MR. WILL GLASS met with a serious accident last week by which he will have to submit to a forced idleness for some time, so far at least as taking a free hand in moving heavy furniture. Fifteen stitches were needed to hold the parts.

THE monthly meeting of the S. G. Women's Institute was held in the home of Mrs. W. J. Derby, Bentinck, on August 6th. Mrs. D. McCrie read an excellent paper on "Dress." Another on "Farm Life" was read by Mrs. W. J. Derby, and also two short papers on "Poultry." Following this there was discussion on numerous household topics. These meetings are held once a month, and all ladies, whether members or not, are invited to be present.

LAST Saturday Robbie Radburn who is staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watt, of Normanby, had the sad misfortune to have his leg broken in three places. It seems he was following the wagon on the farm and came in contact with a wheel which passed over him with the above result. Dr. Macdonald set the fracture and the little fellow who is but three years old is doing as nicely as could be expected under the circumstances.

THE abutment on the west side of Lambton Street bridge is now firmly planted and the upper portion will be straight work. The bottom presented a difficulty in getting a good foundation, but it appears they got it all right. We hope to see a foundation there as solid as the everlasting rocks, and though we may have to reflect on its expensive character let us trust we shall look on it with pleasure as a permanent crossing and an ornament to the town when the iron superstructure is properly assembled.

TENDERS are called for the lighting of our streets. See ad. on page 8.

CROCKERY is a new line with us. The lines we have in now are good ones for you.—James Ireland.

YE Editor is in Toronto this week, and as all the work after Monday night is done by the staff, our readers will please give them credit for any excellencies that may appear in this issue. We can recommend them as a good reliable lot with whom the public may feel perfect freedom in doing business, even to the paying of their subscriptions. The money will be properly accounted for and not one of them will take advantage of our absence.

THE Dundalk Herald in last week's issue makes reference to the very prompt manner in which a number of his subscribers and business supporters have come down with the cash, a most needful commodity in his present distress caused by the late fire. Mr. McIntyre lost his subscription list in the flames, but we think under the circumstances that any one who will not pay up now without being asked for it is not worth having. A new plant is being installed, and the next issue of the paper will appear on the 20th of August.

It is about thirty-five years since Mr. Woods was in Durham, and naturally enough he notices a change. We found it mutually interesting to run over the names of business men and others who were here thirty or forty years ago, as shown in an old directory and formerly published in these columns, and hear reminiscent sketches of what Mr. Woods remembered of several.
