well received by the crowd present and thoroughly enjoyed.

Deserving of special mention, perhaps, were the violin solos of Miss Dorothy McQuinn and the work of her sister, Miss Kathleen, on the xylophone. Following the concert the company provided music for a dance in the hall, which was well attended, almost too well attended, in fact, as the floor was almost too crowded to permit much dancing.

PROTEST DISALLOWED
As an aftermath of last week's sudden death game between the Bachelors and the Furniture Co., the local executive met last Friday evening to hear the protest entered by the Bachelors against the use of a Hockey Club player as base umpire. The protest was disallowed as the executive reserves the right to appoint umpires for the play-offs when the teams do not agree as to officials, or officials agreed upon cannot act. When questioned regarding the fairness and impartiality of the umpire in question no charges were made and the protest was dismissed.

It will pay you to advertise in The Chronicle.

A SELFISH PRACTICE

A practise, which seems common to ball fans almost everywhere, and which Durham people seem particularly addicted to, is that of crowding in upon the edges of the ball diamond, along the first and third base line, in order to get a better view of the game. Various methods of dealing with this habit have been tried in different places, and the only effective method so far discovered seems to be to erect a high wire-screen fence along both sides of the diamond to the farthest limits of the foul-line. This, however, is an expensive proceeding and only clubs and associations with strong financial backing can afford it.

Here in Durham the ball teams suffer from this annoyance continually, and at every game the umpire has to hold up the play, not once, but several times in order to get spectators to move back so he can see the foul-line and judge balls which drop near it. And the said spectators seem to think it "smart" to only move back the least possible distance, and as soon as play resumes crowd out on the field again.

It is a selfish practise. It hampers and distracts the players who are stationed in that part of the field. Most players trying to field a ball, will let it go if it is near the crowd, rather than run into the spectators in trying to get it. Occasionally a player will try to get the ball no matter what the obstacle, and then if some person is run into and injured, the player is blamed and told "he should watch where he is going." This is an absolute injustice. The spectator should be told "it serves him right" and that he was on the playing field "where he had no business to be." This does not mean the players should run in among the crowd after foul balls, regardless of where they stand, but when a spectator crowds out upon the playing field he takes his own risk of getting hurt.

These people, to whom a front rank position seems all-important, should get to the games earlier and secure a place behind the fence. But no, they stroll up after play has been in progress for a few innings, and in their mania for a front rank place, where they don't even have to look over a child's head, they selfishly usurp part of the playing field, and not only work an injustice on the players but also on the other fans when the play has to be held up several times in order to chase them back to near their proper positions.
