

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The Slocum System of Treatment for the cure of Consumption, Pulmonary Troubles, Catarrh, General Debility, and nearly all the ills of life, is medicine reduced to an exact science by the world's foremost specialist. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured. The Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is needed by some, the Tonic by others, the Expectorant by others, the OxoJell by others still, and all four, or any three, or two, or any one, may be used singly or in combination, according to the needs of the case.

Full instructions with each set of four free remedies illustrated here. Our readers are urged to take advantage of Dr. Slocum's generous offer.

THE FREE TRIAL

The honor of this effectively arresting the progress of this fatal malady rests with the wonderful system of treatment which has been reduced to an exact science for the cure of Consumption and for the cure of Catarrh and other prevalent conditions which pave the way for Consumption—that successful method evolved by America's greatest scientific physician, Dr. T. A. Slocum, whose great liberality, through his Free Trial Treatment, sent broadcast throughout this broad land, has contributed most to the rout of the most potent agency in the destruction of human life in this hemisphere.

His Free System of Treatment has arrested the hand of death in the cases of thousands of consumptives and has prevented the disease in countless instances.

The Slocum Treatment consists of four distinct remedies for the cure of Consumption, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all pulmonary and wasting diseases, and is based upon principles essential to the correction of function, the rebuilding of the tissues, the overthrow of parasitic animal organisms and the establishment of health in all the departments of the human body. The four preparations embody all the necessary elements of a complete treatment for Consumption—its cure and prevention—as well as for most of the chronic and wasting ills of life. Apparently hopeless cases are cured by their timely use.

These free remedies comprise the great curative forces discovered by the eminent physician, Dr. Slocum, they represent the acme of the pharmacist's skill and with them will be found explicit directions for their use in any case.

You are invited to test what this system will do for you, if you are sick, by writing for a FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and the Four Free Preparations will be forwarded you at once with complete directions for use.

Simply write to the T. A. Slocum Chemical Company, Limited, 170 King Street West, Toronto, giving post office and express address, and the free medicine (the Slocum Cure) will be promptly sent. Persons in Canada seeing Slocum's free offer in American papers will please send for samples to Toronto.

Mr. Thomas Mercer, of near Markdale, met with a terrible accident on Saturday by getting his thumb caught in a treadmill. The member was torn off, with about eight inches of sinew from the wrist.—Flesherton Advance.

Mr. David Rogers, of Kirkton, says the Argus, has a breeding sow which rivals Sandford, the Paris well digger, for staying powers. On December 6th Mr. Rogers commenced threshing and the next day his sow was missing. From that day until January 9th, just five weeks, nothing was heard of it. The idea then struck Mr. Rogers that the sow might be buried in the stack. He commenced at once to cut out the straw, and when he had gone in about thirteen feet he heard the sow grunting. Cutting in about five feet further he came across her, but so weak that she could scarcely take nourishment. He finally revived her, however, and on Sunday last, two days after being rescued, she gave birth to a litter of nine pigs.—Clifford Express.

Master Fred Karstedt, of this village, who passed the entrance examination last summer, and who claims to be the youngest pupil who ever did so, took it into his head recently to write the Hon. G. W. Ross on the matter and at the same time render his congratulations on the outcome of the recent bye elections. Fred has a long head. The other day he received an autograph letter from the Premier stating that so far as he knew Fred was the youngest who had ever passed, and intimating that a book by way of a souvenir was being forwarded. Accordingly, on Monday Fred received, through the mail, a nice copy of "Glengarry School-days," and is now a staunch upholder of the educational system of Ontario, and intends to vote for Mr. Ross at the first opportunity.—Flesherton Advance.

