A HOG'S MOUTH.

The Way It Enables the Animal to Eat Hickory Nuts.

"People often wonder how it is that a hog can get all the kernel out of a hickory nut, or any other kind of nut for that matter, without swallowing any of the shell," said a man from the country, "but as a matter of fact there is nothing mysterious about the process. Mind you, hogs don't swallow any of these harder substances. They get rid of them, and then it is just as easy for them to get rid of the shell of a nut as it is for a man or a squirrel. You might think because a hog crushes the nut into small fragments that he would necessarily swallow a good portion of the hull. But he doesn't do any such thing.

"It is a conceded fact among men who know anything about the subject that the horse is the most perfectly constructed animal in the world, considering the purposes for which the horse is used and its method and habits in life. But I want to put in a good word for the hog when it comes to the thing of cracking and eating nuts without getting any of the harder substances into the stomach. The horse has very fine teeth. The back teeth particularly are finely constructed with a view of enabling the horse to crush its food well before passing it into the stomach. These heavy grinders, heavily set in the horse's jaw, are looked upon as marvels. So they are.

"But what's the matter with the teeth of the hog? What's the matter with that marvelous process by which they separate the kernel of the nut from the hull? It has occurred to me that this is no small achievement, and nature is at least entitled to some sort of tribute for her skill in making this result possible. In the first place the hog's tongue is more sensitive than would be supposed, and it can easily detect the harder from the softer substances. By some sort of process the hog is able to work the bits of a hickory nut hull over to the sides of its mouth, the tongue being used for the purpose, and here they are thrown out at the corners. Probably you have noticed that the corners of a hog's mouth are somewhat different from the corners of the mouths of other animals. The lines of the mouth do not end so pointedly, and hence it is a much easier thing for the hog to work the harder substances which he does not care to swallow out through these little openings."

A FEW WHYS.

Why do many employers say their clerks are a stupid lot and unworthy of their consideration?

Why do many clerks look with envy on their employers and rage over every correction or sharp word?

Why do many persons behave more courteously and kindly to outsiders than they do to the ones they really love the best of all?

Why do many men laugh at women's lack of business ability and yet sneer and rather look down on the woman who shows she has some?

Why do many children resent anything their parents say and look on them as bores and long to be grown up so as to escape from them?

Why do many rich folk look on their poor relatives as being always on the lookout for favors and so prevent the poor relatives from giving them little presents or being natural with them?

Why do many husbands work hard for their wives and family, but never think how the wife would appreciate an invitation to the theater, a little dinner at a restaurant, a box of candy or some flowers brought home unasked?

Time In Japan.

The Japanese divide the twenty-four hours into twelve periods, of which six belong to the night and six to the day, their day beginning at sunrise and ending at sunset.

Whether the day or night be long or short, there are always six periods in each. To attain this the characters or numerals on the scale are adjustable.

Two of them are set, one to agree with the sunrise, the other with sunset, and the four characters between them divide the space into equal portions.

Thus when the period of daylight is longer than the night the day hours will be proportionately longer than those at night.

Another peculiarity in their scale is that they use only six characters, those from four to nine, and these read backward.—London Express.

Didn't Move on Time.

A typical tough boy, aged thirteen, was committed to a certain asylum not long ago by a city magistrate.

"What did you do that they sent you here?" asked the superintendent mildly.

"Huh! They sent me up just for playing a game," snarled the boy.

"What game?" asked the superintendent.

"Checkers wid de police," he explained. "It was me move, an' I didn't move, so dey jumped me."

He had been arrested for loitering.

The Carat.

We talk of a diamond being so many carats in weight. The carat was originally the seed of the Abyssinian carat flower. These seeds are very equal in size and so were at one time used in weighing gold and precious stones.

Today the carat as applied to gold means simply the twenty-fourth part of the weight of any piece of gold or silver.

The Dead-Head Craze.

(From the Toronto Telegram.)

Why should people look for free newspapers any more than they look for free cigars, free umbrellas, free walking sticks, free collars, free cuffs, or free beefsteaks?

Every copy of a newspaper is a product which costs money.

The tailor, the tobacconist, the gents' furnisher, or the grocer is not called upon to supply free copies of the products which they handle. The people who are aggrieved if they cannot get a free copy of a newspaper would not think of struggling for a place on the free list of a grocery store, a dry goods store, or butcher's shop.

It is the principle more than the cost of the free newspaper idea which is repugnant to all sound business notions. There is scarcely a newspaper in the country which does not maintain a free list for the benefit of people who are well able to pay, and who would not think of accepting from their grocer, or butcher, or baker the handout which they expect from their favorite newspaper office.

Uncle Sam's Coin.

"Haven't you got something different from that stuff with holes in?" was the question put by an American citizen who was purchasing a ticket to a United States point at a local ticket office, as some of the mutilated coins which Uncle Sam gets rid of by sending over to Canada, was offered him in change. Not the slightest blame could attach to the ticket vendor, for it is a notorious fact that United States worn, plugged, mutilated and counterfeit coins, which would not be accepted over the bar of a Yankee booterine, where it might be shoved off on some victim of liquid hallucination without detection, is accepted as freely in Canada as the good new King Edward's on which Canadians profit in the circulation. Walkerton has more than its share and the attempt is always to unload upon the railroad, and express companies. In giving the change the ticket seller was making a most laudable effort to get the stuff back over the border where it belongs. Summer is the time for its introduction, but if a patriotic move with a little back bone were put up, the summer would see its expulsion. Paper currency is not so much in evidence and generally goes at its face value and is not so objectionable. No small amount comes into town as subscriptions to local periodicals, but with the cheaper and safer facilities for remittances by postal note and express order, Uncle Sam's good paper money could be kept in circulation nearer home, where it would be thoroughly appreciated as an advantage to the community. But the discarded and demoralized metal called American currency which is floating around on a par with good Canadian money should be relegated to the button bag, if it cannot be shipped back across the line. How to get rid of it would give the board of trade an excuse for meeting that would justify to some extent that body's existence.—Bruce Herald.

