We regret to learn that Miss Scott, teacher of S. S. No. 9, Glenelg, is seriously ill, and her recovery at the time of writing is said to be doubtful. We are not informed as to the nature of the trouble. We hope for the best, and trust that ere long she may be restored to her usual health and usefulness.

THE Canadian Order of Foresters held their annual banquet in the Mid-Lothian House on Thursday evening of last week, about fifty or sixty of the brethren taking part in the festivities. Ye Editor was favored with an invitation, but was very reluctantly forced to be absent. Those who were present, at least those we have spoken to concerning the matter say that a very pleasant social evening was spent, and say that mine host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Hahn, put up a magnificent spread for the occasion.

We forgot, actually forgot, to mention last week that Mr. and John P. Whelan, of Hopworth, visited friends in town for a day or so, and didn't forget to give us a call. This was their first appearance in Durham since the matrimonial knot was tied in the early part of the century and from the happy department of the happy couple we imagine they have not yet passed out of the honey moon and entered the prosy realities of life. We shall be ever pleased to hear of their success, and hope they will overlook our neglect to mention the fact that they were in town.

MR. W. R. BONE, of Beardley, Min., in renewing his subscription for 1901, says:—"I must never forget to pay in advance for THE CHRONICLE. We could not keep house without it. What has become of Frank Irwin? Has he gone to South Africa yet? We are waiting anxiously to see another letter from him." Thanks for kind expression of appreciation of THE CHRONICLE, and also for interest taken in letters of that wandering boy, of ours. Let us remark here that Frank is a son of Ye Editor of this paper and just entered his 20th year. His letters are running again, and will be used whenever available.

On Friday evening last a lecture illustrated with moving pictures and stereopticon views was delivered here by Stanley McKeown Brown, Mail and Empire correspondent in the South African War. Mr. Brown was here under the auspices of the Durham Public Library, and made his address interesting in places, though many of the pictures could not be considered good. The reason perhaps may be partly attributed to the fact that the gas was low and sufficient pressure could not be used to get the best results. The audience consisted largely of children, who, though admitted at a reduced rate, assisted in making up expenses. We understand Principal Allan suggested the idea of letting the school children in cheaper or the institute would be "in the hole" worse than it was. There's no use mincing matters, and we may just as well acknowledge that the evening's performance was rather disappointing and produced no great enthusiasm.

MR. MALCOLM McKinnon, of Fort William, is spending a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends in the vicinity of Rocky Saugeen. We had a call from him a few days ago, and spent a short time in pleasant chat over things in the West. He is looking well as usual.

WE most heartily congratulate Dr. Landerkin Ex-M. P., who for a period of twenty-four years represented this constituency in the House of Commons, on his recent appointment to a position in the Senate. During the last election contest everybody knows we opposed the Doctor, but felt confident at the time that his defeat was the only avenue through which provision would be made for his declining years. We are truly glad to see that things have turned out so well for "our old friend, the Doctor."

WE publish in this issue a report of the Annual General Meeting of the Imperial Life Assurance of Canada. Hon. Oliver Mowat is President, and supported as he is by a strong board of Directors and the successful showing of growth borne by the Company it is not a surprise that his remarks, as recorded in the report should take such a eulogistic turn. The Directors are all strong, shrewd business men, most of them holding high and responsible positions in other lines of business. Note for instance such names as A. E. Ames, President of the Board of Trade; Hugh N. Baird, Director Western Assurance Co.; A. E. Kemp, Ex-President of Toronto Board of Trade; Senator Bowell; Wm. McKenzie, President of the Toronto St. Railway; Geo. B. Reeve, General Manager Grand Trunk Railway and a number of others. From the progress shown all along the line during the past year we believe our successful local agent, Mr. W. D. Mills, has a good Company and will be able to write up a lot of insurance during the coming year. All interested in stock insurance should give the report a careful perusal.
