CENTRAL Business College

SEVENTY-FIVE per cent. of the new students from outside of Stratford, who were enrolled at the opening of our Fall term, came from nearer other business colleges than ours, and students were enrolled from places in which other business colleges are located. They wanted the best Business and Shorthand training and came here for it. Our graduates get employment immediately on leaving college. Nine of our students have recently taken positions as teachers in business colleges. Write for our catalogue. Enter now if possible.

THE COUNTY OF GREY.

FORTY YEARS AGO.

CLARKSBURG.
It is now some years since W. J. Marsh, Esq., took up 400 acres of wild land adjoining the northern boundary of the town-plot of Thornbury; with a roaring stream pursuing its headlong way through his domain. In 1856 he settled on his land. Thornbury then contained a grist and saw mill, and a few houses. In 1859, W. A. Clark purchased of him a water privilege on the Beaver River, with 95 acres of land attached. Mr. Clark made immediate preparations for building his woollen mills, and a residence for himself. In 1860, John Tyson came in, and purchased of Mr. Clark water privilege and land for a flouring mill. The flouring mill was put in operation in January, 1861, and the woollen factory in October of the same year. The parties who owned the ground adjoining.—W. T. Marsh, W. A. Clark, and A. J. Whitney,—offered every facility to parties wishing to settle in the new village; and soon stores, inns, and mechanics' shops began to make their appearance in the new village, as yet without a name. The inhabitants wished it called Clarksburg, after the enterprising proprietor of the woollen works; but P. O. authorities seem of late years to have set their faces against any more villages, and so they compromised the matter by establishing a P. O. under the name of CLARKSBURG. At first it was merely a sub-office in connexion with Thornbury, but for a year past it has been independent, and receives daily mails from Collingwood.

Clarksburg is a little over a mile from Georgian Bay, having only the town-plot of Thornbury (a square block of 900 acres) between it and the shore. The population is nearly 200. The whole place, as it stands, is the result of four years' enterprise. It is fortunate for the present and future interests of the village, that its "chief men and fathers" are men of such stability of character, enterprise and perseverance.

The "Northern Woollen Mills,"—W. A. Clark, Esq., Proprietor,—were, as already stated, put in operation in 1861. They are intended for two sets of manufacturing machines; and will work up, when all completed, 80,000 lbs. wool per annum. The main building, which is four-and-a-half storeys high, stands 34x62 feet on the ground. A sheepskin factory is attached, finished in 1864. At present the pelts are exported in pickle to the United States; but Mr. Clark intends, as soon as arrangements to that end can be completed, to have them dressed on the premises. About 20 hands are employed in the various departments of the works. Custom carding and fulling is likewise attended to. Tweeds, fulled cloths, beaver cloths, blankets, flannels, &c., are all manufactured, and are now known all over the Province. Mr. Clark has filled some very large orders during the last two years, for Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton wholesale houses. For this trade, his twilled scarlet flannels and checks are in special request. The establishment of the Northern Woollen Mills has greatly stimulated the growth of wool in the county. The "Beaver Valley Mills" are the property of John Tyson, Esq., and form one of the chief establishments in the village. The building is of wood, neatly painted, and in its various flats affords ample storage for grain. There are three runs of stones. Flour to a large amount is manufactured at these extensive mills.

There are 3 stores, 2 comfortable hotels, 2 shoemakers, a shop for custom spinning and weaving, 1 harness shop, 2 wagon shops, a blacksmith, tailor, cooper, tinsmith, and several carpenters. The Potash works of Mr. B. J. Marsh, were erected last year. There is no church precisely in the village, the English church being just within the town-plot of Thornbury, though answering for both villages, which indeed are likely ere long to grow into one. An excellent school is in operation.

There is an excellent opening in Clarksburg for both a foundry and a tannery. These wants will no doubt, be soon supplied. There is a spare water privilege above the mills, and two privileges below, where the whole volume of the Beaver River could be made available; and at least 3 other privileges in the village, supplied from the surplus water, which is very abundant, averaging about half the force of the stream.

Clarksburg is in the township of Collingwood, 1 m. N. of Thornbury; 14 m. N. W. of Collingwood Harbor; 8 m. S. E. of Meaford; and 28 m. E. S. E. of Owen Sound.

A story is told of a man named Moon, who was presented with a daughter by his wife. That was a new Moon. The old Moon was so overcome with joy that he went off and got drunk, and that was a full Moon. When he became sober he had 25 cents left. That was the last quarter. But when his mother-in-law met him at the door with a rolling pin there was a total eclipse of the Moon with seven stars visible.

If you wish to retain your youth to "a good old age," one of the most important things to remember is not to eat too much meat. Meat once a day, in small quantities, is sufficient. Vegetables and fruit should always be eaten freely, and drink plenty of water. It is a curious fact that most people drink too little instead of too much water; at least a quart a day is desirable. A pint of hot water sipped slowly before eating, is very good when a tendency to rheumatic troubles exists. Always eat slowly; nothing will age you more quickly than an improper assimilation of food, and this is one of the faults most of us commit.

HEART "STARTS"

Does the slightest effort excite the heart, quicken the breathing, induce suffocation, fluttering, palpitation or excruciating pain—asthma? You need no surer symptom of disease, for when the heart "starts" the heart is sick.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a heart specific. Under its sway, any or all of these sensations of distress will vanish like dew before the morning sun. Its winning golden encomium every day as a never-failing treatment. One dose gives relief in thirty minutes. A few bottles will cure the most stubborn case.