A very serious shooting accident took place last Thursday at Balaklava the victim being Mr. S. Graham. Willie Nickel, who works for Mr. Graham, was shooting sparrows about the barn, with a 22-calibre rifle when Mr. Graham appeared on the scene and told the boy not to carry the weapon cocked. As the boy was putting down the hammer of the gun, the fireman was accidentally discharged, and Mr. Graham felt a sharp twinge of pain in his knee. Dr. Clapp was hurriedly summoned, and found that the bullet had entered the joint of the knee, and although he did some probing he failed to locate the bullet. The wound caused Mr. Graham intense agony, and swelling immediately set in. Dr. Clapp decided that further probing would be unsafe, and advised that the patient be taken at once to the Guelph hospital.—Bruce Herald.

Mr. Valentine McKinley, of the old survey, partook of some food left over from a threshing in an old unoccupied house on his farm, one day last week. It seems that poison had been set for the destruction of rats in this unoccupied shack. The poison was put on some cakes and by some mystery these cakes got mixed up with those left over at the threshing. At all events, shortly after partaking of the food, Mr. McKinley grew dizzy and sleepy. While in this uncertain condition he got his team ready and drove homeward. Before he reached there, however, violent convulsions developed and his loud cries brought out the neighbors, who assisted him in getting home. When he reached there his people guessed what was the matter and dispatched for Dr. McFayden, of Mt. Forest, in the meantime giving the patient some melted butter to drink. This brought up the contents of the stomach and preserved the life of the sufferer until the arrival of the Dr. The proper antidotes were then administered, and if complications do not arise it is thought the unfortunate man will recover.—Clifford Express.

A fire broke out in Andrew Hamel's tailoring establishment last Saturday morning about four o'clock, which entails damages to the extent of several hundred dollars. The cause, it appears, was the result of William Wilson's chimney being on fire. Fire dropped down the chimney, and passed through the pipe hole at the top of the shelving in the store and ignited some paper and goods lying there. The occupants above (Mr. and Mrs. Wilson) became aware of the trouble in its incipient state and gave the alarm. The boarders at the Queen's hotel did the necessary shouting, and as the school bell was rung and the Hanover Specialty Co.'s whistle blown there was no reason for a lack of attendance, which there wasn't. The brigade turned out promptly but the nearest hydrant was found to be frozen. During the few minutes' delay which this necessitated a couple of fire extinguishers did good service. The brigade, we think, would have shown better discretion had they manipulated the hose with more moderation. As it was the loss through water greatly exceeded the loss by fire. But then the members of the brigade for the most part have not served a long apprenticeship, and they have in the past done their duty nobly.—Post.

At 9:30 on Saturday night the table factory whistle sounded an alarm of fire, followed quickly by the town bell, and the news spread rapidly.

that the table factory was on fire, and a rush was made for the scene. There it was disclosed that it was only the fuel house, into which the rubbish from the sawmill is dumped by an elevator, located about 20 feet in the air above the furnace room. The structure was built of scantling on a brick foundation, and was only a fire trap at best. Fire must have been smoldering among the sawdust and refuse for some time, for the first information the employes about the premises had of the trouble was flames bursting through the roof, which was quickly destroyed, but the rubbish burned slowly, and the fire was stayed easily by the firemen when the water was turned on full pressure, nearly half-an-hour after the first alarm. The cause of this was the difficulty experienced in uncovering the jackets on the shut-off cock to close the mains on Berford street and on the hill. Once this was accomplished there was no scarcity of water, and the flames were soon drowned out, but not before the fuel bin was completely destroyed and the roof of the boiler house considerably damaged. The different portions of the establishment being isolated, and all being covered with snow, as there was no wind, at no time was there danger of the flames spreading. The night was intensely cold, and the firemen deserve credit for the excellent service rendered under great difficulties. If outsiders would mind their own business and not attempt to interfere with the "laddies" at a fire, better results would be secured. The men ought to know their business, and if they don't there is no time to teach them at a fire, and onlookers ought to understand this and keep away. General Manager Zollner was here with the insurance inspector yesterday, and a satisfactory adjustment of the loss was secured without trouble.—Warton Canadian.

