AFTER spending three or four weeks in Toronto, Miss Dick returned again to her millinery business, which, of course, was running full time during her absence. Miss Dick's mission to Toronto was partly to get possession of the latest ideas in millinery notions for the coming season, and also to purchase largely of spring good, which are soon to arrive.

FOR the past couple of months we have been so crowded with job work that we have been forced to allow our paper to go out on several occasions without being proof read. Instead of making an apology we trust this explanation will satisfy our readers as to the reason of misspelled words, omissions and other irregularities. To make matters worse the illness of Mr. Archie McDougall, our chief shop man, added to our difficulties. Though improving in health, Mr. McDougall is still unable to take his place.

ON Friday of last week Glenelg township lost an old and respected resident in the person of Christina McLellan, relict of the late Duncan McIntyre. The deceased lady was eighty-six years of age, being born in North Uist, Scotland, 1817. About fifty-five years ago, with her husband and three children, she came to this country. After living two or three years near Guelph, their family moved to Glenelg where they have resided for over fifty years. The remaining members of the family are Norman in town, Archie at Bad Axe, Michigan, Mrs. Paterson at Flint, Michigan, Angus in California, and Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Cole on the old homestead. The remains were interred in Durham cemetery on Sunday afternoon last.

THE latest improvement in the way of cleanliness and good taste displayed in town is the cleaning out of stove-pipes on the street and leaving thereon numerous heaps of soot as a result of the operation. It is so very pleasant you know to have such contrasty black spots to relieve the monotony of clean white streets. And then to stand on the lee side of one of these piles on a windy day and get full in the face a cloud of dirty soot, is so conducive to pure morals and polite language. Verily, the inventor of this refined method of beautifying the streets should be waited on by an influential deputation and publicly presented with a leather medal.

WE regret very much to announce this week the death of Mr. Thomas Brown which occurred on Monday evening last. The deceased was in his fiftieth year, a good business man and the essence of honor in all his dealings. He was a son of Mr. Jas. Brown, for many years a well-known and prosperous business man in Durham, and a recognized authority on municipal matters, not only in Durham, but also in the township of Glenelg. The deceased was public spirited and popular, having held positions in the town council to the majority, of which he was once elected. His death removes an excellent character, and his departure will be regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In politics he was a life long Conservative, and for many years an honored member of Masonic fraternity, under whose auspices the burial took place to Holstein this Wednesday afternoon. The chief mourning relatives are his widow, his father, two brothers, John in Seattle, and Joe at home. The deceased was "Tom Brown" always, every inch a man, and his superior would be hard to find. We join the whole community in sympathy with the mourning.

Don't be deceived, oysters are only 20c. a dish at Jordan's.

You can't change it. Everyone says Theobald has snaps in clothing.

AUCTION Sale at H. Brigham's, Allan Park, Wednesday next. See list in this issue.

F. W. LUNNEY will sell his Stock and Implement by auction Wednesday, March 4. Look out for bill.

LOST—The chance Theobald is giving to procure clothing cheap will be lost if you don't pick up the snaps offered.

THE Carnival on Tuesday night had a rather small attendance, owing partly we presume to the inclement weather.

FOR SALE—At less than half their value, a litter of pure bred Scotch Collie puppies, sired by Allie C. K. C. No. 5618, whelped by Rose C. K. C. No. 5619.—F. PEEL. tf.

THE person who took a pianola box from the platform in front of Leaven's old harness shop is requested to return the same at once or legal proceedings will be taken.

If they tell you that Theobald's is next to the Public Library don't run into the Presbyterian church. The Library has moved next to Theobald's Clothing Store.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT—That the municipalities around Durham are devoting considerable attention to the improvement of their highways, is evidenced by the purchases of improved road-making machinery. Last summer the townships of Normanby and Egremont purchased road graders, and last week the Bentinck Council followed suit by placing an order for an up-to-date road grader with the Sawyer Massey Co. through their local agent here, Mr. Thos. Noble. No doubt Durham and Glenelg will fall in line also.

