

MEN AS HOUSE SERVANTS.

Their Success in Chicago—Household Treasures and No Mistake. The city of Chicago is credited with being the first to try the experiment which is the subject of this article, first employing men as "chambermaids," kitchen helpers, etc., in hotels; then, as the success of these tentative beginnings became known, private families also took up the idea, with the result that many families in that city are now very acceptably served by men.

A lady living in Chicago a few months ago wrote a long letter detailing her experiences with a man as general servant and was emphatic in her opinion that she had made no mistake, but that her servant was a "household treasure," and, although she took him in "green" from the factory, where he was an ordinary machine tender but a short time before, he is now as good a plain cook as any of the women employed by her friends and is as neat, both in his work and personally, as the best of maids could possibly be. Her family consists of herself, her husband and grown up daughter, and she had always heretofore found it necessary to keep a cook and a housemaid as well as to pay a woman to come weekly to do the family washing.

After her servant had become sufficiently versed in the art of cookery to get along properly with the aid which the family cookbooks afforded he voluntarily offered to do the laundry work, having paid strict attention to the methods of the work while it had been done by the regular laundress. His mistress saw no objection to letting him try, with the result that that work is also well done and the cost of it saved. About the time that things were working in this way her maid, who was a good one, did as nearly all good maids do—left and married. My friend was in despair and was bewailing to her daughter the fact that she would now have to begin the work of searching for and training another maid when her cook assured her that he thought he would have plenty of time to do all the work of the house if she cared to try him.

I think I can hear the objection, "Yes, but what about the expense of employing men for such service?" In this it is a great saving, and, as the servant himself explains it, he is better off. His mistress now pays him $4 per week. While he was "green" and needed help and direction in all he did he received $2.50. When he worked in the factory, he received $7 per week. Of this $4 went for board and 60 cents for car fare, leaving $2.40 cents for clothing, laundry and all other expenses.

His wage now, you see, is thus equivalent to at least $8.00 from his standpoint. The work is no harder, the mistress, he says, is not so harsh as his former foreman, and his board and lodging are superior to anything he could before afford, so that he feels as though his employers are entitled to the best service he can give, and he gives it.

While at work the man wears a long sleeved, high necked apron which protects him from neck to feet. It is made so simply that it can be slipped on or off at a moment's notice. When the doorbell rings, it is instantly discarded and a white linen jacket assumed, in which the servant looks as neat as any maid-servant in Chicago—neater than a good many, in fact. Both apron and jacket are always spotless, and the man seems to take genuine pleasure in having both himself and his surroundings in apple pie order.—Designer.

Fruit Compote.

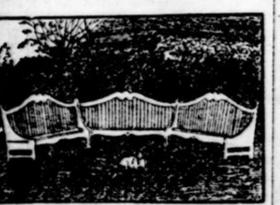

Once the difference in appearance and flavor betwixt a compote and a stew of fruit is realized a real step is gained. That one is rather more trouble than the other goes without saying, but the difference pays, all the same. For a compote of any kind of fruit a sirup of the sugar must be made first with a little water. The fruit is then dropped in and simmered gently until it is perfectly cooked, but its shape is not allowed to be lost, and naturally its flavor is retained.

quiet and, if anything, too somber and rough in appearance, in the garden will seem absolutely out of place on account of their comparative garishness. The free and unrestrained beauties of nature demand a certain quaint liberty in the designs of furniture intended thus for all fresco use. For gardens kept on the old-fashioned plan of trimmed hedges and cut trees, nothing could exceed the suitability of the seat illustrated, while the fact that it fits in admirably with the more natural and less formal class of garden now in vogue shows its high artistic merit.

SPRING WEATHER.

IS YOUR SYSTEM IN SHAPE TO CARRY YOU SAFELY THROUGH?

The Practice of Taking a Tonic in Spring is Descended from Our Wise Forefathers, and Has Good Medical Endorsement—A Few Suggestions Regarding Health.

The practice of taking a tonic during the inclement weather of early spring is one that has been bequeathed to us by our forefathers, who lived in days when a sturdy constitution and vigorous health meant even more than they do to-day. The custom has the highest medical endorsement, and the healthiest people are those who follow it. Thousands, not really ill, need a tonic at this season. Close confinement in badly ventilated houses, offices, shops and school rooms during the winter months, makes people feel depressed and "out-of-sorts." Nature must be assisted in throwing off the poison that has accumulated in the system, else people fall an easy prey to disease and are subject to many discomforts from boils, eruptions, and similar troubles. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the best tonic medicine known to medical science. These pills make rich, red blood and strong nerves. Through their use in springtime, jaded, listless, easily tired men, women and children, are made bright, active and strong. Evidence of the wonderful health restoring virtue of these pills is given by Mrs. J. Langlois, 659 Lafontaine street, Montreal, who says:—"Before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was under the care of two doctors, who told me my trouble was developing into consumption. I was very pale and feeble; had no appetite and could hardly stand on my feet. I was very much discouraged and thought death was staring me in the face. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and finally decided to try them. After I had used three boxes my appetite was much better, and I felt a little stronger. I continued the use of the pills for three months when I felt fully cured. When I began using the pills I only weighed 92 pounds, and when I discontinued them my weight had increased to 119 pounds. I also gave the pills to my baby, who was pale and sickly, and they made him a bright, rosy, fleshy child. I think there is no weak or sickly person who will not find benefit from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

