Division Court was held in the town hall on Wednesday of last week Judge Morrison presiding. A large number of cases were down for trial, but by settlement of some out of court and adjournment of others the docket was greatly reduced. Among the cases were the following which took up most of the time and were the only ones of importance.

Wilson vs. Smith—An adjourned case from last Court at Dundalk. The plaintiff, T. W. Wilson, formerly of the Dundalk sash and door factory, sued the defendant, G. B. Smith, for an account of about $4.00 for building material furnished in January. The defendant denied having received any material from the plaintiff later than December when, he claimed, a settlement had been made in full for all he had received. Judgment was given for the plaintiff.

Dundalk Woollen Mills Co. vs. the C. P. R.—The former sued the latter for $43.00, value of goods lost in transit to Meaford, and were given judgment for the same.

Patton vs. Stinson—The plaintiff, John Patton, of Ceylon, sued James Stinson, Toronto line, for $30.00 for breach of warranty—mare said to be in foal, but did not prove so. The defendant denied warranty, but the case went against him. Judgment for the plaintiff for $24.00 and costs.

Good as has always been the Christian Guardian, the organ of the Methodist church, under the new editor and in the new form, a marked improvement has, we think, been made in the paper this year. Last week's issue was a specially interesting number, being finely illustrated with portraits of the newly appointed Cor. Sec. and four Superintendents of Missions in the West and of the 36 missionaries in the home and foreign fields who, under the Forward Movement, or "Pray, Study, Give" plan, are being supported by the young people of 53 Districts. Rev. E. R. Steinhauer, who recently made a tour of Owen Sound District which supports him at Fisher River, appears among the number as does also Rev. S. D. Gaudin, brother of Mrs. W. H. Thurston of this place, who is the representative of St. Catharines and Welland Districts at Nelson House. For its excellence in make-up and matter the Guardian is an exceedingly cheap paper at one dollar a year. The Presbyterian, Toronto, published in the interests of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, noted last week that in view of the meeting of the General Assembly in Vancouver, a special British Columbia number will be issued in which some of the leading industries will be described and some of the outstanding problems discussed. The Presbyterian is printed on superior paper and is strong, bright and interesting in all its matter.

Three weeks ago we referred to the movement in Grey County to raise funds to purchase colors for the 31st Regiment, but had nothing definite before us for this section of the county. Mr. W. H. Thurston, editor of the Flesherton Advance, has consented to act as treasurer and will be pleased to receive and acknowledge through his paper all donations great or small that may be placed in his hands. Large contributions are not expected, but let scores send in their mite and share in the honor. Dundalk public school and the Principal as well contributed last week; the first on the list and a good example to others.

At the meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist church, on Monday, evening the report of the Nominating Committee was received and officers were elected for the ensuing twelve months as follows: Hon. President, Rev. Ivison Wilson; Pres. Mr. J. P. Bant; 1st V. P., Miss Kate Bellamy; 2nd V. P., Mrs. W. H. Thurston; 3rd V. P., Mr. J. E. Fawcett; 4th V. P., Miss Minnie Joy; Rec. Sec., Mrs. W. A. Armstrong; Cor. Sec., Miss May Hales; Treas. Mr. Thos. Bulmer, who reported the financial standing good, there being $20.00 on hand. The membership had been slightly reduced by removals during the year. Sabbath next will be Woman's Missionary Day in this church, when Miss Washington.

Tired Out

"I was very poorly and could hardly get about the house. I was tired out all the time. Then I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it only took two bottles to make me feel perfectly well."—Mrs. N. S. Swinney, Princeton, Mo.

Tired when you go to bed, tired when you get up, tired all the time. Why? Your blood is impure, that's the reason. You are living on the border line of nerve exhaustion. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and be quickly cured.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand old family medicine. Follow his advice and you will be satisfied. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

returned missionary, will speak morning and evening.

The heavy gale of Thursday last made stump and bush fires very dangerous. Mr. Jas. Genoe had a battle with fire on his place. We understand it got into the bush and did considerable damage to timber he intended to use soon for building purposes.

Arbor Day was duly observed in the public school here. Some tree-planting was done, flower-beds made and the grounds generally nicely cleaned up. A pleasing feature was the closing act, the hanging in the school of a fine picture of King Edward, presented by Mr. M. K. Richardson, M. P. After the picture had been placed in position by Principal Fawcett all joined singing the National Anthem and the balance of the day was taken for a holiday.

Speckled trout and honey in the comb, the latter fresh from their own hives, is the treat your Cor. has been enjoying from Mr. Walter Loucks who has our hearty thanks.

On Monday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. H. Alexander of this place were bereft of their little son, Willie, one year and seven months old.

A couple of foreigners with a horn and performing bear created considerable amusement for a crowd of youngsters on the street on Monday evening.

Mr. George Parl, Sr. and daughter have returned to their home here after several months' absence.

Miss Bell Henderson, of Wareham, has been added to Boyd, Hickling & Co.'s millinery staff.

Miss Stella Loucks, who has been in Toronto for some time, returned home last week.

Mrs. John Wright, Sr., who has been laid up with a severe bronchial attack, is now on the mend.

Mrs. Sheppard, Sr., has returned from an extended visit with her daughter at Toronto Junction, and Miss Emma Sheppard has gone to the Junction to take a position in her brother's office.

