CANTHOOKS for a dollar at W. Black's.

FOR chronic coughs use Carr's Cough Cure.—Every bottle fully guaranteed.

BARRISTER McCALL will be at the Commercial Hotel, Priceville, on the second and last Tuesdays of each month from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. t.

WANTED—At once, a young man about 18 years of age, to learn black-smithing. Must be strong, healthy and not afraid of work. Apply to J. D. Watson, Markdale, Ont.

A MEETING of the South Grey Farmers' Institute will be held at Ayton, on the 7th of February, and at Hanover, on the 8th, both meetings commencing at 1.30 p. m. Mr. McNeil, of Windsor, and Miss Mad-dock, of Guelph, are the deputation.

THE early part of this week a report was going the rounds that the plant of the new cement industry would be fixed four or five miles outside of Durham. This, we looked upon as a calamity, if true, but investigation proves the rumor to be entirely unfounded.

CREDIT AUCTION SALE.—Mr. S. F. Reiner, lots 3 and 4, con. 16, Normanby, will sell by public auction on Wednesday, Feb. 6, all his thoroughbred short-horn pedigree, stock, as well as other stock, horses, etc., etc. No reserve. Terms 12 mos. credit. J. C. Weinert, auctioneer. 2

WE have this week to announce the death of Ethel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Renton, of this town. The little thing was only eight months old, yet the fond parents will feel a vacancy through her removal. This is the fifth child Mr. and Mrs. Renton have lost, and in their latest trouble they have the sympathy of the community.

THE memorial service in Trinity church Sunday evening was largely attended and a service of more than ordinary interest and fervent enthusiasm was conducted by Rural Dean Ryan. The church was appropriately draped for the occasion. The text selected was from Ezekiel 21, 26, "Thus saith the Lord God Remove the diadem and take off the crown."

WE regret to chronicle the serious illness of Mr. E. T. McClocklin, whose recovery last week and the early part of this had been regarded as doubtful. He has been confined to his bed for the last two weeks, the initial ailment being cold which developed inflammation and other complications. We are pleased to report that at time of writing he is on the mend, and will, we hope, be round again soon.

MR. W. B. VOLLETT, District Deputy of the I. O. O. F., completed last week, his tour of inspection of the eight lodges in the district, the following being the locations viz:—Mt. Forest, Drayton, Palmerston, Harriston, Clifford, Listowel, Atwood, and Durham. During his tour he has evidently been well cared for, and speaks well of the flourishing condition of the order at all points visited. The brethren of Durham will be pleased to know that only one of the eight lodges succeeded in making more members than we did during the past half year.

THE service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last was not conducted in the usual way, but partook of the nature of a missionary rally. Miss Minnie Fox read a carefully thought out paper, Miss Maude Irwin recited Kipling's Recessional, Miss Annie Jardine then gave a somewhat lengthy but instructive address of more than ordinary merit. At the close the Rev. Mr. Smith gave an interesting supplement to the remarks of the previous speakers. The collections and subscriptions footed up nearly seventy dollars for missionary purposes.

SATURDAY next has been proclaimed a holiday in honor of our late Beloved Queen, whose burial takes place on that day. The post office will be closed except for one hour after the arrival of the afternoon train. With regard to the business of the place, we are not able to say definitely whether or not it will be observed as a general holiday. To ascertain facts we interviewed a number of business houses, but met with many different opinions as to the advisability of closing down for the day. Legally we pronounce it a holiday, more imperative in its restrictions than any Statutory holiday. The proclamation has been made by the Governor General in Council, at the instance of the King, whose mandate as loyal citizens we are forced to obey. In view of the circumstances, Saturday must be regarded as a public holiday, yet we believe that persons coming to town will have an opportunity of making their purchases before 11 a. m. and 4 p. m., between which hours all places of business will be closed.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Jas. Snell, of Dromore, called on us while in town Tuesday.

Mr. Jas. Coleridge visited his sister, Mrs. Ramage, on Sunday.

Miss Corbett, of Owen Sound, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Telford.

Mr. George Boyce and son, John, of Artemesia, were amongst our callers on Tuesday.

Mr. Edwin Allan returned Saturday from Ogdensburg, N. Y., where he spent a couple of months.

Mr. John McGowan and daughter, Beatrice, of Kimberley, spent Sunday with the McGowan family here.

Miss Maud Saunders and Misses Annie and Maggie Hutton attended the Mt. Forest carnival Wednesday last.

Dr. Jamieson, Charter Smith and John McKechnie were in Cement City, Michigan, this week, getting information about the cement business.

Dr. Gun went to Stratford a few days ago to be present at an operation performed on the eyes of his son, Mr. J. R. Gun, Druggist. We regret that Mr. Gun is having much trouble at late.

HITS AND MISSES.

What about your suit?
Tea Meetings without "T" are the latest fad.

We would like to get some good kindling to start the nice dry stuff we have on hand.

The next few days will be a harvest for the boys to sell memorial buttons of Her Majesty.

Some people say that Love is a nightmare. If it's like some nightmares we don't want much of it.

If being called up to breakfast is such a trial, what must it be to get up to be hanged? Did you ever think of it seriously?

