MR. MORRISON, B. A., Specialist in English and History of Queen's University, is engaged to take the position of assistant principal during the Model School term. Mr. McIntosh, who was formerly engaged, received a position as principal of the public school at Athens, (Farmersville) Leeds County.

We were informed some time ago that Bart's Hill, west of the town, was cut up in a bad way. On speaking of the matter to a couple of members of the Glenelg Council, we learned that they were willing to do their share if Bentinck would do the same. This is a townline, and we have no doubt but Bentinck is also agreeable to make the improvements necessary as soon as they receive proper intimation of the condition of the road.

EDITOR TOWNSEND, of the Wrexeter Star, refers to our article on stealing items from local exchanges. He says he saw one of his articles credited to the Midway Gazette. This seems to us a modest insinuation that the Gazette is considered guilty of a little of the cribbing so commonly indulged in. We are not at all jealous, Brer Townsend, if other papers use our matter, but we think the least they should do is to give us credit. We say again it's mean.

It's forty-four years since Mr. Jas. Matthews, of Egremont, left Ould Ireland, but during all those years he never forgot the land of his birth, and often thought of returning to the scenes of his childhood. A quick notion took him a week or so ago, and on Wednesday morning last left for the County Down, where he intends to spend a few months with his relatives there and those who are left of his old associates. We wish him a pleasant voyage and a safe and happy return. On our request he has consented to send us a few interesting items during his visit.

SOME very unsatisfactory reports have appeared in the daily papers about the difficulties experienced by harvesters to obtain work on reaching Manitoba. They claim that the amount of work expected is not to be found, and mobs of the disappointed laborers became quite furious at Winnipeg and Brandon, in one instance threatening to take possession of the C. P. R. coaches, and forcing a free passage home. Some, it appears, were misled by promises of very high wages, which the farmers were unwilling to pay when the men arrived. It is also stated that the harvest season is not yet on, but that next week will furnish enough work for all. There are certainly too many men in the vicinity of the principal stations, and to get harvest work it is likely that many will have to go back from the railroad. It is a pity that any friction should occur, as in succeeding years it will be difficult to get enough laborers to take the risk of going.

THE telephone connection given our correspondent with the Methodist Church which was kindly referred to by THE CHRONICLE a fortnight ago was completed on Saturday last and on Sabbath it was our privilege to enjoy the morning and evening services comfortably and distinctly heard from beginning to end. The transmitter which is an ornament to the pulpit will receive the speaker's voice anywhere on the platform 6 or 8 feet distant and even at a test of 10 feet was heard distinctly. To the many friends who contributed and to Mr. R. N. Henderson the prime mover who spared no pains in carrying the scheme to a successful issue we tender our sincere and grateful thanks.—Flesherton Correspondent.

THE Garden Party in connection with the Methodist Church, held here on Thursday evening of last was a social and financial success. Though the evening was cool, a large amount of ice-cream and other refreshments were rapidly consumed by the devouring element. About ten o'clock a musical and literary program was opened in the church where a very enjoyable hour was spent. Mrs. Dasa, of Stratford, and Miss King, of Mt. Forest, were the stars of the evening. Both ladies are favorites here and we may safely assert that their appearance on Thursday night caused no loss of popularity. Mr. George Yiirs gave a fine violin selection to a well rendered organ accompaniment by Mr. George Wright. Rev. McGregor and Editor Ramage made short addresses. Rev. Wray Smith was chairman. Proceeds about $42.

We spent half an hour in the Creamery last week and saw the butter-maker go through part of the process of manufacture. He had just finished churning, and the granulated globules had such an appetizing effect that we tasted the product, before and after salting, to see what good butter was really like. We pronounced it all right; quite as good, in fact, as the butter we made in our boyhood days on the old dash churn. This little "recreation" came round with wonderful regularity about three or four times a week, and at such time as to relieve the dreary monotony a half hour's rest would cause in the life of an active boy. It was delightful exercise and we often felt sorry because there was no grandpa around to whom we could allow the pleasure of doing the whole job. Churning is nice exercise for a real old grandpa, but we didn't have one lying around and therefore we could take all the fun we liked out of churning. Returning to the factory, we must say that we found everything scrupulously clean and after learning from the genial butter maker the daily output of the factory we were forced to leave without full particulars through the irritability of the young man who assumed to chaperone us through the institution. We'll go alone next time.

Another Act of Heroism.

Mr. Brad Jamieson was reported in these columns last week to have saved the lives of three young ladies who were about to drown in the Toronto Bay. But the remaining week of his Island visit called forth another case of accident where his pluck and daring were serviceable in again saving life.

On Sunday evening last four young men had an upset in the bay about half a mile from the shore. The seas were rolling so high that it seemed a foolhardy act to attempt their rescue. Notwithstanding this a small boat was launched and four young men, of whom Brad was one, pulled out over a tempestuous sea, and with much difficulty reached the drowning men and brought them safe to land. Our young friend is deserving of more than a passing notice and his recent acts of bravery deserve investigation, and we believe recognition by the Royal Humane Society.

London's Big Fair.