Rev. J. A. and Mrs. Matheson, of Priceville, were visitors at the manse on Thursday last.

Mr. J. J. Thompson, of Orillia, accompanied by his mother, of Midhurst, paid old friends in this place and vicinity a short visit last week.

Miss McTavish, of Mount Forest, is visiting her brother, Mr. D. McTavish, this place.

Mr. Wm. Heard, of Kemble, is visiting his brother John H. here.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Dusen visited Saturday last with their son J. F. and wife at Dundalk.

Mr. M. K. Richardson was home from Ottawa over Sunday and Monday.

Corner Concerns.

"The organist should stop and oil up," is the whisperings of every stranger who comes to the meetings in the school. It would be no sin for them to go on strike until the section puts the organ in smoother running order. It would remind all of the Irish woman's pig, its squeal is the weightiest limb of it.

Mr. Jas. Ritchie has commenced to brick veneer Campbell's house. He also has the contracts of Messrs. Wm. Sirrs' and Alex. Allan's veneering, and it is by no means his first contracts in this part. Mr. Wm. Gordon is his head clerk.

An upset and runaway last Friday, just south of the town, on the elevated road adjoining Camp Creek, has caused many to speculate on the mishaps that are likely to occur when drilling for oil is commenced. It is well known to most people south of Durham, and has been spoken of by strangers, that there is no piece of road they travel that horses are more timid in crossing. We imagine it is caused from its close proximity to the slaughter house, and when the smell of gas and oil is combined and the sight of a steam engine at work few horses will care to pass. If a good board fence was built on the east side of the road it might save many a dollar's worth, and it is also needed in winter as a snow fence.

It was a bit of pleasant news for the Corner people to read of the marriage of Miss Mary Sharp to Mr. Henry Woodiwiss on the 16th of April, both of Rose City, Mich., but the bride was formerly of this section, and one of the most reliable ones in everything that was taken up for the welfare of the place. We are all most sincere in extending the best of good wishes.

The Corner people witnessed a harrowing scene last week when Mr. Ben Crittenden's colts ran away with a harrow jumping fences in their flight until they reached the road. The harrow was somewhat disfigured but no further harm done.

Fishing season is in again, but unfortunately we are unable to participate in any big fish stories. Our most successful fisherman happens to be a Frenchman without a word of English and, therefore, has to undergo the humiliation of showing his fish instead of telling the story, and there is no sensation nor any account of the big ones that were lost, so for the time being we are entirely out of it so far as fish stories are concerned.

The Spring Bank Badger invites the Corner Gander up to visit his picturesque country because there is such an immense quantity of water. We know about the water. In fact we have always thought his section was like our neighbor's pasture farm, valuable, only for water and view.

Sheep up there have to travel far and fast to gather a living, and in spring they seed the tops of those pinnacles by loading the grain into an old shot gun and firing it in. And for a one-sided animal like the Badger to invite an even balanced creature like the Gander to ramble with him on the sides of his mountains is offering no treat.

We are pleased to see Mr. Isaac Crittenden recovering nicely from the paralytic stroke of a few weeks ago. It is nearly fifty years since he spent so much time in bed before, at which time he had his leg broken while teaming between Durham and Guelph, and it was so successfully set by two Arthur farmers that it healed perfectly even after being driven home thirty miles next day on his wagon with the exception of a couple of miles at the end of his journey, which was on a sleigh. Of course a doctor was called in when he got home to examine it. He pronounced it all right and charged $12, not that he had to make any alterations or improvements, but simply because he was needing the money.

Miss Malinda Grasby, who came up from Scarborough to help take care of her step father, is indisposed at present.

The teachers and scholars snuggled up the school yard nicely on Arbor Day and planted some shade trees. The school fence, they considered, was not in a condition to suggest the making of flower beds or planting small shrubs.

Vickers.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson, of Durham, spent Sunday with the Reay family.

Miss Florence Cuff is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. H. W. Hunt.

Mr. Geo. Mighton spent Sunday at Mr. Fred Reay's.

Miss Pratt, of Louise, spent last week with Mrs. George Bailey.

Miss Ethel Johnston has gone on a visit to her mother, who is residing in Lennox, Mich.

We are sorry to learn of the severe illness of Mr. James Morice. He has been suffering for some months with lung trouble, and to add to their trouble their little boy fell from a scaffold in the barn and broke his arm. Hope they will soon be well again.

The Hutton Hill people had a lively time last Thursday with a bush fire, which threatened to destroy Mr. Geo. Cuff's buildings and the schoolhouse, but fortunately the wind changed and rain fell just in time to save the buildings.

The masons are this week building the foundation for H. W. Hunt's new barn.

Archie Johnston has gone to Arizona where he intends to remain for some time.

As Mr. John Richardson was returning from Paisley he met with a serious accident which is feared to prove fatal. He was found on the roadside a short distance from Hanover. He was taken to town where Dr. Mearns dressed his wounds and did everything possible to restore him to consciousness, but at time of writing he is little or no better. It is to be hoped he will recover.

Miss Gilchrist returned from her home near Barrie, where she attended the funeral of her sister, who died very suddenly. Much sympathy is felt for our young friend.
