NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Paris newspapers, with scarcely on exception, now profess ardent friendship for Italy, and are disposed fleet to Toulon, like the visit of the French fleet to Kronstadt, will have far-reaching political consequences. A Hungarian paper takes a similar view, and declares that the Triple Alliance will not be renewed in 1903, but that, on the contrary, Italy will become an ally of France and Russia. The presence of a Russian squadron at Toulon during the festivities in honor of the Italian visitors is thought to confirm the prediction. theory, that Italy, while refraining from joining the Dual Alliance, will enter into a compact to maintain a strict neutrality in the event of a war between Germany and

The later theory rests on authority such as it is, of the wellknown correspondent of the London Times in Paris. M. de Blowitz says that he has seen a letter from "a personage of high rank in one of the small northern Powers," which letter contains an outline of an agreement alleged to be on the point of signature by Russia, France and Italy. According to this personage, the treaty is neither offensive nor defensive, but simply pledges Italy, as we have said, to remain a neutral. A moment's reflection will show that such neutrality would be of incomparably more 1,000,000 benefit to France than to Germany. In the event of a war between the two last named Powers, France would no lager be compelled to keep a con- hand and touch his bones and possible invasion in that quarter and she would also be able to employ the Sea and the Baltic.