THE town was visited this week by Mr. W. Broomall, of Philadelphia, a gentleman who is engaged there in the manufacture of Cream Separators. His mission here was to spy out the land with a view to start an industry in Canada. Geographically, Durham suits him all right, and in a short interview we found him favorable to locating here. The industry will, if started, give employment to not less than thirty workmen, some of whom will be skilled mechanics in the line of high class iron working. What Mr. Broomall proposes to ask by way of a loan or tax exemptions, we are not in a position to say, but the probability is the council will be interviewed with the object of giving something by way of encouragement. He proposes returning to town again in two weeks, and in the meantime it would be well to get possession of all available information in connection with such industries, so that an intelligent grasp of the situation may be had and acted on liberally if the scheme is to be of benefit to the town. Our opinion now is that Durham should continue to encourage manufacturing industries, and situated as we are in the centre of an agricultural and dairying country, it seems that an industry for the manufacture of cream separators is worthy of consideration.

FOR some months past we have had in our midst a few respectable colored people. That these people are civil and law abiding, that they mind their own business and do not interfere with others, we have always heard. As such, they deserve the protection of the citizens and, if necessary, of the law. It is not creditable to us as a community that these people should continue to be subjected to intolerable annoyance because of the color of their skin or the cast of their countenance. We boast a free country, equal rights and the broadest liberty to all citizens without reference to color creed or station. To maintain our boast we must resolutely protect our own rights, and as determinedly insist that the rights of others shall be respected. Now, it so happens that a number of the boys, small boys mostly, but some larger ones, have been for a long time, and are still following these colored people, calling them names, jibing and jeering at them, and otherwise annoying them as they peaceably walk the streets. This must be stopped. Many of the boys, we are told, have been spoken to privately, but the practice still continues. If parents can control their children so that such things can be peaceably prevented, well and good; if not, then information must be laid before the proper authorities so that the rights of citizenship shall be guaranteed to every person, black or white, who minds his own business and allows others to do the same.

The Sunny South.

An interesting letter was received this week from Mr. R. S. McGowan who left recently for Rockmart, Ga. Like all good boys who go away from Durham he wanted to get the Chronicle for the home news. We hope he'll not feel bad if we use a part of his letter. He says:—

We arrived here Saturday evening after a very pleasant trip through Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and this state, doing all the traveling in daylight. The scenery through parts of Kentucky and Tennessee is particularly fine. We put in Saturday forenoon in looking over the historical city of Chattanooga and the great battlefields of Lookout Mountain. We were taken up the latter on the longest and steepest incline railway in America, the length being about one mile and the grade in some places rising 67 feet in 100. The Union soldiers, however, did not use this contrivance.

On our arrival here we were very agreeably surprised to find a very modern summer hotel in operation. We have first-class accommodation and board at a rate very little if any, advance over Ontario prices. To be sure, every one did not "fall on their feet" here as we did. It is not as warm here as generally supposed. Every bedroom has a small top draft stove in it.

The cement plant is to be a 2500 barrel mill and is well advanced.

Yours etc.,
R. S. MCGOWAN.

CHURCH NOTES.

METHODIST.

The sleighing party "At Home" given by Mr. and Mrs. George Aljoe for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church was one of the most successful gatherings held since the series was organized two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Aljoe know how to entertain their guests right royally.

The distribution of the "Onward," a young people's paper, amongst the senior pupils of the school is highly appreciated. The Sunday School Committee are to be complimented on the forward movement in the distribution of good literature.

ZION.

The Quarterly Meeting Love Feast and Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be held in the Zion Methodist church on Sunday afternoon. Service to begin at 2:30 o'clock. The pastor will be in charge of the service.

Notice.

All parties indebted to Chas. McKinnon are requested to settle their notes and accounts by the first day of March as all accounts not settled by that date will be placed in other hands for collection.—2.