It is a waste of money to experiment with other so-called tonics which are all cheap imitations of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Insist upon getting the genuine, and if they are not sold by your dealer send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

The Universal Cry—Wanted, a Man.

Never did the world call more loudly for young men with force, energy and purpose, young men trained to do some one thing, than today. Though hundreds of thousands are out of employment, yet never before was it so hard to get a good employee for almost any position as today. Everywhere people are asking where to find a good servant, a polite and efficient clerk, an honest cashier, a good stenographer who can spell and punctuate and is generally well informed. Managers and superintendents of great institutions everywhere are hunting for good people to fill all sorts of positions. They tell us that it is almost impossible to find efficient help for any department.

There are hundreds of applicants for every vacant place, but they either show signs of dissipation, are rude or gruff in manner, are slouchy or slipshod in dress, are afraid of hard work, lack education or training or have some fatal defects which bar them out. Even if they are given positions very few are able to hold them, and so this great army of tramps about from store to store, from office to factory, wondering why others succeed when they fail, why others get the positions when they are denied.

The head of one large commercial establishment says that the blunders and mistakes of its employees cost $25,000 a year to correct, notwithstanding his utmost vigilance.—Success.

John and Jonathan. A very dramatic conversation, printed in the London Outlook, has the double purpose of satirizing both the English and American bent of mind and manners. The "smart Yankee" is represented as coming home to his admiring town and telling in somewhat exaggerated dialect what he thinks of his cousin over the water.

"Say, tell us," said a friend, "air the English so terrible slow and dull, after all?" "Waal," replied the traveler, "I reckon so. I sat down one night in the parlor of a little village pub. Yes; it's a public house, but they call it pub in England.

"There wuss the boss of the pub, the local butcher, the local everyting, and there wuss myself. I just listened, though I can't say there wuss much to listen to. The talk ran like this: "'I 'ear as Ted Robinson got the sack last week," remarked a villager. "Ted Robinson?" said the other villager, deliberately pulling smoke. "'Yuss; I 'ear so. Ted Robinson got the sack las' week.' "A pause. More smoke. "'Got the sack, eh?' " "'Yuss; I 'ear as 'ow 'e 'd.' " "A longer pause. "'Las' week, wus it, 'e got the sack?' " "'I 'ear as 'ow it wus las' week.' " "A long, long pause. "'Ah! I 'ear dat a Friday.' " "And," continued the Yankee, "not a soul among 'em smiled. It wus their reg'lar mental diet. Oh, yes, smart men the English are and no mistake."

Chinese Criticism of Our Alphabet. The high class Chinaman, speaking through his interpreter, was giving the eminent American visitor his impressions of the English language.

"I cannot understand," he said, "how anybody ever finds time to learn it. Take that singularly formed letter in your alphabet, for instance, the letter 'g.' What an awkward and ill shaped character it is! What is the significance of that little curling projection at the upper end of it? I have never seen anybody who could tell me. Then, again, when the learner has familiarized himself with that letter and can recognize it at sight he learns that it is only a part of a word and that it enters into the composition of thousands of words. It has different pronunciations and sometimes is not pronounced at all, being entirely silent. Now, when you see one of our Chinese characters you know at once what it is. It is a wonder to me that your people do not discard the cumbersome forms of your written language and learn our simpler and more easily understood system."

The eminent American could only bow his head in humiliation and promise to bring the matter before the educational authorities of his native land.

SPITTING SHOULD STOP.

The Most Profitable Means of Propagating Disease.

One of the worst and most uncleanly habits indulged in by some people is spitting. Many people spit anywhere, everywhere and always. If this habit were only filthy it would not be so objectionable, but it is one of the most prolific means of propagating disease in every community. Spitting in public places should stop. The National Sanitarium Association in its campaign to check the spread of consumption, tuberculosis, claims that expectoration on the sidewalks for ladies' dresses to wipe up and carry into their homes or to dry into dust and float into the air; expectoration in public halls, conveyances, places of amusement, on floors, carpets and in dark corners of hotels and private dwellings, must cease if we ever hope to check this terrible disease which is responsible for so many deaths and so much suffering. Ladies should wear shorter skirts, and those who must expectorate should use paper handkerchiefs, which should be burned after using. There are three important facts about tuberculosis which should be kept in mind:—

- 1. It is a communicable disease and is distinctly preventable.
2. It is acquired by the direct transmission of the tubercle bacilli from the sick to the well, usually by means of dried and pulverized sputum floating as dust in the air; and
3. It can be largely prevented by simple and easily applied measures of cleanliness and disinfection.