Our make-up made a mix up last week on report of Farmers' Institute meeting. Wonder if Brother Ramage will be telling us not to throw stones.

If a great man should accustom himself to sleep with a Dictionary for a pillow, it doesn't follow that another man using the same kind of pillow would become equally great.

"I skinned my heel" said a female woman. How much nicer it would be to say, "I caused an abrasion on the posterior protuberance of the infernal regions of my pedal extremities."

Editor Thurston, of Flesherton, was advertising for a boy a few weeks ago. Now he's got one, according to our Birth list. No use giving the wee chap a bad name even if he is the youngest member of the staff.

An enthusiastic Presbyterian citizen is so full of loyalty that he says if it wasn't Sunday he could have jumped up and yelled in appreciation of some of Rev. Ryan's remarks in the memorial service on Sunday evening last.

The man who doesn't know enough to know that he knows nothing, and the man who knows so much that he thinks he knows everything worth knowing, are the hardest kind of chaps to get along with either in a business or social way.

A man drove in from Dornoch a few days ago. On arriving at the Middaugh House, a bystander remarked that one of his horses was very slow. But the owner wasn't to be outwitted, and promptly replied, "Not so slow as you think boss. I have just driven ten miles and the other fellow hasn't gained over half a length on him. Considering the distance it's a pretty even go if I'm any judge." "What'll you have friend," said the amused bystander to the witty teamster, who again raised a laugh by the remark "I don't care for anything myself, but you might treat the lazy horse to a bottle of catchup." "Vat did you say it vash to be Mистер," said landlord Hahn, and they all ordered lemonade.

Crossing The Bar.

This little poem, one of the last productions of Tennyson, will be sung at the burial of our late beloved Queen. We think it one of the finest little gems of poetic literature, and believe it would be an appropriate selection at the service here.

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for me
When I put out to sea
But such a little as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark;
For though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Mechanics' Institute.

The annual meeting of the Durham Mechanics Institute was held in the Reading room on Friday night last. After minutes of the last meeting were adopted, the following officers for 1901 were elected:—Pres., Dr. Gun; Vice-Pres., T. Moran; Secty., C. Ramage; Treas., J. Kelly; Directors, J. A. Hunter, J. G. Park, A. Jackson, J. Burnet, J. P. Telford, W. Irwin, C. McArthur, T. Allan, N. W. Campbell. The resident clergymen of the town were; unanimously elected Honorary Directors.

The Librarian's report showed nearly 4000 vols. in the library, and over 3500 vols. given out to subscribers during the year.

The Collectors reported a canvas for subscribers for 1901, and the sum of $40.25 collected from the same.

The Treasurer reported a balance on hand of $63.85 with an additional grant of $24.50 yet likely to be forthcoming from the Education Department.

The meeting was adjourned to re-assemble at the call of the President.

SCOTTISH CONCERT.

(Press Notices.)
Heading the list of artistes who sustained the concert programme was Miss MacLachlan, one of the most capable exponents of Scottish song. Her contributions were "The Dear Auld Hame," "The Scottish Blue Bells," and "Dark Lochnagar," which she rendered with that fine feeling and effect which characterize her singing.—"Birmingham Daily Gazette."

The outstanding feature of the evening was the singing of Miss J. N. MacLachlan, who is undoubtedly an exponent of Scottish song of the highest order.—"Scotsman." At Scottish Concert, Feb. 8.

Miss MacLachlan is acknowledged to be one of the best interpreters of Highland and Lowland Scottish songs at present on the Platform, and last night her reputation was fully maintained. Besides her programme songs—"The Hundred Pipers," "Highlanders," and a Gaelic song—she gave "Leezie Lindsay" with dramatic expression.—"Dundee Courier."

Miss J. N. MacLachlan, a Scottish soprano of celebrity, was heard with great effect, both in English and Gaelic compositions.—"Liverpool Daily Post."

Jimmy Fax will be here at the Scottish Concert on Feb. 8, and everybody knows Jimmy as the leading comic singer on the continent.

See what the Toronto Globe says of Miss MacLachlan, the Scottish Prima Donna, who sang at Massey Hall to an audience of 2800 people. She'll be here the 8th of February.

Mr. Robert Buchanan, the celebrated Scottish pianist and composer will play at the Scottish Concert here, Feb. 8th.

That well-known Highland Piper, Mr. Geo. Murray, will appear in costume at the Scottish Concert here, on the 8th of February.

If you want to go to the Scottish Concert be sure and get your ticket in time. Sales will cease as soon as the seats are all taken. There will be no crowding. All seats are reserved. Admission 50c. Plan of Hall at Macfarlanes'.

Herd, Wm. Gorsline. Auditors, T. Brown, T. G. Holt. Secretary, A. Davidson; Treasurer, Wm. Calder.

"Bought my Life for 35 cents."—This was one man's way of putting it when he had been pronounced incurable from chronic dyspepsia. "It was a living death to me until I tried Dr. Von Steen's Pineapple Tablets. Thanks to them to-day I am well, and I tell my friends I bought my life for 35 cents." 60 in a box.—So
Sold by McFarlane & Co.