The "great holiday outing of Western Ontario" is a phrase that some one once bestowed upon the Western Fair of London, and as the years go by the description seems to become more and more fitting. But it is more than a mere holiday. It is educational in its nature. No man with his eyes and ears open can visit the Western Fair without seeing something to which he had heretofore been a stranger, while the improvements on old devices, the improved methods of agriculture and the higher grade of stock and cattle all combine to show the rapid advance being made in Western Ontario, and to demonstrate that we in this section are fully abreast with the rest of the world. The entries for this year denote a large exhibit, and space should be secured without delay. The speeding in the ring, as usual, will be one of the most attractive pastimes, and this will be made doubly so by the engagement of the greatest coterie of high salaried acrobats, gymnasts and aerialists that ever appeared in one combination in Canada, while novelty is added by the introduction of a full troupe of educated performing elephants. The fireworks display will be on a grander scale than ever, and will include a striking and novel representation of the "Fall of China" and "Taking of Pekin," together with the most brilliant illumination and electrical effects ever before seen on the grounds. Special train service is being arranged over all railroads to leave London after the fireworks. None should miss this home exposition which can be so easily visited at little expense.

The Examinations.

The following are the pupils who passed the recent examination here for Junior Leaving Certificates (Full Second Class):—A. L. Edge, Annie Lawrence, Hannah Lawrence, M. MacKenzie, N. Moran, and R. J. Reid.

We must congratulate, both pupils and teachers on the work done, a class of examination for which pupils have usually to go to the High Schools or Collegiate Institutes. It must be remembered also that the whole work usually takes two full years, but in the case of the candidates here only one year was devoted to it. For this reason, we feel all the more like offering our congratulations. The school re-opens in about two weeks, and to those who failed we offer this encouragement, that another year will have a strong tendency to fix the subjects indelibly in their minds. The best advice we can give is to try again, but because you may happen to have nearly reached the goal of your ambition this time, is no reason for thinking you should put in an easy year. There's no Royal road to Learning. Keep grinding, and let persistent energy and unremitting toil characterize your efforts till the last paper is handed in on your next examination.

NOTES FROM BUREAU OF MINES, ROAD GRADING AND LOCAL PROGRESS.

The report of the Bureau of Mines for 1901 is just to hand but as the Cement industry is the only scheme that affects us at the present time, we pass over to that department. The report is satisfactory and has no tendency whatever to discourage those who are taking part in the marl industry in this locality. Quoting from the report we copy the following which says:—

"The manufacture of cement continues to expand, the total production of 1900 being much larger than in any previous year. The increase is wholly in Portland Cement, the natural rock variety being smaller in output and value than in 1890. The raw material for an excellent quality of Portland cement—marl and clay—being so abundant in Ontario and the demand for pavement and construction purposes being so great and constant, there is every likelihood that the production will continue to increase. The number of cement works reported to the Bureau last year was nine, of which four made natural or rock cement and five Portland cement. In addition to the factories now in operation, one or two others will place their product on the market during 1901."

The number of works reported are nine, 4 making National Rock Cement and 5 engaged in Portland. It also shows that the supply in Ontario is not equal to the demand as importations to Great Britain, the United States, Belgium, Germany and other countries amounted to a grand total of nearly $600,000 and that the duty paid on these importations was nearly $152,000.

Among the new cement plants a mill with a 500 barrel capacity was said to be "nearly completed at Marlbank, replacing the works recently destroyed by fire," the Canadian Portland Cement Co. at Deseronto. Reference was also made to the Imperial Cement Co. of Owen Sound, in which the "plan of the works has been materially altered and the capacity raised to six hundred barrels per day."

It also refers to our marl beds as follows:—"It is proposed to utilize LARGE marl beds near Durham in the County of Grey by erecting a Cement Factory, at that place with a capacity of a thousand barrels per day, for which purpose a company has been organized."

From the Canadian Engineer we clip the following paragraph which shows expert opinion of the utility of starting a cement mill without an abundance of raw material. It says:

"A Brantford company, called the Ontario Portland Cement Co., has been formed with a capital of $163,000 to exploit the marl beds of Blue Lake near St. George. A representative of the Canadian Engineer examined this deposit three years ago and had the marl analyzed by an expert. The marl proved to be of fairly good quality, but as the available area is only 10 or 12 acres, it would be quite inadequate for a modern cement plant. Unless the company has other deposits under its control within reasonable distance it is not likely to prove a very profitable investment. Works of this sort should not be started in Canada with less than 200 or 300 acres of marl of good average depth."

We have no lack of material here. On the other hand our supply is practically inexhaustible, and the work is now being pushed ahead. The railroad switches and approaches are being graded, a large amount of the machinery has been purchased and for the remainder of the year the town of Durham promises to be a veritable hive of industry, rivaling many places of much larger populations.

THE population of the County of Grey is 74,293, divided as follows:—East 25,095, North, 27,073, South, 22,125, a decrease of 1,945 since 1891. The population of Owen Sound is 478 shot of the figures given by the assessors' returns taken about the same time, the population of the enumerators being 8777.

Dr. Sproule, M. P., is a very muscular man and most difficult to throw either from his feet or off a horse, but a broncho which he undertook to break to the saddle last Monday after a few lounges forward, suddenly stopped with head between his forelegs, causing the doctor to take a somersault through the air, alighting on his head. He escaped with a severe shaking up, and doesn't tell the tale with nearly as much zest as he does some others.—Standard.