STRONG TOWNSHIP SENSATION.

The Restoration to Health of Wm. Doeg Who Had Not Left His Room in Years—Rheumatism of the Worst Kind Completely Cured.

(Sundridge Echo.) The Echo has taken the trouble to investigate the circumstances and can vouch for the truth of the following interesting story in its every particular.

Almost everyone in this neighborhood knows Mr. Wm. Doeg. In 1878 Mr. Doeg moved from the Township of Osprey, in Grey County, to lot 19 in the thirteenth concession of Strong Township. He has since made many friends, and all who know him speak of him in the highest terms.

Some time after he came to this part he was stricken with rheumatism. It gradually grew worse and worse till for the last four years he has been a confirmed invalid, and as a consequence has not been seen in town at all. He has sat night and day in his chair, unable to move or walk a step for months. The pain never left him. It commenced in his back, and the torture he had to bear was terrible. From his back it would sometimes move to other parts of his body. His knees were fearfully painful at times. The truth is, that for four long years the poor man did not have a single moment's respite from the racking of this dreadful disease.

Mr. Doeg says: "It makes me shudder to look back upon that awful four years, even the thought of it is dreadful. How I ever lived through it I do not know, but I thank God that he has at last restored me to health and strength with nothing of the rheumatism left but the memory of it.

Mr. Doeg is a changed man. Hale and hearty he now enjoys every moment of his new life to the full.

How did the change come about? This is the question which Dr. Doeg is most delighted to answer. He had tried the treatment of several physicians and had used almost every medicine known as a cure for rheumatism, but he got no relief. "I gave them all a fair chance, too," said Mr. Doeg, to The Echo, "but nothing seemed able to give me

HOW TO TEACH COOKING.

Paris' Splendid Model for Great Britain and Other Countries.

In spite of occasional pin-prick eruasions France is, after all, a charming and useful neighbour to Great Britain, and she now offers us a bright example in domestic progress. She is showing us how to produce good cooks says the London Daily Mail.

No satisfied with her reputation for good cooking, Paris is founding a new culinary league, which shall disseminate the knowledge of the sauceman far and wide. But already she has a famous society of the Cordon Bleu, or Blue Ribbon of the Kitchen. It is this which Great Britain might imitate.

For the Cordon Bleu is a teaching university, conducted by past-masters of the art. It is managed by a committee of great chefs, all of whom have borne the heat and burden of the day in many a savoury kitchen. They have their headquarters in that famous rendezvous of gourmets, in the Palais Royal, and here they wield the most skillful basting-spoons in France.

NO LABOR VOTE.

But why is it, asked the thoughtful Chinese, that I may go to your heaven, while I may not go to your country? The American missionary shrugged his shoulders. There is no labor vote in heaven! said he.

over temporary relief. I grew despondent and despaired of ever leaving that dreadful pain behind me.

"One day I read in a newspaper the testimonials of some who said they had been cured of rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I hadn't much faith in anything by this time, but I sent for one box of the pills and commenced. I noticed an improvement and kept on, and look at me now."

Mr. Doeg certainly doesn't look like an invalid now, and it is hard for one who had not seen him in his sick room to believe that six months ago he couldn't walk.

"Have you any objections to making and signing a written statement of the whole thing for publication in 'The Echo'?" was asked Mr. Doeg. None whatever, I will be glad to do so, for I want every person suffering as I was with rheumatism to know that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure them, and I do hope that my statement will be read by all such unfortunate.

This is Mr. Doeg's written statement:—

For four years I suffered excruciating torture, during which time I was scarcely an hour free from pain. The trouble commenced in my back, where it often remained stationary for months, and so intense was the pain that I could not lie down or take rest, but had to sit night and day in a chair. The pain would then remove to other parts of my body, and when in my knees I was unable to walk, and confined constantly to my room. I was treated for rheumatism by several doctors and also tried many medicines without receiving any benefit. Almost in despair I feared I would never again experience the pleasure of being free from pain.

Last spring my attention was directed to some remarkable cures of rheumatism effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, recorded in the public prints. I procured a box, and soon found that they were doing me good, so I kept on, till now I can say I am a new man entirely free from pain, and have continued so for over six months, being able to attend to my daily duties on the farm and feel strong and able for work.

I verily believe the great change has been effected by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I think it my duty to make this statement public for the benefit of anyone afflicted as I was, Wm. Doeg, Sundridge.

This is a plain unvarnished statement of fact, as we found it, and every reader of The Echo, especially those who know how bad Mr. Doeg was, will agree that it is a case without parallel in the history of the community.