While about to make a neighborly call and without the slightest warning, the grim reaper death claimed as its victim Ann Devlin, beloved wife of Mr. Francis Chittick, last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Chittick had not been in the best of health, but apparently there was no more immediate danger than the advancement of years—she being 69 years and 6 months old—when an old friend, Mr. Robt. Cain, drove up to the Chittick residence last Sunday afternoon to take her out for an outing. She was very cheery and talked with animation on the way to the Cain cottage and when sighting How fragile is the life cord! She died a moment later and instantly she ascended the steps, falling in the doorway. With her death passed away from the scene a woman of particularly kindly impulse, the best type of a mother from her children, and a wife who was a wise counsellor and a good comrade as well as an affectionate woman to a man during the trying stages incident to pioneer life. Deceased was born in Fermanagh, Ireland, and was the daughter of John and Margaret Devlin. She emigrated to Canada with her parents in 1836 and resided in Streetsville until the time of her marriage with Mr. Chittick. In the year 1852 this event was consummated, Rev. Mr. Gibbons, an Anglican minister, officiating. In October of 1854 the young couple moved to lot 16 on the 4th con. of Bentinck, where for 33 years they resided. They then moved to Brant to the 1st concession and lived there 6 years. Desiring to retire for the remainder of their days, they removed to Mt. Forest where they resided until last October when they came back again to old familiar scenes. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Chittick was blessed with seven children, six of whom are still living. The eldest, John, died about 3 years ago. The others are: Thomas, of Winnipeg; Frank, of Mt. Forest; Margaret, (now Mrs. Hodgkinson) of Hedging, Man.; Ellen and Matilda at home. Deceased was a life-long member of the Anglican church. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Hanover cemetery and was largely attended. A memorial service was conducted in St. James' church before the interment.—Hanover Post.

Washington Was the Wisest of Rulers.

Never did a country begin a new enterprise with so wise a ruler. An admirable polity had been adopted, but much depended upon getting it to work, and the man who was selected to start the government was the man of all men for the task. Histories many and from different points of view have been written of Washington's administration; all are interesting, and the subject seems to ennoble the writers. Statesmen meeting with students to discuss the character and political acts of Washington, marvel at his wisdom in great things and his patience in small things, at the dignity and good sense with which he established the etiquette of his office, at the tact which he retained in his service two such irreconcilable men as Jefferson and Hamilton. The importance of a good start for our young government is well understood. But for our little State—four million people such a start was difficult to secure. The contentions which grew out of the ratification of the Constitution in the different States and left bitter feelings behind them, and these domestic troubles were heightened by our intimate relations with foreign countries. We touched England, France and Spain at different points, and the infancy of our nation passed during the turmoil of the French Revolution and the Reign of Terror. In our midst there was an English and a French party. Moreover, in judgment of the world the experiment of the new government was foredoomed to failure. Wrote Sir Henry Maine: "It is not at all easy to bring home to the men of the present day how low the credit of republics had sunk before the establishment of the United States." Hardly were success to be won had we fallen upon quiet times; but with our governments discredited, and our liberty made a reproach by the French Revolution, success seemed impossible.—From "The Federal Office," by James M. February Scribner.

ROCKY SAUGEEN.

We are sorry to learn of Mrs. Scarf being very ill at present. Hope to hear of her speedy recovery. Messrs. Daniel and Watt, of your town, are hostlers in the Crawford bush these times as they have had Councilor Grierson, of Bentinck, for a couple of days with the sawing machine and got a lot of wood cut. Mr. John McKinnon is holidaying at the parental home at present. Mrs. John Post and son, Willie, of Welbeck, were callers on the Hewitt family one day last week. Messrs. Archie McKechnie and Peter McGillivray, of the Rocky, returned home on Friday looking hale and hearty after spending the most of the winter in the lumber woods. What we would like to know is why A. is not seen going south so often now.