Although not always aware of it yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrh is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from the Inhaler kills thousands of germs, clears the throat and nose, aids expectoration and relieves the pain across the eyes. Catarrh is eradicated every vestige of Catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness and Lung Trouble. Price $1.00; trial size 25 cts., all druggists. Flesherton.

Intended for last week.

Mr. T. J. Sheppard's millinery opening took place last week and was, we were informed, the most successful they have yet had. Mrs. Sheppard who attended the wholesale openings was not only diligent in her search after new and nobby goods, but made a careful study of the fashions and latest styles many of which she reproduced in a manner which elicited praise from her numerous visitors. Among the trimmed goods one exhibit most admired was a rose hat, with entire crown of crushed roses and foliage and a rolling brim of the new chiffon and straw trimming in pale and blue. Another very becoming hat was a fancy straw in castor shade, trimmed with tulle and ribbon of the same color and a large cluster of cherries. Another was a large turban shape in fine white straw with a white lace drape falling over the brim which was gracefully caught up at one side with bunches of roses.

Business was suspended on Friday last and the day was quiet here. Many of our citizens entertained visitors and many others went abroad. In the evening Miss Ethel Trimble entertained her S. S. class and a few friends and the Misses Joy also gave a party to a few friends.

On Sunday the music and sermons in the church were appropriate to Easter. In the Methodist church the annual offering in behalf of the choir was taken up in the evening when a programme of excellent music was rendered. Mr. R. E. Osborne, of Courtice, an old friend of the pastor, addressed the Sunday School in the afternoon.

Mr. Ashdown's son Thomas, of Ceylon, sustained severe bruises in an accident on Friday last when he was upset from a rig and run over.

A prayer-meeting and baptismal service, conducted by Rev. L. W. Thom, was held at the home of Mr. Jacob Lever, Toronto line, on Friday evening last.

Among those who attended the funeral of the late Henry Matthewson on Friday last were Mrs. Matthewson's brothers, James and Robert McLeery; sister, Mrs. Nixon, and niece, Mrs. Reid, of Barrie and Alton; John and Alex. Marshall, of Lunenburg, and Mrs. Wilson, son and daughter, of Arthur.

Among the Easter holiday visitors in town were: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Osborne, of Courtice, and Miss Ethel McKay, Port Hope, at the parsonage; Mrs. J. E. Hansford and daughter, Blossom, at Miss Bellamy's and the Maise; Mr. M. K. Richardson, M. P., at home from Ottawa; Messrs. Leslie Bacus, of Shelburne, and Milt Tipp, of Collingwood, at Mr. A. Munshaw's; Mrs. E. E. White, of Markdale, at Mrs. McFavish's; Mr. J. McRae, of Woodbridge, at Mr. W. H. Bunt's; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Vandusen, of Dundalk, at the former's home; Miss Flossie Thurston at home from Owen Sound with a friend Miss Bole, teacher, Derby; Mr. Robt. Wright accompanied his mother from Hagersville where she had paid him an extended visit; Miss Corena Frost, of Owen Sound, is the guest of Miss Christina Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. McPhatter, of Owen Sound, are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. W. Wright, back line; Mrs. (Dr.) Rosborough is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Armstrong; Miss Nellie Frost, of Owen Sound, paid Mrs. Thom a short visit at the Manse last week.

Out of town: Editor Thurston, Mrs. Fred Hickling, Miss Cole, Miss Ethel Crossley, T. Clayton, Bert Barnhouse, T. S. Daw, to Toronto; Mr. John Banuon to his son's at Norwich; Dr. and Mrs. Murray, at Wareham; our school staff at their respective homes—Principal Fawcett at Forest, Miss Phillips at Seaforth, and Miss Martin at Preston—Mr. W. A. Armstrong and Mr. F. W. Hickling went to Toronto on Monday to attend the funeral of the late James Aikenhead, an esteemed old gentleman who often visited at the Armstrong home here.

Mrs. Stewart, Sr., accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Albert

All fences slacken in warm weather and tighten in cold—except the Page Fence. Page spring coil takes up the slack in summer and lets it out in winter. No loose sagging in summer, no straining or breaking in winter. Common crimped wire is not spring tempered and it slackens if it stays slackened; if it tightens it loosens again worse than ever. Page wire is tempered to regulate its own tension summer and winter. 60,000 miles of Page wire fence in use now.

A—Good Thing.

Bishop C. C. McCabe, one of the most prominent men in the Methodist Episcopal church, tells an amusing incident at his own expense arising from a confusion of similar names.

The Bishop says that while he was in Fort Worth, Tex., during the discussion of the Anglo-American alliance, a New York newspaper wired him for his opinion on the subject. The telegram read as follows:

"C. C. McCabe, Ft. Worth, Texas. What is your opinion of the Anglo-American alliance? Please wire us answer."

Now it happens that there resides in Fort Worth, Texas, a quite well-known citizen of the name of C. C. McCabe. The telegraph company, knowing C. C. McCabe better than the visiting bishop, delivered the message at the former's house. The recipient was considerably surprised at such a request for his opinion, but, reasoning it out one way or another, he concluded to answer it, and wrote across the face of the message that he had received his answer as follows:

"It is a d—m good thing."

The surprise in the office of the New York newspaper at such a violent expression coming from a good Methodist bishop can well be imagined, and a second telegram more plainly addressed succeeded in reaching Bishop McCabe. His opinion on the subject and explanations followed.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON Brooklyn New York.
